A STREET BATTLE.

Desperate Fight Between Outlaws and a Squad of Citizens.

One Policeman Killed and Two of the Bandits Wounded—A Lively Running Fight.

DANVILLE, Pa., Jan. 18.—Five masked men made a raid on the postoffice at an early hour this morning. A policeman saw a masked man crouching in the doorway, and drew his revolver, but before he could fire the stranger slipped around the corner. The policeman gave an alarm, and in a few minutes was reinforced by two other police officers. They ran to the postoffice in time to meet the mysterious stranger emerging from the door, followed by a companion. They blew a whistle and commenced firing revolvers at the police, who dodged behind lamp posts and returned the fire. Ten shots were exchanged, when the robbers were reinforced by three more men, every one well armed, and a continuous round of firing commenced. Numerous citizens appeared armed with weapons of every description, and the firing became so warm the robbers concluded to retreat to the river bank. They discharged three volleys at the excited townspeople, and ran eastward, each exchanging shots. Officer Van Gilder, who led the pursuers, suddenly threw up his hands and fell, shot through the lungs. About the same time two of the robbers fell. Their comrades grabbed them, and during a momentary halt of the pursuers managed to reach the Susquehanna river. A row boat was secured, and the three outlaws, after laying their wounded companions in the bottom of the boat, commenced sepiing in the direction of the Northumberland side.

The pursuers now constituted a force of a hundred infuriated men. They secured a boat, and an exciting chase commenced. Revolvers and rifles were cracked at every turn, but no one was hit. Owing to their good start the outlaws succeeded in reaching the opposite shore before the foremost boat was half way across, and when the pursuers had touched land, the robbers had reached the mountains, which are now being scoured on all sides by the sheriff's posse. In the event of their being surprised another desperate battle will occur. The sheriff declares he will bring back the slayers of Van Gilder dead or alive.

LOST IN THE BAD LANDS.

A Young Man Frozen to Death Over on the Little Dry.

W. A. Broadbent and A. Donovan were yesterday in from the Little Dry country, about 80 miles north of Miles City, and from them was learned the details of the death of William Pfulgaradt, who perished in the bad lands last week.

On Saturday, January 6th, Mr. Broadbent and Pfulgaradt left the Broadbent & Connell ranch for a hunt, driving out into the badlands in a sleigh. After securing their team, they started on foot to look for game, and about noon the two men separated, intending to meet again in a short time. Broadbent finally reached the sleigh alone, and after waiting until dark for his companion, concluded that he had drifted toward the ranch, and gone in. Accordingly he drove home, and arriving there quite late, was quite uneasy when he learned that nothing had been heard or seen of the young man. Early Sunday morning Mr. Broadbent went out and took up Pfulgaradt's tracks in the snow, and followed them many miles until he became convinced that the young man was bewildered and lost, when he went for assistance. During the next four days a searching party worked hard, but unavailingly in the deep snow. On the 13th nine men started out, and in the afternoon found the frozen body of young Pfulgaradt near the mouth of Taylor creek, about two miles from the Little Dry ranch and hardly half a mile from the pasture fence, where he had evidently stopped to rest, and perished in the snow. Beside him were his rifle and hunting accoutrements.

The body was taken to the ranch, and buried on Monday, the 15th, the condition of the remains added to the depth of the snow and the distance from this place rendering it inexpedient to bring it here. The deceased was about 23 years of age, and had parents residing in Chicago. He came to Miles City last July, and worked around town two or three months. He went out to Broadbent & Connell's ranch to spend the winter, being out of employment, and having no knowledge of the country, it was a very easy matter for him to lose his way in the "bad lands."

This Time Last Year.

For the convenience of those who wish to make comparisons and for the benefit of others who can never remember, the JOURNAL will hereafter keep standing a table of the corresponding month of last year, showing day by day the principal meteorological conditions, as obtained from the record kept by the United States weather observer in this city. Following is the record for January, 1893:

Persons desiring the Anaconda Standard or Helena Independent, may have them delivered anywhere within the fire limits each morning for 25c a week. Inquire of Gordon & Smith.

RAILROAD TIES.

The Atchison has taken the unusual precaution of having a flagman constantly on the rear platform of every passenger train.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific began last Sunday running a line of tourist sleeping cars to California in connection with the Texas and Pacific and Southern Pacific via Fort Worth.

In a quiet but none the less energetic manner the Memphis people have for three years past been pushing the work of practically rebuilding their main line between Kansas City and Memphis.

Within the last 12 months the Baltimore and Ohio has added to its equipment 101 locomotives, the cost of which was nearly $1,000,000. The Baltimore and Ohio, with its southwestern terminus in St. Louis, is now fully identified with a St. Louis line.

The Obliging Jurymen.

Some jurymen have too low an opinion of what some philosophers call their ego and are willing to depute their duties to an alter ego. When Mr. Justice Gould had been about two hours trying a case at York, he noticed there were but 11 jurymen in the box. "Please, my lord," replied the foreman in answer to the judge's natural inquiry, "the other has gone away about some business he had to do, but he has left his verdict with me."—London Illustrated News.

Terrible Death of an Inventor.

A chemist named Liardet met a shocking death at Melbourne recently. He was engaged in his laboratory in some experiments with a powerful explosive, which he had just succeeded in inventing after years of patient labor and at an outlay of several thousands of pounds, when the substance exploded, with the result that the unfortunate man was blown to pieces, his mangled remains being projected right through a wooden partition.—Melbourne Gazette.

The Cosmopolitan Magazine

—AND—

The Weekly Yellowstone Journal

BOTH FOR $4.00 A YEAR.

The great illustrated monthlies have in the past sold for $4.00 a year. It was a wonder to printers how The Cosmopolitan, with its yearly 1536 pages of reading matter by the greatest writers of the world, and its 1200 illustrations by clever artists, could be furnished for $3.00 a year. In January last it put in the most perfect magazine printing plant in the world, and now comes what is really a wonder:

We will Cut the Price of the Magazine in Half for You!

Think of it, 128 pages of reading matter, with over 120 illustrations—a volume that would sell in cloth binding at $1.00

—For only 12 1-2 Cents.

We will send you THE COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE, which has the strongest staff of regular contributors of any existing periodical, and the WEEKLY YELLOWSTONE JOURNAL.

Both for Only $8.75 a Year!
