HORSE THIEVES.

Several Prominent Citizens Arrested upon Charges of Stealing.

It Happened at Niobra, Neb., and There Was Much Excitement Over the Discovery.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The Record's special from Sioux City, Iowa, says that Niobara, Nebraska, is undergoing a reign of terror. A clue recently obtained led to the discovery of the cattle thieves who for five years have been in operation along the Missouri and Niobara rivers. Nine of the most prominent men in Butte City and Niobara were arrested yesterday for the thefts and lodged in jail at Niobara. Several hundred ranchmen are in the city and talk of lynching is strongly indulged in. An assault upon the jail is momentarily expected. Fifty deputies were sworn in and armed with Winchester.

OMAHA, Sept. 23.—No definite news has been received from Niobara, and it has been impossible to ascertain whether the supposed cattle thieves were lynched last night or not. The nearest telegraph station is Running Water, S. D.

On advice from the authorities of Knox county today two of the gang, Lee and Robert Lucas, were arrested at South Omaha, after having disposed of a bunch of cattle.

Among the men under arrest at Niobara are the Rothwell brothers of Creighton and one of the members of the county board of supervisors.

Repairing the Death Trap.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The work of reconstructing the old Ford's theater building, which stood like an abandoned fortress since the disaster several months ago, was commenced yesterday under the direction of Col. J. M. Wilson, superintendent of public works and grounds. Col. Wilson said: "Congress has appropriated $6,000 for repairing the building and we are going to put it in exactly the same shape as it was before the accident. I have instructed the men to run no risks in leaving broken or weakened parts standing, and to notify me at once if they have the least suspicion of danger."

Bicycle Money.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 23.—Hartford manufacturers may have to pay $20,000 to the government on account of the so-called pay checks they used in paying their workmen during the recent shortage of currency. The checks were issued instead of cash, and were transferable. Internal Revenue Collector Hutchison now decides that they are subject to the 10 per cent tax as "wild-cat" currency.

The checks were used for paying workmen by Pratt & Miller, the Pope Bicycle Company and other large manufacturers.

The Tin Plate Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—It is expected that the treasury department will make public in a few days the tin plate report of the fiscal year ending June 30. The result by the new rule of counting only the tin plate both made and dipped in the United States, according to the recent ruling of Secretary Carlisle, shows the American production to be considerably short of the amount required by the McKinley law to keep the duty in effect after October 1, 1897.

Perilous and Miraculous.

LE SUEUR, Minn., Sept. 24.—William Parker of Fairfield, Iowa, had a hard ride from Shakopee here. He fell under a car, and the wheel took the flesh off his leg to the bone from his knee to ankle. He managed to climb on the brake beam and was found when the train pulled into Le Sueur.

Carter Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The president has appointed J. T. Carter of Montana to be Indian agent at the Flathead agency, Montana, to succeed the late Peter Roman.

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a cough, cold, or any lung, throat or chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at John Wright's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

Snow in Europe.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A severe snow storm swept over Northern England, following the unnatural spell of warm weather. Dispatches from Italy say the Apennines are covered with snow. An unusually hard winter is expected.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Elling, seats 1201lb, $3.15; steers, 1200lb, $2.90; tailings, 1170lb, $2.75; cows, 1012lb, $2.30. Ox Yoke, steers, 1190lb, $2.90. Berry, steers, 1152lb, $3.

Washing a Lapland Prince.

Once a day they give Mild Bull, Jr., a bath in the Lapland village on the Midway pleasure. Mild Bull is the king of a tribe in Lapland. Mild Bull, Jr., is his son and the heir apparent to the throne. For his age, which is probably 8, Mild Bull, Jr., has learned his duties in the king business with remarkable precociousness. He is acknowledged lord of all the women of the tribe by reason of his exercise of the royal prerogative of kicking their shins.

Once a day, however, the laws of Lapland commit the heir apparent to the care of the ladies' auxiliary committee of the house of lords. That occurs by parliamentary statute at 8 o'clock in the morning, when it is decreed that "the king shall wash, long live the king!" Mild Bull, Jr., wants to be Prince of Wales all day and all night. He doesn't like any patches on his authority. Washing him is a work of time and muscle, and long ago the women abandoned the idea of laving him in a tub.

Nowadays they approach his majesty while he is enjoying his royal and imperial slumbers. Before his majesty realizes what is the matter he has been yanked out of bed, pulled into the open air and half drowned with a shower bath from a well directed hose. It takes three women to yank his majesty into the royal and imperial bathroom, while the queen plots in front of the house, which is two more point the nose at him and make quick work of his ablutions. Then the king to be arises in his might, and it takes the full strength of the company to apply a towel.—Chicago Times.

She'd a Corpse to Sell.

A day or two ago a physician of this city was sitting in his office when a respectably dressed woman entered and desired to speak with him privately. He granted the request and asked her to make known her errand. The woman after some hesitation abruptly inquired: "Doctor, what would you give for a corpse?"

The question was such an unusual one that it nonplused the physician, and for the space of a minute he was unable to make a reply. Finally he ventured to inquire whose corpse she wished to dispose of.

"Oh, I haven't the corpse yet," replied she, "but my husband, who is much older than I am—I expect him to die very soon, and I thought perhaps you might wish to purchase a subject."

"Why do you wish to dispose of his body?" asked the physician.

