THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.
SPRAY OF THE FALLS.
 WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.

The warm sunshine was with us again yesterday, and let us hope it will stay this time.

William J. Hill filed notice of water right to location to 300 inches of Little Belt creek for agricultural purposes.

Miss Laura S. McIntyre, a young artist, has on exhibition at Laypre Bros. drug store some pictures worthy of mention.

William Cowell was arraigned yesterday accused of having been drunk and was assessed the usual amount, $10 and costs, which he promptly paid.

James P. Martin filed notice of water right to 1,000 inches of Stickney creek to irrigate his pre-emption in section 26, township 17 north of range 3 west.

The Great Northern circular for March has just been received and is an interesting work containing a good deal of information about the Dakotas and Montana.

Mr. James Lawler sold yesterday to Frank Marion of Niehart, the property known as the county hospital for $3,500; also to G. S. Foster of New York, the west half of section 34, township 21, north of range 5 east, for $6,000.

Milwaukee House: J. B. Allen, Helena; C. R. Schapple, Helena; L. J. Craswell, Helena; A. S. Mather, Sand Coulee; Thomas Harvey, Belt; J. E. Babow, Camas, Idaho; Hans Johnson, Sand Coulee; Geo. Thomas, Butte; J. F. Gillet, Belt; C. G. Gardner, Belt; O. Strand, Highwood; Elmer Briggs, Highwood, George Ackerson, Virginia City.

Deputy United States Marshal Parker returned yesterday morning from Niehart, having in his custody Herbert Barker and William J. Dunn, the two men charged with firing on a deputy United States mineral surveyor while he was surveying a mining claim on Snow creek. They gave bonds in the afternoon to the amount of $3,000 each to appear before the federal grand jury next month at Helena.

Park hotel arrivals: J. C. Evans, Barker; T. A. Malone, J. Chalmers, J. G. Scheminan, Helena; W. R. Fuller, Clendenin; John Hobson, Butte; E. R. Soules, John F. Kelley, St. Paul; T. M. Donnell, Summit; J. Armstrong, Arrington.

THURSDAY'S DAILY.

The Ulm hotel will be open to the public today.

There were no cases on trial in the district court yesterday.

Knights of Pythias will meet tonight at their new hall in the Minot building.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to M. R. Adams and Miss Julia A. Dana, both of this city.

Wm. Halves was before Judge Huy yesterday charged with drunkenness and was fined $10 and costs, and as he could not pay the same he was sent to jail.

John B. Rissen filed pre-emption patent for the north half of the southeast half of the southwest quarter of section 12 in township 18, north of range 3 east.

County Clerk Crosby received yesterday the official bond of Fred E. Tibbits, notary public, recently appointed by Governor Toole. The bond is for $1,000 with Daniel Churchill and Matthew Dunn as sureties.

The ladies of the Methodist church and congregation will meet with Mrs. Curtiss at 3 p. m. Thursday, for the purpose of reorganizing the "Ladies' Aid Society," also to complete arrangements for Easter. All are earnestly requested to be present.

M. A. McHardie brought the pelts of six coyotes into Clerk Cockrill's office yesterday and received the usual bounty certificates allowed by the laws of the state for the same.

The laws passed by the late legislature have been printed in book form by the Independent Publishing company and are in keeping with the work turned out by that concern.

The approaching city election brings many good candidates for the various offices to the front from both parties. There are more aspirants to the office of city treasurer than any other.

The papers in another divorce case were filed with the district court clerk yesterday. This time it is Lucinda E. Brotherton who asks to have the marital ties between herself and Benjamin F. Brotherton cut asunder.

J. E. Bower of Stanford, a prominent wool-grower of that section, is in the city. Mr. Bower reports that sheep are looking well in the Judith country and that the clip will probably equal, if not surpass, that of any former season. He will spend a few days in the town.

The board of appraisers consisting of County Assessor Rice, Chairman Hawkins and William Ulm were in session again yesterday assessing the real estate of Cascade county for the year 1891. This is according to the law passed by the late legislature. Dave Rice will assess real property according to the figures decided upon by this board and attend to valuing personal property himself.

