E. O. Lemon, George Morris, and J. D. Lenneman made a rich strike near Tenderfoot creek. They recorded the Comstock, Richmond, and Bunker Hill lode claims, all situated between Tenderfoot and the Dry fork of Deep creek.

Work on the Mukwango lode at Monarch, of which mention has already been made in these columns, has begun in earnest. The owners have purchased a complete camping outfit, tools, etc., and a force of men out but a trifle and are prospecting. It is their intention to sink from 75 to 100 feet at present, at which depth they will no doubt encounter a good body of ore.

OLD FORT SHAW.

Its Abandonment—What it Means—The History of the Place. (From the Rising Sun.)

By order of the war department the final abandonment of Fort Shaw was commenced Monday, a portion of the troops having moved out at that time and taken up their line of march toward Fort Buford, their point of destination. The barbarous elements—both red and white—which a few years ago rendered the establishment and maintenance of military posts on the frontier a necessity, have receded year by year in front of the advance columns of civilization, until they now no longer exist, or are so hedged in that they can be controlled by the civil authorities without the aid of the military.

The post of Fort Shaw was established in 1867, twenty-four years ago, the military unit being included within the Blackfoot and Piegan, Indian reservation. The present site of Fort Shaw was also embraced within that reservation. Col. Revere, commanding the Thirtieth infantry, was the first to occupy the post. That officer, being retired from service, was succeeded by Gen. De Trobriand. The officers and men of this command were very popular with the pioneers then residing here, and to this day are generously mentioned by them when recounting the thrilling incidents connected with the snail-past.

The first post-traders were Taylor & Parler; after them came Captain Pope; then J. H. McKnight, now of Falls; who was succeeded by J. W. McKnight, who occupied the position until last Monday. The post is at present in charge of the quartermaster sergeant and a detail of enlisted men. When these men shall have completed their mission the reservation will be transferred from the war to the interior department and placed in charge of some person, to be appointed by the department, until congress shall direct the manner of its final disposal.

Sales and Consignments. Wool has been selling more rapidly in the Great Falls market, the past few days and seems to be commanding a better figure.

THE PROSPECTS UNEXCELLED.

The Finest Race Course in the State—New and Commodious Buildings.

Horses at the Grounds of the Northern Montana Fair Association—The Entries.

In company with Mr. D. H. Churchill a Tribune reporter visited the grounds of the Northern Montana Fair association yesterday.

The grounds are comparatively new as yet, but are rapidly taking on the appearance peculiar to a race course. Since the Fourth of July, when the last races of consequence took place, quite a number of buildings have been erected. At the east end of the grounds stand the stables, seven in number. Each one contains fifteen stalls, making the total number 105. The stalls are commodious, being 12x14 in size and are excellently fitted out for ventilation.

The track, which is the regulation mile track, is said to be the finest in the state. A soft rock or pebble can be found on its smooth surface. The turns are all properly graded and thrown up. Not satisfied with well enough the employees of the association are constantly at work on the track improving it.

Of the seven stables four are already up and lock nothing but the painter's touching to finish them up. The south-east stable is filled with horses.

Dave Churchill has four fine animals. Dwarf, a two-year-old b. s., is very promising. Above him, Joe Hoge, by Joe Hooker, a c. s., is well put up for running. In the adjoining stall stand Red Oak, a well known b. s., by Fieldmont, and just above him Lady Flash, a three-year-old trotting b. m.

W. H. Black has three horses at the grounds. White Elm, by Glen Elm, dam, Lady Lightfoot; Belle Oakes, a handsome b. f., by Red Oak, entered in the three-year-old trot, and Red Boy, jr., a three-year-old c. s., by Red Boy, who is to be entered in one of the running races.

Powers' blk. l. by Prospect, is also a most promising looking three-year-old. Commodore by Prospect is a b. g. and belongs to W. H. Randall. As a trotting horse his former records are said to have been excellent.

J. C. Barber has two in the stable. Bird a b. g. and Nohair, who ran on the fourth, will try to retrieve the laurels lost on that day. His trainers say he is turning his quarters in remarkable time just now.

Capt. Couch's Ned, a b. g., is also showing well and promises to give a hard tussle to his competitors in the three-year-old trot.

AROUND ABOUT THE COURTS.

