THE EQUITY MOVEMENT

IN THIS STATE

The Equity Exchange convention headquarters in St. Paul has just received a communication from R. T. C. Cookingham, one of the untiring workers for the equity movement in Montana. The communication is of such value to the progress of the society in Montana and other states that the publicity department of the big convention deemed it expedient to give it the widest publicity. Mr. Cookingham will be at the big convention in St. Paul, December 7th, 8th and 9th, full of a subject pertaining to the Equity association in Montana and it is the earnest hope of the convention management that every farmer will avail himself of this opportunity to hear Mr. Cookingham's message. The communication received is as follows:

"After just a little over a year of effort we pause to view briefly the work of the American Society of Equity, in its operations in Montana. Like all great movements for the betterment of human conditions, the society has had many problems to solve, and many difficulties to overcome. Delving into these problems our splendid leaders have reached solutions, and meeting these difficulties bravely and fearlessly they have in a great measure overcome and risen from the conflict victoriously.
"No great movement for the disenfranchisement of any class of people has ever been projected without meeting with bitter attacks from those whose hand, like the hand of Jacob has been cunningly disguised, to wrest the birthright from the unsuspecting Esau to whom it rightfully belongs.
"Montana—the Golden—with all its opportunity, is like her older sister states, afflicted with the same disorder of graft and greed, wherein the large dominating money interests wring from the horny hand of honest toil, the profits which legitimately belong to the producer, increasing the dividends of the former and leaving the latter to eke out a meager existence. But when the night is darkest, the morning is near; when the tale of bricks is doubled, a deliverer is born; when the producers of farm products are borne down with the burden of labor, with low prices and high cost of living; Lo the American Society of Equity steps forth and says to these toil-worn sons and daughters of the soil, "Let me help you bear your burden." And the farmers, here, there and everywhere throughout the Treasure state are accepting the proffered assistance and learning the secret of successful co-operation in the buying and selling of commodities.
The conditions of Montana make this the great field of opportunity for the A. S. of E. for several reasons. It is a new country being settled very rapidly by farmers who have but little means and who need assistance, more than those who farm in older settled states, where there is more independence, and the great manufacturing centers are in close competition making prices on all necessities reasonable, and better market facilities and prices for farm products.
"The transportation charges are so great that the freight on certain commodities is often more than the first cost of articles bought in small quantities, so that the co-operative buying of our society, enabling the members to buy in car lots is the solution of the high freight rates, both in buying and selling.

"Hundreds of our members have this year joined in shipping their grain co-operatively, and so far as our knowledge goes those who shipped to the Equity exchange have profited from six to ten cents per bushel more than by selling to the old line elevator companies. Hoorah! for the exchange of St. Paul.
"Our state union at Great Falls under the splendid management of F. A. Bennett has accomplished wonders in looking after the various departments, disseminating literature and caring for the business interests of nearly 5,000 members.
"The livestock department recently inaugurated and efficiently managed by F. E. Osborne, is, we believe, to be one of the most important features and of great benefit to the stock raisers of our state.
"As a society we need to extend our efforts and secure more members to become the power we ought to be in the state, and instead of 5,000 members, we ought to have 20,000 farmers co-operating for their mutual good. As time goes by this work of organization for increasing our membership must have greater attention.
"Like the rising of the morning sun, pushing its way through the gloom of the eastern sky, driving the hosts of darkness before it, as it ascends the dome of heaven in triumphant course; so comes the American Society of Equity. It is just the breaking of the morning in Montana but as the days and months roll on, there will come light and hope and joy to thousands who hail the full day of deliverance with song and gladness."

THANKSGIVING DAY FITTINGLY CELEBRATED

In addition to the Union service there will be an appropriate Thanksgiving service and reading of the local Christian Science church at the new city hall at 10:45 o'clock, with Mrs. W. L. Albright and Mrs. Percy Fleming as readers.