Adam Mehewooge was brought in town yesterday from the Judith country in a demented condition and was examined before Judge Benton as to his sanity. He had been working for Bower Bros. sheep men at Stanford and was suffering under some mental delusion which rendered him temporarily insane. A jury consisting of Douglas, Martin, Daniel E. Vermilye and Dr. J. B. Newman, decided that the man was of unsound mind and recommended that he be sent to the state asylum for the insane at Deer Lodge till cured. The case really belonged in Fergus county but as the parties bringing the unfortunate man here guaranteed all costs and it would expedite matters considerably he was examined here. He will be sent to Deer Lodge in a few days.

FRIDAY'S DAILY.

Parties from Niehart report considerable snow up in that camp yet.

Burkhardt & Frary sold a lot yesterday on Fourth avenue north to E. L. Bishop.

The Cascade Bank building has been freshly painted and makes a fine appearance.

Buttermen Bros., the cigar makers, are very busy turning out the fragrant Havanas.

Ben Smith and J. Lane, two victims to excessive drink were each given five days in jail yesterday.

The Rainbow club will give their second annual reception at the club rooms on Friday evening April 3.

Officer Ball had some of the city's wards out cleaning the gutters on the south side of Central avenue yesterday.

M. R. Adams and Julia A. Dana were made man and wife by Judge Race late Wednesday afternoon in the justice court.

Grading has begun on Rice's division of the Barker branch. This work is located five miles out of town beyond McGee's ranch.—Monarch.

With snow-storms in Kansas and Nebraska causing much suffering among settlers it is rather pleasant to bask in the warm sunshine of northern Montana.

Boorman & Murphy filed the papers in a new case yesterday with the district clerk. It is an action brought by Thomas C. Casey vs. the Great Northern railway for $15,000 damages for bodily injuries.

The extension of water mains will be acted upon by the city council at the meeting Tuesday evening next; also, annexation of outlying districts. Those interested should prepare their petitions.

Invitations have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Maude Gertrude Stewart, of Watertown, S. D., to Mr. S. M. Snell, of Great Falls. The young couple will be "at home" in this city after April 1st.

Deputy Sheriff Scott Morrison arrested Lewis Carlson yesterday for creating a disturbance and showing a tendency to fight. The belligerent was brought before Judge Race and fined $10 for disturbing the public peace.

A gentleman from Butte reports Mr. Daly of the Anaconda company as saying that he would surely build a road of his own from Butte to Anaconda rather than to submit longer to the extortionate charges of the Montana Union railway.

Some of the passenger conductors who have been bothered by lots of people climbing on the cars to ride across the river just for amusement have concluded to make a charge of 15 cents for the trip in the future, which will keep the idlers off.

Workmen were busy erecting a shed yesterday by the foundations for the new Great Falls Realty building for the accommodation of the stonecutters. Soon the sound of hammer and chisel will be heard at that place and the usual activity connected with work on a big building will gladden the hearts of all.

Monarch: "The railroad camps between here and Barker are preparing to begin grading as soon as the ground thaws. About twenty men are now engaged in removing timber from the right-of-way, which work is fast being completed. The hands are paid $2 a day and are boarded for $5 a week.

J. F. Scallard of Grafton, N. D., and Ed O'Reilly of this city, have purchased Herman Luther's saloon and secured a lease on the property for three years. They will refit and largely refurbish the place and expect to be ready for business about the 1st prox. Mr. Scallard is an experienced saloon man and a popular North Dakota boy. They are certain to succeed.

W. F. Parker came from Helena yesterday to be present at the examination of Barker and Dunn, the two men charged with firing on a deputy United States mineral surveyor. They were brought before Commissioner Pomeroy in the afternoon, and waiving examination were bound over to appear before the federal grand jury next month. As both of them furnished bonds several days ago they were released.

R. L. McCulloch of the firm of Broadwater & McCulloch, post-traders at Fort Assiniboine, has been elected cashier of the Montana National bank in Helena. Mr. McCulloch was for many years in the banking business in the east before he came to Montana and bears the reputation of being a shrewd financier. He is very popular among the officers and men stationed at the post, who will learn of his departure with sincere regret.

The man by the name of Adam Wehlow who was examined by the district judge Wednesday as to his sanity, was not exactly insane, as reported in the Tribune yesterday, but was suffering from a severe attack of apoplexy, and it was thought better to send him where he could receive careful treatment. It seems he was stricken with the dreadful disease while at work and as soon as he was found to be sick his employers decided to bring him here.

