EVERYTHING READY FOR A BIG FAIR (Continued from Page One)

big out-door aerial acts to keep the spectators busy while other stunts are being pulled off at the same time. There will not be a dull moment. It will be just like a three-ring circus, something doing all the time and with no intermissions of any kind, even while the races are being run.

Admission tickets to the fair ground will be on sale at Healy's Cigar store and the Hotel Jordan as well as at the ticket office on the fair grounds. The fair specials will be run every 10 or 15 minutes by the Northern Pacific railroad at the usual price, 10 cents for the round trip. There will also be special excursion rates on the railroad as usual between Mandan and Billings.

Special attention is called to the money donations for corn by C. E. Miller, the land man, and to the donation by the chamber of commerce of a pure bred Shorthorn bull calf for the best 20 ears of corn grown on non-irrigated land; to the donation by the fair commission board of two pure bred Poland China pigs, one sow and one boar, for the best display of small grains; and of the pure bred Jersey Duroc sow and boar and the Poland China sow for the best display of vegetables. These are, of course, in addition to the regular premiums enumerated in detail in the official premium list printed in July in the Monitor job department.

Those in Charge

Those in charge of the fair and its departments are as follows: fair commission, Messrs. George McCone, Fred J. Goulding, R. L. Wyman, T. F. Hagan and G. D. Hollecker. Officers: G. D. Hollecker, president; T. F. Hagan, vice president; George McCone, 2nd vice president; R. L. Wyman, treasurer and Fred J. Goulding, secretary.

Directors: G. D. Hollecker, Fred J. Goulding, George McCone, Henry Green, A. A. Olson, Claude Parker, C. A. Thurston, T. F. Hagan, R. L. Wyman, Jack Martin and Lester Brown.

Those in charge of the different departments are as follows: Division B, horses, W. F. Stutz; Division C, cattle, Sam Sansburn; Division E, swine, Henry Schmidt; Division F, farm products, Lester Brown; Division G, fresh fruits, Joe Eisenbart; Division H, fine arts, Division I, flowers and house plants, Division J, domestic and Division K, women's department, Mrs. Wm. Mulligan; Division L, poultry, A. W. Adams; Division M, educational, Miss Camilla Osborne.

The complete and official fair premium lists can be had free of charge by applying to Secretary Fred Goulding or to the Monitor office.

We hesitate to advise anyone to neglect their farm work, but if it is at all possible for you to leave your place for a day or two, you are urged to attend this year's fair, for it will undoubtedly be the greatest exhibition of its kind ever held anywhere in this part of the state.

DISTRICT COURT ADJOURNS HONOR OF DEAD ATTORNEY

The district court met in regular session after the noon recess on Monday and adjourned immediately after a motion was made and carried for the appointment of a committee to draft a set of resolutions, a copy of which was ordered to be sent to the family of the late Attorney George C. Hanson of the Glendive bar, who was killed in an automobile accident last Wednesday.

The following members of the committee were appointed by Judge C. C. Hurley: Attorneys Joseph A. Slattery, Desmond J. O'Neil, Jens Rivenes, H. J. Haskell and Albert Anderson. Immediately after the appointment of the committee the court adjourned for the day in honor of the memory of the deceased.

LOCAL CROP REPORTS READ LIKE FICTION

A local wag, who besides being a successful farmer himself is also somewhat of a joker, is responsible for the following crop reports from nearby towns and farming sections, any one of which may be strictly true as far as we know, but which of course we do not stand ready to prove.

Deer Creek, Mont.—Chased by an enraged bull, Gus Schlicht sought safety by perching in the upper branches of a corn stalk in his field.

Belle Prairie, Mont.—Harry Bell reports that hens are laying better than ever before in the history of Belle Prairie, due to the fact that the fast growing of the crops makes a buzzing sound that keeps the hens awake, and thinking it is daylight they lay during the entire 24 hours.

Poverty Flat, Mont.—The oat crop is so large on the flat that when Chas. Brubaker attempted to put a bushel of oats, threshed on Monday, into a bushel measure, the grain over-ran the measure and there was enough left over to feed not only his own pigs but the pigs belonging to the Atwoods, Humphreys, Rigbys and the bonanza hog raiser, Dan McCabe.

