

GREAT FALLS TRIBUNE.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

GREAT FALLS, CASCADE COUNTY, MONTANA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 9, 1887.

NO. 51.

NOT BULLET PROOF.

Sword Bearer, the Crow Medicine Man, Killed, and the Indian War Ended.

Crow Agency, November 6.—There was much excitement in the Indian village yesterday morning. A council was held at Crazy Head's camp, and at 10 o'clock scout Campbell and interpreter Tobacco Jake were sent to the Indian village ordering the chiefs to come in and surrender to general Ruger at headquarters. Pretty Eagle harrangued the camp and, with Crazy Head, Eagle Fork, Dancing Woman, Two Belly and Spotted Horse, rode up before general Ruger's headquarters.

THE PARLEY.

General Armstrong then said: "I have been sent by the great father to settle this trouble. You must give up the bad men. I shall turn everything over, as well as the men, to general Ruger, and he will settle it his way. That is all."

Pretty Eagle replied: "We are willing to give up Sword Bearer, but we can't give up the others."

General Ruger said: "I want all the bad young men; you must bring them in before 12 o'clock." Turning to Crazy Head, he said: "I want your boys, too."

Pretty Eagle responded: "We will go back to our camps."

General Ruger said: "The Great Father sent me to take the bad young men and I must have them; they shall not be hurt but they must be punished."

Pretty Eagle replied: "We will go back and talk to the medicine man."

General Ruger: "That is all I have to say."

Pretty Eagle and the other chiefs then returned to their camps.

FIGHTING BEGINS.

The cavalry was drawn up in full field order on an eminence fronting the Indian position. The Indians soon began riding about singing their war songs. At the end of the time prescribed, the cavalry advanced and the infantry took a position on a hill. The Indians opened fire and at the first volley corporal Simpson, of troop K first cavalry, was shot dead, private Eugene Mallory, of troop K, was wounded four times. The Indians took position in rifle-pits and in the bush. The Hotchkiss rifle gun planted the first shot behind the Little Horn, but the next fell in the Indian camp. One Indian and his horse were killed. The cavalry now advanced upon the Indians, driving them into the bush. Sword Bearer was killed, being shot twice in the skirmish firing by troop G first cavalry, commanded by captain F. K. Upham. Lieutenant J. B. Alshire is said to have killed the great medicine man. Scout Fire-Dog also claims to have fired the fatal shot.

THE FIGHT ENDED.

The Indians nearly all came into the agency, only about twenty escaping to the hills. These are now being pursued by the cavalry. The above names cover all the casualties, except one man slightly hurt by a fall. Five Indians are reported dead. The escaping Indians will be caught tomorrow. There is no danger to the settlements.

An Unfortunate Accident.

MARVILL, Montana, November 8.—On Wednesday several couples left here for the purpose of attending a dance at Gloster. When about a mile and a half from here the parties were overtaken by three men on horseback, who in attempting to pass the teams caused one of the horses attached to a buggy which contained Mr. Gunn and Miss A. Anderson to become so frightened that he ran off the grade leading up the mountain side, throwing both parties violently to the ground among the rocks. Mr. Gunn was only slightly hurt, but Miss Anderson fell upon her head so violently that concussion of the brain was produced besides other minor injuries. Dr. Canby who has charge of the case, feels confident of her ultimate recovery.

A Mysterious Tragedy.

CLEVELAND, O., November 4.—At Spencer, Medina county, Tuesday night, the house of farmer A. D. Garrett was found on fire. Neighbors gathered and extinguished the flames before they had gained much headway. The fire had started in the sleeping room of the grown up male children of Garrett and the girls were found on the floor of the room dead. The faces of both were marked which led to the belief that they were murdered. Though no lamp was left in the room the floor was found saturated with coal oil and covered with leaves and dry grass. The coroner is at work on the case.

A Serious Fall.

HELENA, November 8.—The other evening the cries of a man in the Woolston trench on Jackson street aroused the residents in the neighborhood of the St. Louis hotel. After no little difficulty he was rescued in a seriously battered condition, and went on his way without offering any explanation. The trench at that place is deep and the fellow must have gotten a serious fall.

Quiet Wool Markets.

