THE DAILY TRIBUNE
SPRAY OF THE FALLS.
WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.
THURSDAY'S DAILY.

Monday in September and the first Monday in December.
John Flynn and J. B. Hollis, accused of attempting to hold up Jos. Silverman, were brought before Judge Hoy yesterday charged with highway robbery. As the evidence was insufficient to convict the latter he was given fifteen days in jail, while the former waived examination and was bound over to the district court.
Robert Blankenbaker is in from Box Elder. He brings most encouraging news concerning the conditions of stock in his neighborhood. Cattle have not shrunk nearly as much as was expected, and the snow is fast disappearing into the ground. Conditions could not be more favorable to a prosperous season than now exists in that section.
E. L. Cronkrite and Miss Floy White were united in the holy bonds of wedlock last evening at the home of the bride, by Rev. W. B. Coombe. The young couple leave this morning for a brief trip to Helena. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cronkrite are well known in Great Falls and their many friends wish them much happiness and prosperity.
Mr. Jacob Van Aernam from Waukesha, Wis., is in town. He is taking a trip through this section of the country to verify some of the reports he had heard concerning it. He is so well pleased with what he has seen here in Great Falls that it is probable his journey will terminate here. Great Falls needs just such men as Mr. Van Aernam and we hope he will make his home with us.
At last we are to have a genuine florist in Great Falls. A line of business which up to date has been sadly neglected. Mr. Kranz will devote his time and attention to the culture of flowers at no distant date and requests the patronage of all. Mr. Kranz informs us also that he has started into the market gardening business on the south side, and has lettuce, onions and radishes growing which will soon be ready for the market.
The Bar Association had a meeting in the court room last night to arrange the method of procedure in this district for the future guidance of Judge Benton and the attorneys. Jere Leslie was chosen chairman of the meeting and W. S. Pigott, secretary, and some important changes in the court rules were made. Most of the changes were decided on, though some more will probably be made before they are published.
G. B. Swan, county superintendent of schools, arrived in town last night from Kibbey. He reports ranchmen, stockmen and miners jubilant in his section over the prospects of the coming summer. Mr. Swan also brings the news of the finding of a body of a man in the Neilhart park. It was brought to Monarch, where it is now lying at the hotel. It is probably the remains of the man who was reported lost some time ago.
Neilhart Herald: "At the meeting of the Miners' union of Neilhart held last Saturday the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing six months: President, Glen Owen; vice-president, W. H. Brown; financial secretary, Andrew Salmon; recording secretary, Frank Oden; treasurer, John Sweeney; warden, Jos. Sylvester; conductor, Jerry Murphy. Finance committee, John McAssay, Daniel Lenny and E. L. Murphy.
It appears that Constable Herron, of the mounted police, who was found near McLeod, Alberta, frozen to death, either shot himself or was murdered. He lost his way, and when found there was a bullet hole through his head and one chamber of his revolver was empty. It is presumed that, finding himself lost, in desperation he put an end to his existence, or, firing the weapon to attract attention, lost control of the weapon through his hands being benumbed, and accidentally shot himself.
"The stockholders of the Commonwealth Mining and Milling company met in Neilhart on the 9th inst. and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: William Mueller, president and treasurer; Frank Marion, general manager; E. J. Sanford, secretary; board of directors, E. G. Macley, H. O. Chown, A. E. Dickerman, Gilbert Metan, Paul Marcure, E. J. Sanford, William Meneffe, Frank Marion and William Mueller. Among the important things discussed was the matter of patenting the mines owned by the company as soon as possible, and surveying contracts will be let for the purpose of carrying out this work as soon as the snow leaves the ground."—Neilhart Herald.
FRIDAY'S DAILY.
There were no cases in court yesterday.
There is considerable transient travel to Great Falls nowadays, to the delight of the several hotel-keepers.
Rev. G. M. Gugel will hold German-Lutheran services in the court room of the Realty block at 2 p. m., Sunday.
W. M. Cockrill issued a marriage license yesterday to John Jackson, Jr., and Harriet W. Griffing, both of Choteau.
The Woolbridge hotel will soon be thrown open to the public again as there is a good show of adjusting the differences.
A passenger elevator at the dam would be a paying investment, as it is quite a climb from the suspension bridge to the head of the stairway.
Frank E. Siefred filed yesterday a notice of location of a water right to 200 inches from the right fork of Little Belt for irrigation purposes.
The Belt mountain country is well represented in the city, many prominent people from that lively section being here on important business.
Wadsworth, Barnes & Crowninshield have moved their real estate offices from the Realty building to the old stand of Barnes & Collett on Central avenue.
