Three Reporters Killed in a Railroad Wreck—Sent to Write Up the Trip.

A FUNERAL AND A WEDDING TOGETHER

Lively Fight in the Church Council —Primitive Methodists Termed Impostors.

The Session Adjourns in an Uproar and Harmony Now Seems Far Away.

Fatal Railway Accident.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The fast vestibule train on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois road was wrecked at 10 o'clock this morning at Crete, about thirty miles from this city. The accident was caused by the engine running into an open switch. The roundhouse was struck by the engine and demolished, falling about the train and setting the baggage-car on fire. Engineer Clark was killed, as were also three Inter Ocean reporters.
They were L. K. Washburne, F. McCaf-ferty, and Fred Henry. They were riding on the engine with the intention of writing up the trip.

Tonight a sad scene was witnessed at the Chicago depot of the Eastern Illinois road. The mangled corpses of a trio of newspaper men were being patiently awaited by a large number of their co-workers. H. H. Kohlstatt, one of the proprietors of the Inter Ocean, was among those present. When at last the train bearing the bodies arrived all silently lent assistance in removing the remains to the undertakers. Friends of the dead were telegraphed to by City Editor Ballard and everything possible was done pending instructions from relatives.
At the Inter Ocean office tonight the conversation seemed somehow restricted to monosyllables and lights at three of the desks were out. Washburne was to have been best man tonight at the wedding of one of his associates, Thomas R. Weddell, assistant editor of the Inter Ocean. News of the tragic end was kept from Weddell and his bride and the happy ceremony took place shortly after poor Washburne's body reached the city.

The Ecumenical Council.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Rev. Dr. Mon-nelly of the Irish Methodist church presided over the Ecumenical Methodist council at the beginning of the eighth day's session. The first business was the further consideration of the report of the business committee on Methodist federation, which was debated warmly and then deferred for final action till tomorrow. The general topic of discussion at the morning session was Romanism. An essay read by Rev. M. T. Myers, president of the United Methodist free church, Rochdale, England, was upon the special subject of the present position of Romanism.

Rev. M. T. Myers of the Primitive M. E. church spoke upon the "Present Position of Romanism." The next speaker was Rev. Dr. H. T. Fiske of Albion, Mich., his peculiar subject being "Romanism as a Political Power." Rev. Dr.
Nicholas of the Irish M. E. church delivered an address on "Romanism as a Religious Power."

Bishop Wayman of the A. M. E. of Baltimore occupied the chair at the afternoon session of the conference. At the afternoon session the general topic was "temperance." Rev. D. Mahon of the Methodist Episcopal church south of Memphis, Tenn., read a paper on the subject of "Church and Temperance Reform." Thos. Worthington of the Independent Methodist church of England followed. Dr. Mahon, Rev. Samuel M.
Griffith of North Dakota told how prohibition had been secured in North Dakota. Rev. Phillip A. Herbert of the A.

M. E. church, Denver, spoke urgently of the necessity for temperance reform.

Hon. J. J. Rogerson of Newfoundland wanted the church to close every liquor store in the world, in speaking on the subject. Atkinson spoke of Primitive Methodists in connection with the impostors which immediately stirred up an indignation delegate from the church.
Great confusion resulted. The Primitive Methodists were all on three feet demanding a retraction and threatening to withdraw from the conference. Dr. C. Stevenson and the Wesleyans were beseeching Atkinson to withdraw his remark and apologize. But he bluntly refused to do so, asserting that he had nothing to apologize for, that if the delegates would not consume his time he would explain. As they persisted in their demand for retraction, he characterized their stupidity in forcible terms and seeing no chance of restoring harmony the presiding officer who had exhausted every effort to calm the troubled waters declared the session adjourned and the delegates passed out of the church after singing the doxology.

The Unfortunates.

HICKSVILLE, O., Oct. 15.—A correct list of victims in last night's accident is as follows:

KILLED.
Thomas Waterson, farmer, living near Montpelier, Wilson county, Ohio, died two hours after the accident.

Matthews, living four miles from Chicago, died soon after at Watertown.

Minnie Miller, injured spine and head, died at noon.

INJURED.

Mrs. John Densmore, Braidwood, Ill., internally injured and recovery doubtful.

Mrs. Crawford and daughter of Duluth were both injured on the head; the young lady also suffered internally, which places her life in jeopardy.

