HELENA ABOUT TO FOLLOW GREAT FALLS' EXAMPLE.

The Butte Odd Fellows Will Hold a Triple Installation Tonight—A Noted Actress Appears in a London Music Hall.

HELENA, Jan. 13.—It is learned from the best of authority that there is to be a consolidation of several existing street car lines in the city with the Broadwater Electric system, and that all these lines will be operated by electricity, thus doing away with horses altogether. Col Broadwater is now in the east, presumably for the purpose of arranging for the necessary outfit to start the lines going, which we at an early day.

The Butte Odd Fellows. BUTTE, Jan. 13.—Tonight there will be a triple installation of the officers of the three subordinate lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this city for the ensuing term. The exercises will take place in the hall of Fidelity Lodge No. 8, and besides the installation of officers, there will be a banquet and a royal good time generally, which will be participated in by a large number of guests in addition to the fraternity.

Actors in Music Halls. LONDON, Jan. 10.—George Edwards, the manager of the New Empire theatre at Leicester Square, a kind of glorified music hall, has created a genuine sensation in theatrical circles here by engaging Amy Roselle, a well-known actress in legitimate drama, to do a "turn" every evening at his house. This is an unusual innovation on established theatrical usages as would be the hiring of Ada Rehan or Mme. Modjeska to appear at Tony Pastor's or Koster & Bitz's, in New York.

Wool in Demand. BOSTON, Jan. 10.—There has been a very good demand for wool and a number of buyers have been on the market, but the sales aggregate only a fair amount—2,446,000 pounds of all kinds. The principal sales were territory, for which the market was rather weak, particularly for eastern Oregon. The sales of these wools have been made on a secured basis, 5% for fine and fine medium and best, territory wools being much more than that. Medium wools range from 50¢ to 55¢. In fine delaine fleeces there is a firm feeling.

The Irrigation Scheme. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The little prospect of any material advantage growing out of the extensive investigation by the special senate committee which visited the west and northwest during the last summer and as far as New Mexico and Arizona in the southwest for the purpose of ascertaining the needs of those sections in the way of irrigation.

STATE SITTINGS. Many cases of la grippe are reported in Butte. Mention comes from Billings of a 600-pound hog. Glanders prevail, it is said, among some stock in Beaverhead county. There is said to be petroleum near the Flathead river in Missoula county. Wadsworth Post G. A. R. had a pleasant reunion in Helena on Saturday. S. D. Bridge has been appointed chief clerk in Surveyor General Eaton's office. Chinaman Ah Gin refuses to pay poll tax in Butte because he is not allowed to vote.

State Senator Fisher is receiving hard knocks for his recent slanderous attack on the Irish. A postoffice has been established at Alger, Fergus county, with Rose E. Weldon as postmistress. Butte is resolved to sell a liquor license on all fast houses that sell beer or whiskey. The city treasurer has sent out 135 notices to that effect.

Twelve senators have telegraphed to Congressman Carter asking him to aid in procuring the Fort Bliss military reservation for state school purposes. The profits of the Fort Keogh Canteen for the month of December were $900. This was for the first month of its working. Much more is expected this month. The benefit of this system is that the profits go to the company funds and are used for the benefit of the men. Miles City Journal.

Last evening the case of Ernest Stackpole, the "nineteen hold" and desperate thief, who wrote threatening letters to W. A. Clark, demanding $400,000, came up before Judge Nawick. As the boy comes of respectable parents Mr. Clark did not care to prosecute him and the charge against him was withheld. Stackpole will be sent by his father to the more congenial climate of California. The charge against him is not withdrawn and will be pushed if he is indiscreet enough to come back to Butte. Inter Mountain.

Several Helena physicians were seen and interviewed concerning la grippe. The result is the discovery that the disease is on the increase; not only this, but it is getting to have trills on it and ramifications of many and various kinds. The English for "la grippe" by the way, is "the grip," and it means in English just what "la grippe" does in French. It is so named because it takes hold of one suddenly and firmly, and cannot be shaken off or reasoned with until it lets go.

