

The Avant Courier

IS ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY. AT BOZEMAN, GALLATIN COUNTY, M. T.

JOSEPH WRIGHT, PUBLISHER AND PROPRIETOR.

TERMS: One year, in advance... Three months, in advance...

ADVERTISING RATES: 1 Line, 10 Cents... 12 Lines, 1.00...

Table with columns for OFFICE, NAME, RESIDENCE. Lists names like B. F. PORTS, J. E. CALLAWAY, etc.

DIRECTORY OF FEDERAL OFFICERS OF MONTANA.

Table with columns for OFFICE, NAME, RESIDENCE. Lists various federal positions and names.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

A. G. P. GEORGE, ATTORNEY AT LAW. THOMAS R. EDWARDS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. SAMUEL WARD, ATTORNEY AT LAW. J. ALLEN HOSMER, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW. J. J. DAVIS, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW. H. F. WILLIAMS, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW. PAGE & COLEMAN, ATTORNEYS AT LAW. STREET & TURNER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW. DON L. BYAM, ECLECTIC PHYSICIAN.

WANTED! County Warrants. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that I will pay the Highest Cash Price for GALLATIN COUNTY WARRANTS.

YE GAMBOLIER.

With Kings and Queens, as well as Knaves, Ye Gambolier doth deal; He lives on Stacks, but doth not Aught for ye public weal.

THE EASTERN YELLOWSTONE EXPEDITION.

The Timp's Penitentiary publishes the following, purporting to be the account given by a Florida Indian of the death of his twin sister, and how she came back to him.

The Indians' Story.

A writer in the New York Evening Post sets up a remarkable theory in regard to great fires. He says: On the night of 10th of December, 1858, I was sitting with a literary friend, about 9 o'clock, in one of the private boxes of Hamblin's magnificent Bowery Theatre.

A Remarkable Theory.

When we reached Wall street, near Water, the Pontine Coffee House had caught, and dark smoke, in huge masses, tinged with flickering flashes of bright flame, was bursting from all the upper windows.

The Franco-German Indemnity.

At there is a good deal of interest at the present moment attaching to the payments by France to Germany, it may be useful to note what payments have actually been made.

M. QUAD'S EPISTLE.

Advice Where None is Needed. Chaps like Horace Greeley and George Francis Train are continually writing what they call words of advice to young men, advising them to go West and buy farms, etc.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The International Workingmen's Association has just issued an address to all English speaking citizens of the United States. For the better understanding of its position an elaborate statement is made, both of its principles and its objects.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The Sacramento Union remarking upon this, says: "Such an association will be looked upon with suspicion by all true Americans."

Train on his High Horse.

George Francis Train is now on one of his fastest rampages in the far West. He is loud on Chicago, while sending the proceeds of a lecture to the sufferers. For example, at Lexington, Mo., he said:

Theocracy.

If there is one thing more than another that ought always to set you on your guard against a teacher of religion, it is when he comes to you with the assertion of his own spiritual authority, and either bribes you with promises of eternal happiness, or threatens you with penalties of eternal misery.

Another Mormon Exodus Threatened.

If the Mormons determine to make another exodus, where are they to go? There are not many more wildernesses to conquer on this continent; for since the Saints first settled in Utah the railroad and telegraph have brought all sections of our country together, and made, as it were, one family of the whole American people.

Genius and Common Sense.

Genius and common sense are best together. Genius alone runs itself to rashness, and common sense by itself seldom hides behind caution. Consequently genius frequently is out at elbows, and common sense just as often remains only comfortable when it might get into the line.

Idle Girls.

It is a painful spectacle in families where the mother is the drudge, to see the daughters, elegantly dressed, reclining at their ease with their drawing, their fancy work and their reading, beguiling themselves of the lapse of hours, days and weeks, and never dreaming of their responsibilities, but as a necessary consequence of neglect of duty, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are.

Fortune.

"I am old enough," says Smollet, in a letter to his friend Garrick, "to have seen and observed that we are all playthings of fortune, and that it often depends upon something as insignificant and precarious as the tossing up of a half-penny, whether a man rises to affluence and honors or continues to die, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The International Workingmen's Association has just issued an address to all English speaking citizens of the United States. For the better understanding of its position an elaborate statement is made, both of its principles and its objects.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The Sacramento Union remarking upon this, says: "Such an association will be looked upon with suspicion by all true Americans."

Train on his High Horse.

George Francis Train is now on one of his fastest rampages in the far West. He is loud on Chicago, while sending the proceeds of a lecture to the sufferers. For example, at Lexington, Mo., he said:

Theocracy.

If there is one thing more than another that ought always to set you on your guard against a teacher of religion, it is when he comes to you with the assertion of his own spiritual authority, and either bribes you with promises of eternal happiness, or threatens you with penalties of eternal misery.

Another Mormon Exodus Threatened.

If the Mormons determine to make another exodus, where are they to go? There are not many more wildernesses to conquer on this continent; for since the Saints first settled in Utah the railroad and telegraph have brought all sections of our country together, and made, as it were, one family of the whole American people.

Genius and Common Sense.

Genius and common sense are best together. Genius alone runs itself to rashness, and common sense by itself seldom hides behind caution. Consequently genius frequently is out at elbows, and common sense just as often remains only comfortable when it might get into the line.

Idle Girls.

It is a painful spectacle in families where the mother is the drudge, to see the daughters, elegantly dressed, reclining at their ease with their drawing, their fancy work and their reading, beguiling themselves of the lapse of hours, days and weeks, and never dreaming of their responsibilities, but as a necessary consequence of neglect of duty, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

Fortune.

