LEARNED UP THE ROAD.

The City—Helena is picturesquely located in a mountain gully, and like nearly all mining towns, was never laid off or platted until she had grown to such proportions as to demand it. Consequently the main thoroughfare of the city is slightly on the "bias," rectangular order, but despite this she is a wonderful town. Her buildings are substantial and in many instances palatial and elegant and would do honor to a city of twice her size. Her business men are enterprising and energetic, and are building up a large trade throughout the Territory. While there are but few who will deny that Helena is the chief city of the Territory to-day, yet her best citizens realize that owing to her location, and the comparatively few advantages she possesses, that the time is rapidly drawing nigh when she will be obliged to take second place, and surrender her prestige as the first city of Montana. One of Helena's greatest needs is cheap fuel, and she fully realizes the fact, and it is probable that some effort will be made next spring to tap the Sand Coulee coal fields, either by rail or water.

MISSOURI RIVER ROAD.—The road from this point to Helena via St. Peter's Mission and Sullivan's Valley to intersect the old Helena and Benton road at Flat creek demands more attention than is being given it, and Great Falls and the people along the route should take hold of the matter and push it forward. There is no question but that it is a preferable route to the present one in every respect. It is not only a shorter and better road, but would convenience a greater number of people than by the old road. Anyone that has ever had any experience in the jerks used on the Helena & Benton stage line, know what kind of a road there is between 28-Mile Springs and Flat creek. It never requires the second experience to condemn it. It is a continual up and down hill, and there is invariably a chuck hole at the bottom, into which you are doubled up out of all shape, and if you should manage to run the gamut without breaking any bones, and having all the buttons shaken off your clothes, you are in luck. By the proposed road it is altogether different, as the road would run on the high bench land from this point to Flat creek. There would be but few grades and they would be very easy, while the bridges would be few and far between. If the people are desirous of the road, and will direct their efforts toward securing an appropriation for its improvement, they can shortly have a first-class thoroughfare between Great Falls and Helena.

GOOD WHEAT.—While at Sun River we made it a point to find out how the wheat yielded in the valley and what disposition would be made of it. The farmers all say that the yield is above the average, as is also the quality, and that it will all be marketed at this place. Mort Strong has about 1,200 bushels of A 1 hard, which he will dispose of for seed. Parties desiring this variety of wheat will do well to correspond with him.

WAITING FOR A RAILROAD.—While up the road we met John Harvey, of this place, who has been prospecting in the mountains along the Missouri river. John says he is only waiting for a railroad to furnish him transportation, when he will uncover something that will create a stampede. Mr. Harvey has been in this section of Montana for the past twelve years, and during that period has devoted a portion of each year to prospecting in the mountains along the Missouri river, and it need surprise no one if he should uncover some rich leads. It is surmised by many that he has prospects carefully concealed, which will prove world astonishers.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.

John Austin and O. G. Robie arrived Saturday with two loads of wheat from the Chestnut valley, which they sold to the Cataract Mill. They say that they had no trouble on the road and made the trip easily in two days. This is the first wheat brought to this market. They expressed themselves as well pleased with the price paid.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A. BRADLEY.
Mr. Bradley is a well known jeweler of Helena, and has a reputation for doing good and satisfactory work.

BEN HARRIS.
Harris of Helena, is a name which is becoming a household word in Montana. Anyone going to Helena to purchase clothing never think of going anywhere but to Harris. Going to Helena, in the face of strong competition, Mr. Harris' success has been almost phenomenal, a godly portion of which is due to liberal and judicious advertising.

DAN NETTEKOVEN.
Dan Nettekoven, of Fort Shaw, a jeweler, whose work has established for him a good reputation, has an ad. in this issue.

JOSEPH HAMILTON.
The new Eclipse Stables are now open for public patronage, and are deserving of liberal support. The proprietor has spared no pains in fitting up the stable in first class shape. See ad.

SPRAY OF THE FALLS.

J. N. Bridges returned Tuesday from Choteau.
Beats are said to be numerous in the South Fork country.
W. J. Pratt's new residence is fast approaching completion.
School will commence next Monday, with Jas. M. Largent in charge.
We learn Murphy, MacLay & Co. have decided not to build here until spring.
Chas. Wegner has returned from Helena, and the mill is now running on full time.
Farmers in the Sun river valley will bring their wheat here to be made into flour.
H. O. Chown, agent of the Great Falls Tannery company, visited Helena this week.
Butte ships over $500,000 in silver every month without exertion and without much being said about it.
Dunalp & Arthur are pushing their building forward and expect to open their store by the 1st.
Ira Myers & Co. have a crew of men in the mountains, above Chestnut, getting out logs for their mill in this place.

THE YOGO MINES.

