

A VERY GOOD TALK.

The Board of Trade Meeting Yesterday Was Largely Attended by Business Men.

Several Propositions for the Establishment of Several Manufacturing Industries Discussed.

There was a large attendance of business men at the Board of Trade meeting Wednesday afternoon. President Harris presided and Secretary Jones recorded the proceedings.

James Haven was present and read a letter from a Pennsylvania manufacturer relative to the establishment of a woolen factory and a scouring mill in Great Falls. The contents of the letter were discussed at length. The matter was referred to the committee on manufactures for immediate action.

The glass factory proposition was further discussed and the committee having the matter in hand was quite confident that arrangements would be satisfactorily agreed upon. [After the adjournment of the meeting Mr. King received a letter from one of the gentlemen interested in the factory that the proposition from Great Falls was the most favorable one received, and that he would advise with his partners.]

The paper mill project was well under way and the committee was given full power to act in the matter.

Several other manufacturing propositions were discussed and referred to committees.

Messrs. Brozman, King, and Dickerman were appointed a committee to consult with the business men relative to the establishment of manufacturing industries in the city.

Messrs. Robbins, Albrecht, Morton and Hughes were appointed a committee to prepare a cabinet of mineral specimens, agricultural products, etc., to be placed in a convenient place at the Great Northern depot; also photographs of the several falls of the Missouri at this place to be placed in the cabinet.

There being no other important business requiring immediate action a general discussion was then indulged in relative to the general interests of the city and county by Messrs. Harris, Brozman, King, Robbins, Hughes, Vaughn, Wegner, Wilcox, Cingano, Albrecht, Dickerman, Jones, and others.

The tone of all the remarks was that the business men of the city must present a solid front in the interest of the city the coming year, that all past differences should be forgotten, and that harmony of action on all questions pertaining to the city's prosperity should be the guiding star of everyone.

There is no denying the fact that the year 1894 is full of promise for Great Falls for the establishment of several large industries in the city which will give employment to hundreds of men. Now is the time to prepare for activity and united action. The meeting was a splendid beginning for future work on the part of the Board of Trade.

Rescued Unconscious From Wolves.

Joseph Heider, a homesteader, who lives near Iron River, Wis., had a thrilling experience with wolves a few miles from Iron River Sunday evening. Heider had been out hunting for deer presumably, and his gun was charged with buckshot. While scambling through some bushes one barrel of the gun was discharged, and a volley of shot entered his left arm and right thigh. At the time of the accident it was very fortunate for him that he was near some houses of other homesteaders. After the discharge of the gun he lay unconscious on the ground for three-quarters of an hour, and after gaining consciousness his cries attracted the homesteaders, and they reached him just in time to save him from a most frightful death. The wolves, which at this season of the year are very vicious, had gathered about him in large numbers, and they were making preparations for a great feast. Heider was taken to Iron River, where medical attendance was given him. His wounds are not thought to be fatal. —St. Paul Globe.

How Gladstone's Peers Voted.

It is interesting to note how the peers created at various times by Mr. Gladstone voted on the home rule division in the house of lords. Thirty-six peers, bound to Mr. Gladstone either by office or by direct creation, voted for the bill, while 31 peers who owe their titles wholly or in part to Mr. Gladstone voted against the bill, and four more of the same category announced that they would have opposed the bill, but were unable to be present. So that of 71 peers bound to Mr. Gladstone by office, or who were created or were accorded additional titles by him, 36 voted for home rule and 35 against it, thereby showing a pretty close division. —Paris Herald.

A Hot Metal Route.

The hot metal route at Braddock is now a certainty. Ladies of molten iron were run recently from the Edgar Thomson blast furnace to the converting mill in Braddock. The distance is six miles, which will be made in 14 minutes. The metal when covered with coke dust will remain in a fluid condition for several hours. —Philadelphia Record.

The Fort Benton Press says that Peter Jones arrived in that town on Tuesday from the Sweet Grass Hills where he has been in the sheep business for three years past. He recently sold his ranch and sheep to Toole & Beard, sheep men near West butte, and also disposed of his interest in the "Climax" mine, in the Sweet Grass district, to Ira Browne. Mr. Jones says that the "Climax" in which P. D. Kingsbury and Joe Baker are interested, is one of the most promising mines in the hills, and is rich in gold and silver. He will leave in a few days for California, where he intends spending the winter.

SPRAY OF THE FALLS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY.

Eighteen cars went out to Belt yesterday to be loaded with coal from the Shields' mines to go over the range to the Anaconda smelter.

Owing to the enormous demand for Sand Coulee coal, it is understood that the output is to be increased from 2,300 to 3,500 tons per day.

Mary was arrested and lodged in the lockup for a short time when she was released on a $25 cash deposit, made by Bulmer, for her appearance yesterday afternoon in the police court, where she pleaded guilty to fighting and was fined $10 and costs, which she paid.