NEW YORK, November 1.—Bradstreet says: Another week of continued dullness has appeared in the wool market. There was some increase of activity a fortnight ago and hopes of a decided improvement in tone were entertained. These have now disappeared. Still no greater weakness has developed, and from present appearances further declines are not to be looked for. Trade remains in buyer's favor. Holders, however, except when forced to do so by financial stress, are not pressing their stocks for sale. The manufacturers, as a rule, are ready to meet the market as it now stands, but the policy of purchasing only from time to time for present wants is strenuously adhered to. The Boston market is quiet, with little anxiety on the part of manufacturers to buy or holders to sell. Prices remain steady, without any symptoms of immediate change in either direction. The most noteworthy element of weakness appears in considerable offerings by outside holders who are forced to realize. Fine fleeces are, perhaps, firmer than they have been, and there is a good demand for fine medium territory wools.

TELEGRAMS CONDENSED.

HARROD, A. T., November 8.—The north and south mails were held up by one man about midnight on October 21 between St. John's and Navajo, Arizona.

There are seven new cases of yellow fever at Tampa.

The general executive board of the Knights of Labor has just issued a circular appealing for contributions in aid of the striking anthracite coal miners.

Fifty-nine fishermen have been missing at Boulogne since the gale.

Sixteen hundred miners have struck work in Belgium.

The Wealth of Butte.

BUTTE, November 5.—The work of the assessor is now completed, and the assessment of Silver Bow county foots up the handsome total of $3,100,829. Though Silver Bow is the smallest in area of all the Montana counties, she is the largest in wealth next to Lewis and Clarke. "Fluctuating securities," such as live-stock, cut but a very small figure in the taxable wealth, which consists chiefly of real estate that will increase in value year by year. Though the mines are exempt from taxation, the property of the mining companies pays a large proportion of the county's expenses. This indicates that the policy of exempting mines, and thereby encouraging development, results in a considerable relief to the tax payers in general.

The Montana Central Depot.

HELENA, November 6.—Major J. J. Palmer has been awarded the contract for the erection of the depots and other terminal buildings of the Montana Central railroad, to be located in Last Chance gulch. The contract includes the freight and passenger depots and many hundred feet of platforms. Work will begin on Monday and is expected to be completed in sixty days. The freight platforms and warehouses will be ready for the first train.

The Cabinet to be Recast.

NEW YORK, November 4.—A Washington special to the Sun says President Cleveland's cabinet will be recast the latter part of the month. Lamar will go on the supreme bench, and postmaster general Vilas will be made secretary of the interior. The dispatch states that Don M. Dickinson of Michigan, will be the next postmaster general, unless he declines the appointment, which has been tendered him.

The Jay Gould Mine.

HELENA, November 6.—The output of the Jay Gould mine during the month of October was 337,400 in ballion and $3,000 in concentrates, making $40,400 in all. This amounts to over $4,000 per stamp. The usual amount of ore reduced is twenty-five tons per day, or about 750 per month. It thus appears that the saving per ton averaged about $55.

Iron Ore at St. Cloud.

ST. CLOUD, November 7.—Citizens of St. Cloud, who were prospecting for iron ore land west of the city, have found a paying vein twelve feet below the surface. It has been examined by experts and the samples assayed in St. Paul. The strike is located on land just north of and about a half mile nearer the city than the Manitoba car shops' location.

The New Board.

HELENA, November 6.—The following named gentlemen constitute the board of directors of the Montana Agricultural, Mineral and Mechanical association for the coming year: T. C. Power, L. H. Hershfield, B. H. Tatem, Francis Pope, W. A. Chessman, C. D. Hurd, Wm. Muth, Wm. B. Hundley and A. J. Davidson.

The Emperor William.

BERLIN, November 7.—Emperor Williams for the first time in a week appeared at his favorite window on Sunday and bowed to the thousands of persons assembled outside, by whom he was enthusiastically greeted. The emperor looked pale.

Committed Suicide.

RIMINI, November 8.—Joe Rondo, a woodchopper, took an overdose of morphine and was found dead in his cabin Saturday evening. He had threatened to take his own life for several days. He had been drinking hard for some time.

A Large Fire.

