Anent The Governor

Certain of the county papers, in a spirit of vexation and chagrin, have attempted to take Governor Stewart to task for vetoing the recent county division bills. Some of the squibs are indeed funny reading, representing as they do the outpourings of veriest tyros at the newspaper game, who follow the tactics of the schoolboy in their attempts at character assassination.

The chief executive is not touched by such small innuendoes. He has the courage of his convictions, and will doubtless take no note of the petty bickerings in this part of the state. Governor Stewart's position has been clearly defined at all times. He simply applied the law as it was interpreted by the attorney general, the proper legal officer in the case. As the governor says, the people have plenty of opportunity to get county division, if they want it, by popular vote. This was illustrated only a few days ago, when the new county of Stillwater was formed by popular vote. There was no suspicion of political trickery about this division; it was the popular will of the majority. Had Wibaux and Richland counties been formed under the same conditions, there would not have been a word of adverse comment.

At any rate, Governor Stewart has shown thus early in the game that he is head and shoulders above the petty political grafters in public life, and is to be heartily commended upon his courageous and outspoken stand.

Burke Gets Big Job

Washington, March 15.—Former Governor Burke of North Dakota was appointed Treasurer of the United States today by President Wilson. Gov. Burke was an original Wilson man and was an energetic campaigner. The nomination was sent to the senate at once.

Two very charming and attractive young ladies arrived from Dickinson last week, and were the esteemed visitors of Thomas Menke. These noteworthy personages paid several visits to the high school thereby causing more or less disturbance among the sterner sex. They, however did not stay long enough to make the impression lasting.

The Senior Class have finished their work in Emerson's Essays and are now studying Shakespeare's "Tempest." This is very interesting and instructive and the Seniors have expressed themselves as wishing that it might last forever if not longer.

The following is the typewriting bulletin for the week ending March 14, 1913; Helen Gondolf, budgets number 24, 25, 26, 27, 28; Elizabeth Belanger, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25; Esther Birch, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23; Lillian Guy, 25, 26, 27, 28; Julia Burdick, 11, 12, 13, 14; Neva Ray, 11, 12, 13, 14; Lavina Ketchum, 15, 16, 17; Mary Kennedy, 11, 12, 13; Aurilla Drummond, 25, 26; Edith Anderson, 11, 12; Bernice Kempton, 10, 11; Hedwig Swanson, 8, 9; Jennie Bean, 7, 8; Charles Clark, 7, 8; Consiella Reynolds, 6, 8; Agnes Lemoyne, 6, 7; Hettie Hatton, 5, 6; John Swanke, 4, 5; Gladys Ferguson, 2; Agnes Kinney, 1; Jessie Case, 1; Pearl Murphy, 1.

The Sophomore Geometry class have just finished book IV and will spend a few days in review work.

The physics class started work in their experiments in electricity last Monday. They have now completed forty-three experiments, leaving a balance of sixteen to still work. They will complete these easily in two months if they do not work more than two per week.

Examinations will be held Friday for those who failed in Geometry, English, Stenography and Modern History.

The high school was much pleased and relieved by the action of Governor Stewart in vetoing the county division bill. This would have taken much from the support of the high school, with the result that where we now have one good school, we would then have several poorer ones. On the whole Governor Stewart's action is very satisfactory.

The boys returned from their trip to Bozeman last week tired and weary, but none of them expressed themselves as being sorry that they had gone. The team, however, was a little unfortunate in being matched against a strong one at first. At the first drawing, the team was put over into the second round of preliminaries on a bye. Although they were thus relieved of the strain of a game's playing, they were obliged to play Helena, one of the strong teams. Though we should have liked to have had the team win at least one game, we have nothing to complain of since they put up such a good fight in the game they did play. As shown by the score of 16 to 23 the Helena bunch had no walk away. An enlarged picture of the team will be placed in the library this year the same as last with the names of the player and the schedule inscribed. It may be of interest to briefly trace the program of the team in the three years it has been playing. In the season of 1910-11 the team played five games, winning one, which gave them a percentage of .200. During the season of 1911-12 the team played eleven games, winning nine, giving them a percentage of .818. During the present season, 1912-13, the team has played twelve games leaving them a percentage of .666. Although there is a dropping off of the percentage in comparison with last year's, it may be accounted for in the difference of conditions, or in the great difference of the schedules. At any rate the school will be entirely satisfied if the next year's team end up with as good a record. We wish to congratulate our sister school, Forsyth, on the fact that they were able to get away with one game at least.

Miss Naoun Allen of Billings High School entered the Dawson County High School last Tuesday.

Mr. G. G. Hoole who was confined to the house for a few days returned to school Tuesday afternoon.

Examinations were held last Friday for deficient students in the following studies: Freshman algebra, physics, senior algebra, and commercial geography. Next Friday examinations will be given in book-keeping, freshman English, stenography, and modern history. Though the prospects of a baseball team in the high school are very good this year, there still remains the old trouble of finances, and the lack of teams to play. The neighboring high schools seldom have teams, and those farther away cost too much to bring here. Then the school baseball season is too short for them to enter the city league, so the only thing left is to play among themselves. Consequently the boys are of the opinion that it would be useless to start baseball, and that the time would be put to better advantage in training a track team to send to Missoula. If, however, the aforementioned difficulties can be overcome the boys would be more than glad to play baseball.

About eighty new books will be added to the library soon.

A very sad but exciting scene was witnessed Friday morning, March 7, as one of the junior girls hurried downstairs in a very unusual manner. Not wishing to slight any steps she touched every one of them. Though her downfall was pitiful it is hoped she will not suffer any serious results.

Miss Esther Birch had the misfortune to lose her heart on the way to school last week, and would be much pleased if the same were returned to her intact. It will be easy to recognize as it is an agate cut into the shape of a heart, and is used as a locket at the end of a neck chain. The chain was also lost but has been returned.
