

D. H. Weston of the Independent met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon near Craig, having his leg broken above the ankle. He with several others were on the Augusta coach going west. While descending a steep grade one of the double-trees broke and the driver out. Continuing in the mad race the tongue dropped and fell into the ground, throwing Mr. Weston out with terrific force, breaking a left leg short off at the shin bone. He was brought to Helena on the Montana Central train and conveyed to his home where he is resting easily.

And still the temple of the muses counts skyward. Daily its walls grow higher. The flooring is going in and the general appearance of the stage and dressing rooms may now be surmised. Hammer and chisel ring merrily on and on, perhaps just as old winter begins to shake his hoary locks, a new music will supplant them. Beautiful women on the boxes will gaze on beautiful women on the stage, from before the curtain the orchestra's sweet tones will rise to the dome and music and laughter reign supreme until prejudice is lost in admiration each neighbor shall say "truly the Cataract city has the handsomest opera house in the state."

Dr. Ernest Crutcher, E. R. elect of the city of Helena, returned from Helena, where he has been in consultation with Col. C. D. Curtis, district deputy for Montana. It was the desire of Col. Curtis that the initiating ceremonies should take place on Friday, September 11, and in all probability this date will be accepted. Everything connected with the new lodge is reported to be prospering and it is expected that the banquet will surpass anything ever given in the city. A large delegation of Helenaites will be present.

The cement work on the fountain was long ago concluded and at present the space around it is being arranged for future operations. It is the intention of the Park commissioners to surround it with a beautiful lawn. The next thing to be desired is that some public spirited citizen who wishes a perpetual reminder of his beneficence to remain with his fellow-citizens shall top the fountain off with a handsome bronze design.

D. L. S. and Jenks Barker returned from Helena yesterday. The former, who had charge of the car of ore from the Benton group, informs the Tribune that the car will net the company over $5,000, after paying cost of wagon and railroad freight as well as other expenses. That is pretty good for one car load of "rock."

Patents for land have been received at the land office for the following persons in this county: Alex. McArthur, Thos. Miller, Jas. Deserman, Wm. E. Kern, H. H. Chandler, Granville Turner, J. K. Castner, W. L. Ballard, Annie Taylor, M. Wolf, M. F. Gleason and C. T. Curtis.

J. T. Athey, manager of the Armington Mercantile company, was in the city yesterday. He says that little grain has yet been brought to Armington, but that there are immense quantities in the valley.

A band of sheep numbering 4,250 passed through the city yesterday. They belonged to the Sands Cattle and Land company and were on their way to their ranch near Choteau.

David Wilson, a prosperous farmer from up the Missouri, arrived in the city yesterday with about 6,000 pounds of new oats. It sold at $1.75 per hundred.

The contestants in the Davis will case have "rested" and the proponents will now begin the rebuttal. The case will drag along at least two weeks more.

THURSDAY'S DAILY.

Mr. Prentiss of the Boston & Montana has built three handsome dwellings in the B. & M. addition.

On Third avenue north above Seventh street stand two neat new cottages. One belongs to Contractor Grant and one to City Engineer George B. Worley.

For several weeks the labor of cutting stone for the new Fifteenth street bridge has been going on and J. Cornelius expects to begin on its masonry about Monday next.

C. T. Grove's new building, located just above the school house, is progressing finely. The basement, which is of a most substantial character is almost in. When finished the building will have two stories.

The painters are putting the finishing touches on the Corey block which will be ready for occupancy in a few days. Mr. Geo. L. Stevenson, the hardware dealer, will occupy the west store room of the block.

A train-load of laborers came in from the east yesterday and left at once for Monarch. They will be put to work on the Barker and Neihart branches and the contractors hope, with this added assistance to finish both branches within four weeks.

Mayor Hotchkiss and brother, George Hotchkiss, County Treasurer McClellan, and E. V. Rubottom returned yesterday from a fishing and hunting excursion at Two Medicine lake. They report having seen bear, elk, and deer, but secured none. Small game was abundant and all report a jolly time.

A rich strike has been made in the Galt mine at Neihart which has made the stockholders happy. They have struck a body of two feet of fine black ore, a sample assay of which gives $24 to the ton in silver. This chute has been followed for some distance and it gives promise of making the Galt a very valuable property. The principal owners are John McAssey, Larry Neihart, C. P. Downing, Frank Marion and Warren Toole. As our friend Marion is to be married this evening it will be seen that he is having just now an unusually good run of luck.

FRIDAY'S DAILY.