NASHVILLE, November 5.—A large fire occurred here yesterday morning. Loss in stock is $50,000; insurance about three quarters of that amount. Three furniture stores were burned. The loss on the buildings was about $65,000.

Jeff's Health all Right.

MACON, Ga., November 2.—The reports that Jefferson Davis is in a precarious condition are not correct. His health is better than it has been at any time since he left Beauvoir.

BLUE-COATS DISMAYED.

Chicago's Most Prominent Citizens Petition Governor Oglesby in Behalf of the Anarchists.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Among those who have signed the petition to the governor for a commutation of the anarchists' sentence are: W. C. Gandy, the well known democratic leader and general counsel of the Northwestern railway; S. P. McConnell, a prominent member of the bar; S. H. Gregory, lawyer and former president of the Iroquois club; J. K. Boyesen, regular democratic nominee for state's attorney; Lyman Trumbull, ex-United States senator; W. G. Erwin, United States district attorney; F. O. Winston, ex-minister to Persia; Judge Moran of the appellate court; Lyman J. Gage, president of the First National bank; Marvin Hughitt, president of the Northwestern railway, and Judge Baker of the criminal court.

It is stated that the anarchist Lingg will refuse to sign any petition for executive clemency.

State's attorney Grinnell gave instructions this morning to the clerks of the criminal courts to prepare no calendars for next week. This means there are to be no courts, in anticipation of the execution. Judge Frank Baker, who is now sitting in the criminal court, signed the petition for commutation this morning.

THE POLICE ARE DISSATISFIED.

Now that there seems to be a stampede in the direction of a commutation of the sentence of the convicted anarchists, a feeling akin to dismay has arisen among the blue-coats, and it is believed that the discontent will soon find some strong expressions.

DISAVOWALS.

A remarkable communication signed by Spies, Schwab and Fielden, disavowing aggressive force and deploring the loss of life at Haymarket, was given out Saturday night for publication. It is addressed to governor Oglesby and is to be forwarded to him with the formal petition for clemency. The guarded wording of the document is noticeable, particularly as this is the first expression of the kind any of the condemned men have made. Parsons, it is understood, acquiesces in its contents, but will address a separate letter of his own to the governor, embodying the same ideas. Lingg, Engel and Fischer steadfastly refuse, however, to go on record with any such declarations.

The Chicago Sheep Market.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Chicago, Oct. 29.—The receipts of sheep for this week were 32,000, or 8,500 less than last week's receipts. Still we have to report no better trade in general, except for a few. Prime lots of native sheep and lambs were scarce, consequently they brought higher prices. Choice westerns are no lower. Our market presently is overrun with poor to medium sheep, which are hard to sell except at very low prices. They have to contend with large supplies of Texas sheep that are selling, at present, cheap, and at the same time they make nice handy carcasses of mutton for the city trade. We think about two or three weeks more will finish the Texas and western sheep, when our supplies are sure to run light and, as we said last week, higher prices are sure to follow. We sold several other droves of Utah, Oregon and Montana during the week at from $3.50 @ $3.60. There were several other droves sold from Oregon and Utah at from $3.25 @ $3.50 per cwt., averaging from 96 to 190 pounds.

The eastern trade was very dull for the last week for sheep, so that it nearly drove shippers to the east coast out of the market, and when the demand for live ones is so bad the demand for carcasses is sure to follow in the same way. Everybody seemed to be full of sheep from the large supplies of last week, but as we had not such heavy runs this week, we think buyers will be more inclined to take hold from this on, unless big receipts should follow. We quote the following prices for the different grades as follows, viz: Prime native sheep, av. 110 to 135 lbs., $4.00 @ 4.25 per cwt.; medium do., 75 to 105, $3.25 @ 3.50; common, 85 to 95, $2.25 @ 2.75; prime spring lambs, 75 to 85, $5.25 @ 5.50; medium do., 60 to 70, $4.25 @ 4.50; common do., 55 to 60, $3.40 @ 3.75; prime Montana wethers, 105 to 116, $3.50 @ 3.60; medium do., 100 to 109, $3.25 @ 3.40; common do., 100 to 105, $3.00 @ 3.15; prime Texas wethers, 85 to 95, $3.25 @ 3.50; medium do., 75 to 80, $2.75 @ 3.00; common do., 65 to 70, $2.00 @ 2.50.