In the case of Sullivan vs. Woodbridge an order was issued Friday postponing the examination of the defendant with regard to her property until today at 10 a. m. In the case of Louis Goslin vs. George Miller the time for the plaintiff to file amendments to the proposed motion for a new trial was extended to July 28.

In the recorder's office was filed a bond for a deed which is to transfer from Jas. C. Blanding of Sand Coulee to Thomas Wheeler of the same place for $775 a section of ground 50x100 feet in the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 13, township 19 north, of range 1 east.

Also a contract whereby the Townsite company agree for a consideration of $1,200 to transfer to Joseph H. Johnson lots 10 and 11 in block 445. A patent is filed in favor of Joseph H. Settles for 160 acres in township 17 north, of range 3 east.

Also a patent to George Colby for 120 acres in section 27, township 17 north, of range 3 east. A plat of East Great Falls has been filed by James Haven. The plat includes 85 blocks. The streets begin with Ninety-ninth, next to which comes Grand, then One Hundredth and One Hundred and First, then Great Falls Boulevard. The avenues run from Thirty-second to Forty-fifth. The lots are 50x150 feet and the plat bears the date of July 23.

In Judge Rice's court the murderer, J. C. Giddert, was held in the sum of $5,000 to answer a charge of murder in the second degree. J. W. Hill was also arraigned on a charge of burglary. He is suspected of being the person who burglarized J. M. Dahl's tailor shop the 30th of last June. His accomplice has not been captured. It is thought that the evidence against him is insufficient to hold him. He is held in $500 bonds and will be heard next Thursday. Efforts made to capture his accomplice were futile. Hill is the same person who was held for several months last October for forging a check on Sam Anderson. The state could not secure the evidence of Donald Grant & Co. of Minneapolis and he was accordingly discharged.

Isabelle S. Bartlett has instituted suit for divorce against Llewellyn A. Bartlett. Adultery is the assigned cause of the complaint. In the case of Sullivan vs. Woodbridge defendant's motion that the order of the court requiring an examination of the defendant as to her property be dismissed, was overruled and the matter continues over to next week.

Frank B. Wilcox files complaint against J. W. Koch. The complaint states that the plaintiff agreed to furnish the defendant with 100,000 shares of stock of the Dry Wolf Mining company and was to receive therefor the sum of $7,500. Fifty dollars were paid on July 21. The plaintiff made tender of the stock and demand for the $7,450 balance. It was refused. Seven thousand four hundred and fifty dollars are therefore asked with interest. Thos. E. Brady is the plaintiff's attorney.

Thomas F. Jeffers, in the recorder's office, transfers to William King for $450 100 acres in Upper Ming coulee, adjoining Gallop's ranch. John G. Hornback transfers to Joseph L. Largent for $700 100 acres in section 21, township 19, north of range 1 east. The deed bears date of Feb. 15, 1890.

For $3,000 May J. Bower and husband transfer to Joseph Largent 158 acres in section 32, township 20, north of range 3 east; also 100 acres in section 28 of the same township. To the same party James F. and Amanda Hornback transfer 155 acres situated in sections 13 and 18, township 19, north of ranges 1 and 2 east; consideration $800.

J. W. Largent makes the concluding transfer to Joseph L. for $1,100. He sells 100 acres in section 31, township 20, north of range 2 east.

HE TOOK A SWIM.

Notices of a Deceased Man—Saved by a Cowboy and His Rope. (Fort Benton River Press.) Quite an excitement was caused on the levee opposite the Pacific hotel this afternoon by a drunken and half-demented man who says his name is Mike Riley. He appeared in town today and made a show of himself by getting full and talking nonsense to every one he met. About 2:30 this afternoon, upon noticing that some of the cattle which came across the bridge would occasionally plunge in the river and take a swim, he announced his intention of taking a swim also. The ubiquitous and enterprising small boy, and a good many of him, who is always present in force on such occasions, urged and taunted him to do it. The man, who was staggering drunk, immediately proceeded to tumble down the bank and into the river. The crowd rushed to the bank expecting to see him drowned, encumbered as he was with clothing and shoes. But the fellow proved to be a swimmer, and though urged to accept assistance and come out, insisted on staying in deep water and having his swim. A happy idea of inviting him to take a drink never occurred to any of the crowd. A trio of cowboys rode into the river and threw their rope to the fellow, but he would not seize them. Finally one of the cowboys, John More, threw his rope over the man's head, and he was quickly pulled to the shore. More's rope went over Riley's head just as the latter had weakened and called for help, and but for the cowboy it is certain the fellow would have drowned. Riley was taken in custody and put in the cooler to sober up. It is said by parties who saw him at Kalispell that he is demented. It was also stated by one man that Riley was in the chain gang at Great Falls a day or two ago.

