NO GENERAL CUT.

The General Superintendent of the Union Pacific Tail About the Court's Order.

He Says There Has Been No General Cut, but Only a Readjustment of Wages.

Judge Dundy's Order Restrains the Employees of the Road From Striking.

DENVER, Jan. 31.—General Superintendent Deuel of the Union Pacific, who returned from Omaha, said emphatically there is no general cut in wages by that system. The alleged reduction is nothing more than an equalization of wages, which have been contemplated for some time.

"For a long time," said Mr. Deuel, "the men on our lines have been receiving more than they have earned through the constructive mileage system. For instance, the engineers on the Cheyenne division from this city, 106 miles, have been paid with 117 miles, and the men on the Wyoming division, who run 101 miles have been paid for 150. There are several other cases of the same kind, each of course are wrong, and should be stopped. The company only intend to adjust these matters and make a new schedule to which the men can hardly find no objections."

JUDGE DUNDY'S ORDER.

Union Pacific Trainmen Organized From Striking—Orders to Work.

OMAHA, Jan. 31.—Union Pacific employees were stirred to their utmost depths during the day when the order of Judge Dundy reducing wages on the system was made public.

All employees in every department are affected by the cut, which amounts to nearly 10 per cent. The action of the court was not altogether a surprise, although most of the men thought the wage question would not be disturbed, but Judge Dundy went his brothers on the federal bench or better, and not only enjoined the men from striking, but cut their pay at the same time.

Ordered them to Work on at the reduced rate. The proposed schedule does not change the rate of pay on the Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado divisions except on "light eight" wheel engines. The proposed schedule the wages of engineers, firemen, hostlers and wipers will be reduced 3-5 of a cent per mile and the wages, 8-1-2 cents per mile, will be in excess of that paid by any of the roads mentioned in the enclosed statement, except the Missouri, Kansas and Northern. In the cut is $3 per month, conductors suffer most. When the reduction cannot be made, a reduction in mileage allowance is made sufficient to cover the equivalent of

IOWA LIQUOR LAWS.

Some of the Measures Proposed For Regulating the Traffic.

DES MOINES, Jan. 31.—The situation in the Iowa legislature with respect to prohibition and the repeal or modification thereof, has taken more definite shape within the past few days, though it is still in the formative stage. The senate is now regarded as the prohibition stronghold. Twenty Republican senators met in secret caucus and resolved that they were not in favor of any kind of license. They are strongly inclined to the Ohio mule plan, but so many legal objections have been urged against that since the senators declared in favor of it that it has had a set back. The plan works well enough in Ohio, where there is no statute to be violated, but only a constitutional amendment. Here there is a statute which is in force, at least, so far as the law is concerned, and there is no way that the legislature can provide for the violation of the statute without repealing the law. The best lawyers have been consulted and they say that it can't be done. There is a strong majority in both houses in favor of this plan if there is any way that it can be made effective and safe and legal.

Chassell's Plan.

The plan proposed by Representative Chassell of Le Mars, editor of the Le Mars Sentinel, seems to be the next thing. It is for county local option, the elections to be not oftener than once in five years. One-third of the voters must have petitioned for the election, and no permit shall be granted in any precinct which has cast a majority of votes against the license at the special election. The petition for a permit must be signed by a majority of the resident freeholders within 200 feet in every direction from the proposed location, if in a city or town, and by one-third of the resident freeholders in the precinct if outside an incorporated town, except that no more than 50 names shall be required in each case. The permits are to be secured through the district court and there to prevent fraud and to make it hard to secure the permit. The fee for manufacture and sale at wholesale shall be $500 per annum to be paid into the county treasury. The fee for wholesale and retail dealers is to be $500 and such additional sum as the municipality may require, the latter to go to the city or town levying the tax. The most stringent regulations for the government of the saloonkeeper are specified in the bill, and the city council is given power to make still further regulations. The penalties are heavy, all sorts of games, screens, tables, chairs, etc., are prohibited, and provision is made for protests and for the easy revocation of the permit in case the saloonkeeper violates the law. The bill is not calculated to please the saloonkeeper, but it is so far more satisfactory to the temperance element than any other license measure. If it is finally adopted it will be something of this kind.

