MINERS ASK FOR INVESTIGATION

WOULD HAVE CONGRESS PROBE COAL STRIKE IN SOUTHERN COLORADO.

Local Unions Takes Action

Support of Congressman Stout is Asked for Congressional Investigation of Strike Situation—National Guard is Called Out to Quell Disorders in Striking District.

The local unions of the Western Federation of Miners located at No. Three, Klein and No. Four this week took favorable action in a move that has for its object a congressional investigation of the coal strike situation in southern Colorado, and in this way aid in bringing a settlement of the difficulty if possible. Adam Wilkinson, national board member of the federation, took the matter up before the various locals in this field this week with the result that the move for an investigation was endorsed. Today Mr. Wilkinson wired Congressman Stout asking him on behalf of the miners of Musselshell county to support Congressman Keating's resolution calling for a probe of the strike situation.

TRINIDAD, COLO., Oct. 30.—Six hundred members of the Colorado national guard rested in camp early today awaiting order from Adjutant General Chase as to their disposition within the strike zone. It was expected that some of the troops would be ordered to Delagua, where trouble was reported last night between mine guards and strikers the only place in the strike region where an open clash occurred between the two factions. The 126 men ordered to Agular yesterday to protect the Southwestern Fuel company's property against a threatened recurrence of Wednesday's violence entrained today for Walsenburg under orders from General Chase. At Soris the mine camp was thrown into panic by the explosion of a bomb at the St. Thomas mine a mile to the east, late last night. The missile was thrown from the top of a hill to a point well behind a group of miners' frame houses. No harm was done.

Fear for Camp's Safety.
Reports from Delagua of fighting between mine guards and strikers made Adjutant General Chase very uneasy as to the safety of the camp. He kept in communication with the mine and learned that the battle was a harmless one, and that the fire was diminishing.

Strikers are reported to have burned a long span of a frame trestle on the Colorado & Wyoming railroad between Segundo and Primere. Mail and passenger traffic, as well as freight, will be tied up on that road for several hours, according to officials.

Some shooting occurred at Starkville late yesterday in which no one

News Snapshots Of the Week

The four masted schooner Marjory Brown sprang a leak during a gale and sank 200 miles off Sandy Hook. Just as she plunged head down to her ocean grave the captain and his crew of six put off from the stern in a lifeboat and reached the liner Berlin from which a remarkable picture of the sinking and escape was taken. Nearly 400 miners were killed by an explosion in a Wales mine. Dredges started clearing out the channel of Culebra cut after the Cucaracha slide was dynamited. The jury in the murder trial of Mrs. Eaton visited the Eaton home at Assinippi, Mass., in a large farm wagon drawn by four oxen. George F. Williams of Boston was appointed minister to Greece. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was admitted to America. William Sulzer, deposed governor of New York, attacked Tammany

WHOLESALE HOUSE FOR ROUNDUP

VIRDEN & CURRIE WILL ESTABLISHED BRANCH PRODUCE HOUSE IN ROUNDUP.

S. A. Willits, representing Virden & Currie of Butte was in town last Wednesday calling on the customers of the big Butte produce house, and announced to a representative of The Record that his house will establish a branch distributing plant in Roundup about March 1st of next year, if suitable arrangements can be made for warehouses, etc. Branch houses will also be established at Miles City and Great Falls. They will distribute to all the small towns of this county and the Musselshell valley from this place. Their business has grown to such an extent in this territory that they feel that they will be unable to properly distribute out of Butte another season. Mr. Willits, who will have charge of the new enterprise, will make his headquarters here, and it is safe to predict that it will prosper and become a permanent success under his energetic management. While in Roundup this time, Mr. Willits brought a car of Bethesda mineral water here and disposed of the greater part of it.

Dave Pauls of Waldheim was a visitor in the city Monday. While here he paid The Record office an appreciated call and had his name enrolled on The Record's ever increasing subscription list.

was injured. Strikers fired on the tippie house at the mine camp early this morning.

Adjutant General Chase has issued positive orders that his men are not to go into the miners' tents or homes but that every man known to have a weapon in his possession would be disarmed. The adjutant general declared he would make no move which could be construed by either operators or striking miners as prejudicial to the causes.

NEXT TUESDAY ELECTION DAY

New Jersey and Massachusetts to Choose Governors and Maryland United States Senators.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Elections will be held next Tuesday in numerous states and cities throughout the country. Interest in the outcome centers largely in New Jersey and Massachusetts, where governors and other state officials are to be elected, and in Maryland, where the voters are to choose a United States Senator, state comptroller and Clerk of Court of Appeals.

