Happy Days!

Happy Years!!

Happy Hours!!!

Sing a song o' happy days—
Sing it all the time!
Roses bloom in the ways—
Bells that sweetly chime!

Sing a song o' happy years—
Sing it day and night;
Let the rain shed all the tears—
Let the heart be light!

Sing a song o' happy lives—
Sing it day and night;
Brothers, sisters, lovers, wives,
Join the thrilling song!
Right or wrong,
Still sing that song,
Till angels to chorus throng!

Come to see us and look over our new store. We keep every thing you need about the house and plenty of good things to eat and of the very best quality and at such low pricestoo. A visit to our store will make you feel like singing a happy song when you get back home.

Besides all the good things we got to eat, we have good warm woolen underwear and clothing, boots and shoes and hats for the menfolks and boys, and good broad shoes for the women-folk and nice fine shapely shoes for the young ladies and children.

Come to see us and stay all day, we love to show our goods.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.

The Autocrat of all the Russians Is Gradually Growing Weaker.

Late News Continues Giving Credence to Early Reports of Approaching Death.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—When the contents of the bulletin issued in St. Petersburg last night became generally known today there was a feeling of relief in knowing the czar still lives, as the official silence of the previous twenty-four hours created intense anxiety. Private advices from Livadia state that towards mid day yesterday the graver symptoms continued. These advices agreed that his majesty was terribly depressed throughout the day. St. Petersburg advices this morning say that prayers are being offered up today throughout the Russian empire for the recovery of the czar, and that great impatience is manifested at the scantiness of official news in regard to the condition of his majesty.

Early this morning a dispatch from St. Petersburg announced that latest reports received there from Livadia state that although the czar is still alive he has rapidly weakened. A striking fact in connection with the czar's illness is the difference of opinion regarding the exact nature of the malady from which he is suffering. Figaro, for instance, today declares that the symptoms disagree with the usual symptoms of kidney disease. Figaro adds that one of czarina's sisters a fortnight ago received an official communication stating that the czar was suffering from tumor below the left kidney, respecting which doctors disagreed. Prof. Zacharin was convinced that it was cancerous, and impossible to operate on. This was his ground for recently informing the czar that he could not possibly live, as the disease was incurable.

Prof. Leyden, however, was more optimistic, and after a careful study of the symptoms of the czars trouble, expressed the belief that it was true a tumor existed, but he added that it was of a benign nature and curable. Figaro makes the startling statement that the czar has been badly nursed, and that the arrangements for his care were quite of a primitive nature. The statement is somewhat unkind, as it is known that the czar's most assiduous nurse has been the czarina, who, according to rumor, has broken down under the strain of attending continually upon her dying husband.

Temps says that there is not a corner of France where prayers have not been offered up for the recovery of the czar. The czar since the fetes at Toulon, following the arrival there of the Russian squadron under Admiral Avellan, has everywhere in the French republic been considered as the life ally of France.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The latest report from Livadia indicates that although the czar is still alive he is rapidly weakening.

It is stated on the best authority that the czarina is very ill, and that her son, Grand Duke George, is dying. It is also stated that the czar, before his illness entered upon his final stages, had a solemn interview with the czarowitz, at which he indicated the policy he desired him to pursue and also insisted upon his marriage to the Princess Alix, who was summoned to Livadia to receive the dying blessing of the czar.

The theaters will be closed for six months after the death of the czar.
Boston, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg published by the National Zeitung this afternoon says that according to special information from medical authority now at Livadia the czar, during the last forty-eight hours, has been seized with a series of convulsions, attacks accompanied several hours by temporary unconsciousness. It is added that his death cannot be long delayed.

The Trade Review.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, says: Cotton below six cents and wheat below 55 cents, exports instead of products at such prices in October, are salient features in business this week. Distribution of goods to consumers goes on fairly with gains in nearly all points in comparison with last year, but not yet at a rate to sustain the present volume of manufacturing production. With many features of encouragement, business has not yet reached expectations, and it is evident that loss of a part of the corn crop and unnaturally low prices of other great staples, effects the buying power of millions.

During the past week failures have been 252, against 341 last year.

