RUMP PROPOSITION REJECTED

Democrats Reply to the Republicans and State their Views of the Case.

RICKARDS IS SEVERELY SAT DOWN ON.

He Attempts to Name the Standing Committee, but the Majority Take the Task of his Hands.

The Frank-Pearce Affair is Referred to a Committee of the House-- Full List of the Senate Committee.

HELENA, Jan. 14.—(Special to the TRIBUNE.)—The air was full of compromise rumors all day long, but so far nothing has yet been settled. The republicans this morning finally presented their proposition to the house, which promptly went into a caucus lasting till noon. When the house reassembled the regular order of business was resumed and notice of several bills given, but the attending crowd was doomed to disappointment, as no mention of the compromise was made. Chief among the bills mentioned today is one regulating the freight and passenger rates of railways operating in Montana.

The rump house had no quorum and adjourned. In the senate the proceedings were rather lively. Lieutenant Governor Rickards attempted to name the various senate committees, but as soon as he had finished reading his list Senator Thornton rose and presented a list prepared by the majority. He moved the adoption of his list. This required a suspension of the rules which the republicans defeated by voting against it. Thornton, however, presented a resolution to the same effect which was ruled out of order by the chair. Thornton then appealed from the decision and by a strict party vote the appeal was carried and the resolution passed. This is rather a novel procedure.

Rules—Hennessy, Cardwell, Hedges. The Pearce-Frank controversy seems to be just in its infancy. H. L. Frank the member from Butte, offered a resolution to the effect that, whereas, W. J. Pearce had caused a statement to be published in the Butte Mining Journal that H. L. Frank was a "base deserter" from his party; that a committee of three be appointed to investigate the matter. On motion of Pearce the resolution was adopted. Messrs. Humber, Beach and Hogan were appointed. This looks like a move on Mr. Frank's part to have the correspondent of the Mining Journal ejected from the door of the house. The joint rules were adopted by the senate and house.

THE DEMOCRATS REPLY.

HELENA, Jan. 14.—(Special to the TRIBUNE.)—The democrats today replied to the republican proposition by saying they realize the annoyance arising from the present legislative situation, but that there are now organized and in active legislative work two bodies—senate and house—each recognizing the other and both recognized by the governor, from which organizations applicants for compromise see fit to abstain themselves. The proposition is declined. Republicans will endeavor to bring the matter before the supreme court.

JACK DEMPSEY KNOCKED OUT.

The Glory of the Nonpareil Has Departed, Perhaps Forever.

FITZSIMMONS DECLARED THE VICTOR

The Australian Had the Best of it in Every Round—Not a Scratch on the Champion.

Dempsey Badly Used up—Perfect Arrangements and a Rare Congregation of the Sporting Fraternity.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—The arrangements for the fight could hardly be better. In the main building of the club the principals had a room each, far from the crowd, curious mass below, and distant from each other. Box holders were admitted through the club house, general ticket holders through a gate on another street. There were half a dozen other gates, but they were kept locked and guarded, being intended for the purpose of egress only. All along the paths and aisles were strong guards of police and the steady procession was kept going. The amphitheatre was built on a lasting plan, high walls making it solid and enduring and holding up the truss roof, so constructed that it can be removed in case of warm and dry weather, or used as a protection from cold and rain. The somewhat chilly weather of late led to the plans being well roofed tonight.

Under a square of electric lights stood the ring. It is exactly twenty-four feet square, is on turf, and of river sand, which is just loose enough to be springy. The ropes and stakes were padded and it is altogether an ideal place to fight. Four feet from the ring is another enclosure with barred wire instead of rope. Between the two rings were chairs for the seconds and the wire fence insured the pugilistic parties from outside interference. Fitzsimmons was the first of the contestants to reach the club. He was in fine condition as also was Dempsey. In the amphitheatre of the great Olympic club tonight were assembled 4,000 leading citizens with a large sprinkling of the best sportsmen ever seen in New Orleans at one time to witness the great international middle-weight championship of Australia and America, between Jack Dempsey, the world-wide reputed nonpareil, and Robert Fitzsimmons, the biggest middle-weight on record. The battle was for a purse of $12,000, $11,000 to go to the winner and $1,000 to the loser. The battle was fought under the Marquis of Queensbury rules and with gloves weighing five ounces and over. Fitzsimmons weighed 150 1/2 pounds while Jack tipped the beam at 147 1/2. Dempsey's seconds were Jack McAuliffe, Gus Tutill and Mike Conley, the Illinois giant, while Jimmy Carroll and Dick

O'Connell looked after Fitzsimmons who was one pound over weight and was sent out in company with Carroll to work down Dempsey as reported at weight and in the form though looking small alongside his opponent. Time was called promptly at 8:55.

The men came into the ring at 8:55 p. m., Fitzsimmons first and Dempsey a few minutes later.

Round 1.—Bob from appearances out-classed Jack, but honors were about even at the close of the round.

Round 2.—Bob came up cautiously and crowded Jack, and though both fought well the round was in Bob's favor.