The Helena Journal says: The arrival in the city yesterday of that old-time Montanan, Granville Stuart, was more than ordinarily notable from the fact that the venerable pioneer was accompanied by a young and pretty woman, his wife, a former belle of the Bitter Root valley. Stuart's name and career are indelibly impressed upon the history of Montana from the time that gold was first discovered in Alder gulch until today when her cattle are sold in all the markets of the world and her mineral wealth known wherever there is money to invest. Besides being heavily interested in stock raising he is an owner in the famous Spotted Horse mine, a member of the Stock Growers' association, of which he was the founder, and holds interests in some of the most important enterprises of the state."

Butte Excursions. BUTTE, Jan. 13.—Next year season excursions will be run from Butte to the Broadwater. The trains will leave Butte on Saturday evening and make the run to the hotel in two hours and a half. The excursionists will remain over Sunday at the hotel and be brought back to Butte early on Monday morning in fast time.

Cleveland Abused. CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The Herald's Denver special says: The speech of Carter Harrison at the Graystone Club banquet came in for a great deal of adverse criticism. His condemnation of Cleveland was indorsed by some of those present, but the anti-tariff reform sentiment was uttered far more favorably among democrats. The orator's questionable taste in so severely condemning the ex-president is another thing which causes unfavorable comment, but probably the Chicago man's numerous and extended references to himself have been most generally condemned.

Holl Boy Burned. VERSAILLES, Ky., Jan. 11.—The stables belonging to Macy Bros. burned this morning, destroying 35 out of 38 horses. Among those burned was the horse Holl Boy, which was sold at auction to J. Clarke for $5,000. It is said Clarke had refused $100,000 for this horse.

A Sample of Grippe. DOVER, N. H., Jan. 13.—The grippe is increasing. The streets are practically deserted. Half the police force are sick. All business is crippled. Goodwin's drug store, Smart's market and Mrs. Dennis' art emporium have signs, "Closed on Account of La Grippe."

Great Northern. ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—Vice-President Clough, of the Manitoba, says the Great Northern will begin operations some time during the present month. The last payment of stock subscriptions to the consolidation of proprietary interests is due on January 31, and will be made. "Three or four days afterward the scheme will go into effect. The Manitoba will lose its identity and possibly the Montana Central, but the Eastern Minnesota is upon a different basis and may retain its individuality." "The completion of the route to the coast is a matter of some importance. We now have that part of the country in the hands of an engineering corps and are waiting for a report. Until something is heard from the engineers no route can be definitely decided upon."

Bismarck Applauds the Curb. PARIS, Jan. 11.—Considerable of a sensation has been caused in diplomatic and official circles here by the report from Berlin that in his New Year's day address to his generals, Kaiser William used language so little in harmony with his previous pacific utterances that Prince Bismarck, on seeing a proof of the speech, interferred and prevented its appearance in the Official Gazette.

A New Purchase. ST. PAUL, Jan. 11.—James J. Hill has bought the road known as the Minneapolis Transfer.

A New Arrangement. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Northern Pacific has decided to lease the Wisconsin Central in lieu of the present agreement.

CONGRATULATIONS. How the Election of the Democratic United States Senators is Received. Hon. C. P. Blakey telegraphs the Chronicle that Hon. W. A. Clark and Hon. Martin Maginnis have both been duly elected senators, receiving 37 votes a piece. This action transfers the middle to Washington, where it can be depended on Clark and Maginnis will make it very interesting for the state senators and the turpans.—Bozeman Chronicle.

"Hunger is the Best Sauce." As a rule, a person who has a good appetite has good health. But how many there are who enjoy nothing they eat, and sit down to meals only as an unpleasant duty. Nature's antidotes for this condition are an happily combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla that it soon restores good digestion, creates an appetite and renovates and vitalizes the blood so that the beneficial effect of good food is imparted to the whole body. Truly hunger is the best sauce, and Hood's Sarsaparilla induces hunger.

