NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Charles DeLessups has been arrested at Paris for alleged connection with the Panama canal frauds.

Patrick Gallagher, the cook implicated in the Homestead poisoning case, was arrested Tuesday and placed in jail.

Ex-President Hayes has been made defendant in a big land suit at Duluth brought by the Highland Improvement company of that city.

The Kansas state board of canvassers has issued a certificate of election to Cabbell, the populist elector whose election was contested on the ground of clerical error. This gives Weaver all the electoral votes of Kansas.

The jury in the case of Ah Let, charged with the murder of Yung Lee at Fort Custer on October 12, 1891, returned a verdict of not guilty in the United States district court at Helena Saturday. In the case against Ah Doo, who was also indicted for the crime, a nolle prosequi was entered.

The Commercial bank case at Dubuque, Iowa, was given to the jury Saturday, which returned a verdict against R. E. Graves, president, finding him guilty on every charge in the indictment. The penalty is from five to ten years. Cashier Harris' trial began Monday.

The celebrated trotting stallion Stamboul (2:07 1/2) the property of the late Walter S. Hobart, of Hobart Farm, San Mateo, Calif., was sold by auction at the American Institute building, New York, Tuesday for $11,000. The purchaser was D. H. Hamman, a banker of New York, who owns a stock farm in Orange county.

The grand jury of Morgan county, Indiana, called together two weeks ago at Martinsville to investigate the desecration of soldiers' graves, has adjourned without returning an indictment against any one for the crime. The belief is strong that the perpetrators were before the grand jury, but the guilty had so completely covered up every trace of their work by threats or money that the most persistent questioning could not trap them.

The first 50,000 of World's Fair souvenir half dollars have been shipped to Chicago by express in care of the United States sub-treasurer. They occupied five kegs and include all of the first 50,000 minted, except No. 1 for which the Exposition company is to get $10,000 and three others numbered 400, 1492, 1892. These on account of their value, estimated to aggregate $15,000, were carefully put in private packages and packed in a special keg by themselves.

The Mexican government will demand of President Harrison that he take active steps towards taking up and wiping out the bandits of the revolutionists that have their rendezvous on the United States soil in the lower Rio Grande border country. It is believed that serious international trouble will grow out of the outrage. The Mexican government is strengthening its already strong force of soldiers on the border by rushing about 2,000 troops to the turbulent section from interior garrisons.

At Saturday's session of the federation of labor, held in Philadelphia, there was no opposition to President Gompers' re-election and the election was unanimous. Christopher Evans was in like manner re-elected secretary. John B. Lennon was re-elected treasurer; J. P. McGuire was re-elected vice president. For second vice president William A. Carney of Pittsburg, who took an active part in the Homestead troubles, was elected. Chicago secured the convention for 1893, after a close fight against the claims of Denver.

The first of January, 1893, will witness in Chicago and elsewhere the consummation of one of the greatest combinations or trusts in the news field that has ever existed. In the west the associated press will absorb the united press and will take into its fold along with that institution some of the newspapers which have patronized it, notably the Chicago Herald and the Post. In the east the united press will absorb the associated press with like results. Thus the territory will be about equally divided, and the competition heretofore existing in gathering and distributing news by these associations will be destroyed. There will be no "scooping" the one over the other any longer, while, on the other hand, the profits of the whole business, which have hitherto been divided, will be enjoyed by one concern.

The revelations made in connection with the Panama canal scheme, have created political turmoil which threatens the existence of the French republic. The head of one of the greatest banking houses in the world, with headquarters in Paris, said Tuesday to one of the American delegates to the Brussels conference: "I believe we are on the eve of a revolution and that few outside of France have any conception of the dangers of the situation. The temper of the people is not understood, and they cannot or will not discriminate between the government itself and the individuals who represent it." It is now generally understood that the popular mind must be further exasperated by the revelations of corruption in high places. The Panama story has not half been told. Every day adds a fresh chapter to the feature of the great interest to Americans and will probably soon be made known. It involves a banker of world wide reputation as well known in New York as in Paris. He is said to have been a heavy beneficiary of the Panama Canal company without having rendered any equivalent.

James W. McDill of Iowa, has been confirmed by the senate as member of the inter-state commerce commission.

Senator Power has introduced an amendment to the bill defining options and futures, adding silver bullion to the articles dealt in for which must be obtained a license.

Senator L. Gibson of Louisiana died at Hot Springs, Arkansas, on the 15th inst. In accordance with his wishes the remains were buried at Lexington, Kentucky, by the side of his wife.