GIGANTIC TONGUES OF FLAME.

The Milwaukee Brewery takes fire—Excellent work done by the department.

How the fire started and where it went—The losses and insurance.

It was warm enough Sunday afternoon without any fire, but the city had one nevertheless, and it was the biggest ever seen within her limits. The large minute hand on the big clock in the Milwaukee beer hall had long since left the figure three and was just reaching out to write a drop of sweat off the figure eight when the fire alarm sounded. The restaurant attached to the beer hall and run by chief Judd is located in the north-west corner of the building and the same corner of the basement is used as a kitchen. It was here that the fire originated. A boy named Thomas Watson had just finished filling three lamps. The last one was lit and he turned to place it in a bracket near by, when it exploded. The burning oil spread rapidly and in an instant the other lamps were reached. Boy and cook made for the outer air. Then through the basement windows leaped great tongues of flame. The scraps and grease about the kitchen furnished a rich feast for the flames, which in an instant had caught the joists and rafters above.

The fire was a peculiarly difficult one to reach. It started in the far north-western corner and then worked its way toward the east end and the center of the building. The joists are very heavy and the floor was double so that no water could soak through. Distributed through the cellar were various inflammable materials, such as kists, the straw covering of bottles, etc. These made a dense smoke and it was impossible to work in the burning sections.

The fire department responded in excellent time and worked like heroes. Every man was there, except one unfortunate who was in New York and didn't hear the bell. The department has about 3,500 feet of hose and almost the entire amount was employed. The first streams were thrown through the front windows, but this checked the fire only temporarily. Four streams were thrown from the rear partition of the basement and the fire was thus confined to the front of the building. Meanwhile as a precautionary measure, several streams were playing on the floor. For about two hours it was a battle royal and then the heroic efforts of the department told, the fire grew feebler and more feeble and finally went out.

Two much praise can not be awarded Chief Judd and his excellent assistants. A number of citizens also turned in and labored as if they were firemen bred and born. The only difficulty encountered was a little meddlesome interference. It should be remembered that the department has a chief and is working under him. In awarding praise neither should the water works be forgotten. The pressure proved abundantly that so long as the Missouri runs so long can the city have water.

It is scarcely possible at present to give an accurate estimate of the various losses. The building belongs to Gilson & Renner. The floor has sunk badly in several places, is charred considerably underneath, and the entire basement will require retitting. Two or three thousand dollars may cover the loss on this. It is fully covered by an insurance of $15,500. Of this $5,000 is in the Hartford, $2,500 in the Niagara of New York, $3,000 in the Home of New York, $2,500 in the Commercial Union, and $2,500 in the Liverpool and London Globe. The stock of Schmidt & Henderson has an insurance of $10,000. Of this $2,500 is held by the Royal, $2,500 by the Manchester, $1,000 by the Scottish Union and National, $2,500 by the Ethna, and $1,500 by the Union of San Francisco. There is also an insurance in the Anglo-Nevada of $8,000 on the furniture. The cigar stock, including from 75,000 to 100,000 cigars, is almost a total loss. The liquors were mostly in vaults and the loss on these cannot be estimated, but a great many may have been ruined by the heat. It may reach $4,000 or $5,000. The furniture was not so badly damaged as the magnitude of the fire might indicate. The restaurant belonged to Chief Judd and he places his loss at $500, no insurance. Enright & Benson, who run the banks, also lost heavily. Two sets of ivory chips and several tables were destroyed. Their loss may reach $1,000. Bristol & Place lost about $200 in stock damaged by the water. They have $3,000 in the Firemans' Fund and $1,500 in the Phoenix.

It will probably require a week or ten days to start the beer hall again and the many who listen to its excellent music must wait that long before again sipping the amber within its walls.

AROUND ABOUT THE COURTS.

The Usual Grist—A Prisoner Discharged—A Number of Transfers.