Change is one of the irresistible laws of nature, and fortunately the change is almost invariably for the better. As an instance of this, St. Patrick's Pills are fast taking the place of the old harsh and violent cathartics, because they are milder and produce a pleasanter effect, besides they are much more beneficial in removing morbid matter from the system and preventing ague and other malarious diseases. As a cathartic and liver pill they are almost perfect. For sale by Lapeyre Bros.

TRIBUNE ANNUAL.

GENERAL OUTLINE OF A NOTEWORTHY PUBLICATION.

Timely Information on Mines, Ranches and City Real Estate—Strong Letters From Prominent People.

The TRIBUNE ANNUAL gives an intelligent and candid review of the advantages and resources of Great Falls and its tributary territory.

The industrial prominence of Great Falls is seen in a glance at its pages. On the title page is a view of the great Boston & Montana smelter—now in course of construction, which will hardly be second to the great Anaconda works, supporting, as it does, a city of 6,000 souls. Next are illustrations of the mammoth works of the Montana Smelting Company, which has a present capacity of 500 tons of ore daily. It is the intention of the company to largely increase the present output of bullion and in a comparatively short time these works will employ 1,000 men. Two "cuts" of the Sand Coulee coal mines give some idea of the work going on at that place. The present output is 1,500 tons daily and 400 men are employed. This is to be largely increased in 1890 and within 12 months the pay roll will contain 1,000 names. The general contents may be outlined as follows:

Hon. Paris Gibson contributes "Past, Present and Future," an able article which gives much practical information. Professor Anderson writes on "Hints to Emigrants." He gives sound advice to American farmers, who are about to come here.

J. S. Pinney, the manager of the American Press Association, St. Paul, writes of "Great Falls, the Wonderful," giving the result of impressions formed during a visit here.

Prof. Swallow, the eminent mining expert, writes of "Our Mineral Resources" with special reference to Backer and Neilson.

"Bonch Land Farming" is the title of an important article in which Hon. Paris Gibson writes from practical experience. This article is illustrated by a "Thrashing Scene" near Great Falls.

Much about "St. Clair," is briefly told in an article on that subject. "The Wonderful Development of the Sand Coulee Coal Mines" is described in an article which is up to date.

Much valuable information is given regarding "Arming" the new law, which is about to loom up on the Belt Mountain railroad.

"The Great Mineral Belt Tributary to Great Falls," outlines an account in detail of the mining regions around the city. The article gives the latest developments.

"Great Falls" inspires a poem by a gifted writer. "Captain Thomas Couch" is made the text for an interesting account of his career and of his home ranch in the Sun river valley.

"The Cataract Flouring Mills" tells of wheat growing in northern Montana. Prof. G. C. Swallow writes of the "Cascade County Coal Fields." He describes the geological structure which north Montana owns in that respect alone.

"The Real Estate" phase of Great Falls' growth and some "Facts About Great Falls" are given that will have weight with the people of the city.

Under the head of "General Verdict" are strong letters from prominent people about the Cataract City. These letters are valuable for what they say and those who say it. Among the writers are Col. E. V. Smalley, Sam Hill of Minneapolis, John C. Campbell of Streator, Ill., J. J. Goodwin of Brooklyn, Senator W. A. Clark of Butte, Hunt Gow, Rickards, F. I. Whitney of the Manitoba railroad and others.

Some business phases of our growth are described in "Great Falls," "Trade Center" and "Great Falls as a Wool Market."

Under the "North Montana Fair" are the latest facts about that important enterprise.

The rural attractions of Cascade county are admirably described in the account of the "Belt Creek Region."

"Our Railroad," "Fur Traders" and the "Great Northern Machine Shops" relate to Great Falls' railroad interests.

Col. W. F. Wheeler writes on the "City of Great Falls," an article of much historical interest. "The Electric Street Railway" describes an enterprise which is to be completed early this year.

In a "General Survey of Montana," Prof. E. W. Anderson, special agent of the United States agricultural department, writes of the agricultural resources of north Montana, which are also referred to in an article on the "Garden Spot."

Much general information is given in a number of short articles, each of which deals with timely topics. The illustrations are profuse. They show in all its grandeur the Black Eagle falls, the public buildings, streets, stores, Cataract mill and Park hotel. They include also the resources of the country tributary to Great Falls.