The taxpayers of Fergus county were not slow in paying their taxes. The Democrat says the amount of taxes collected up to December was $73,216.97, or about 90 per cent of the actual amount due the county from taxpayers. The treasurer is confident that enough more will be collected to amount to 95 per cent of the whole. Last year up to December 1 there had only been $68,650 collected.

The divorce case of Maud McDonald vs. Peter A. McDonald was the only one tried in the district court yesterday. The charge against the plaintiff was for cruel and inhuman treatment. Thomas E. Brady was the plaintiff's counsel and Leslie A. Downing appeared for the defendant. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The court will fix the amount of alimony to be paid by the defendant.

The Montana Farmer, which temporarily suspended during the dull times, is now to be brought out with renewed vigor and attractive features. It will be double the size and will contain sixteen pages of reading matter devoted to the farm, stock raising, irrigation, the home circle and other matters to be found in a first-class Farmers' Journal. The subscription rates is 75 cents per year. The editor is Hon. Washington Muzzy and the publisher and business manager Mr. Nolan Davis. The first number will be ready about Jan. 1.

Last Friday afternoon J. J. Jackson and J. J. Little, both colored, engaged in a fist fight in the hall of the Realty block and resulted in Jackson swearing out a warrant against Little for assault and battery. The trial came off in Justice Rice's court yesterday before a jury. County Attorney Freeman appeared for Jackson and Lawyer Donovan for Little. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and the justice sentenced Little to forty days imprisonment and to pay $27 costs. The case was appealed to the district court and Little gave bonds.

C. M. Russell, the cowboy artist, has just completed a fine piece of artistic work in wax. The scene represents a cowboy, an Indian and a Chinaman playing cards. They are sitting in their accustomed way on the grass with a blanket before them. Each has cards in his hands but the Chinaman has the best of the layout as far as the game has progressed. The Chinaman has a smile on his face while the cowboy and Indian faces wear a scornful look. The men are colored up true to life and the whole scene is picturesque and life like. This artistic piece of work is on exhibition in the Cataract City Club rooms 216 1/2 Central avenue, over Churchill & Webster's store. Go and see it.

One of the coldest mornings last week the dwelling of Ebb Rose, on Sheep creek, fourteen miles west of Dupuyer, was burned, together with all effects, the family barely escaping with their lives. A little girl of David Lutz, brother-in-law, was severely burned. Mr. Lutz managed to cover the women and children with hay, and kept them from freezing. One of the women ran bare-footed and in her night clothes one and a quarter miles to a neighbor's, and gave the alarm. Miraculously none of the family were frozen, though the thermometer registered more than 20 below.

NOLLE PROSEQUI

The Indictment Against C. R. Middleton, Director of the Stock-growers Bank

Was Dismissed in the United States District Court at the Request of Prosecuting Attorney.

Joe Daniels Will Now Have to Stand Trial for the Murder of Frank Belunake.

HELENA, Dec. 19.—[Special to THE TRIBUNE.]—Joe Daniels, who was shot by Frank Belunake early Saturday morning at Unionville, died this afternoon. Information had been filed against Belunake charging him with assault with intent to kill. He will now be charged with murder.

CASE DISMISSED.

New Evidence Changes the Status of the Case.

HELENA, Dec. 19.—[Special to THE TRIBUNE.]—The indictment for perjury against C. R. Middleton, director of the Stockgrowers National bank of Miles City, was nolle prosequed in the United States court today. The prosecuting attorney asked for it saying that he had received information which had he had it sooner, would have prevented the finding of the indictment.

A BOGUS AMERICAN.

Claimed to Be a Military Medal Examiner, but the Police Nabbed Him.

The police have been earnestly seeking and have just found an impudent swindler, who has been trading, with considerable profit, for some time past upon the good name and sound business credit of the United States legation. He calls himself Dr. Alkin of the Second United States Dragoon guards, and he produced, whenever asked for credentials, which was rarely the case, a gorgeously printed document signed "J. H. Bayard," certifying that the bearer had been appointed "medical officer and military attaché of the American embassy, at a salary of $500 per annum, terminable by six months' notice on either side."

The scoundrel had a uniform as grotesque as that of the doctor of the American Dragoon guards might be expected to be, but clothed in it he managed to captivate the fancy of several respectable ladies.

Alkin was arrested yesterday at the conclusion of a meteoric visit to Bourne-mouth. He was received in that pleasant town with distinguished honor, as he passed himself off as an inspecting officer of the royal artillery. Such was his consummate impudence that he actually did inspect the local artillery and afterward the const guard, highly commending the efficiency of the latter body and promising to forward a favorable report to the admiralty. —New York Sun's London Letter.

INSANE.

Duncan Gillis Will be Taken to the Warm Springs Asylum.