Festivities
There is no telling how many private parties and dances will be held all over the city and in the country homes, but the number is undoubtedly larger than usual. A public dance was given by the railroad boiler makers Thanksgiving eve at Krug hall, the music being furnished by the ever popular Glendive orchestra. Friday night there will be given the regular twice-a-month dance of the Dawson County club, under the auspices, as usual, of the entertainment committee. It is not known just what the charitable organizations are doing to lighten the burdens of the poor on this gala day, but it is more than likely their funds will not permit of anything more than a fairly generous distribution of good things around Christmas time.

LOCAL NORWAY VISITORS RETURN TO AMERICA

Declaring they had heard enough war talk to last them for the remainder of their natural lives and that they were glad to get back to America, the land of the free and the home of the brave, Paul Viken, formerly bookkeeper for the C. & J. Michel Brewing company's Glendive branch, of which C. E. Ward is manager, and Brynjulf Rivenes, the well known Miles City architect, alighted from the Norwegian Line steamer last Friday at New York and started the following day on their journey home.
Mr. Viken arrived in Glendive Tuesday morning but Mr. Rivenes stopped for a short visit at Washington and other eastern cities, expecting to reach here late next week to spend a few days with his brother, Einar, who is still confined to his bed. The couple visited in both Bergen and Christiania, Norway, where they both have relatives and many friends.

GLENDIVE BASEBALL PITCHER GETS FLATTERING OFFER

It is reported on good authority that Melvin Errett Galvin of this city has just received a very flattering offer from the management of the Chicago White Sox to pitch ball for that strong aggregation next season.
It is understood that a contract form calling for a very large salary also accompanied the offer for his signature. It is not yet known just what young Galvin will do about it, as his acceptance of the offer will mean the discontinuance of his studies at the University of Wisconsin where he has been for the past two years engaged in the study of chemical engineering.
Young Galvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Galvin of this city, his father being city weighmaster.

charge of the cut-price sale of town lots in Stipek during the coming year.
Mr. Stipek has prepared an elaborate map of the entire township and is said to be offering lots at so low a price that farmers in the territory between the Coming City and Bloomfield, can easily afford to have a residence in Stipek.
Now that Billy Lang is the regularly appointed Northern Pacific railroad freight and express agent at that point, Mr. Stipek points out that farmers in that vicinity may have all their goods shipped right to Stipek from Glendive or any other point in the entire United States.

SHABEL LUMBER CO. SUPPLIES HITCHING YARD

After a public campaign extending over a period of years, the city of Glendive is to be furnished with a public hitching yard, where farmers and other visitors may tie up their teams when in town on either business or pleasure.
This innovation is promised by President Ed. A. Shabel of the Shabel Lumber Co., who is busy at present clearing out the yard to the north of the company's large warehouse on Merrill avenue directly facing Towne street, an ideal spot for its location. The yard will be 50x30 feet and will probably be large enough to accommodate nearly fifty teams or automobiles.

DISTRICT COURT NEWS

District court convened Monday morning with Hon. Judge C. C. Hurley on the bench and court stenographer A. C. Ross at his accustomed place. The jury was drawn and sworn in after which the first case, the State vs. Smith, was called to trial. Upon motion of the county attorney the case was held over for the next term. It is said that some of the state's most important witnesses did not show up.
On Tuesday the first of the two cases of the State vs. Parsons, on the charge of grand larceny, was to have been tried but was also held over because of the non-appearance of state witnesses. There is some talk that at least one of them had been spirited away by friends of the defendant and that Sheriff Twible had sent a deputy east to bring him back. If this charge turns out to be true some interesting proceedings will no doubt soon be started by the redoubtable officer of the law, who is known to be a man holding serious personal as well as official objections to such full tampering with the machinery of the law.

The second case against Parsons is being tried at this writing, Wednesday afternoon. A complete account of this week's criminal proceedings will appear in the Monitor next week.
