KINGAID'S VICTIM DEAD.

Taulbee is no More—The Correspondent's Bullet Has Effectually Done Its Work.

Kincaid Again Arrested and Jailed—He Claims Self Defense in Justification.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—William Preston Taulbee, a representative in congress from the Tenth Kentucky district in the forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses, who was shot by Charles E. Kincaid, the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times, in the house wing of the Capitol on the afternoon of Feb. 28, died Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock, at Providence hospital.

KINGAID. TAULBEE.

His death had been expected for several days, but while there was still a chance for his life, the physicians thought it advisable not to permit him to make an ante-mortem statement of the circumstances surrounding the shooting. He died therefore, without making any statement, and the case against Kincaid will rest entirely on the testimony of himself and two eye-witnesses of the tragedy. It was said just after the shooting took place that Kincaid had armed himself after the first encounter with Taulbee, and seeing him going down the stairs that led to the basement, had run after him, called to him, and as he turned, shot him in the face. Kincaid claims that he armed himself in fear of danger from a further encounter with Taulbee, that Taulbee had warned him to arm himself, and that Taulbee insulted and attacked him on their second encounter, rendering, in his opinion, resort to a pistol a necessity. Theory of self-defense will be set up by Kincaid's lawyer.

As soon as the news of Taulbee's death reached police headquarters, an officer was sent to Kincaid's room, he was awakened and after he had dressed, was taken to the police station, where he now is.

A STATE INTELLIGENCE OFFICE.

Florida Officials Undertake to Supply Servants to the United States.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The board of immigration of Florida has taken in hand the difficult problem of supplying domestic servants to householders of that state. They have agreed to supply 1,000 servant girls with places in that state, at wages ranging from $5 to $10 per month. These girls are to come from Norway and Sweden. That there might be no hitch in the arrangements the board has asked the secretary of the treasury if there are any provisions of the alien contract labor law which will prevent the girls from coming into this country. The board explains that no contract is made in advance, and the law excepts domestic servants from its operation. The fact that the board will, when they arrive here, provide for them, removes them from the danger of becoming a public charge. The board is composed of Governor Fleming, Secretary of State Crawford and Commissioner of Agriculture Wombell. Secretary will double, in a day or so, and the admiral, pointing out the safeguards to be thrown around their plans to prevent the law from being abused.

Jumped the Track on a Bridge.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 13.—A Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling passenger train jumped the bridge at Maynard, Ohio, and there was a narrow escape from a terrible wreck. The engine left the rails just as the train entered the bridge and it was nearly across, breaking the ties and drawing the tender and baggage car. The Great Opera company was on the train and the frightened girls made things lively. The train crew and passengers jumped from the cars, and one or two landed in the creek but were uninjured.

BOLD DIAMOND ROBBERY.

Dallas, Tex., Jewelry Store Robbed in a Most Daring Manner. DALLAS, Tex., March 13.—One of the boldest robberies that ever occurred in this state took place at 9:30 p. m. at 606 Main street, in the very heart of the city. Dorman & Samuels are jewelers and keep a magnificent display of costly goods behind the plate glass of their large show window. Within and without are electric lights, and the neighborhood is kept almost as light as day. While Mr. Dorman was waiting on a customer he heard a terrific crash at the window and turned his eyes rarely in time to see a tray of valuable diamond rings disappear. The thief had disappeared up the stairway at the side of the store and out through a back alley. The break was made with a rock weighing twenty pounds, wrapped in paper. The tray contained forty-two diamond rings valued at about $5,000. The sheriff and other officials with trained bloodhounds are now on the thief's trail.

Pension Forger Bagged.

DENVER, Colo., March 13.—Charles E. Rae, was arrested here by a deputy marshal at the instance of Special Pension Examiner Anderson, of Chicago. Rae has been going from place to place for ten years forging names of witnesses to a claim for a big pension. His last forger was in Milwaukee six months ago, and since that time he has been closing a score of officers.

Two Cremated in a Collision.

HASTINGS, Neb., March 13.—Two freight trains collided ten miles east of here on the Burlington and Missouri railroad, killing and cremating Grant Norton, conductor, and Miller, brakeman. Several cars were also burned. Intense darkness and a fog are the causes assigned.

THE LEBVEE IS BROKEN.

Lower Mississippi Embankment at Arkansas City Has Given Away Under the Heavy Strain. Four Parishes Are Doomed to Inundation—Arms of Men Striving to Stay the Flood. Situation at Cairo Continues Serious—Hundreds of Kentucky and Missouri Farms Submerged.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A special from St. Louis, Mo., to The Times, says there is going to be a flood, and a very serious one, in the country along the lower Mississippi. There will be a great loss of property, and probable loss of life. The Ohio and all its tributaries are very high, the upper Mississippi and Missouri are high, and rising here and above, and rain has been falling here and in the Northwest. The snow fall in the mountains has been very heavy, and the mild winter makes it certain that the snow will melt early. The situation about Cairo has been growing more serious daily, and may be said to have reached a crisis.