Hardscrabble, Mont.—Tom Simmons reports that No. 1 hard wheat is so hard that a sledge being used to test its tensile strength, glanced off the kernel and went clean through his barn door three rods away, killing a coyote that had gone in there after chickens.

Circle, Mont.—Still Wilkins of Money Patch Farm, stated to a reporter that Circle business men are using kernels of wheat from his farm for paperweights, upon which have been beautifully engraved these words: "Bumper Crop, 1915."

Paxton, Mont.—George W. Davison, who runs the auto livery between here and the county seat, reports that persons who go in the vicinity of wheat fields are equipping themselves with compasses purchased from Storekeeper Forrest Hopkins to prevent themselves from being lost in the fields.

Bloomfield—Bernard Schwartz of this place, while waiting for the threshers to show up last week, took his axe and cut down a corn stalk growing at the edge of his garden. It fell the wrong way, however, and crushing in the roof of his new barn came very near killing two horses and a calf.

Lindsay, Mont.—Emil Schultz of this place stated yesterday that shocks are so thick that binders are unable to get out of the fields after the grain is cut. Barber-reporter Thompson, a well known literary light and writer for prominent newspapers and magazines, is now at work designing an aerial runway to carry the machines from the fields to the implement sheds.

Redwater, Mont.—Art Rawson of this place has designed splendid feeding troughs for his hogs, by scooping out corn stalks and spiking them on each end to wheat straws that have been split at the top, the lower ends of the supports being driven into the ground.

AT THE ISIS

During the coming week one of the finest motion picture programs ever seen in the city will be shown at the Isis.

Saturday evening, Sept. 11, Ella Hall and Rupert Julian will be featured in "Jewel" a charming five-act photoplay.

Sunday evening a great Universal drama, "Misjudged," and the big league stuff, "You Know Me Al" will be the features presented.

Monday evening Lenore Ulrich, star of "The Bird of Paradise," will be presented in "Kilmeny," a romantic story of a child of the woods transplanted to city life. This feature is one of the best on the Paramount program and will have been released only 8 days when it is presented at the Isis on Monday evening.

Next Thursday evening, Sept. 16, Marguerite Clark, the adorable, scores another decided screen success in the Famous Players Film Company's film version of the famous comedy success, "Seven Sisters." The originality of the idea and the attractiveness of its characters combine to make this photo-play one which everyone should see.

INTREPID HUNTER LOSES HIS SHOES

Henry Schmidt of the City meat market and L. H. Bachman returned to the city from a hunting trip west of Pope's ranch Tuesday night. Mr. Schmidt was minus his suspenders and Mr. Bachman was barefooted. It happened in this wise.

Bachman shot at a duck and strange to say caught him on the wing. The bird dropped into the creek, which at that place was comparatively narrow and apparently shallow. "Bach," with his gun still in his hand, took off his shoes and started to wade into what he thought was a perfectly decent and respectful stream. No sooner had he gotten his second foot into the water than he sank from view, hollering for help before he went under. Before Mr. Schmidt could get to his side, "Bach," who by the way can not swim a stroke, had reached a foothold and, with the gun in one hand and the duck in the other, held both suspended high in the air and shouted: "I'm all right. To h— with the shoes, I've got the duck."

COUNTY'S BUSINESS IS CONDUCTED ECONOMICALLY

A report recently furnished by County Clerk and Recorder R. L. Wyman to the county commissioners, at their request, shows a total volume of business transacted and fees taken in from September 1, 1914 to September 1, 1915, of $9,673.45, which amount, it was stated, is more than $3,000 above the expenses of the office during the period named.

The county clerk's official report is made on the 1st of November each year, the above mentioned report having been specially asked for by the chairman in an effort to ascertain whether or not the county clerk's office was being conducted within its expenses.

Notwithstanding the fact that the business of the office, in the matter of fees at least, has been somewhat lower than usual during the past month, the showing made is very creditable and proves that this branch of the county's business is being conducted on a profitable basis while in nearly every other county in the state it is conducted at a great loss to the taxpayers.