Official Washington is looking forward to the results of the election with many evidences of anxious interest. The president is most largely concerned in the outcome in his home state of New Jersey, where, thru Secretary Bryan, he has made known his attitude regarding the situation.

With a governor, eight state senators and sixty assemblymen to be chosen in a three-cornered contest, the political battle in New Jersey is complex. The views of the political managers on the outcome of the election vary greatly. The state chairman of each of the three political parties battling in the state is claiming the victory for his candidate. With Acting Governor James F. Fielder waging a fight for the Wilson policies, ex-State Senator Everett Colby carrying the Progressive banner, and former Governor Edward C. Stokes leading a reunited and strongly recruited Republican army, to predict the result of the contest would be sheer guesswork.

Massachusetts in Muddle.

Even more complex than the situation in New Jersey is that presented in Massachusetts, where the gubernatorial race is being run with seven entries. Eugene N. Foss, the present governor, is seeking re-election as an independent. Charles S. Bird, who was a candidate last year, is again the standard-bearer of the Progressive party. The Republicans have nominated for governor Congressman A. P. Gardner, well remembered as one of the leaders of the insurgent movement against Speaker Cannon. The Democratic candidate is David J. Walsh, the present lieutenant governor. The election is regarded as most important because of the effect it will have upon the future of the Republican and Progressive parties. Public sentiment in regards to the Wilson administration will hardly be reflected either in a Democratic victory or defeat, since the state platform of that party makes no reference to the administration or the tariff bill.

The election of a United States senator to succeed the late Isidor Rayner is the big feature of the Maryland campaign. Wm. P. Jackson, republican, was appointed to the position by Governor Goldsborough pending the election of a successor by the legislature, but with the adoption of the constitutional amendment providing for the popular election of United States Senators, the governor decided to substitute the choice of the people for his own personal selection. The candidates for the senatorship are Blair Lee, democrat; Thomas Parran, republican; George L. Wellington, progressive.

New York's Fight.

In point of interest the mayoralty campaign in New York city far exceeds that of the state contests. The fight is between Edward E. McCall,

BILLINGS WOMAN DOCTOR IS HALED IN COURT

The County Health Officer Charges Her With Negligence.

BILLINGS, MONTANA, Oct. 30.—On the charge that she failed to report the existence of a contagious disease in the family of a dairyman, Dr. Harriet Clark, one of the best known physicians in eastern Montana, was given a trial before Judge Matheison and a jury, the verdict being for acquittal. Her arrest was at the instance of the county health officer, who diagnosed the case as typhoid. Dr. Clark declared it was septic fever caused by vaccination.

Dr. W. F. Cogswell, secretary of the state board of health, was called for the state and testified that the symptoms described to him by the county health officer indicated typhoid. Prof. Emil Starz, chemist and bacteriologist, swore that a sample of the patient's blood showed no trace of typhoid.

The verdict did not convince the health authorities, however, and they have refused to permit the sale of milk from the dairy until the patient is removed to a hospital or has entirely recovered from the fever.

the Democratic candidate, and John Purroy Mitchell, the choice of the Fusionists, or those opposed to Tammany rule. That the result will determine finally the status of Charles F. Murphy as boss of Tammany Hall is the general opinion expressed by the politicians.

Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and a number of other large cities of the country also have important elections on for next Tuesday. In each of these municipal contests, as in New York, the reform question is a dominant issue.

Several congressional elections are scheduled for the day, to fill vacancies resulting from the death or resignation of the sitting members. In Massachusetts a congressman is to be elected in the third district to succeed the late Representative Wilder, republican. In the third Maryland district, where there is a vacancy, the Republicans are making a tremendously hard fight to overcome a normally Democratic plurality. In two New York city districts congressmen are to be elected to succeed Francis Burton Harrison, recently appointed governor general of the Philippines, and "Big Tim" Sullivan, deceased. The Democrats are practically sure of success in both these districts.

In Ohio, Oregon, New York and several other states the voters will be given opportunity to pass judgment on several proposed amendments to the state constitution. In Illinois the local option contests are attracting most public attention.

The Fad has a real metropolitan display of shoes in its window this week which is attracting considerable attention. Those who may be under the impression that the owner of the Fad is a Jew are respectfully referred to the background of this display, a glimpse of which will disillusion the most stubborn.

Billy Milne and Thomas Herbolich, local boxing enthusiasts have commenced training. They will take a workout over the roads tomorrow morning.