Mrs. E. S. Brooks of Canton, head injured. J. Grubah and wife of Mansfield, injured in the head and spine, but not seriously. Margaret Marsh, O., and Jane Davis, her sister of Cambridge, O., the former injured about the head and face and internally and the latter's head crushed, both probably fatally. Eleven other are less seriously injured. At midnight the track was cleared and trains were running regularly. The interior of the fatal coaches present a sickening sight and it is a wonder any of the passengers escaped.

Rapid Typesetting.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 15.—F. J. Smith, who operates the Morganthaler linotype typesetting machine on the Commercial beat the world's record for machine composition on Tuesday night, setting 47,000 ems corrected matter in exactly eight hours. He took a regular run of copy for publication next morning. His previous record was 45,800 made in Brooklyn.

Allerton Wins.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15.—Twenty-five thousand people witnessed the trotting races today. The majority were attracted by the Allerton-Delmarch match for 85,000. The day was clear, the atmosphere sharp and the track fast. An immense amount of money went into the pool boxes and many were unable to get their bets in. The appearance of Williams and Allerton was greeted with loud cheers. Allerton appeared in splendid condition. Doble soon came on the track with Delmarch and he was almost as vociferously greeted. Walker sent them away on even terms. Delmarch leading a half length at the quarter, a length at the half and a length and a half at the three-quarters. In the stretch Doble gave Delmarch the whip but Allerton came under the wire winner by a length.
Time 2:13 1/4. In the second heat Allerton led off and at the quarter was leading by half length. In the stretch he increased his lead to a length and won by two lengths. Time 2:15. Before this heat betting fell to 50 to 7 in favor of Allerton. The third heat was a repetition of the second, Allerton winning by a length. Time 2:15 1/4.

NOT GUILTY OF MURDER.

For Fourteen Years He Labored Under a Terrible Suspicion Now Proven Groundless.

TRIED TO ROB HIM OF HIS RANCH.

Maddened by Whisky and Driven by Jeers Jim Connors Mur- ders a Man.

The Helpless Victim Gagged, Bound and Thrown From a Third Story Window.

An Odd Conspiracy.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.—James A. Brock, formerly of St. Louis but now a resident of El Paso, Tex., who was yesterday a guest at the Richelieu is here in the most sensational occurrence in criminal annals. For over fourteen years Brock has labored under the suspicion of being the murderer of his cousin, Frank Woolsey, having been twice indicted for the crime by a grand jury of Shackelford county, Texas, but he now stands before the world and the law as he did before his God innocent, having after incessant search located his missing relative in Benton.

In 1873 Brock bought a ranch and settled at Fort Griffin, Texas, and began a prosperous business in cattle raising. In 1876 he sold a half interest in the ranch to his cousin, Frank Woolsey, the latter bringing his mother and family to live on the ranch from London, Ohio. In May, 1877, Woolsey disappeared and Brock was suspected of having murdered him. He was arrested on a charge of stealing cattle, but was acquitted.
Brock alleges he was persecuted for years afterwards. He felt confident that Woolsey was not dead, but that it was a conspiracy among the Woolseys to rob him of his ranch. He spent a large sum of money to locate Woolsey and offered a $1,000 reward for his recovery. About three months ago a detective located Woolsey in Benton, Ark., and after fourteen years unremitting search Brock can at last go before the world without a stain on his name. He claims to have positive evidence that will convict the Woolseys of conspiracy and that he will institute legal proceedings immediately to recover his ranch, which they have been holding since 1877.

Whiskey and Jealousy.

DENVER, Oct. 15.—Whiskey and jealousy were the causes of a tragedy early this morning which cost one life and will probably land two men in the penitentiary for a long term of years. The notorious Jim Connors and Mike Ryan were drinking in a saloon after midnight and Connors being goaded and teased by his friends over the fact that his mistress, Mrs. Dalcoff, had deserted him for C. J. Finnicum, became so enraged that he took Ryan and going to Mrs. Dalcoff's rooms broke open the door and found her with Finnicum, to whom she was engaged to be married. Finnicum was knocked down, tied hand and foot, a gag placed over his mouth and then carried to a window and thrown into the alley.
On the way to the ground, three stories below, his head struck a projecting stone, leaving a portion of his skull.
When picked up by an ambulance a few minutes later it was found that his jaw was broken, his eyes both out and his skull torn open until the brain was exposed. He was taken to the hospital, where he died this afternoon. He leaves a wife and two children in Center Oak, Pa. Connor and Ryan were immediately arrested.