The country for miles is under water, and hundreds of people whose homes are in the bottoms have sought refuge in the high lands. Hundreds of farms in Missouri, Illinois and Kentucky are completely submerged. In many cases families are living in boat-houses or on rafts, while in other instances, people whose houses are on slight elevations, stick to them with water all around. There has been a great loss of live stock, but no human lives have yet been lost. More than half of Cairo is submerged and business is paralyzed, the only means of communication being by boat. The levees in the vicinity will stand the strain, but the water 'backs' up in the rear doors of the city, as it were. Great efforts and thousands of dollars have been spent on the levees along the lower Mississippi, and the boats of the contractors made the people believe they were safe. There certainly has been good work done, but a claim is only as strong as its weakest link. The people here were aroused to a knowledge of this fact by the breaking of the levee near the town of Arkansas City, where the embankment was built almost wholly of sand. When the water once got through there seemed to be no stopping of it, and within twenty-four hours there was an army of water, which was rapidly widening. This break lets the water in on one of the richest sections in the world, and according to news received, the whole four parishes, comprising the Tensas basin in Louisiana, will be inundated. Every man capable of handling a shovel has been pressed into service as an army is at work, but with scant hope of accomplishing much.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE.

Immense Cincinnati Clothing Store Destroyed by Fire.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 13.—The five story building on the southeast corner of Third and Vine streets, owned and occupied by Stern, Mayer & Co., one of the largest and wealthiest clothing manufacturing firms in this city, was completely gutted by fire. The loss is estimated at $450,000; insurance, $250,000. The alarm was turned in a few minutes after 1 a. m. by a private policeman who saw a glow in the third floor windows, but before the firemen reached the ground they found a red hot building confronting them. The place was completely wrecked, a new work of telegraph wires, causing some delay in getting a stream to the place where it was needed badly. Across the street the sudden burning of clothing of all kinds and shouts of firemen caused consternation in the Burnett house and hundreds of guests came pouring into the corridors seeking an avenue of escape. Two firemen were injured.

ANOTHER WELCH HORROR.

Three Hundred Miners Killed in a Shaft by an Explosion—500 Rescued. LONDON, March 13.—An explosion occurred in the Morca colliery, at Glamorgan, Wales. About two hundred miners have been rescued from the workings nearest the main shaft. Most of the men were uninjured but several were fatally hurt. Owing to the heavy falls of debris the explorers are prevented from penetrating the works, which are pervaded by thick damp. Now and again jets of gas are being brought to the surface, but the work of recovering the corpses is slow.

A further fall of debris has completely blocked the shaft and renders all efforts to remedy it futile until it can be cleared away. The latest estimate places the number of dead at 180. Heads of Dead and Mangled. LONDON, March 13.—The latest news from the Morca mine disaster is that four of the entombed men succeeded in crawling through a crevice between the roof of the mine and the debris. They report that they passed over heaps of dead miners, and express the belief that none of the entombed men are alive.

SUPERINTENDENT MITCHELL DEAD.

North Dakota's Superintendent of Public Instruction Taken Without Warning. BISMARCK, N. D., March 13.—William Mitchell, state superintendent of public instruction, died Monday night of heart failure. He had just retired, and was apparently well up to the time of the last struggle. Mrs. Mitchell was with him at the time, and the first warning she received was a gasp and the throwing up of his hands. In answer to her inquiry, 'What is the matter?' he made no reply, and Mrs. Mitchell ran to a neighbor for aid. When she returned he was extinct. The body will be taken to the former home of the deceased in Ohio.

The Biddford Elections.

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 11.—Following is the result of the election: Staples (Dem.), 1,213; Lord (Rep.) 837. The Democrats carried every ward.

FRAUDS IN IMPORTING WOOL.

The Ohio Wool Growers Ask the President to Stop Them.

COLUMBUS, O., March 10.—The president of the Ohio Wool Growers' Association has issued a lengthy address to the wool growers of the state and the nation in which he says: 'The object of this address is to ask the farmers of the country to appeal to the president to put a speedy end to the monstrous frauds now being perpetrated in importing wool, and to appeal to our members of congress to aid in the same work, and to speedily pass a wool tariff that will give to farmers and wool growers the exclusive privilege of supplying all the woolen goods and all the wool required for use in the United States.' Considerable space is devoted to alleged frauds in the importation of wool, and he says: 'This is practically free wool, and unless the duty is increased these imports will be largely increased and destroy our American wool industry.'