Will Be Cancelled.

WASHINGTON, November 5.—Commissioner Sparks of the general land office has held for cancellation a large number of desert land entries near Great Falls, Montana, aggregating in area about 15,000 acres, upon official information that the tract in question is not desert land, as alleged, but agricultural land—that is, land which will produce good crops without irrigation, and therefore not subject to entry under the desert land act.

Fooling with Bombs.

SAINT LOUIS, November 8.—The remains of an exploded dynamite bomb have been found in the ruins of the Fourteenth street explosion, but detectives believe it was placed there by some of the sensationalists who have been writing for the newspapers, claiming that they were the agents of a horrible crime.

Retaliation Threatened.

NEW YORK, November 4.—At a crowded meeting of the progressive labor party, in the Germania assembly rooms, S. E. Shevitch, editor of the Leader, made a speech, in which he said: "I am expected to make a campaign speech, but I cannot bring myself to speak calmly. This

A Fight in a Church.

NEW ORLEANS, November 8.—A fatal affray in a negro church is reported from West Feliciana. Following a custom in vogue among plantation negroes in portions of the south, two members of the congregation changed wives two years ago. The bargain did not prove satisfactory, and quarrels arose among the members of the much mixed families, which gradually involved nearly the entire congregation. It was decided a few days ago by the parties involved to meet at the church and settle all difficulties by a general fist fight. A large number were present at the appointed time, but the conditions upon which the fight was arranged were not observed. As soon as the parties came together knives and pistols were drawn and a bloody riot followed, the result of which was that Edmund Turner and Gibson Clark, the principals were killed outright, and James Stowbury was severely, if not fatally wounded. Israel Davis, William Jordan and James Williams are under arrest, charged with murder, and warrants are out for other participants in the riot.

The Minnesota Dairyman's Association meets in Minneapolis, December 13 and 15.

Dr. Carnahan, the great surgeon, died recently in New York.

Great Wheat Crops.

The acreage devoted to wheat in Minnesota is slowly but steadily decreasing, and the nearly total failure of the crop in the southern counties cuts down the total average yield to 12½ bushels per acre. Nevertheless, the total product of the state will exceed 38,000,000 bushels. Much of this including all that is grown in the northern counties, is of unusually high grade. The Dakota acreage is slightly greater and the average yield higher, raising the total product there to 47,000,000 bushels; also of a higher grade than usual, (barring the dirt, which lowers the inspection of much Northwestern wheat this year). This makes a total of 85,000,000 bushels produced in Minnesota and Dakota, of which it is estimated that 30,000,000 will be ground and 48,000,000 shipped. More than ever this year is the Northwest the granary of the world.—Pioneer Press.

Jas. Dunlap Badly Frozen.

It is reported that Jas. Dunlap, a former well-known cowboy of this section and for some time past foreman of the Cochran Cattle Company in the Northwest Territory, met with an accident during the late storm that may result fatally, or at best will leave him a cripple for life. While driving from Fort Macleod to the company's ranch, he was thrown from his vehicle and lay for some time unconscious in the snow. When found afterwards by some Indians he was badly frozen. It is considered certain that he will lose both his legs. Mr. Dunlap has many friends in northern Montana who will regret to hear of his misfortune.

Low Freights Appreciated.

The establishment of the $2 first class rate to Great Falls, with corresponding low rates for cattle and emigrants movables, elicits hearty approval throughout the territory. The Montana Live Stock Journal, which speaks for the cattle interests, says that "Mr. Hill firmly adhered to the promises he made to the people of Montana at the time of his first visit here, that he would make a radical reduction in freight charges when he brought his road in the territory. He has kept that promise."

A Lecture on Jumping.

Judge McConnell, in giving his judgment in the Chinaman's case yesterday, said it was evidently a lot-jumping case, and while of course if the jumpers had made out their case he would have given them a judgment, he wanted it distinctly understood that his sympathies were not with jumpers and that in jumping they must make a clean jump or they would have to jump off the property if the master came before him for trial.—Independent.

FATAL COLLISION.

Two Men Killed on the Manitoba Yesterday—Meagre Particulars.