In the case of the State of Montana vs. Elisha Butler an order was handed down Monday modifying his sentence of two months to a sentence of one month and seven days. Elisha is acceding once more abroad in the land. A suit on account was filed yesterday by Joe Conrad against James Lawler for $121.67. Baum & Bishop appearing for complainant. In the clerk's office Elwin F. Watson has made final proof on a portion of section 13, township 19 north, of range 2 east; filing also final proof on a timber claim in the same section. There were also the following final proofs:

John B. Anderson, part of section 6, township 19 north, of range 1 east; Ello J. Giffon, part of section 31, township 20 north, of range 1 east; James Walker, part of section 3, township 19 north, of range 1 east; George P. Field, part of section 27, township 21 north, of range 4 east; James A. Walker, part of section 31, township 20 north, of range 4 east. Adam Mazkoun, a Sand Coulee miner, was yesterday adjudged insane. The guardians of Pearl, Daisy and Maggie Wetzel have received an order allowing them to loan $2,000.

In the recorder's office the following were filed.

A notice of the attachment by Joe Conrad of 120 acres in section 30, township 21 north of range 3 east, belonging to James Lawler, on a debt of $121.67. A deed from Louis G. Phelps of Helena to the First National bank of Fort Benton for lot 7 in block 365, consideration $21,000. This transfer is an old one. The bank, it will be remembered, is now the Northwestern National of Great Falls and expects in time to erect an elegant building on this lot.

A deed from Joseph Braithwaite of Highwood, transferring for $250 162 acres in section 1, township 20 north of range 7 east.

In Judge Rice's court the afternoon was occupied by the case of Nicholson & Co. vs. M. J. Holman. The case is a suit on account. No decision. Before Judge Winters Charles Rose and W. K. Johnson have both sued P. H. Chambers, a ranchman, for wages due. No decision.

WAYSIDE WISDOM.

Fred Warren, the Utica wood grower, "Great Falls is becoming a beautiful city and just as soon as I can get to it I will build a residence here and make it my home. Quit the wool business? Oh, no. I am getting things in such shape, though, that I need not tie myself to the ranch. I think you will have many stockmen residents in Great Falls. Mr. James Haven says the town of East Great Falls is now ready for business. The plat has been accepted by the commissioners and lots are for sale; in fact several have already been disposed of. This new "future great" is near the big falls, about eight miles east of the city.

Some of our readers will remember Mr. Henry E. Bowen of New York, son of Editor Bowen of the Independent, who was in the city a short time since. At Duluth, on route home, he said to the editor of the Tribune of that city: "I've seen them all, said he, 'Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, Ogden, Salt Lake, Pueblo, San Francisco, Stockton, Sacramento, San Diego, Oakland, Portland, Salem, Seattle, Tacoma, Helena, Butte, Great Falls,' and Mr. Bowen continued to name a number of other places. 'After seeing them all,' said he, 'where are only three of them whom I would have made investments. They are Duluth, Great Falls, Mont., where they are putting in a copper smelter that will employ 3,000 hands. Great Falls has only about 6,000 inhabitants, but its prospects with its magnificent water power, hardly excelled by Niagara, are almost boundless. The other city where we are interested is the new town on the Pacific coast. Duluth's possibilities are incalculable with her great water way.'

Sand Coulee Items.

Deputy Sheriff Wheeler has bought the livery, boarding and feed stable of J. C. Blanding, and is putting in several new rigs, and will run a first-class livery business. J. C. Blanding has moved to Neihart, where he will engage in the livery and transfer business.

The compressed air machines now being used in the Sand Coulee coal mine, as an experiment, are proving a great success. The company will put in a large number this fall.

Mr. F. J. Gallop, paymaster for the Sand Coulee Coal company, is expected here from St. Paul tomorrow.

Samuel Dean is building a neat frame house on his lots near the Dean mine. Mr. and Mrs. Dean will be at home about August 15.

Messrs. Matteson and Ridgely rode over from Great Falls on their bicycles last evening. The boys made the run in an hour and report the roads in good condition for wheeling.

Mr. Clark, to the Public.

I wish to say to my friends and the public that I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the best preparation in use for Colic and Diarrhoea. It is the finest selling medicine I ever handled, because it always gives satisfaction. O. H. Clark, Grangeville, Texas. For sale by Lapeyre Bros.