"I am old enough," says Smollet, in a letter to his friend Garrick, "to have seen and observed that we are all playthings of fortune, and that it often depends upon something as insignificant and precarious as the tossing up of a half-penny, whether a man rises to affluence and honors or continues to die, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The International Workingmen's Association has just issued an address to all English speaking citizens of the United States. For the better understanding of its position an elaborate statement is made, both of its principles and its objects.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The Sacramento Union remarking upon this, says: "Such an association will be looked upon with suspicion by all true Americans."

Train on his High Horse.

George Francis Train is now on one of his fastest rampages in the far West. He is loud on Chicago, while sending the proceeds of a lecture to the sufferers. For example, at Lexington, Mo., he said:

Theocracy.

If there is one thing more than another that ought always to set you on your guard against a teacher of religion, it is when he comes to you with the assertion of his own spiritual authority, and either bribes you with promises of eternal happiness, or threatens you with penalties of eternal misery.

Another Mormon Exodus Threatened.

If the Mormons determine to make another exodus, where are they to go? There are not many more wildernesses to conquer on this continent; for since the Saints first settled in Utah the railroad and telegraph have brought all sections of our country together, and made, as it were, one family of the whole American people.

Genius and Common Sense.

Genius and common sense are best together. Genius alone runs itself to rashness, and common sense by itself seldom hides behind caution. Consequently genius frequently is out at elbows, and common sense just as often remains only comfortable when it might get into the line.

Idle Girls.

It is a painful spectacle in families where the mother is the drudge, to see the daughters, elegantly dressed, reclining at their ease with their drawing, their fancy work and their reading, beguiling themselves of the lapse of hours, days and weeks, and never dreaming of their responsibilities, but as a necessary consequence of neglect of duty, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

Fortune.

"I am old enough," says Smollet, in a letter to his friend Garrick, "to have seen and observed that we are all playthings of fortune, and that it often depends upon something as insignificant and precarious as the tossing up of a half-penny, whether a man rises to affluence and honors or continues to die, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The International Workingmen's Association has just issued an address to all English speaking citizens of the United States. For the better understanding of its position an elaborate statement is made, both of its principles and its objects.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The Sacramento Union remarking upon this, says: "Such an association will be looked upon with suspicion by all true Americans."

Train on his High Horse.

George Francis Train is now on one of his fastest rampages in the far West. He is loud on Chicago, while sending the proceeds of a lecture to the sufferers. For example, at Lexington, Mo., he said:

Theocracy.

If there is one thing more than another that ought always to set you on your guard against a teacher of religion, it is when he comes to you with the assertion of his own spiritual authority, and either bribes you with promises of eternal happiness, or threatens you with penalties of eternal misery.

Another Mormon Exodus Threatened.

If the Mormons determine to make another exodus, where are they to go? There are not many more wildernesses to conquer on this continent; for since the Saints first settled in Utah the railroad and telegraph have brought all sections of our country together, and made, as it were, one family of the whole American people.

Genius and Common Sense.

Genius and common sense are best together. Genius alone runs itself to rashness, and common sense by itself seldom hides behind caution. Consequently genius frequently is out at elbows, and common sense just as often remains only comfortable when it might get into the line.

Idle Girls.

It is a painful spectacle in families where the mother is the drudge, to see the daughters, elegantly dressed, reclining at their ease with their drawing, their fancy work and their reading, beguiling themselves of the lapse of hours, days and weeks, and never dreaming of their responsibilities, but as a necessary consequence of neglect of duty, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

Fortune.

"I am old enough," says Smollet, in a letter to his friend Garrick, "to have seen and observed that we are all playthings of fortune, and that it often depends upon something as insignificant and precarious as the tossing up of a half-penny, whether a man rises to affluence and honors or continues to die, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The International Workingmen's Association has just issued an address to all English speaking citizens of the United States. For the better understanding of its position an elaborate statement is made, both of its principles and its objects.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE.

The Sacramento Union remarking upon this, says: "Such an association will be looked upon with suspicion by all true Americans."

Train on his High Horse.

George Francis Train is now on one of his fastest rampages in the far West. He is loud on Chicago, while sending the proceeds of a lecture to the sufferers. For example, at Lexington, Mo., he said:

Theocracy.

If there is one thing more than another that ought always to set you on your guard against a teacher of religion, it is when he comes to you with the assertion of his own spiritual authority, and either bribes you with promises of eternal happiness, or threatens you with penalties of eternal misery.

Another Mormon Exodus Threatened.

If the Mormons determine to make another exodus, where are they to go? There are not many more wildernesses to conquer on this continent; for since the Saints first settled in Utah the railroad and telegraph have brought all sections of our country together, and made, as it were, one family of the whole American people.

Genius and Common Sense.

Genius and common sense are best together. Genius alone runs itself to rashness, and common sense by itself seldom hides behind caution. Consequently genius frequently is out at elbows, and common sense just as often remains only comfortable when it might get into the line.

Idle Girls.

It is a painful spectacle in families where the mother is the drudge, to see the daughters, elegantly dressed, reclining at their ease with their drawing, their fancy work and their reading, beguiling themselves of the lapse of hours, days and weeks, and never dreaming of their responsibilities, but as a necessary consequence of neglect of duty, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."

Fortune.

"I am old enough," says Smollet, in a letter to his friend Garrick, "to have seen and observed that we are all playthings of fortune, and that it often depends upon something as insignificant and precarious as the tossing up of a half-penny, whether a man rises to affluence and honors or continues to die, growing weary of their useless lives, laying hold of every newly invented stimulant to rouse their drooping energies, and blaming their fate when they dare not blame their God, for having placed them where they are."