The Ulm hotel was thrown open to the public yesterday morning and the first day under the new management was a grand success. The proprietors start out with a goodly number of regular boarders and transient guests, and will have a splendid patronage as has been their good fortune wherever they were in the hotel business. The office has been enlarged and greatly improved and the whole house has been thoroughly renovated. Messrs. Gallagher & Gockstetter are to be congratulated on having such an auspicious opening, and we 'speak a good business for the Ulm house.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.
 The Board Inspected the Poor Farm Yesterday.

The board of county commissioners, accompanied by the county auditor and physician, went out to the poor farm yesterday morning and inspected the buildings. They returned to their office at noon and devoted the rest of the day to considering the bridge question and attending to other matters of importance.

The question of the most advisable manner of resubmitting the bridge question to the people was finally settled and it will be voted on the 25th of next month. Mr. Dickey moved that one ballot containing the four propositions shall be prepared for use during the coming election and the motion was unanimously carried.

The total amount to be voted on is $130,000 divided as follows: Thirty thousand dollars for the Cascade bridge, $45,000 for the Great Falls Water Power and Townsite company's bridge, $35,000 for a bridge on or near Fifteenth street and $20,000 for a court house, site. As said before all the issues to be decided will be printed on one sheet, but separate and distinct.

The bond of David Davis, road superintendent, was examined, approved, and ordered filed.

Chairman Hawkins was ordered to draw a warrant for $1,000 in favor of John A. Duncan as second payment for plumbing in the poor-house.

The clerk was ordered to request Bach, Cory & Co. to remove their powder-house, as in its present position it is a menace to life and property in the vicinity of the poor-house.

The bids for keeping the poor will not be examined until the 13th of April.

The board adjourned to meet in special session next Monday, the 30th inst.

THE RENEGADE CREES.
 They Are Proving a Great Source of Annoyance.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: During the Indian excitement last December, when the "messiah" craze was working up the nation's wards in various parts of the United States, I wrote to the interior department in regard to a band of Crees then camped upon my property, requesting that they be removed. I recently received a letter from Hon. J. T. Morgan, commissioner of Indian affairs, in reply to my communication to the department, in which he states the peculiar position that the Crees occupy in this country at present. As everyone knows, they are renegade Indians, who fled to this country after the collapse of this Reil rebellion in the Northwest territory in the year 1885. There are about 300 in all in Montana, and most of them subsist by trading horses, deerskins, and curios with the whites, and, of course, by begging when they can.

The Crees on Box Elder earn some money by cutting wood for the post at Assiniboine, and so far as known are the only members of that tribe in this state who attempt to make a living by manual labor.

The commissioner explains in his letter the peculiar attitude the government is bound to maintain in regard to this nomadic tribe owing to the fact that they are not the wards of Uncle Sam, and so can not be disciplined by the federal authorities for interfering with settlers or making themselves otherwise obnoxious. He further states that they can only be prosecuted through the laws of Montana when committing depredations or causing trouble.

From the tenor of the commissioner's letter it is evident that the Crees in Montana are here to stay and possess more privileges than accorded our own Indians. It would be to the benefit of the citizens of northern Montana to petition the president to arrange some agreement with the dominion government whereby these Crees can be turned over to the authorities across the line. As it is now the nuisance of having them is almost intolerable. Besides breaking down fences and pilfering their moral degradation is a disgrace to the community.

W. E. CASCADIAN.

Let Other States Do Likewise.

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—A joint resolution was introduced in the legislature to instruct members of congress to vote for the constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by a vote of the people.

ALL SORTS OF RUMORS.
 But the Stubborn Fact Is That the Smelters Are Shutting Down.

BUTTE, March 24.—Stories of the wild sort relating to the affairs of the Anaconda company have been afloat today. Newspaper reporters have not been able to keep pace with the rumors that have been running about town. It has been current on the streets that work was ordered resumed in the Anaconda and St. Lawrence and that the day after tomorrow would find all hands busy again in the Mountain Consolidated. This proved to be untrue. It was said that trains would resume their usual run over the Montana Union line before 6 o'clock tomorrow night, but it turns out that there is no warrant whatever for this announcement. It was told all over town that President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern road, arrived in town last evening in his private car, that he at once joined Mr. Daly on the trip to Anaconda, that the new railroad between this city and Anaconda was as good as started, that Mr. Hill proposed to take the idle hands from the Anaconda company's mines and with their assistance complete the new road in sixty days—all this was reported. But the fact remains that President Hill is at his home in St. Paul and has not been in Montana these many months. This evening it was talked on the streets that favorable word had been received from New York that the three members of the conference had been in long session and that a speedy and favorable end of the trouble is in sight. The Butte office of the Standard leaves that point to be settled at the newspaper's Anaconda headquarters.

