

Our Underwear Department

is as inviting as a picture gallery because it's full of bargains; hand-some bargains that are invitations to be comfortable for the winter.

One line of Natural Wool, Jersey Ribbed, Ladies' Underwear, we might mention as a special value.

We bought the above to retail as a bargain at $2.50 the suit, but concluded to make this sale one week at $2.00 per suit.

Ladies' all wool Camels Hair, a splendid garment bought especially for the $4.00 trade; this sale, one week, $2.50 suit.

Elegant Scarlet Underwear at $3.00 per suit, for one week only Child's all wool Grey Underwear at unheard of prices.

Buy your underwear this week.

By special request we continue the Kid Glove $1.00 sale another week. Positively the last week.

A new hard pine floor is being put in Fireman's hall.

Skew Johnson departed for the west last night, intending to go as far as Helena.

E. B. Ryan came down from Ryan Bros. ranch on the Musselshell this morning.

Mayor Ryan and wife will leave on tonight's train for the east, and will be absent three or four weeks.

The standard blood purifier, strength builder and nerve helper is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Insist upon Hood's, because Hood's cures.

Lally Mott, an engineer of several years' experience, arrived from Minneapolis last evening, and will take charge of the electric light station tonight.

To make the hair grow a natural color, prevent baldness and keep the scalp healthy Hall's Hair Renewer was invented, and has proved itself successful.

Last night was another cold one, and the early risers were all in a hurry when they appeared on the streets, but the sun eventually broke through the clouds and warmed things up.

OF INTEREST TO LADIES.—The scalp may be kept white and clean, and the hair soft, pliant and glossy by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation never fails to restore faded and gray hair to its natural color. Sold by all druggists and perfumers.

Ice is running in the Yellowstone to such an extent as to make it impossible to use the ferry, in consequence of which the north side communication and trade has been shut off for a couple of days.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless, dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

Ben Johnson, whose accident at the merry-go-round has been chronicled, is now lying at the poor house in a precarious state, as his leg is in such a condition that it will in all probability need amputation, which would, if carried out, ultimately end in his death, as his condition, as far as general health is concerned, is far from good.

It may be a trifle early to talk about holiday goods, but Stein, the jeweler, goes on the principle that one can't sell goods unless he has them to show. So he has brought on all the latest novelties of the year in his line, and asks people to drop in and look at them.

A Persistent Counsel.

Mr. Oswald has the reputation of being the "hardest fighter" at the bar. Various stories illustrative of his persistence have recently appeared in the papers, but I have not seen the following, which is perhaps the best: Mr. Oswald was arguing a case in the court of appeal at great length. Already the court had intimated pretty clearly that it had heard enough, but Mr. Oswald had treated these intimations in his usual manner and went on raising point after point.

"Really," at last one of the lord justices remonstrated, "really, Mr. Oswald, if you intended to rely on these points, you should have raised them in the court below."
"So I did, my lord," replied Mr. Oswald, "but your lordships stopped me."
"They stopped you, did they?" inquired Lord Esher eagerly. "How did they do it?"—London Truth.

The Largest in the World.

Within sight of the station at Atherton, on the London and Northwestern railway, there is to be seen an enormous earthenware jug, the largest in the world. This capacious article was manufactured at the Potteries, Church Gresley, over 50 years ago. Its holding capacity, when full, is 150 quarts, and it is so large that a man can sit inside it. It now rests over the front door of a china, glass and earthenware warehouse.—Exchange.

Franklin's Fate Prefigured.

The fate of Franklin, the explorer, was unwittingly prefigured, and on the eve of his starting on his last voyage, at the hands of his own devoted wife. As he lay dozing on a sofa Lady Franklin threw something over his feet, on which he awoke in consternation, saying: "Why, there's a flag thrown over me! Don't you know that they lay the union jack over a corpse?"—London Tit-Bits.

SCHOOL NOTES.

There are now 250 pupils enrolled in the school.

Seventeen new scholars were enrolled last month.

Now that parachutes are a thing of the past, the small boy has invented a new game, which is a very "tug of war."

The tenth grade in Latin is wrestling with verbs of the first conjugation.

All the scholars are looking forward to the near future when they can indulge in a good skate by way of inspiration to study.

The up stairs of the new school house is now ready for the "hard finish."

The mischievous boy who put a mouse on the teacher's desk felt fully repaid by its long recess.