The readers of THE TRIBUNE will remember that on the fourth of December Duncan Gillis was arrested and examined by a jury of physicians for insanity. But was released after a few days confinement as the physicians decided he was suffering from the effects of alcoholism. After his release he conducted himself fairly well until Wednesday of last week, when he went to the Minneapolis house and assaulted a man named Cunningham. He was arrested and fined $20 and costs, and not having the necessary cash to liquidate the claim he was committed to the city jail for ten days. Since his entry there he has indulged in the most fantastic antics, taking imaginary baths and carpeting his room with old sacks, and making night hideous with his loud noises to the great discomfort of the occupants.

His conduct was indicative of insanity, so Tuesday night he was brought before Judge Benton, who appointed Drs. Ladd, Adams and Swart as an examining board of surgeons. The verdict of the board was that the man was insane, and he was committed to the asylum at Warm Springs on Friday.

AN ALL ROUND CRACKSMAN.

His Thievements Cover a Wide Field, From Canned Goods to a Tombstone.

Kansas City has developed one of the most unique thieves that has yet been heard of in real life. Several months ago the police force learned that a sneak thief was making depredations upon cellars and pantries and even on outlying grocery stores, and carrying off canned goods and such eatables as were not perishable.

There were certain peculiarities about the robberies that led the police to believe that they were all done by the same person, but there was no clew that they could follow to catch the thief. After amassing a goodly quantity of food on which to start to house-keeping the thief began on fuel, and whole cartloads were carried away, each case showing the evidences of the food thief. When a full supply of coal was taken, the thief turned his attention to furniture and carried off articles of all kinds, from light chairs to a heavy bedstead with mattresses. An entire bedroom set was taken from a house and no trace left. The family was absent for a night, and on their return they found their room despoiled.

Having furnished his bedroom and parlors, the depredator set about getting his kitchen in order, and first an ice chest was taken from a house in Armoredale, and then a cooking stove and kitchen table from a house in Rosedale. By this time the police were fully alive to the fact that the stealing was going on right under their noses, and they began to talk about the queer thief. This attention seems to have flattered the thief, for he signaled his presence next by carrying off a large baseburner stove from a parlor in Kansas City, Kan., while the family were spending the evening with a neighbor. This occurred last week, and since then it appears that the man has his furniture, food and fuel for the winter, for the depredations have ceased.

Another phase, however, seems to have broken out, and it is evident that a member of the thief's family has sickened and died. A few days ago a drug store was broken into and medicine taken, and last night the climax was reached when the thief went to the cemetery out on the Quindare boulevard and carried off a fine tombstone. There is a talent here that shows the development of a system that would beat a bank, and the police are very anxious to make the acquaintance of the thief. —Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

CAN'T SEE ANYTHING GREEN.

A Little Boat of Emerald Hue Tended the Cruiser and Monitor Too.

A report is about to be sent to the navy department regarding certain experiments which have been conducted in this harbor during the summer under the auspices of the torpedo station to determine upon measures to be employed by torpedo boats to escape detection with searchlights. The Cushing has been the boat in use, and much progress has been made. The torpedo boat at no time used both her boilers in steaming about, and consequently did not run as fast as she might.

She was tried painted in several colors, but was discovered until a dull green hue was used. Then she ran into the harbor before the powerful searchlights of the cruiser San Francisco and monitor Miantonomoh as well as the big light at the station could detect her. She got within a few feet of each of the war vessels, and in a fine position to do great damage with her torpedoes.

On last Monday night the Cushing entered the harbor, and although both vessels were looking for her she passed completely around the island on which is the torpedo station twice without being detected. These experiments are said to be more successful than any carried on in the same line by any nation.

The green appears to be the proper color for torpedo boats. In the glare of the searchlight it is quite like water. At times it resembles the moss grown rocks. —Newport Special.

A Cherokee Strip Romance.

Yesterday Joseph K. Bracken of Memphis and Miss Lillie McGlashin of Stillwater, O. T., came to this city and were married by the probate judge. The young lady had secured a fine claim near Perry in the Cherokee strip, and the judge told her that if she got married she would probably lose the claim. She laughingly replied that she would sooner have a man than a claim any day, and the ceremony proceeded. It afterward came out that the couple first met on the day of the strip opening, when he stopped to help her drive a couple of sooner off the claim she had staked. He then went on, but because of the delay failed to get a claim, and finally returned to claim the girl he left behind him. After they had been married they returned to Perry, and the happy groom at once filed a contest on the claim taken by his bride, so if the department does decide that she cannot hold it he will get it, and it will still be in the family. —Guthrie Letter.

Overturned in a Squall.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

Charles Smith and Irene Winston Joined in Happy Wedding.

Tuesday eve, there was a happy and joyous gathering of invited guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Knott, 711 Eighth avenue north, to witness the marriage of Mr. Charles Smith, of the firm of Sims & Smith, of the Park Cafe, of this city, and Miss Irene Winston of Memphis, Tenn., sister of Mrs. Knott. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. G. H. Byas