Latest advices from Cutbank, where the big trestle is being raised, are to the effect that it will be the 10th of April before that immense structure is completed.
As an evidence of the number of people arriving here daily the hotels were all crowded last Wednesday night and both the Park and Milwaukee hotels had to turn away people.
The total assessment of Silver Bow county for the year 1890 was $16,208,833. Instead of $6,208,833 as printed yesterday and the tax levy for Cascade county should read 14 instead of 12 mills.
A dispute over a back number of a certain sporting paper lead to blows between Thomas McMahon and Amos Bender last Wednesday. The former was brought into court yesterday charged with assault and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

It was reported early last evening that Dickinson, of New Orleans had been assassinated. A telegram to New Orleans concerning the authenticity of the report failed to meet with any response. We question the truth of the report.
John Jackson, Jr. and Harriet Griffing, both of Choteau, were made one last evening at the Baptist church, by Rev. Polk. Quite a number of friends from Choteau were present as well as guests from this city. Mr. Jackson is well and favorably known in Choteau county.
C. P. Downing informs us that a rich strike was made in the Queen of the Hills mine last Tuesday afternoon. The vein widened out two feet and is now in some places ten feet wide. This valuable property has the biggest continuous chute of ore of any mine in Montana and is certainly a bonanza.
The Monarch: The Holter Lumber Co.'s saw mill here has a row of logs three quarters of a mile in length near the mill ready to be cut. Several material improvements are planned for the near future, among them being a planer. The mill is kept busy filling orders and anticipates a still greater demand at the approach of the building season.
Pat Barrett, the genial and accommodating waiter formerly in the Home restaurant in Schmidt & Henderson's beer hall, has gone in partnership with Martin Maloney and bought out the restaurant in the Columbian beer hall in the Gore block. These gentlemen are well known as experts in the restaurant business and solicit the patronage of their many friends.

The next shoot will be held down at the Black Eagle Falls, Sunday, March 21, at 4 p. m. H. J. Wells is president of the club, W. M. Biggs, treasurer and W. H. Elliott, secretary.
BACH, CORY & CO.
They are Now In Their Handsome New Quarters, Corner Central Avenue and Park Drive.
Bach, Cory & Co. will be ready to receive their numerous customers to-day in their new and handsome quarters just or nearly completed. They have low a store, modeled on a metropolitan scale, that will stand second to none in the northwest for conveniences necessary to their business. In order that our readers may have a more comprehensive idea of the stock carried by this firm we make a note of what we saw neatly displayed on the shelves. It is a sight that will amply repay a visit.
Entering the store from Central avenue will be seen a long row of shelves or tiers. In the first section will be found all kinds of pickles, both imported and domestic, plain, mixed and fancy. Next comes the olives, and the variety shown would make your mouth water. These are followed by different kinds of sauces, relishes and mustards, each confined to its separate tier. Canned fruits occupies the central portion of the row of tiers, and the extent and assortment is what Mr. Jenkins, the gentleman who has charge of this department, particularly emphasized. He pointed with admiration to the glass jars filled with blackberries, peaches, currents, etc., put up by the Oneida Community, in New York, and affirmed that they were the best in the world. They were certainly very choice. The firm has all kinds of canned goods in stock, foreign and domestic, for table use and for cooking purposes. To enumerate the toothsome edibles in this department would take up too much time and space. An inspection would be much more satisfactory.
On the opposite side of the room is the hardware department under the special supervision of J. D. Powers. This department embraces everything in the hardware line and will always be found full and complete.
Back of the retail store is the wholesale department. From this room a freight elevator runs up to the dry store-room above. Ample storing facilities are also provided in the basement, which has been fitted up especially for that purpose.
The firm of Bach, Cory & Co. employ a large force of men, who are under the efficient management of D. L. Willard. It is largely to his business sagacity and popularity that the firm is able to command the immense trade that it enjoys.
The passenger elevator is now in running order and it works to perfection. As this is the first elevator of the kind put in operation in Great Falls many of our people availed themselves of the chance to take a ride. This is unquestionably the finest cage elevator in Montana, and Fred W. Wilson, the agent for the Reedy Elevator company of Chicago, is justly entitled to a fair meed of praise for the satisfaction it is giving.
Eminently Correct.
The appointment of Earnest Ringwald as auditor for Cascade recognizes the gifts and experiences of a thorough accountant. Mr. Ringwald occupied a similar position in Minnesota. He is one of the founders of Great Falls, a popular young gentleman in every way competent to fill the position to which he has been appointed.—Bozeman Chronicle.
On Saturday, the 21st, we shall offer for sale at public auction, opposite the Milwaukee house, Bed-Room Suites, Chairs, Ranges, Dishes, Furniture and Household Goods. Dyas & Jones.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.