A very strong desire is felt in this city for a prompt adjustment of the difficulties involving the Anaconda company and the Montana Union. There is no doubt whatever of a growing feeling here that it would have been very much better had the railroad company kept up the regular service while the question of rates is under discussion in New York. The general agreement is that this plan would not have worked the slightest injustice to the railroad while it would have kept the mines in this city in operation and, if the Anaconda company wins in the discussion in New York, employment to miners would have gone ahead without interruption and a situation which is one of extreme anxiety would not have arisen. The report in this city is to the effect that the works in Anaconda are rapidly getting to the end of their supplies.

Will the Great Northern Be Extended to Anaconda?

BUTTE, March 26.—The luxurious private car of T. B. Wakeman, assistant general superintendent of the Great Northern system, was attached to the 3:40 outgoing train on the Montana Central yesterday afternoon. Upon inquiry it was learned that the occupants were Mr. Lawson, an English capitalist, and L. P. Richardson, private secretary of President Hill of the Great Northern.

Mr. Lawson is a very wealthy Englishman whom Mr. Hill met in England on his transatlantic trip in search of funds with which to extend his line from Assiniboine to the Pacific ocean. The persuasive tongue of Jim Hill induced Mr. Lawson to advance $20,000,000 to carry out the extension. The work is now in progress and is being pushed with all possible vigor. The extension is completed to Cutbank, which is said to be the best pass through the mountains into the Flathead country, into which section R. L. Johnson, representing Shepard, Lewis & Co., the contractors, is sending all the men he can engage in Butte and vicinity. During the extreme cold weather operations were suspended, but on Sunday last they were resumed in full blast.

Mr. Lawson's trip over the Great Northern system is said to be merely for pleasure. That assertion, of course, is merely a blind. He is out in this country, not for his pleasure or for his health, but to verify the statements that have been made to him by Mr. Hill. The inference is that he wanted to satisfy himself as to the advisability of extending the Great Northern from Butte to Anaconda in order to secure the traffic of the Anaconda mines and smelter.

"It is a fair supposition," said a prominent railroad man, "that Mr. Lawson's visit is in connection with this matter and he will decide whether the Great Northern will be extended from Butte to Anaconda. Should this extension be decided upon, the work will be pushed with all the vigor of vigorous Jim Hill, and the Montana Union will be left out in the cold."

NOTHING DONE YET.
 The Montana Union-Anaconda Middle Still Unsettled.

BUTTE, March 26.—Nothing new regarding the Montana Union-Anaconda trouble was brought to light today. Both parties here are anxious to have an agreement reached and are hoping to receive notification to that effect every hour. The gentlemen holding the conference have telegraphed here for all the facts and figures attainable and evidently intend to settle the question once for all. One of the officials of the road was seen this morning and expressed himself as being confident that this conference would settle the questions in dispute for good. He thought, however, that several days would be consumed in securing a thorough understanding of the case before an agreement could be reached.

Demand Made for the Indian Murderer.
 WASHINGTON, March 26.—Acting-Secretary Grant of the war department was today notified that the civil authorities of Sioux Falls, S. D., have applied for the surrender of the Indian murderer who was indicted for the murder of Lieut. Casey near Pine Ridge, and also for the Indian who is also held as a military prisoner, accused of the killing of a border named Miller. The military officers have been instructed to turn the prisoner over to the district attorney for trial.

Cattle Market Slow.
 CHICAGO, March 25.—Cattle slow; steers, prime to extra, $5.50@5.75; westerns, $5.10@5.75; Texans, $4@4.46. Lambs, $5.25@6.25.

THE NATURALIZATION CASES.
 Cascade County Set Down for Fifty of Them.