Another fire drill was given the scholars last week.

Last week the school was favored with a visit from the county superintendent, Mrs. Light.

Got His Diploma.

At the close of the shipping season, and on his retirement into winter quarters, Mr. F. A. Lisk is most pleasantly greeted with a letter from Genl. Mark D. Flower, Manager of the South St. Paul Stock Yards, full of appreciation of the work done by him as representative of the Yards in Eastern Montana during the past season. It is not me, e "tally" either, for it is no secret among shippers of live stock that Mr. Lisk has brought the South St. Paul Yards a large increase of business this season, which the Stock Yards company will find but little difficulty in retaining, on account of the excellent treatment accorded to all patrons. It is quite the thing now for shippers from this section to patronize the South St. Paul Yards.

The Lodge of Sorrow.

In view of the fact that the formal notice of the Lodge of Sorrow, to be held at Masonic hall this evening, has been construed to extend an invitation to "Masons, members of other orders, and friends of the family" only, it has been deemed advisable to explain that it is not the intention to exclude anyone who desires to be present. With a somewhat limited capacity for the accommodation of the public it is desired first that the friends of the deceased brother and the members of kindred orders and their wives, be present; after that, all interested in the ceremonies, to the fullest extent of the hall.

Notice.

Yellowstone Lodge No. 26, A. F. & A. M., will hold a Lodge of Sorrow on Wednesday evening, Nov. 22, at 8 o'clock p. m., at Masonic hall, in respect to the memory of its late secretary, George Usher Swaine, deceased. All Masons, members of other orders and friends of the deceased are invited to attend.

By order of the W. M.
F. M. KREIDLER,
Secretary pro tem.

Notice.

To owners of stock running at large within the city limits: Owing to the numerous complaints of depredation and damage by loose stock, that have been made, it has become necessary to rigidly enforce the ordinance relating to domestic animals running at large, and notice is hereby given that I will at once begin the impounding of all such animals according to law.

A Canine Musical Critic.

A wonderful story of a French musical critic is related by persons who profess to have been acquainted with him and who have seen him in attendance on musical performances. He was a dog, and his name in public was Parade. Whether he had a different name at home was never known. At the beginning of the French revolution he went every day to the military parade in front of the Tuileries palace. He marched with the musicians, halted with them, listened knowingly to their performances, and after the parade disappeared, to return promptly at parade time next day. Gradually the musicians became attached to this devoted listener.

They named him Parade, and one or another of them always invited him to dinner. He accepted the invitation and was a pleasant guest. It was discovered that after dinner he always attended the theater, where he seated himself calmly in the corner of the orchestra and listened critically to the music. If a new piece was played, he noticed it instantly and paid the strictest attention. If the piece had fine melodious passages, he showed his joy to the best of his doggy ability, but if the piece was ordinary and uninteresting he yawned, stared about the theater and unmistakably expressed his disapproval.—Manchester Times.

The Birth of the Opal.

There is a beautiful little story told about the opal, that delicate stone which you have no doubt seen in rings and bracelets. The story is that the opal was long ago promised to anybody who could discover it. It lay hidden away, so the old fortune tellers used to say, at the place "where the sunlight and the moonlight joined" each other, and whoever could find that spot would be rewarded by a quantity of large, beautiful opals. After a long search for the place "where the sunlight and moonlight joined" each other, the place was found by a Spanish traveler, who followed up the rays of the setting sun, and when he had reached the end of the last ray he waited until the moonbeams shone upon the earth, and there he found the opals. They are said to be very lucky stones for those who are born in the fall of the year and very unlucky for those born in the spring. Of course it is only a saying that these are lucky or unlucky, but the rest of the story is true, as you will believe if you look in the heart of an opal and see the pink tints of the sun and the blue rays of the moon nestling in the middle of it.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District of the State of Montana, in and for the county ofuster.
Mary S. Waite, plaintiff, vs. Charles Waite, defendant.
The state of Montana sends greeting to above named defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District of the State of Montana, in and for the county ofuster, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons. If served at this county, or, if served out of this county, but within this district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to dissolve the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant, on the grounds of desertion and extreme cruelty; also for the custody of George B. Waite, a minor child of said plaintiff and defendant, and for costs of this suit, and for such other and further relief, as will more fully appear by referring to complaint on file herein. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Given under my hand and Seal of the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District of the State of Montana, in and for the county ofuster, this 25th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three.