Promising Outlook for the Camp.
Editor of the TRIBUNE:
Much has been said of the mines of Yogo, and it may be of interest to the readers of the TRIBUNE to know of its locality and the prospects of its mines, &c. Yogo is situated on the north fork of the Judith river, in the county of Ferns, and was discovered as early as 1879, as a pioneer mining camp, by Jacob Hoover and the Buchanan brothers. Good prospects had been found on the bars. Several hundred miners stamped to the gulch during that fall and winter, to meet with disappointment in the spring, as gold was not found in paying quantities in the gravel beds. Some few turned their attention to prospecting for quartz ledges, and quite a number of good prospects were located. But little has been done on any of them in the way of development until recently. J. D. Weatherax put up an adit to work the ores of the Golden Chariot mine, with very satisfactory results. The ores of this camp are free-milling ores and running from $12 to $25 per ton in gold and from 5 to 40 ounces in silver. The ore bodies are very large and easily worked. The facilities for working these mines are unsurpassed in any country, as wood and water-power are abundant.
There is a good natural wagon road to within half a mile of the mines, and the distance from Great Falls is about sixty miles. There is now on the way from Maiden Charley Brown's 5-stamp quartz mill, which will crush custom ores during the winter. Active mining operations are expected during the coming season. Quite a number of prominent mining men and capitalists visited the camp recently. Among the number were M. Davis of Butte, Granville Stuart of Maiden, and T. E. Collins of Fort Benton, all of whom express themselves much pleased with the prospects of the camp.
A new mining camp has recently been discovered by Tom King, an old timer in this part of Montana, on the middle fork of the Judith river, and about 15 miles from Yogo, and judging from the prospects in a pan it surely has a golden hue. He made two locations, called the Broad Gauge and the Mammoth; but not sufficient work has been done to determine the extent of the ledges, which promises to be very large.

CHESTNUT KERNELS.

A fine fall.
Geese and ducks are coming.
John Morgan has gone east.
Rev. Largent has gone to Great Falls to teach. His family will follow soon.
Burt Strong has gone to Great Falls to attend school.
Mrs. Gorham has been down sick again the last few days.
Horses are dying.
Threshing is about done.
Where is our new mill? We are ready. How about the new road and ferry above the mouth of Sun river?
Capt. Strong will look to Helena next week, and then—then look out!
Marion Kinsey had nearly 3,000 bushels of grain this year.
Mr. Thomas Gorham has been relieved of duty at the Ullida store, after all, but thinks he will remain in the valley until spring.
J. M. Largent made a flying trip to Helena last week to prove up on his pre-emption.
Mrs. Joe Bicket is dead.

SUN RIVER SCINTILLATIONS.

Will Burgy has opened an old-time California store in Adams' building.
Business seems to be rather quiet, the same as in other Montana towns, at present.
Sun River's two hotels—Devine's Hotel and the Largent House—are both doing a good business, and are first-class in every respect.
Thos. Rose is erecting an addition to his building.
Mrs. Mary Brown-Burcher was married Thursday of last week to a man named Sweetland. This is a sure go.
The farmers in the valley have all raised large crops of grain this season, all of which will be marketed at Great Falls.
We understand a measurement was re-

banks of a small, shallow lake, and in the evening noticed that a fire was out some distance from them, but owing to the direction of the wind, they were not particularly exercised over it, but took the precaution to back-fire around the camp. While so occupied, the wind changed suddenly and a stiff breeze sprang up, and Mr. Hedrick says that the fire, which at that time was fully two miles distant, moved towards them with such rapidity that they barely escaped with their lives. The flames licked up their tents, bedding and other camping paraphernalia, and left them in a denuded condition. The night herder, Jas. Bernard, better known as "Mormon Jimmy," as soon as he seen the flames coming turned the horses loose and they ran into the lake and escaped injury. Jimmy did not escape so fortunately, but was severely although not seriously burned. The area burned over was considerable.

MONTANA PIONEERS.

At the meeting of the Montana Pioneers held at Helena August 28, 1885, it was unanimously voted that each one who had signed the roll of Pioneers, and every one entitled to do so, should be requested to furnish the corresponding secretary, during the coming year, a brief sketch of his life for the purpose of making up a "Pioneers' Record," similar to that of California, and that all the newspapers of Montana be requested to publish this notice for three months and aid in the accomplishment of this enterprise.
The sketch should contain at least the date and place of birth, the date, route and means of conveyance in coming to Montana, place of residence since coming, occupation and most important events during such residence, with any additional matters the writer may wish to make.
Many of the pioneers are dead, and it is earnestly desired that some friend may supply the record for such ones.
CORNELIUS LEDGES, Cor. Sec. Helena, August 29, 1885.

TEA CROWS CAPTURED.

Argus: Lieut. Bonus' detachment of troops that have been camping on Arnell's creek, captured ten Crow Indians last Friday and brought them into Fort Maginnis, where they were confined in the guard house till Monday morning and then started, under military escort for Ft. Conster, where they will be imprisoned for a short time for punishment and then turned over to the agent. They had about sixty horses with them, some of which were branded and evidently belonged to parties north of here. The Indians claim to have captured all the horses in their possession from the Pieigans and avow that they do not intend, nor have they taken or interfered with any white settler's property.

Tranchant: Ex-Gov. Potts, manager of the Potts & Harrison Horse Co., went east last Thursday morning and will be away ten or twelve days.

Wes. Burnett preceded him three or four days with a carload of horses, and will await his arrival at St. Paul. The governor will visit St. Paul, St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and possibly Pittsburg, and it is his intention, if possible, to establish horse markets in each of those cities for the sale of the company's horses and others. If he succeeds in this he will make regular shipments of two or three carloads at a time, buying from others the animals necessary to fill out each shipment. We hope he will succeed, as it will be a good thing for other horse-men also.