The strike in the Galt mine at Neihart is even bigger than reported. It is found that the chute of rich ore is over 50 feet in length and they are still following it in the tunnel. They ran for some distance beside the ore without knowing it was there. The showing is a splendid one and every one in the camp is excited over it. It is said that after the strike was made John McAssey went

A BIG IRRIGATING SCHEME.

An Enterprise That Will Make the Sun River Blossom as the Rose. The Sun River Canal and Water Power company is making good progress toward the carrying out of their enterprise. The lines have been run and the canal on either side of Sun River located and at the upper end a beginning has been made toward constructing the ditch. The company has already secured guarantees of over $3,000 in annual rentals for water and double this sum will easily be gotten as their canal will cover thousands of the very best land in the lower Sun river valley and also in the Missouri river valley above the mouth of Sun river. They propose to take the water out of Sun river at Priest's crossing, twelve miles above the city. At that point a dam will be constructed and the power thus afforded will be used to raise water by mammoth pumps for the two canals. On the south side a large reservoir will be constructed, but on the north side the water will be pumped directly into the canal.

WANTED-A PAPER-MILL.

Success of the New Enterprise of This Character Just Opened at Denver. The opening of the new paper-mill at Denver on Saturday, Aug. 22, was made the occasion of much rejoicing by the people of that enterprising city. The plant was commenced over a year ago and if not the largest is undoubtedly one of the finest in the United States. At present only news paper will be manufactured and the entire product of the plant, it is estimated, will be required in Denver and vicinity. The newspapers of that city have already contracted for the output of the mill for several months. As this is an industry that might with profit be built up at Great Falls we give below a few extracts from the address of President Platt of the Denver Paper-Mill company:

There was a time when "cotton was king." The advances of the last twenty years in educational facilities and increased intelligence has dethroned cotton and paper takes its place. The human mind can hardly comprehend the vastness of the interests depending upon paper or the figures which would represent the quantity produced and consumed in the United States alone, or measure the calamity which would overwhelm the human race if paper should cease to be produced.

By reference to commercial reports and statistics you will find that financially the paper manufacturers of the United States average higher than any other manufacturing business; and in every community where paper-making has become an established industry it has added largely to the wealth, prosperity, and contentment of the people.

Those of you who have not given the subject careful consideration will be startled when I state that Denver is one of the best paper making points in the United States, if not the best. Denver uses more news paper than any other city of its size in America, and so far as I have been able to obtain information, more than any city of its population in the world. The newspapers printed here and the paper houses engaged in the trade are paying out over $1,000 per day, including Sundays, for news paper. This large amount is collected from this community every day and sent away 1,200 to 2,000 miles, and nothing has been coming back to replace it. What this constant daily drain has amounted to in ten years you can easily calculate, as you also can what the effect would be on the prosperity and business of our city if the great sum so taken away to distant points was here now for investment. The market for all this mill can make with its present capacity is here, and gives an advantage in starting this business which could not have been secured in any other city between Chicago and San Francisco, in which the raw material can be readily and cheaply obtained.

If Great Falls does not use as much paper as Denver the time is not far off when it will; besides a mill here would have as a market the entire state and as well the states of Idaho and Washington, if not even a wider field. It is interesting to know that the Denver mill will make its first paper in the same as our mountains here produce in unlimited supply, viz: the white spruce of the mountains. In regard to this material President Platt said:

"We have a large supply of the best raw material for making nearly every grade of paper. In news paper we only use wood, of that we have now in our possession or control an unlimited supply, and the quality is greatly superior to that obtained east of the Missouri; it is whiter, freer from knots, pitch and heart. It will work up easier and produces more pulp to the cord than the wood of the middle and eastern states or Canada.

A paper mill in Great Falls would have all the advantages afforded by Denver and in addition would have at a nominal cost all the water power that could be desired, and power is one of the important factors in an enterprise of this kind. There can be no question as to the success of a paper mill at this place, and our people should put forth every possible effort to interest capital in that direction. The board of trade had the matter in hand at one time, but it does not seem to have followed up the subject with any great energy or persistence. The success achieved by Denver should stimulate us to greater and more determined efforts in that direction. Next to our smelting enterprises a paper mill would be of greater benefit to Great Falls.

A Morning Reception.

A delightful morning reception was given Thursday morning, from 10 to 12 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Webster, by Mrs. Webster and Miss Pettit, assisted by Mrs. R. R. Hotchkiss and Mrs. D. L. Tracy. The handsome parlors were elegantly and tastefully decorated, a veritable bower of beauty. Refreshments served were tasty and highly appreciated by all. From beginning to end the hours spent were most pleasant.