It Was Fittingly Commemorated in Great Falls Yesterday.
MUSICAL AND LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT
It is Held in the Court Room and Presided Over by Hon. T. E. Collins.
James Donovan, the Orator of the Day—He Vividly Portrays the Irish Character.
The 17th of March is observed throughout the United States as a holiday by all citizens of Irish descent, a day that by fitting services and festivities they can pay homage to their patron saint, and yesterday was no exception to the rule in Great Falls.
The sun shone bright and clear all day and the weather was certainly auspicious for St. Patrick's day.
Most everyone wore a badge or ribbon of green and some enthusiastic hackmen and others had their horses properly decorated with that color.
A committee had for some time been busy making preparations for a musical and oratorical entertainment suitable for the day and it was given last night in the court house.
The place was literally packed by the time for commencing the exercises.
There were quite a number of ladies scattered through the vast audience and some children, all intent on enjoying a rare treat. Nor were they disappointed, for from the beginning to the end of the program everyone was deeply interested, especially when the orator of the occasion pictured the history of Ireland from a remote period to the time of Daniel O'Connell.
Hon. T. E. Collins presided, and after a few chosen remarks on the event which they had assembled to commemorate and some music by the orchestra he introduced the orator of the day, James Donovan. That gentleman was warmly received and at once proceeded to deliver his address, which was listened to attentively from beginning to end. He gave a brief sketch of Irish history before the time of St. Patrick and then described at length the saint's evangelical work and the final result. Coming down to a later date in history he graphically described a number of important events. He vividly portrayed the Irish character and closed with a fine peroration. It was written in a perspicuous style and finely delivered and reflected great credit upon Mr. Donovan's oratorical attainments.
Messrs. Biles, Danks, Coleman and Matteson sang a number of selections which were much applauded.
Mrs. Ira Meyer sang "Killarney" and another Irish song and was the recipient of repeated applause. Mr. Hawkins sang "Dear Shamrock" and two other selections, which fairly convulsed the audience. He was the recipient of an enthusiastic encore.
Mr. Gottlob gave a version of "Rip Van Winkle" and sustained his reputation as a comic dialect-speaker of capability. He was encored and sang a cute song, which brought down the house.
The meeting closed with other exercises of an appropriate nature. It was a very interesting and instructive entertainment and bespoke a great deal for our local talent.
There were over 300 tickets sold for the entertainment and dance which followed. Lovers of the Terpsichorean art adjourned to Arion hall and enjoyed themselves till the small hours.
LOST IN THE SNOW.
Christ Hahn Freezes to Death While Traveling in the Belt Park.
Saturday, March 7, Christ Hahn, well-known to the citizens of Monarch, started in the Belt park to walk from the house of Jos. Anderson to the farm of Mr. Wolf. He mistakenly left the trail for a straighter route and soon found himself in a storm, floundering through timbered ravines and deep drifted snows. No word came from him and on the following Friday Mr. Wolf came to town reporting that they had not heard anything of Mr. Hahn.
Saturday, March 15, a searching party consisting of John Schultz, E. J. Schmidt, Frank Rathbun, and Fred Nelson started on horseback to hunt the missing man. They traveled over the road taken by Mr. Hahn and tracked him for over two miles and ascertained that he had kept on he would have been at Mr. Wolf's place within one-half mile. They found where he had lain down two or three times full length in the snow, perhaps from exhaustion, but when he reached the crest of a ridge where the ground was bare they lost all sight of his course and were forced to return without any knowledge of his whereabouts.
Yesterday morning a party of nine, consisting of A. J. Vance, Mr. Minor, and others, left Monarch to scour the country in the neighborhood of the lost man's trail. They were joined by several ranchmen of the Park and all hands worked hard to reveal any news of the man, for some still entertained a faint hope that he might still be living. At 3:30, however, they came upon his body in a wooded ravine on Mr. Wolf's ranch, not more than ten minutes' walk from the house. He had tried to build a fire, and, failing in this, had walked, but a few steps further and lay down upon his back, for so they found him. His body was brought to Monarch, placed in custody, word wired to his brother in Chicago, and today an inquest by jury will be held.
Mr. Hahn is a carpenter by trade, single, and perhaps 27 years of age.—Monarch.

LOST AN ARM.
Casper Dahl Had an Arm Crushed Yesterday So That Amputation Was Necessary.
Casper Dahl, a seventeen-year-old boy from Minot, S. D., who has been visiting here some time, lost an arm yesterday morning while attempting to couple some cars.
