ALL MONTANA SMILES

As the News Goes the Rounds that the Anaconda Has Opened Once More.

An Earnest Request Made to the Nation's Legislators to Do Their Duty Toward Silver

THE GREAT SMELTER OPENED.

Rejoicing in Anaconda and the City Herself Again.

ANACONDA, Mont., Oct. 22. [Special to the TRIBUNE.]—The opening of the great smelter today caused general rejoicing among our citizens. It assumed the proportions of a gala-day demonstration. Private and public buildings were decorated, bells rung and impromptu parades inaugurated. Every countenance was wreathed in smiles and handshakings were general. The silver lining to the dark cloud which has hovered over the city during the past seven months seemed to spread a bright sheen over the whole city. Anaconda is herself again.

A Debate on Silver.

OMAHA, Oct. 22. The Trans-Mississippi congress devoted its morning to a discussion of resolutions as follows: "That we petition the president and the congress of the United States to once more attempt to bring about an international recognition of the adjustment of silver as money and should this effort fail that some agreement be sought with nations of those nations may be again opened for the coinage of silver." "Resolved, That we petition the president and congress to continue if possible to complete negotiations with Spanish American nations for a common currency for this continent south of the Dominion of Canada." Warren of Wyoming, Maginnis of Montana and Gov. Fishback spoke in favor of the resolution and were followed by Hon. A. P. Hopkins of Omaha in opposition. The debate was still in progress when adjournment was taken at noon.

Rome Without the Pope.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A Rome dispatch says that an extreme sensation has been caused in that city by the declaration of the pope to the foreign powers that he does not feel secure in Rome. Although a large majority of the Romans are devotedly loyal to the one Italy, yet the substantial classes would view as a calamity the removal of the papacy, which is the most profitable patron for the trade and commerce of the city. The Vatican and various church connections, which would inevitably accompany the pope in any direction he might go, expend, it is estimated, 5,000,000 lire yearly among the various business houses of Rome. This is entirely irrespective of the vast total expended by lay and ecclesiastical visitors drawn by the fact that Rome is the headquarters of the church.

The amount expended by these varies annually, but an experienced resident says that in no year can it amount to less than twenty million lire, including what is paid for paintings and statuary by the wealthier class of tourists.

Where is Pat Donan?

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Mrs. E. C. Donan, the aged mother of the well known newspaper writer, Pat Donan, died suddenly this morning at Palmyra, Mo. The family do not know Donan's whereabouts and if this should meet his eye he is requested to communicate with them at once. He is supposed to be somewhere in the south.

Women Causing Trouble.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—It is estimated that 10,000 women applied yesterday to be registered for the coming election in this city. Of this number about 700 secured the placing of their names on the list of voters. Today a large number of those who were refused presented affidavits to that effect to the election commissioners, who, on the other hand, intimate that they will take measures to have those members of the boards of registration who violated their instructions by entering women's names on the registry lists punished for contempt of court.

Base Ball Matters.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Base ball men thronged the corridors of the Wellington hotel today. Chris VanDerAhe of St. Louis; Zach Phelps of Louisville, president of the American association, and a half hundred other managers and players were present to attend the annual meeting of the American association. At noon the board of directors went into executive session. They found the association in good financial condition with a considerable balance in the treasury. It was voted to recommend that a Chicago club be admitted to membership. President Phelps presented his annual report in which he animadverted harshly upon the suspicion attached to the closing games in the league contest and congratulated the association on its freedom from such suspicion. He said that the breach between the league and the association had baffled all efforts to bridge it over and expressed a conviction that the league will not agree to a settlement unless assured of the best of it. This morning the local association club organized.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—At the general meeting of the association the business transacted was the admission of Chicago, the adoption of President Phelps' report, and the hearing of applications from several clubs for admission to the association. All applications were deferred, with small hope of being finally granted unless the circuit should be enlarged to twelve clubs. The matter of the dropping of Columbus or Milwaukee will come up tomorrow.

A Crowded Tenement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Thirty families of Italians, close to 150 people in all, occupied a tenement house in the rear of 51 Crosby street until early yesterday morning, when they were routed out in a hurry by a platoon of police, it having been found that the building was in danger of collapsing. Workmen are excavating the lot adjoining preparatory to erecting a new building, and last night the earth under the foundations of the tenement began to cave in. The watchman notified the police. In a few minutes a platoon arrived, but found great trouble in clearing out the sleepy Italians, but after a while the street was filled with scowling, surly men and chattering, frightened women and children, who clustered about the alley entrance and tried to get back and save what few valuables they had. The building inspector and fire marshal declared that no one should be allowed in the building. The Italians were quieted after a while and some found shelter in the adjoining tenements, while the rest built a bonfire in the street. At daybreak the men were allowed, one at a time and each accompanied by an officer, to enter and get whatever articles they valued most. One of the Italians came out with three chickens. He was a peddler and the fowls were all he owned in the world.

The Donnelly Case.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 22.—In the Donnelly case this morning was principally occupied in arguments regarding the admission of testimony. In the afternoon a number of persons testified that Donnelly's reputation for political honesty was bad. The prosecution produced rebuttal on this point. Chas. H. Lamb, secretary of the Hasting & Dakota, testified that he paid $125 to Donnelly and judged from that the money was due Donnelly.