Round 3.—Was also Bob's round and he scored a knockdown, but Jack got up and ran away. Jack was weak at the close.

Round 4.—Jack came up cautious, hit and Bob ran away. Bob crowded Jack again. Both landed heavily but Bob got the best of it.

Round 5.—Bob crowded and clinching marked the round, Jack clinching to save himself.

Round 6.—Jack came up looking red and marked and before the round closed he appeared groggy.

Round 7.—Bob crowded, Jack feinted and as the punishment continued later Jack looked better.

Round 8.—Bob crowded Jack and landed a right in his nose. Then followed the usual blows and clinches, it being Bob's round.

Round 9.—Bob crowded Jack and Jack clinched. Bob landed right and missed the same moment later. Jack ducked and ran away. Bob hit Jack all over the ring. Jack seemed to be hard.

Round 10.—Bob crowded Jack and landed a right in his nose. Then followed the usual blows and clinches, it being Bob's round.

Round 11.—Bob crowded Jack and landed two lefts; Jack fell on the ropes. Bob landed a terrible left and Dempsey staggered. Dempsey led for the stomach and Bob jumped away. Bob landed two terrible lefts and knocked Jack down; Bob knocked him down again, let him gain wind and landed a terrible right and left. This was Bob's round. The towel was thrown from Jack's corner. In token of respect, but it didn't go. It was to fool Fitzsimmons. Jack was down and as McAuliffe didn't expect the gong he threw up the towel, but when the gong sounded he had one more chance and he said "throw up" didn't go; Jack would try again.

Round 12.—Bob led right and left on Jack's head. Bob punched Jack all over the ring; Jack upper cut but missed. Bob fought fair and landed his lefts on stomach and hip and knocked Jack down. Bob swung right on Jack's neck and knocked him down. Jack rose groggy. This was Bob's round and Dempsey was his first and a doomed champion of middle-weights.

Round 13.—Bob went to Jack in his corner and punched him right and left; Jack clinched and Bob knocked him down. Nonpareil lay like a log after two vain endeavors to rise and the fight on three songs sounded the crowd outside weight's career to slumber. Tomorrow's man will shine on a new middle-weight champion and his name is Robert Fitzsimmons. When Referee Alexander Brown awarded the battle to Fitzsimmons Jimmy Carroll jumped at his protest and kissed him time and again. Jack Dempsey was badly punished. A swollen face, cut lips and nose and a bad mark on his body were plainly visible. Fitzsimmons was not scratched. The Australian won in a walk. There was no showing of unfairness but it appeared the battle was perfectly fair.

The crowd included some of the most prominent bankers, business men, educators and city officials and sports in New Orleans. Fitzsimmons people were extremely anxious before the fight began, as was to be expected, it having been currently reported that Fitzsimmons came to New Orleans over weight. At 8 o'clock in the ante room of the Olympic club faithful friends were engaged in the task of reducing the New Zealander. Jimmy Carroll told an Associated Press reporter just before this that his man was two pounds under weight, but two close friends and the writer were present when it was admitted that the Australian tipped the scales two pounds over. Willing people were beside him and Fitzsimmons by stripped naked on the lounge with attendants patting him to work off superfluous flesh. The news was not circulated among the crowd which remained oblivious of the condition of the man. The fight lasted 40 minutes.

FREE COINAGE IN THE SENATE.

Senator Stewart's Free Coinage Amendment to the Financial Bill Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The discussion on Stewart's free coinage amendment to the silver bill closed and the senate proceeded to vote on it this afternoon. It was agreed to yeas 42, nays 30.

The senate struck out the fourth section of the financial bill providing for the issue of $200,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds; yeas 48, nays 19. The first section of the purchase of 12,000,000 ounces of silver at market price was struck out without division. The second section (limiting the compulsory requirement of the deposit of bonds by national banks to $1,000) was struck out.

Plumb moved to strike out the third section (as to national bank currency) and to insert in lieu of it the following: "That the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized to replace all permanent retired and cancelled, by issue, in lieu thereof, of like sums in United States notes not outstanding and authorized by an act of March 3, 1883, entitled 'an act to provide ways and means for the support of the government.'" After a long debate Plumb's amendment was defeated, yeas 28, nays 40.

TO BENEFIT THE INDIANS.

suspended Payments and Distributions to be Carried Out.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The commissioner of Indian affairs has written a letter to Captain F. E. Pierce, acting Indian agent at the Pine Ridge agency, South Dakota, in the course of which after assuring him of the fullest support and cooperation of the Indian bureau in the discharge of his duties, he says: "Congress having ratified the Sioux bill it will be practicable at an early day for this office to carry forward the suspended payments and distributions authorized by congress for the benefit of the Indians at Pine Ridge. To each your attention will be invited. I am especially anxious that the work of education should be carried forward with all practicable efficiency, and to this especially invite you to give personal attention to the present condition of the schools under your control, and ask you to recommend to me any modifications or changes which you think the good of the service may require."

He then asks for information about the agent's subordinates, and a full statement of any complaints by Indians.