OUR PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Custer county Montana being again assembled on the eve of a campaign take occasion to again declare their unwavering faith in the cardinal republican principle of protection to American industries and American labor, a principle upon which the battle of 1892 was fought and lost but which could have had no abler or more complete demonstrations of its political fitness and necessity that that given to the world by the democratic congress recently adjourned that individually clamored and fought in piecemeal for what they condemned as a whole, and finally, by a series of the most questionable proceedings that ever disgraced a session of congress, through the muck and slime of party perjury and party dishonor, succeeded in placing among the statutes of the country a tariff law that protects everything but wool and makes the democratic platform of 1892 with all its high sounding condemnation of protection as the culminating atrocity of class legislation, a thing to be jeered at as long as democrats endure.

We express our thorough appreciation and approval of the able representation by Hon. Thomas C. Power and Hon. Charles S. Hartman of this sovereign state in the congress of the United States, which representation though of the minority was none the less zealous and active and not without important results.

We heartily endorse the administration of Hon. John E. Rickards, governor of this state, and particularly commend his action in protecting the state from the shame and disgrace of a special session of the third legislative assembly.

We denounce and disown the traitor republicans of the last legislature who bartered for money what little honor God entrusted them with, and point with conscious pride to the unsullied reputations of Custer county's delegation—Senator Swift and Representatives Huffman and McKay, who passed through that fire of bribery and corruption untainted by suspicion even.

We especially denounce the hostile attitude of the democratic party toward the wool interest of the United States whereby one of the principal industries of this state has been ruined, and which has robbed the woolgrowers of this county alone of the vast sum of $1,000,000 and reduced hundreds of our citizens to absolute poverty, thus depriving many of them the autumn of their days, of the fruits of years of honest labor.

Mindful of the depression brought upon the mining industry in the western portion of our state by legislation hostile to silver we declare in favor of a policy that will place that metal on a parity with gold, and thus restore to a large portion of our state, the prosperity it once enjoyed.

Ever faithful in its fulfillment of antislavery pledges, whether they be made to the nation or to the people of a county we congratulate the people of this county on the definite action already taken by our republican board of county commissioners for the construction of bridges and the improvement of roads, promised by the republican party in the last campaign, and we hereby renew these promises as a standing pledge from one campaign to another until every difficult or dangerous stream is bridged and every road made fit for travel.

Ten Years for Manslaughter.

LIVINGSTON, Oct. 20.—Frank Ladhoff, who was convicted at this term of court of Manslaughter, for the killing of Pat Cannon at Red Lodge, was today sentenced by Judge Henry to ten years in the penitentiary.

Judge Goodwin on the Capital Question.

In Montana a disgraceful fight is going on. The interests of the country are subordinated to the question of whether the capital of the state should be removed to Anaconda or not. The real question is whether the Anaconda company has the state of Montana in its pocket or not—Salt Lake Tribune.

Steam or Electricity.

Whenever any new mechanical device comes to notice, the public, excited perhaps by certain anonymous and irresponsible scribes in hasty articles, goes into ecstasy over the new discovery, and proceeds to relegate all previous devices to the scrap-heap. Immediately following the invention and practical perfection of the electric dynamo, and its application to the running of street cars and certain kinds of machinery, we were told that the steam engine and the locomotive were antiquated, passe, and not up to date. On paper, electric railroads were operating all over the Union and driving the steam roads out of existence. Up to date nothing of the kind has taken place, but if it had been so the work of steam would not have been displaced. These enthusiastic people forget that behind every dynamo or group of dynamos is a steam engine and that the electrical appliance are no more than the original source of power than the belt that connects the shafting with the drive-wheel of the engine. It is only an example of transmission and transmutation of force. So the thousands of locomotives on the even thousand miles of the Burlington route will "toot" for a good many years to come, and safely, swiftly and comfortably carry hundreds of thousands of contented patrons between all the larger cities of the ten best states of the west. Your home ticket agent will give you information as to this line, or you can send for maps etc., to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

This Time Last Year.

For the convenience of those who wish to make comparisons and for the benefit of those who can never remember, the JOURNAL will hereafter keep standing a table of the corresponding month of last year, showing day by day the principal meteorological conditions, as obtained from the record kept by the United States weather observer in this city.
