THE VETERANS

First Day of the 28th Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

March of the Jolly Tars—Rival Candidates for Commander-in-Chief Active.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—The full force of the Grand Army have complete possession of the city. Over 10,000 men under command of Rear Admiral J. B. Osborne, were in the naval parade this morning and were cheered all along the line of march. Many historic relics of naval warfare were carried, among them the torn and stained banner which floated over the Kearsarge. The naval veterans went into annual convention this afternoon. Thirty-four associations were represented.

Rear Admiral Osborne, presided. His annual report showed a very encouraging condition of affairs. Second vice-President Francis B. Allen of the Norton, O., department, proposed a resolution asking congress at its next session to amend the laws regarding enlisted men in the navy that those competent may aspire to positions. The resolution was supported by the shipmates and it was decided to memorialize congress. As the law stands, enlisted men cannot rise above the rank of warrant officer.

After the reading of reports and presentation of resolutions which were referred, Francis B. Allen of Hartford, Conn., was elected commander. The convention then adjourned until morning. The "tars" brought their day to a close by holding a "dog watch" in the old city hall tonight. The hall was magnificently decorated in nautical designs in patriotic colors.

Commander-in-chief J. C. B. Adams of the G. A. R., arrived this morning from the east with his staff. National headquarters were formally opened and there was a rush of visitors. Gov. Pattison is here. Arrangements have been perfected for tomorrow's parade of the 100,000 men who are to be in line. Fully 50,000 visitors are now in the city.

This afternoon a carriage drive was given the visiting ladies of the Relief corps by the entertainment committee. Several regimental reunions were held. Senator Gordon of Georgia, second in command of the confederate army at Appomattox, is in this city and met a number of men who were in the union army when he gave his sword away. Senator Gordon will deliver a lecture before leaving.

For Commander-in-Chief.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 11.—Canvassing has been going on briskly in all directions in connection with G. A. R. politics. Of the four candidates for the office of commander-in-chief each has a pretty strong backing among the delegates. Judge Long of Michigan has an enthusiastic following, but the friends of Col. Lawler of Illinois claim they have all the northwestern states behind him, while the supporters of Col. Walker of Indiana report that they have promises enough to carry him through.

The Elections.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 11.—Returns received by the News up to 8 o'clock tonight indicate that the republicans have made but slight gains in the state over last year. It now looks as if Cleaver republican, would be elected governor by a plurality of 35,000 to 38,000 in a total vote of 110,000.

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 11.—Returns from all towns in the state show the republican majority to be 27,310 and the plurality 28,305. The republican vote of 1894, 42,736; of 1890, 33,462; democratic vote of 1894, 14,280; of 1890, 19,311; republican gain, 9,274; democratic loss, 4,963. The senate is a republican unit, and the house stands as follows: Republicans twenty-three, democrats nine, populists three.

Work of the Comptroller.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The annual report of the comptroller of currency was made public today. It is a record of the work of the comptroller's office and shows the total number of accounts claim and cases settled during the fiscal year ended June 30 last was 33,165, involving $280,602,002. By comparing the work of this office for the past three fiscal years, an increase of the volume of business since 1891 in round numbers of $104,000,000 is shown, with an increase in the last fiscal year of $74,000,000.

Slightly Provoking.
A colored man living on Onion creek near Austin, who had contracted a debt some years ago with one of our merchants, came to town yesterday and called upon his old creditor.

"Didn't you 'plane to me dat if I settled up dat account you would give me a discount?" said the darky to the merchant.

"Yes, I did say so, Sam," said the merchant. "If you are ready to settle your bill now, I will make a good discount," and the merchant waited for the colored individual to pull out his pocketbook.

"Well, sir, I hush't got de money just now, but I thought I'd come in and get de discount right now, for I ain't gwinter hab no use for it after de circus hab left town."—Texas Siftings.

He Felt Secure.

"Your money or your life!"
"Be gobs, all ther money about me is spint, an me loife is in ther hands of ther loife insurance, so shoot away, an good luck to yez."—Life.

Long Distance Photography.

Now that Dr. Miethe, the scientific German photographer, has invented a telescopic camera, long distanced photography, that chimera of the "dark-room," seems absolutely assured. The objective of this new photographic wonder consists of a convex lens of considerable length of focus and a concave lens of much shorter range. These glasses are placed a certain distance apart, depending on the difference of the two foci. By the laws of optics this arrangement projects an inverted image of the object for which it is set a long distance from the farther of the lenses. The apparent size of the object depends, of course, upon the space separating the two lenses, which again must be set so as to make the focus perfect. The whole apparatus looks very unlike an adjunct to a photographic gallery and is said to bear a stronger resemblance to a common telescope than it does to a camera. With this apparatus Professor Miethe and his assistants have taken fine pictures of portions of the city of Potsdam, Germany, from a distance of nearly three English miles.—St. Louis Republic.

In Twenty Years.

Twenty years of age is young, and yet, while the school and college graduates of today have been growing to maturity, many important events have taken place, and great changes witnessed. In 1876, the nation's Centennial was fitly celebrated by the great exposition at Philadelphia, and Colorado was admitted to the union, taking the title of "The Centennial State." Alexander Graham Bell exhibited his first successful telephone to a number of scientists in 1877. Thomas A. Edison discovered in 1878 a method of dividing the electric current which made it available for house-lighting. In 1878, gold was sold at par in Wall street, New York, for the first time since 1860. President Garfield was murdered by Guitau in 1881. The suspension bridge between New York and Brooklyn was opened for travel in 1883. The Washington monument was finished and dedicated in 1886. The greatest World's Fair in history was held at Chicago in 1893. The grand railway systems of the west have received their development in that period of two decades. In that period the grand Burlington Route has progressed from a road of 1,500 miles to cover the larger portion of ten western states with 7,000 miles of splendidly equipped railroad, affording the traveler who desires to visit any important city west of Chicago, unrivaled facilities. For time tables, maps and tickets apply to any agent of the Burlington or connecting lines, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.