Those attending were Mesdames Tracy, Theodore Gibson, Phil Gibson, Chown, Shaw, Lockhart, Ladd, Crutcher, Hotchkiss, Shores, McClay, Conner, Bookwalter, Trigg, Powers, T. E. IN GOLDEN CHAINS.

Another Happy Couple Bound Last Evening. Another gay bachelor has fallen beneath the witching gaze of beauty's eye and gladly slipped about his neck the golden chains of a happy benedict.

The wedding took place Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church, the minister, Rev. Reid; the contracting parties, Mr. Frank Marion and Miss Bessie R. Ford; the hour 8 o'clock p. m.

The groom, Mr. Marion, is one of the best known mining men in Neihart or in all Montana. His unwavering industry, well known upright character and gentlemanly personal qualities have won for him the respect and esteem of a whole host of friends. The bride, Miss Bessie R. Ford, is an Armington lady, sincerely admired by all who know her and blessed with an abundance of those qualifications which make lovely woman beloved.

At 8 o'clock last evening a choice assemblage of friends were gathered at the church to witness the ceremonies which should make the twin one. The bride, as all brides should, looked charming in a rich cream colored silk, trimmed in lace and tulle and cut en traine. The delicate richness of the gown was tastefully accentuated by a corsage bouquet of roses and carnations, a beautiful bouquet of which she also bore in her hand. A tulle veil fell becomingly from her head. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Wall, also looked very handsome in a cream gown with roses and carnations. The groom and his best man, Mr. Ladd of Neihart, wore the conventional black.

An Attractive Store.

Eaton & Chambers, the enterprising grocers on Central avenue, near the new Corey block, are putting new shelving and fixtures and adding to their stock a fine line of family groceries of every kind. Their aim has been at all times to meet the wants of their customers and the public generally, in which they have been so successful that their business has grown enormously. In the line of fruits and vegetables they have always in stock everything that money will buy and purchasing at car load lots they are able to sell at the lowest possible figure.

A Tribune reporter who dropped in to see them yesterday was shown orders from Fort Assiniboine, Neihart, Monarch, Barker and other outside points, showing they are having a nice jobbing trade as well as city business. Just now they have on hand a choice line of fruits and vegetables of every kind. These include peaches, plums, pears, and grapes as nice as was ever seen. Some of the largest of the California peaches will weigh 10 oz., and the plums are almost of equal size. Nice fresh ranch butter and eggs, celery, the finest prunes, cauliflower, water melons, musk melons, tomatoes, cabbage, cucumbers, oranges and lemons are among the many articles that will tempt the good housewife. A superior line of canned goods and family groceries generally can also be had. A good rule is to go to Eaton & Chambers when you want something nice for the table.

The Copper Market.

There has been a much more cheerful feeling in copper circles the past week, and the improvement in prices has given a better tone to the market, while there is more disposition to buy stocks than we have noted for a long time. The advance in the leading stocks has caused some realizing, as stocks bought on the recent depression show a good margin of profit. The Montana stocks have been the most active on the list, and Boston & Montana has advanced from $41 1/2 to $44 1/2, losing the fraction only in the later dealing. Butte & Boston opened at $14 and sold up to $16 1/2, and held the advance; over 1,000 shares of these two stocks changed hands during the week. Mining and Engineering Journal.

Stopped the Fight.

The fight between the Black Pearl and Ike Hays of this city will not take place tonight. County Attorney Nolan has given orders to Sheriff Jefferis to arrest the men if they step into the ring. Col. Nolan is satisfied that it was the intention of the principals and their backers to have a "knock out." This is against the statute. A strictly scientific contest for points would be allowed, but in this case it is very plain that the men intend to violate the law. Sheriff Jefferis will be at the armory tonight to enforce the law.—Independent.

THE COLOR LINE.

The Patriotic Sons of America Discussing the Matter. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—The session of the National camp of the Patriotic Sons of America this morning was a secret one. The question of admitting colored members into the order consumed the entire morning. A number of ballots were taken but each one resulted the same—fifty-nine in favor of admittance of colored members and thirty-one against it. The most opposition of eliminating the word white from the constitution comes from delegates from Illinois and Ohio who voted as a unit against it.

Four-fifths of the vote of the entire convention is necessary to make any alterations in the constitution of the order. The importance of the question before the convention, the breaking down of the color line, to which the order has steadily adhered, was plainly evidenced by the full attendance of the delegates. The question came up on a motion to strike out the word "white" in the constitution relating to the qualifications of members.

