CHOYNSKI IS THE VICTOR

The Battle One of the Most Important That Has Taken Place on the Pacific Slope.

Woods of Denver Done Up in the Thirty-fourth Round.

The Fight was for a Purse of $4,000 Which was Put Up by the Pacific Club.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. One of the most important fistic events that has taken place on the Pacific coast this year was the contest between Billy Woods of Denver and Joe Choynski of San Francisco, at the Pacific club, for a purse of $4,000 tonight. Despite his unbroken record of victories Woods was at the short end of the betting, the odds being 100 to 65 on Choynski. Woods had the advantage in weight, height and reach. He weighed 181 pounds to Choynski's 172. Both men were apparently in the best of condition. Woods' seconds were Martin Murphy and Patsy Hogan. Choynski had Fitzpatrick and Eddy Green. Mike Sullivan was referee. Time was called at 9:10 o'clock.

First round—After some feinting, Woods led with a couple of short lefts, Choynski giving him a shoulder, and a clinch followed. After an even exchange of light blows Woods led his right for the ribs and the round closed with Joe knocking him down with a right hander on the head. Woods bled freely at the nose.

In the second round Joe rushed Woods, who came back but Joe ducked. Woods broke ground and slipped to the floor as Joe crowded him. Woods dropped a light left on the ribs and clinched. After feinting he caught Joe a good right hander on the ear. Woods again rushed and Joe turned and ducked. Woods dropped a left on Joe's cheek as the round closed. He did most of the leading but was more weary than in the first round.

In the third round Joe crowded Woods from the start, trying to force an opening. Woods led his left twice falling short, Joe giving him a shoulder. A couple of glancing blows were exchanged and Woods landed his left on Joe's arm. Joe put his left on Woods' ear, the latter finding Joe's ribs with his right. Joe dropped a short left, with Woods constantly breaking ground.

Fourth round—Woods walked around the ring smiling. Joe waited for him as they got together. Joe smashed him on the head, neck, and on the jaw in quick succession, but missed a swing and fell down. Woods twice got in a left jab on Joe's muscles, following it up with a right on his fore-ribs. Choynski appeared tired.

Fifth round—Woods dodged about the ring until tired, then rushed his right, passed around Choynski's neck. He led a short left and Joe swung his right, catching Woods on the jaw. The range was too long for damage. The round closed with a clinch and short right fore-ribs by Woods.

In the sixth round Woods' left glanced from Joe's forehead but he reeled from a couple of flush lefts on the nose, blood flowing. Woods parried a couple of leads but got another short left on the nose. Woods punched Joe twice with his right on the back but his blows did not land fairly. Woods' left caught Joe on the jaw.

In the seventh round Woods got in a right on Joe's head. Choynski appeared confident and careless. Woods led and Joe countered on his nose. Woods was tired and stopped for a while.

The eighth round began with Woods on the run backward. Joe led left and dropped Woods with a right on the neck. Joe swung his right but missed and fell. Joe tripped to lead Woods on, playing for the latter's wind. He caught Woods a couple of good lefts on his face. The latter tried his right and slipped round him.

Choynski won in the thirty-fourth round.

Billy Madden's Protege.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. Billy Madden was the happiest man in New York tonight. His new protege, Peter Maher, the champion of Ireland, was introduced to America through the medium of two bouts with Jack Smith, formerly of England, and Sailor Brown in Madison Square garden. It took Maher just three minutes to render Smith and Brown unfit for further use in the ring for the evening.

The Tahiti Mill Bottom Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. News from Manzanillo states that the steamer Roseville, which had gone to tow the wrecked Tahiti to port, returned unsuccessful, the tow lines not being strong enough. She will start again soon. The Tahiti is bottom up. It is believed that when righted a number of bodies will be found in her hold. She had three hundred persons on board, all of whom were probably lost.

Want to Oust Democratic Senators.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. Published statements that republican senators virtually decided to contest the seats of Senators Hill, Brice and White, attracted some attention among senators today. Careful inquiry failed to disclose anything of an organized movement in that direction, and in fact it appears republican senators have as yet given the subject little thought. So far as Senator Hill's seat is concerned it is believed that when he presents himself to take the oath of office objection may be forthcoming from his colleague, Senator Hisscock, based on the charge that Senator Hill had lost title to his seat by abandonment. The question so raised would be legal and some of the republican senators who would be required to pass upon it as members of the committee on privileges and elections, say it would be disposed of, if presented, without regard to political considerations. Republican senators said today the contention in regard to Gov. Hill's case would be substantially as follows: That his continuing to hold after vote of March, 1891, when he was entitled to be senator, the office admittedly incompatible with the senatorship, operated as a renunciation of the latter, and that if it has not already done so the important question is presented as to how long a person thus situated could hold the governorship and keep the senatorship position vacant. The foundation for the story touching Brice's seat seems to be a few remarks made by Senator Sherman when the credentials were presented. As to Senator White of Louisiana, it cannot be learned that there is any intention on the part of republican leaders to move a contest based upon charges of illegal voting.

A Smash Up on the Southern Kansas.

CHEERYVALE, Kan., Dec. 17. The southbound passenger on the Southern Kansas, due here at 4:10 o'clock, was wrecked two miles north of this city this morning. The accident was caused by defective ties. The express car, two regular coaches and a sleeper, were hurled down a high embankment with about 40 passengers on board. Twenty-six persons were more or less injured, three of whom may die. Those seriously injured are Conductor Parsons, Mrs. Lizzie McGuire of Skanton, Kansas, and a little colored boy, name unknown. A fire broke out and all cars derailed, were entirely consumed.

The Great Butte Strike.

DENVER, Dec. 17. A special from Crested Butte says: The coal miners' strike was virtually ended tonight when 40 Austrian miners went to work hauling coals on cars. The men were protected by an armed posse of 50 men. The next step made by the operators will be an attempt to work men in the mine. A move of this kind will be opposed by the Italians and may end in another fatal fight.

A Bookkeeper Arrested for Embezzlement.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17. John L. Ferguson, bookkeeper in the National Bank of Kansas City, was arrested this morning and sent to jail for embezzling $20,000 from the bank, where he was employed. Ferguson was ill last Tuesday and remained at home and when he went to work Wednesday in order to carry ahead his fraudulent account he had to change figures made by his temporary predecessor. This was discovered and the investigation which followed revealed the embezzlement. Ferguson, being called before the officers of the bank, made a full confession. His method was somewhat peculiar. He opened fictitious accounts and raised figures on the receiving teller's blotter so as to show deposits accordingly. Then he credited the account accordingly and drew checks in fictitious names in order to keep up with the deposits. Not a cent is left, but the National Bank of Kansas City will get $20,000 from the American Surety company, which had indemnified Ferguson. Ferguson refuses to say where money has gone, but declares he spent it all, some on poker, some on dissolute women. He is a single man.

Saw Mill Explosion.

RICHMOND, Ind., Dec. 17. The saw mill of A. Collette, at Riderville was wrecked by the explosion of one boiler this morning. The boiler was a large one and apparently in good order. It had three gauges of water. At 7:30 the engineer went out to shut down the engine when the explosion occurred and as all in the building were killed at once it will never be known how it happened. The mill is a total wreck and the explosion was felt all over town. W. Wise, engineer, was killed outright, also Wm. Collette, head Sawyer and son of the proprietor, and James Clawson, Isaac Nicholson's foot was torn off and his left arm was so badly mangled it will have to be amputated. He will die. Oscar Jones and a man named Wright were outside the building and were struck by flying debris on their heads but neither was dangerously hurt.