"Well," replied the woman, "we are not in very good circumstances, and I thought we might as well make something that way as to bury him."

The physician informed her that he was not in the corpse buying business and politely bowed her out of the office. It has since transpired that the family are not in destitute circumstances, but are of miserly instincts and that it was this characteristic that prompted the woman to make her visit to the physician.—Cedar Rapids Republican.

An Innovation for a Wedding.

The other day some one sent a question to a newspaper, asking whether it would not be a pleasing innovation to have a "musical wedding"—i. e., to have some musician of note give a half hour recital before the main business of the day was transacted. The "Answers to Correspondents" promptly set upon the idea, but failed to hold it up to the ridicule it deserved. If there is not enough human interest left in a wedding to keep employed the mind and emotions of a presumably friendly audience, what is going to become of us?

Is the funeral ultimately to be enlivened by the popular lecture, so that people may be induced to attend it? The trouble is we get so frightened when we think of being bored ourselves or of boring other people that we lose our heads. It would be interesting to find out at just what stage of civilization people include among their divine rights that of being amused.—Kate Field's Washington

Where Girls Do the Trading.

Not long since Mrs. Grant was buying the confectionery for a dinner at West Point. While she was in the shop some young girls accompanied by cadets came in and bought some candy, the girls paying for it, as cadets are never expected to have money. Mrs. Grant smiled on them and said, "I am buying candy for the old generals, and the pretty girls are buying it for you."—Exchange.

London's Gaslights.

There are at present something like 70,000 public gas jets in London. Their average power is that of 16 candles—that is to say, the total is equal to 1,120,000. Were these all clustered together and placed at a height of 2,000 feet, the resulting light could be seen for a distance of more than 100 miles.—London Tit-Bits.

Cementing the Russian Empire.

The czar of Russia shows undoubted sagacity in adopting the best physical means to hold together his vast empire. He has pushed the transcasian military railway southeastward until it has almost reached the frontiers of British India and China, the two powers most likely to dispute with him the acquisition of further dominion in Central Asia. Having thus assured the safety of the Russian position in the southeast, he has undertaken a more stupendous work in beginning the construction of an unbroken line of railway to connect European Russia with a port on the Pacific ocean. The whole length of the Asiatic or main Siberian line is 4,900 miles.

The estimated cost is $200,000,000. The work, which is now progressing from both ends toward the center, is to be completed in about 10 years. There will then be a stretch of railway, all located upon Russian territory, about 6,000 miles in length, holding European Russia and Asiatic Russia firmly together with a continuous band of steel. Until the proposed railway running north and south to connect the two Americas shall have been built there will be nothing on earth to rival this great stretch of eastern and western railway across the Russian empire.—Omaha Bee.

In Dr. Nansen's five years' drift across the arctic regions he takes with him a stove which at a cost of 4 cents will cook as large a dinner as any party of 20 could eat. A supply of paraffin costing this amount will produce an excellently cooked salmon, leg of mutton, vegetables and tarts.

An electric alarm bell for use on trains, to supersede the mus-afactor cord communication, has been successfully tried in Scotland. In addition to serving as an alarm, it can be used for starting trains.

Over the arable areas of Wyoming the rainfall averages 12 inches. It is heaviest in spring and summer, though a month has never been known to pass without any precipitations whatever.

A Leader.

Since its first introduction Electric Bitters has gained rapidly in popular favor, until now it is clearly in the lead among pure medicinal tonics and alteratives—containing nothing which permits its use as a beverage or intoxicant it is recognized as the best and purest medicine for all ailments of stomach, liver or kidneys.—It will cure sick headache, indigestion, constipation, and drive malaria from the system. Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle or the money will be refunded. Price only 50c per bottle. Sold by John Wright.

What is the Old Reliable?

It is the oldest and most reliable railway in operation between the Twin Cities (St. Paul and Minneapolis) and Chicago—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Its train service is more frequent than that of any other line, and unequalled in point of excellence, comfort, speed and safety.

It runs five complete and handsomely equipped passenger trains from the Twin Cities to Chicago each day—four of which pass through Winona, La Crosse, Portage, Watertown and Milwaukee, the other passing through Austin, Dubuque and Savanna.

It is the only road running trains lighted by electricity and has the exclusive use of the famous electric reading lamp in each berth. All trains thoroughly heated by steam, doing away with the old-time car stove.

It runs the latest library buffet smoking cars, the latest private compartment cars, elegant drawing room sleeping cars and free reclining chair cars on night trains. Dining cars (the finest service in the west) are attached to each train, serving first-class meals at convenient hours.

Everybody has heard of the renowned vestibuled, electric lighted, steam heated limited of "The Milwaukee." This is the most thoroughly and luxuriously equipped train running between the Twin Cities and Chicago. No extra charge. Leaves Minneapolis 7:30 and St. Paul 8:10 each evening; arrives Chicago 9:30 following morning.

The enormous traffic constantly carried over this road between Chicago and the Northwest has necessitated and resulted in one of the most solid and substantial roadbeds in this country, which, together with its unrivalled passenger train equipment and service, insures to its patrons the highest degree of safety and ease.

Now is the time to visit the World's Fair—the grandest opportunity the American people ever had of seeing the world in miniature. See that your ticket reads via "The Milwaukee" and thus secure the best possible service and unsurpassed accommodations—the very best to be obtained for your money.