TWELVE THOUSAND DEAD.

The K. of L. Injunction Case in Court at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Arguments were heard before Judge Cox of the district supreme court on the application of Grand Master Workman Sovereign and T. B. McGuire of the Knights of Labor, for an injunction to restrain Secretary Carlisle from issuing $60,000,000, as proposed in his recent bond circular. Judge Cox reserved his decision and announced that by Wednesday he would state his conclusion in the case. The town of Kuchan was a walled city of Persia. It is situated about 80 miles northwest from Meshad, on the route to Shirvan, and is enclosed by the Hazarmazai and Aldagh mountains. The town lies at the foot of Shan Jahan Kuh, a mountain which rises to the lofty height of 11,000 feet above the sea. The city itself has an altitude of 3,000 feet. It was a most delightful and prosperous place, and its sudden and awful destruction is one of the greatest calamities ever known in Persia. The town was the residence of the district governor. It was surrounded by rich and extensive gardens and vineyards, the fruits and wines of which are noted for their superiority.

ANOTHER SENSATION.

Judge Wing Says the Coughlin Prosecution Has a Detective Following Him.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Ex-Judge Wing of counsel for the defense, created a sensation in the Coughlin case by asking that the jury be excused, and demanding that Prosecutor Bottum take the stand. Attorney Wing then charged that the prosecution had set detectives to shadowing him and those who called at his office.

"This is America, not Russia," Judge Wing shouted, "and such methods should be severely punished. Captain Schuetler is at least partially responsible for this shadowing, and I want Mr. Bottum to swear as to his connection with the matter."

Mr. Bottum denied all knowledge of such use of detectives, and Judge Wing then demanded that Captain Schuetler be called to account.

RED AND BLACK FLAGS.

A Big Anarchistic Demonstration Occurs at Zurich.

ZURICH, Jan. 31.—This city has been the scene of a serious riotous demonstration. A band of anarchists, carrying red and black flags, marched to the Italian consulate and affixed their flags to the escutcheon over the door of the consulate. The police interfered and a riotous scene followed, during which a severe struggle between the representatives of the authorities, and the rioters took place. CHICAGO'S SCOURGE.

A Malignant Case of Smallpox in a Rooming House.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—One of the most malignant cases of smallpox with which the health authorities have had to deal thus far was brought to their attention Sunday. One week ago Miss Laura Payne, living at 149 Halstead street, was taken ill with what was at first believed to be scarlet fever, but which developed into black smallpox, from which the patient died. No. 149 is a rooming house, and every effort was made by the authorities to prevent the disease from spreading. The house has been quarantined.

UTES ARE UGLY.

Colorado Indians Want to Be Moved to Southern Utah.

DENVER, Jan. 31.—Adjutant General Tarsney has just returned from a visit to the Southern Ute agency, and in an interview said the Indians are in a very bad humor over the delay in ratification of the treaty made three years ago for their transfer into Southern Utah, and unless the authorities at Washington take speedy action on this matter the Utes will pack up and go into Utah without orders from the government. There are about 1,100 of them, and it will give the soldiers no little trouble if they attempt to turn them back.

CLEARING HOUSE FOR ORES.

How Colorado Smelters Will Run With Least Possible Risk of Loss.

DENVER, Jan. 31.—One result of the numerous conferences recently held in this city by gentlemen interested in the several large smelters in the state has been the establishment of a general exchange or clearing house for the handling of surplus ores. When one smelter becomes overstocked with a certain class of ore it will be distributed among others, and the losses on lead and silver because of the fluctuations in prices will thereby be kept at the lowest limit.

LOOTED THE LEGATION.

Burglars Destroy Much Property in the American Legation at Rome.

ROME, Jan. 31.—It was discovered early in the morning that burglars broke open the safe of the American legation during the night, and not finding any valuables inside, they wrecked the room in which the safe was kept, broke a bust of Washington which stood in a corner of the room, burned all papers they could lay hands on, and destroyed the valuable library of the legation. There is no trace of the burglars.