KLEIN MINER DIES FROM INJURIES

INJURIES RECEIVED IN MINE PROVE FATAL TO GUSTAVE DALLONAY.

Gustave Dallonay, an Austrian, 27 years old, died at Klein last night as a result of injuries received in the mine a couple of days ago. He had placed a charge of powder in the face of the coal and after the discharge of the same returned to see the effect of it and was severely crushed by a fall of coal. He leaves a family of three, a wife and two little children who left for a visit to the old country a short time ago. An inquest will be held at Klein this evening by Coroner O'Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bruce are the proud parents of another boy—the third one in their family—born Tuesday.

ROUNDUP ATHLETIC CLUB

A petition has been circulated asking for the support to be pledged for an athletic association for Roundup. About one hundred names have been secured on the petition. These signers have pledged to help support this movement in a financial way and to promote it in every way. It is a good movement if properly handled and it will probably be so, as the promoters of the organization are responsible. A meeting has been called for next Thursday evening to effect an organization. Some boxing matches will probably be staged by the organization in the near future to promote interest and to help with defraying the expenses. It is not the purpose of the club to confine itself only to development of fist cuff displays however. Regular gymnasium work in classes will be given. A lease of the Old Star will probably be taken as that is the only suitable building in town at present available.

AVERAGE CROP THIS SEASON

PRODUCTS OF FARMS HAVE NOT BEEN BUMPER, NOR HAVE THEY BEEN POOR.

Wheat Yield 28,000,000

Average Per Acre Figured at Eighteen Bushels—Conditions Are Ideal for Next Year's Crop—in No Part of Montana Was There a Crop Failure.

HELENA, MONTANA, Oct. 30.—Montana this year produced twenty-eight million bushels of wheat, is the estimate of grain men who are in touch with conditions in every part of the state, have agents in all the rural districts and, who, if anybody, should know what the grain output is.

But these grain dealers assert they don't know how much grain Montana is producing this year. "Conservative guessers," they say, put the output at 28,000,000 bushels. It may be a whole lot more; they don't think it will be less. The yield per acre is estimated at eighteen bushels.

Reports that in certain sections of the state early frosts did immense damage and that in other parts of the state there were droughts are greatly exaggerated. In no part of Montana was there a crop failure, and the average crop for the state was fair; it was not a bumper one but on the other hand neither was it poor. Some little damage was done in the Gallatin by frost to a few patches of wheat and in some instances fields of peas were touched, but the average in the Gallatin was way up.

Conditions at present are ideal for next year's crop. There has been abundant moisture all over the state, which has germinated the winter wheat, and has made plowing easy. The snows came early in the mountains this year, and this will insure plenty of water in the streams for irrigating purposes.

WOULD REWRITE BIBLE IN BASEBALL PARLANCE

Book Should Be Made Vivid and Interesting, Says Member of Church

RICHMOND, IND., Oct. 30.—Members of the Friends' church were startled by the declaration of Horace Swan, a prominent English member of the society, visiting in Richmond, that the Bible needs to be so revised that it will be read with as much interest as a newspaper description of an American baseball game.

"It should smack of the parlance of the bleachers and verbiage of Coney Island," he said.

One phrase in the Bible, "let us go hence," Mr. Swan would change to read: "To the hay for us."

C E. DAVISON has a calling that calls for efficiency and exactness. He is supposed to be less erring in his work than you or I who have less responsibility. It takes a man of exact habits and a clear mind to make a success of abstracting. Mr. Davison has made a success of his business because he does not make expensive mistakes. And he possesses another quality that has helped him to build up his business to its present proportions. That is the quality of friendliness. Outside of his business with you, you may count on a real personal interest. That is why he has been able to humanize his cold, documentary business. And that is further, a reason why he is reliable. Because he wants to be correct because you are you. Get him to make your next abstract. He will justify.

L ISSMAN is a progressive from the bottom up, not from the top down. He is a builder. His mind and ability is distinctly constructive. When he came here a couple of years ago, he began to cobble shoes. He did honest work and his reputation for efficiency spread. His business grew. People consulted him about their footwear and he decided that the time had arrived when he was safe in branching out. He bought machinery and began to build shoes as honestly as he had before cobbled decrepit shoes. The people know that he can deliver the goods. He is building not only for the present but for the future. If he makes you one pair of shoes he will have an opportunity to make you another. Because he makes them honestly out of the honest material. He is here to stay. He is a success. He is author of an achievement.