HELENA, March 25.—District Attorney Weed was at his office in Helena making preparations to file the suits in the United States circuit court which are to set aside the certificates of naturalization issued to the foreign born citizens of Anaconda. "There is emphatically no partisanship in the matter," he said. "It is no new thing here. A great many suits have been brought at other places. The attorney-general was satisfied that many illegal naturalization papers have been issued in Montana. I was satisfied of the same thing myself, but it was no more by one party than by the other. When I was secretary of the republican territorial committee the same thing was done in this county by republican deputy clerks. The idea in these proceedings is to protect citizenship in Montana and all over the country. The government's theory is that the certificates were irregularly and illegally issued. We will endeavor to prove this.

"The term of the United States circuit court begins the first week in April. I will get up the cases as soon as possible. Before the close of the term in July I expect to have a test case. One case will probably decide all in which the facts are the same. An effort will be made to ascertain if it is proper to institute suits under any statute. The suits are not brought for the purpose of setting aside the papers. There is no suggestion of criminality in the proceedings. They are all suits in equity. Besides the Anaconda cases, there are between two and three hundred in Lewis and Clark county, from three to five hundred in Silver Bow, probably one hundred in Choteau, the same number in Jefferson, and fifty in Cascade county."

THE MINNESOTA LAW MAKERS.
 Rushing Through Bills—The Legislature Closes Today.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 26.—Tomorrow being the last day for the introduction of bills in the legislature, there was a rush today, especially in the house where 82 new bills were introduced. A larger number of these were of a minor importance, but a few are of considerable interest. Lynn presented two bills relating to foreign insurance companies. The first provides that no regular life insurance company shall be permitted to do business in this state until it has made or agreed to make investment in Minnesota lands or sureties to amount to not less than 2 per cent. of the insurance in force in the state. Knudson introduced bills to prohibit pool and billiard tables in saloons, requiring the permanent closing of all side and back doors of saloons, forbidding music in saloons or in a room adjoining and ordering an unobstructed view of every saloon interior. A bill to prohibit pool rooms was introduced by Turrell. French wanted to do away with the ninety-day biennial legislative sessions and have them annually for thirty-five days. Gildea proposed to determine all legislative election contests in courts.

I. G. Baker & Co. Have Sold Out.
 River Press: "The old, reliable and popular firm of I. G. Baker & Co., which has for several months past been engaged in selling out its stock of general merchandise, has finally closed out everything except wagons and agricultural implements, to Strain Bros., of Great Falls. Mr. H. Strain is now here inventorying, receiving and shipping the goods to his home at Great Falls, several loads of groceries having been sent to the depot today. The store is now closed to customers, and the transfer of goods will be effected as soon as possible. Fort Benton regrets to lose such an enterprising, liberal and popular firm as I. G. Baker & Co. But these gentlemen have been determined to go out of the mercantile business entirely and with this end in view, sold their Lethbridge, Fort Macleod, Calgary, Edmonton and other mercantile establishments across the British line to the Hudson Bay company, and the sale of the Fort Benton establishment winds up the list."

Information Wanted.
 Early in November, 1889, my son, Joseph A. Odell, left Pony, Mont., to go to Helena. He was said to have been seen in Helena in November, 1889, and to have left there on a western train. Since that time nothing has been heard from him by any of his relatives. He was 24 years of age, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches in height, had dark brown hair, gray eyes, was well developed in muscle and able to do manual labor. He was also a fine writer and capable newspaper man.

He left an infant son in La Crosse, Wis., when he went to Montana, and a mother in Brooklyn, N. Y. Any information as to whether he is alive or dead will be most acceptable to his mother, who is now a widow.

Address Mrs. Pliny F. Smith, care Bleekman, Tourletotte & Bloomingdale, attorneys, La Crosse, Wis.

Filed for Record.
 Joseph Jessop filed amended location to his sand and clay (brick, tile and terracotta clay) placer claim, which was recorded originally on the 16th inst. The amended notices are for the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 9, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter, the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter, the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter, the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter, the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 10, township 20 north of range 3 east, in all 320 acres.

The Grand Jury Hard to Work.
 NEW YORK, March 24.—The Grand Jury held another long session today and from the witnesses examined it is evident that body is getting to the bottom of the bribery business. In fact, persons in authority say with an air of mystery that there will be some sensational developments before the end of the week. The sensation will doubtless be the indictment of a prominent party not heretofore mentioned in connection with the unsavory part of the case.