His left arm was caught between the bumpers and frightfully crushed. He was taken to Dr. Gordon's office and it was found necessary to amputate the mangled arm very close to the shoulder.
At last reports the poor fellow was doing as well as could be expected.
It is a very sad affair for a young man to go through life thus handicapped. Yardmaster Van Allen had repeatedly warned him to keep away as he was not in the regular employ of the company.
He is at his brother-in-law's house on the west side and will probably pull through all right.
A Good Time at Arion Hall.
The Workingmen's union gave another entertainment last evening in Arion hall and like all gatherings of that organization, it was well attended. It was very instructing and entertaining.
There was music by the orchestra, speeches by a number of good speakers and some comic songs. The object of the meeting was to create a better feeling between labor and capital and some very good ideas on the subject were advanced. H. T. Oakland, president. After some music by the orchestra, A. J. Zimmerman spoke for a few moments and earnestly advocated that workingmen should stand up for their rights and not be so subservient to capital.
Mr. Stokes sang a song entitled the "Honest Workingman," which was loudly applauded. Master Arthur Gerin played a cornet solo which was a treat. Fred Gottlob then gave his version of "Rip Van Winkle" and as usual was called back and sang a song. Labeck, the acrobat, held the audience spell bound for a time with some of his athletic exhibitions. Mr. Leach delivered a recitation entitled the "Murder" which was liberally applauded. Prof. Sullivan then addressed the audience on the subject of promoting good feeling between labor and capital. The meeting then adjourned to meet next Tuesday at the city hall. The meeting was a grand success.
THE WORLD ON WHEELS.
Great Northern Engineers Surveying a Branch Line From Tacoma to Silver Creek Mines.
A telegram from Tacoma says a corps of engineers of the Great Northern engineers today began a survey at Arlington, which is to be extended from that point to the Silver creek mines. They claim to know a route which is from twenty-two to twenty-five miles shorter than that by either the Skagit or Skykomish river.
The most important rumor that is current in railroad circles is the reported sale of the Bellingham Bay & British Columbia road to the Great Northern. The Bellingham Bay & British Columbia runs from Whetcom to Sumas City on the boundary, and for a considerable distance, is side by side with the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern tracks.
Railroad people who have watched the movements of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern closely say this movement on the part of the Great Northern will be checkmated in an effort to secure a traffic arrangement with the Canadian Pacific. The Bellingham Bay road is not operated its full length, but is graded and railed almost the entire distance. The road is owned by Bellingham Bay capitalists and has been on the market as salable property for some time.
MR. CLARK'S RACE-HORSES.
He Has Added Several Fine Youngsters to His Trotting Stable.
Butte Inter Mountain: Montana boasts of many lovers of the horse in motion, but none of them are more enthusiastic in this respect than Hon. W. A. Clark. Realizing that it will take talent to scoop in some of the many fat purses and stakes to be hung up in the Bunch Grass circuit this year, Mr. Clark has not overlooked any opportunity to add to his stable of trotters some of the notable equines of the turf. He now has at the Butte track Maj. Wonder, 2:14; Faust (3-year-old), record, 2:18; Conde, Ed Wilkes, 2:29 1/2. These are in charge of Mr. Wiands. Mr. Clark while on his recent trip east attended the sale of Palo Alto and San Mateo horses in New York city. "I notice," said he today to an Inter Mountain reporter, "that one of the state papers has credited Mr. Daly with the purchase of some youngsters there which were bought by me." The Palo Alto colts referred to by Mr. Clark are: Bay 2-year-old colt by Electioneer, dam May Day by Wissahicken, price $3,000; Pancy, 2-year-old filly by Norval, dam Mecca by Mohawk Chief, price $1,500; Bay, 3-year-old colt by Clay, dam Miss Campbell, $435; Scata, bay 2-year-old filly by Liberty, dam Miss Scully by Electioneer, $550.
"Tasso Wilkes is the name of a California-bred filly which I have also acquired," said Mr. Clark, "and I think a great deal of her. She is by Guy Wilkes 2:15 out of Tabble Rosenbaum by Nutwood 2:18. She will be in the three-year-old events. I also got a three-year-old in Palermo by Clay, dam, Miss Campbell. All these colts I have left at Parkville, Long Island, and when the weather moderates they will be shipped out to this state.
"No, I do not believe that the pacer, Hal Pointer, will be brought to this state. His eastern engagements will take up about all of his time. I would not be surprised to see Cricket, the California wonder here, however. I received a letter from California a few days ago from a well-known horseman, who writes that there will be a great exodus of California racers in Montana this year. He says the liberality of the Montana associates has completely knocked the wind out of the racing managers of the coast, and that all eyes are turned towards the new state. We will surely have a great year."