A list of "Our Business Men" completes the annual, which might be called a manual of Great Falls.

An Enormous Death Rate. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The number of deaths during the twenty-four hours ending at noon today is 207, a decrease of 43 compared with the preceding twenty-four hours. Of these 24 are attributed to consumption, 22 to bronchitis, 38 to pneumonia and 14 to influenza.

The Infant King of Spain Will Die. MADRID, Jan. 9.—The illness of the infant king has assumed a most alarming phase. The royal physicians have little hope of his recovery. At 2 o'clock this morning it seemed as though he was dead, but he subsequently rallied. Senor Sagasta, prime minister, has been summoned to the palace, where he is awaiting the end. Alfonso XIII, king of Spain, is a posthumous son of Alfonso XII. He was born May 17, 1886, and is therefore 3 years, 8 months and 33 days old. He was proclaimed king on the day of his birth with his mother as queen regent.

The Silver How Contest. BUTTE, Jan. 11.—The Sheriff contest is now postponed until next Wednesday, at which time the venire is made returnable. The jury will then be sworn and the next step will be an order to bring the prisoners into court. If this order is directed to Sheriff Lloyd the prisoners will be produced. The next step will probably be the placing of Sheriff Lloyd in contempt of court and the transfer of proceedings to the supreme court at Helena.

Nelly Bly on Time. NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Nelly Bly is expected here on the 25th instant. She sailed from Japan for San Francisco on Tuesday. She left New York to go around the world in less than 75 days on November 14th.

VICTIMS OF DISEASE.

Death of Two Children at Bell—Miss Katie Gibbs Succumbs. THE TRIBUNE chronicled the death of Jas. Tyndall and Peter Collette. The record Monday is much larger. In nearly every case la grippe is the indirect cause of death. The latest victims are: Queenie Haskshaw, the nine-month-old daughter of Mrs. Haskshaw, of Belt, died of something like diphtheria on Saturday, and was buried yesterday.

Rhoda S. Epperson, aged five years and 15 days, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Epperson, of Belt, died on Saturday. She had been sick since December 23. The remains were taken to the city on a passenger train on the Great Northern when taken sick. He took a severe cold which developed into pneumonia. Although he was very young, his father and his brother and skilled physicians could give nothing but death to stop the disease, and he died about 12 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Lowe came from Shannon, Ohio, where his parents are now living. He was a young man, barely 21, and gave promise of a brilliant future. He was steady, sober and reliable and had the utmost confidence of his acquaintances. The Great Northern railroad offered free transportation and his brother intended to take the remains to Ohio for interment, but on consulting the physicians they deemed it inadvisable and the body was laid to rest in Highland cemetery. The funeral occurred at 2 p. m. today. Rev. J. Reid of the Presbyterian church officiated. Manager Lowe has the heartiest sympathy for the entire community and his parents in their sorrow. He was assured that their son's ashes were laid tenderly to rest, while sympathizing tears were shed for this promising man thus cut off so early in his career.

Ed. Glover, who has been driving one of Wilbur's teams, died of pneumonia, yesterday, at 2 p. m. at the hospital. Mr. Glover had been in the city only a short time. He was a member of the M. E. church and created a good impression with all who met him.

Of the severe deaths which have occurred since last Friday, four were in the city, two at Belt, 28 miles southeast and one in Sun river valley. Only three of the cases were in any degree the result of la grippe, and there is much uncertainty in regard to one of these. Although this is an unprecedented death rate, there is no serious grounds for alarm. The physicians all report that the majority of their cases are convalescent and unless some persons recklessly expose themselves the general health will soon be restored.

FUNERAL OF PETER COLLET. The Funeral Rites Held by Thos. Gleason at the Grave. Peter Collet, who died on Saturday, was laid to rest Sunday in Highland cemetery. He was a practical member of the Catholic church. There being no priest here, Thos. Gleason read the funeral rites and in a few well chosen remarks, commended the remains to their last resting place. The funeral took place at 2 p. m. from the residence of Henry Nottling.