A collision occurred Sunday on the Manitoba line between Belknap and Glasgow which resulted in the death of S. W. Powers, the cattle agent, and a man employed as train cook. It appears that two sections of a freight train laden with cattle were going east. The first section had proceeded some distance on the side track in order to allow a train coming westward to pass on the main line. The engine of the second section of the train struck the caboose of the first section and shattered it, causing the deaths aforesaid.

Mr. Powers was in this city recently and was widely known among the cattle men of northern Montana. He represented the Manitoba line in the Judith valley this season and had marked success there. He has often been in Benton and was a good authority on all matters connected with the cattle trade. He was formerly in the employ of the Kansas Pacific and was popular with railroad men generally.

It is not clear who is responsible for the accident. The road has few such occurrences to record. It transacts an immense passenger and freight traffic and takes every precaution to ensure the public safety.

LATER PARTICULARS.

Much regret is expressed for the untimely death of S. W. Powers in the railroad accident on Sunday. He was conscious for a couple of hours after he received the fatal injuries, and said that he would die contented if he could only see his wife and children who are in Nebraska. The force of the collision was such that he was carried from the caboose to the end of the second car where he was found so badly injured that no earthly aid could avail. Brewster, the cook, was escaping from the car when he received the terrible injuries which caused his death. He was unconscious of his sad state and a short time before his death he said he would be well in a day or two.

The loss of life might have been much greater had not the brakeman at the risk of his own life hurried back to the caboose and roused up the 18 men who were sleeping there. Mr. Powers was in an upper berth and unfortunately escaped his attention. The brakeman says that something convinced him that the approaching train would strike the one he was in. He had seen many trains follow each other before, but there was something this time that alarmed him, and luckily he acted on the alarm at once.

Only four steers were killed, but some others got loose. The caboose was broken into splinters and the two nearest cars were badly damaged.

Given no Encouragement.

FLATHEAD AGENCY, November 3.—Pierre Busha is a half-breed British Cree and was Riel's lieutenant in the northwest rebellion. He visited the Flathead reservation last summer to ask permission of the Indians there to allow the Cree refugees to settle upon the reserve. At a council held the Indians refused such permission, and Busha has remained on the reserve ever since with a Cree companion, and both of them worked for the Indians until they earned 10 head of horses. On the 29th of October Busha and his companion visited agent Roman and begged of him to telegraph the Indian department in substance as follows:

"The Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington: Pierre Busha of the Cree refugees is now at this agency; and will leave for the Cree encampment in three days from date. He is desirous to learn if encouragement will be given to the Cree by the government to either settle upon public lands or give them homes on some reservation. The Blackfoot reserve would suit if they cannot remove to this reservation. He awaits an answer if he can encourage his people to this effect.

The First Conductor.

Col. J. B. McLaughlin of St. Paul, lately conductor on the Michigan Central railroad, has been appointed first passenger conductor for the Montana Central, to run between Helena and Great Falls. He will enter upon his duties as soon as the road is turned over to the operative department. The genial colonel has many friends in Montana who will be glad to welcome him as a ticket purchaser on the Montana Central. He is an experienced railroad man and will make a good official for the Montana Central.—Herald.

Col. McLaughlin has been in the city a day or two and is quite delighted that his "run" is to be so pleasant a one. He will make Great Falls his headquarters, having already leased from Ira Myers the new house he is erecting on Second street. Col. McLaughlin's family accompanies him and they will be cordially welcomed by all as permanent residents of Great Falls.

A Reward Offered.

HELENA, November 8.—Governor Leslie issues a proclamation of $200 for the capture and delivery of George Dillon at Billings, who escaped from jail.

is Friday, November 4, and Friday, November 11, the greatest crime and most atrocious murder ever perpetrated is fixed to take place in Chicago. But I tell you, if this crime of base murder is committed, the end will soon follow. If these heroes are hanged the days of all concerned in the outrageous murder will be reckoned and the day will not be far when they will have to answer for the blood they shed by every spark of life in their worthless bodies. (Loud cheers, and cries of "Kill them," "Dynamite.") But let them hang them. These seven men's lives will not harm our cause; let them kill 77,000, and out of their graves 70,000-000 others will arise. I tell you, if these men are hanged next Friday something to thousands of homes worse than our late civil war will follow. We will not see it done without acting."
