FORT DODGE, Iowa, Feb. 8.—The reduction recently made by the Western plaster agency of this city, in prices of calcined stucco plaster, for the purpose of forcing the outside mills into the stucco combine, is not working satisfactorily. The result is scarcely what was expected by the combine, as it threatens the disintegration of the stucco pool. The 50 per cent. cut is being opposed by many members. CHARGES AGAINST VLADIMIR.

A Case Similar to the Cleveland Street Scandal Developed in the Greek Church in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The trouble in the Greek church here which has been brewing for months is likely to come to a head in a few days. Last Sunday Dr. Nicholas Russell, a prominent Russian physician, was excommunicated by Bishop Vladimir for refusing to answer charges of heresy. Russell claimed that he could not attend because he did not recognize Vladimir as a worthy head of the church. Wednesday he swore out a warrant charging the bishop with defalcation of church funds and other offenses. But the warrant was not served, as the bishop declined to sign, unless there was more evidence. Late Wednesday night Russell heard that orders had been received from St. Petersburg suspending Vladimir because of charges against him of the same revolting crime that gave rise to the Cleveland street scandal. Russell was afraid that the bishop would resign, so he hired a detective to guard the house. Wednesday night, and they will be kept on duty till the trouble is settled.

RECOVERING THE DEAD.

Search for the Bodies of Miners in Aberystwyth Mine, England, Is Horribly Successful.

One Hundred and Seventy Mangled and Mutilated Corpses Already Found—More in the Mine.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Work of recovering the dead in the Aberystwyth mine is being carried on as rapidly as possible. The successful restoration of the ventilation of the pit has resulted in simplifying the work of several parties. Many affecting scenes are constantly witnessed, among them, the discovery of the grouped bodies of a father and five sons. Suffocation had caused their death, and, as they lay undisturbed by the flames, they appeared to be peacefully slumbering. As a result of the handling of the burned bodies several of the workers have been made ill, and have been compelled to return to the mouth of the mine. The number of bodies now recovered is 170, and it is estimated that twenty more remain. A vast amount of labor is required to clear away the debris and recover the bodies that remain. The bodies taken out are so horribly mutilated that, except in two or three cases recognition being rendered doubly doubtful by the fact that the men, owing to the absence of the usual features of the mine were no clothing whatever except heavy boots to protect their feet from the flinty bottom. It is ascertained that the mine has been in a constant condition for some time past. Not long ago an explosion occurred in an adjoining pit, by which five men were killed. The damaged pit was flooded and the water gradually forced the gas into the pit which was the scene of this disaster. Upon this information it is already suggested that the owners of the mine be prosecuted for criminal negligence.

CAPITAL AGAINST CAPITAL.

Workmen Organising a Financial Department to Carry on Strike Successfully.

BOSTON, Feb. 10.—A morning paper this afternoon gave the striking leaders of the movement, that there is to be organized in this country previous to the eight-hour strikes of May 1, 1890, a gigantic labor-financial alliance within the ranks of the American Federation of Labor. It is proposed to accumulate

A Loan of $200,000. At least $200,000 before May 30, to be placed at the disposal of any trade whose craft may be on strike or locked out. The organization of this alliance is said to be already well under way, although the matter has been kept as secret as possible. The leaders claim that labor organizations have practically given nothing but sentiment, and the past is strewn with innumerable wrecks of labor associations whose members had not learned that an empty pocket-book meant hunger and that hunger always enabled the employers to win. There are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor 750,000 men, allowing that this number of men average forty working weeks in a year, that

Would Give $3,000,000 for a joint fund by each man paying 10 cents a week. It is claimed that the insurance of workmen against a loss of wages will increase the numerical strength of labor organizations, and future conventions of national unions will represent millions, instead of thousands of workers. This placing of $3,000,000 at the disposal of a single trade does not mean a multiplication of strikes, nor it is based a rule of thumb policy. It means that fewer strikes or lockouts will occur, and the suffering of families of workmen shall never again take place. The article in conclusion gives the views of several well known labor leaders, all of whom speak approvingly of the project.

It was contended by a number of the members that corn cannot be raised at a profit, and it is cheaper to import American corn. On the other hand those who adopted the protectionist theory said that this would be giving the brewers a monopoly. A motion, advocating "free corn" was carried. The question of fostering barley and exporting the same to England for the manufacture of beer received the unanimous support of members.

The bill also proposes to disqualify any person guilty of an offense under the act from voting at any election in the Northwest Territories or being a candidate for any public position.

RIOT IN GOD'S HOUSE.

Insulting Remarks of a North Carolina Minister Result in a Fatal Fight.

Two Participants Killed—Three More Seriously Injured in the Fray.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 8.—During services in a Virginia country church, about thirty miles from Sparta, N. C., last Sunday, the Rev. Joseph Strook, during the course of his remarks said: "There is a man in this congregation who is so ungodly and unfaithful to his wife that it is a wonder God does not rain down fire and brimstone upon his head and consume him."

The preacher pointed his finger toward Thomas Coleman, who occupied a seat near the pulpit, and as he did so that individual jumped to his feet to inquire if the person meant to be personal in his remarks. No sooner was Coleman on his feet than half a dozen deacons were up, demanding that he sit down. Everything was in an uproar, and an attempt was made to eject Coleman. Coleman resisted, and seeing a stick of wood lying near the stove, he began to wield it hard and fast, knocking four men to the floor, and fatally wounding Jeremiah Ferguson. One man wrenched the club from Coleman and dealt him a deadly blow across the head. Six men then walked over to the altar and beat Coleman senseless. The riot lasted six minutes and was participated in by many of the congregation, who used clubs as weapons.

The killed were: Thomas Coleman, Jeremiah Ferguson. The injured are: Edward Clausen, Robert Edwards, John Peedy.
