THOUSANDS COMING

Pittsburg Busting With Veterans 100,000 Come to the G. A. R. Encampment.

A Big Kick on the Railroads—Candidates for Office and for the Next Encampment.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 10.—Comrades and friends have been flocking into Pittsburg all day and night, taking complete possession of the city. It is estimated, on the night before the opening of the twenty-eighth national encampment G. A. R., that at least 100,000 visitors are here, and tomorrow's arrivals will greatly swell the number.

As the different visiting posts arrive they are met by escorts detailed from local regiments of the national guard, and with flying colors and bands playing are taken to places assigned them, and cheered to the echo by throngs on the sidewalks.

The naval veterans, who arrived today, are established in quarters on river steamers fitted up especially for their use. Old times are certainly being revived to them, for they observe the strictest discipline on their "ships," and seem to be enjoying it greatly.

Among the noted arrivals today were two men from Honolulu. They represent the full membership of the G. A. R. in Hawaii, and were determined to be present at the last encampment which they will likely ever enjoy.

The Woman's relief corps headquarters, in the Monongahela house, was a place of activity. No business was transacted, but as each member of the corps would arrive she was taken to headquarters and made feel at home.

About the only matter that would be called disagreeable in connection with the encampment so far is the feeling of bitterness felt by the G. A. R. people at the action of railroads in refusing a one-cent per mile rate for near-by towns, thereby keeping down the number of visitors at least 20,000.

It has cropped out that the subject will be introduced in the convention and a resolution offered backed by delegates from Pennsylvania and Ohio, to the effect that hereafter no encampment will be held, but that delegates, 1,200 in number, meet and transact the necessary business at the expense of their respective posts without making favors from the railroads.

The veterans cannot understand why in the past Columbus [and Milwaukee were granted a one-cent rate and Pittsburg denied it. From what can be learned the Cleveland people are leading the revolt. It is not known how the resolution will be received.

The first fatality among the veterans reported is the sudden death of Comrade Louis Treasurer, of McClure, Pa. On arrival at post quarters Treasurer was completely exhausted, and died of weak heart soon after reaching the building.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—The G. A. R. delegation from Minnesota reached the city at 9:40 a. m., and left for Pittsburg in the afternoon. It was headed by Commander Sautu, of the department of Minnesota, and a number of distinguished men from the Twin cities. The Minnesota delegation is going to Pittsburg with a determination to secure its next encampment for Minneapolis. Gen. Elzea said the delegation will support Lawler, the Illinois candidate, for commander-in-chief.

The delegation from Utah, headed by Department Commander Hyff, passed through the city this afternoon. Another train bore several Illinois companies, who accompanied Comrade Thomas G. Lawler, of Illinois, candidate for commander-in-chief.

From Chicago to New York.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Advices from New York received at the postoffice state that Postman Smith, who started for that city on a bicycle several days ago, reached New York at 11:15 a. m. today, lowering the record for the ride between the cities 10 1/4 hours.

THE FAMILY DOESN'T MIND.

A Peculiar Domestic Scene in a German Saloon in New York.

There is a popular German restaurant and saloon on upper Third avenue which is much frequented by families living in the neighborhood. The saloon is separate from the restaurant proper. The cooking is very good, and the prices are very reasonable, and as a result the proprietor has grown wealthy.

An odd and interesting feature of this resort is the family dinner, which occurs about 7 o'clock every evening. The family consists of the big, broad shouldered host; his small, angular wife; a jolly sister-in-law; three little girls, a small boy, and a governess whose features clearly indicate her New England origin. They all sit down together at a long table, which is placed not in the restaurant, but in the center of the saloon. All around are tables at which sit jolly revellers, and frequently during the dinner hour a crowd stands leaning against the bar.

The family does not seem to mind the saloon surroundings, and, in fact, rarely does any one of them glance up from the table. The only interruptions are when some of the habitual frequenters come up to talk with the host or his wife. The children chatter and carry on just as though they were in a private dining room. It gives a homelike and domestic air to the saloon which probably could not be duplicated in any other hostelry on Manhattan Island. The only person who seems to be ill at ease is the Yankee governess.—New York Sun.

Couldn't Smell in the Dark.

An old gentleman too impatient for his hot water and a light to be brought rushed into the kitchen, seized hold of the first pan on the stove and dashed away with it to his dark room. On plunging his hands into the wash hand basin he was amazed to find that it contained something thicker and stickier than water—that he had, in fact, spoiled the first course of his dinner by trying to wash in the soup.

Boiling over with passion, he began to upbraid his wife, and on her suggesting that he might have smelled it was soap he thundered, "How in the name of fortune could I smell in the dark?"—London Answers.

Wanted Her Reformed.

Mamma—Why did you pray that God should stop your sister from telling stories?
Small Son—Because she promised me she wouldn't tell that I took the cakes, and she did tell.—Good News.

In Twenty Years.

Twenty years of age is young, and yet, while the school and college graduates of today have been growing to maturity, many important events have taken place, and great changes witnessed. In 1876, the nation's Centennial was fitly celebrated by the great exposition at Philadelphia, and Colorado was admitted to the union, taking the title of "The Centennial State." Alexander Graham Bell exhibited his first successful telephone to a number of scientists in 1877. Thomas A. Edison discovered in 1878 a method of dividing the electric current which made it available for house-lighting. In 1878, gold was sold at par in Wall street, New York, for the first time since 1860. President Garfield was murdered by Guiteau in 1881. The suspension bridge between New York and Brooklyn was opened for travel in 1883. The Washington monument was finished and dedicated in 1886. The greatest World's Fair in history was held at Chicago in 1893. The grand railway systems of the west have received their development in that period of twodecades. In that period the grand Burlington Route has progressed from a road of 1,500 miles to cover the larger portion of ten western states with 7,000 miles of splendidly equipped railroad, affording the traveler who desires to visit any important city west of Chicago, unrivaled facilities. For time-tables, maps and tickets apply to any agent of the Burlington or connecting lines, or address W. J. O. Keayon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

This Time Last Year.

For the convenience of those who wish to make comparisons and for the benefit of those who can never remember, the JOURNAL will hereafter keep standing a table of the corresponding month of last year, showing day by day the principal meteorological conditions, as obtained from the record kept by the United States weather observer in this city. Following is the record for Sept., 1893:

Table with columns: DAY, WEATHER, TEMPERATURE. Rows 1-30 showing daily weather and temperature readings.

The figures in the right hand column denote the average thermometer reading for the day. The highest temperature during the month was 99 on the 7th. The amount of rainfall during the month was 1.89 of an inch.