Common Councilor Stephen B. Gipsion of the seventh ward and a member of Washington camp No. 579 of this city, composed of colored men, was accorded the privilege of the floor and for one hour made a powerful and eloquent appeal for the recognition of his race. The sentiment of the convention was strongly in favor of admission, the Pennsylvania delegation being unanimous in the colored man's favor, but the arbitrary clause in the constitution requiring a four-fifths vote to annul or change the constitution enabled the opponents to defeat the measures. The vote on the motion found 60 in favor and 34 against, but before the result was announced two members who voted in the affirmative changed their vote from yea to nay in order to enable them to move for a reconsideration.

During the progress of the debate a telegram from New Orleans was received which conveyed the sentiment of Louisianians on the subject. The dispatch, which was signed by the officers of the state encampment, read: "We wire that the national encampment at least postpone action on the color question another year. Further discussion will bring more light and better understanding on the real conditions south to our brethren of the north, who can then act more advisedly." At the evening session a motion to reconsider the question of admitting colored men was made, but lost. Tabling of the motion without vote was the work of members in favor of admitting colored members, who by this device left the question still open. The question will probably be called up again tomorrow. There was discussions on changes to the constitution and the ritual.

The following nominations of officers were made: National president, George P. Smith, Colorado, and G. F. Hutton, Pennsylvania; national vice president, J. H. Williams, Colorado; master of forums, C. M. Reed, New Jersey; M. S. Evans, Kansas, and H. O. Kutz, Ohio; secretary—F. E. Steise, Pennsylvania, and C. W. Henley, Ohio; assistant secretary—C. M. Taylor, Pennsylvania; treasurer—J. H. Hoffer, Pennsylvania; chairman—Rev. J. B. May, Pennsylvania; conductor—J. H. Kilton, Colorado; P. C. Hess, Ohio; inspector—J. H. Hughes, Pennsylvania; guard—Dr. W. A. Foss, Missouri. Adjourned.

PREPARING FOR WATER POWER.

Progress of Events at the Black Eagle Falls and Smelter. So many people are gathered about the Black Eagle falls these days that it resembles a young city. Lying near the electric light plant is the machinery for the new power house. It is supplied by the Stillwell & Bierce company of Dayton, Ohio. Quite recently Mr. George Bowie, their agent, and his assistant, Mr. James W. Simpson, arrived and are now getting the machinery ready. This machinery includes two pair of 22 1/2 inch wheels, each wheel developing 195 horse power and one pair of 20 inch wheels, each of which develop 150 horse power. Far below where these lie, on the river bank the rock is being blasted away for the power house and it is hoped that by next week the masons will be at work building up its walls. The machinery for the smelter power house will probably not arrive for a month yet. It is of a heavier description than that of the electric light house. In the outfit are a pair of 20 inch wheels, each developing 150 horse power, a pair of 22 1/2 inch, each developing 195, a single 10 inch, developing 55, and a pair of 44 inch wheels, each of which develops 655 horse power. All of these wheels are known as the Victor turbine wheel. At the smelter the canal walls are almost finished and blasting on the tail race still goes on. The big concentrator with its terraced roof is up and inside some few pieces of its machinery are scattered about. The smelter foundation is in.

May Lose His Hand.

Bert Pinney, the 11-year old son of E. A. Pinney, owner of the Troy laundry, met with quite a serious accident about 8 o'clock Thursday morning. He was cleaning an article known as a "mangle," which in this case at least seems to have been very appropriately named. In some way his hand was caught and frightfully lacerated. The metacarpal bones were torn loose at both ends and the skin split almost to the elbow, leaving the muscles and vessels all exposed. He was taken to Dr. Crutcher's office, where his wounds were dressed by Drs. Gordon and Ferguson.

A Desperate Hanged.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., August 25.—Andy Ford, a partner of the famous Hammon Murray, was lynched here last night. Yesterday he had his preliminary trial and it was proven that he was the man who assisted Murray in his evil deeds in that neighborhood and for three days was his constant companion. Late last night, after 9:30 o'clock, a train arrived. Roux, the jailer, was roused from this sleep by a knock at his door. Asking who was there, he was told that a special deputy sheriff had arrived on the train with a prisoner who was a confederate of Murray and they wanted to put him in jail. The night was dark and rainy and Roux on going out with the keys saw a man being held by two others, one on each side, and he admitted them inside, when a rush was made for him by the crowd, which forced him to give up his keys. No more was known until daylight revealed the body of Ford hanging from a tree near by.