Another charge of poisoning is made against unemployed workmen; this time near Helena, Arkansas. A number of convicts were recently taken to that place to work on the Iron Mountain road. Workmen protested. It is now stated that eighteen of these convicts were taken violently ill with symptoms of arsenical poisoning. Four are already dead and three others will die.

At St. Petersburg, Russia, midwife Redwarska, charged with smothering 111 babies, whose bodies were buried in her cellar, has been sentenced to only one year's imprisonment. Great indignation is expressed at the fact that the powerful influence of some of her former patrons was able to save her the full penalty of her crimes. As she has been at such work nearly 20 years there is little doubt her victims number hundreds.

San Ping Lee, the Chinese lawyer of New York, who is president of the Chinese Equal Rights club, in an interview said that Chinese in this country do not intend to comply with the act of congress requiring them to register and deposit photographs with local collectors of internal revenue before May 1 under penalty of expulsion from the country. The Chinese have combined to engage counsel and will contest the constitutionality of the act. There are 450 Chinamen in the internal revenue district of Connecticut, which comprises Connecticut and Rhode Island, not one of whom will register.

The statement in regard to the settlement of the differences between the church and Rev. Father McGlynn, of New York, received full confirmation. The news of the reconciliation produced the happiest impression at the Vatican, where Father McGlynn has always been a favorite. It is stated on the highest authority that the pope will give a special power to Mgr. Satolli to settle the case. The latest reports at the Vatican from America have caused surprise and vexation at the opposition against the results of the conference recently held in New York, and the proposition submitted by Mgr. Satolli. The pope, Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Ledochowski all express their displeasure at the course of church events taking place in America, and his holiness will shortly take decisive action to bring the divisions to an end.

Execution of Burns, Alias Hamilton

John Burns, convicted of the murder of Maurice Higgins, suffered the extreme penalty of the law at Missoula at 10 o'clock on the 16th inst. Prior to his execution he gave his name as Hugh J. Hamilton, and claimed to be a descendant of Alexander Hamilton, Washington's secretary of the treasury. His few living relatives are in New York state. Promptly at the hour assigned, Burns was marched to the scaffold. The sheriff slipped the rope over his head and adjusted it and then quickly fixed the straps, pinning the arms and legs. While he was doing this, Father Guild spoke to him and Burns turned to him with a smile. While the father was talking the doomed man glanced up and saw the boys perched on trees near by and smiled again. When the sheriff had finished securing the straps, he said: "Jack, is there anything more you want to say?" "No," he replied, "Let her go." There was a rattle, and the murderer shot quickly down to death. There were just two slight heavings of the chest and he hung motionless.

On the night of August 4th last a big fire raged in Missoula. Maurice Higgins, a member of the volunteer fire department, worked all night. About 4 o'clock in the morning he was talking with a young man named Paul Goldenbogen in front of the Mascot Theater, and Burns came along and accused Goldenbogen of giving away a pal named Lyons to the police. Lyons had been arrested for pilaging a pawn brokers shop. Very few words passed and Burns shot Goldenbogen through the arm, the bullet being in his lung to this day. He immediately fired a second shot, the ball landing in Higgins' temple, causing instant death. The murderer was captured during the day. Goldenbogen positively identified Burns as the man who shot Higgins. Burns made one attempt at suicide and one at escape. His defense was mistaken identity.

Goldenbogen's recovery was remarkable. He was taken to the courtroom on a stretcher, and while giving testimony suffered a hemorrhage, it being feared that he would expire at the time. Higgins belonged to a wealthy family of that name which has been prominent in Montana since the earliest days.

CLYDE PARK.

The beautiful snow is with us once more.

Mr. Lee Bennet and wife departed on the 19th inst. for Winterset, Iowa.

Rev. Warren failed to appear on the 4th and Rev. Wells occupied the pulpit in his place.

Mr. Cole and family recently of Oklahoma, are thinking strongly of locating permanently. As he has a very large family it will be quite a valuable addition to the society of this neighborhood.

Miss Eva James closed her second successful term of school at this place last Friday and departed the following Tuesday for her eastern home. Her departure is keenly felt in society, especially by some of our old bachelors.

Robt. Aitken, after a sojourn of a few weeks in New York, has returned, but positively denies the assertion that his eastern trip was for a recreation, but like the song, "he left the girl behind him."

The literary society of Rock creek is progressing finely. It is well attended and excellent programmes are rendered at each meeting. At the last meeting a very able discussion was had on the subject: "Education Advances Civilization More Than Religion." Several speakers availed themselves of the opportunity and for a time eloquence waxed hot.

A social dance was given at the residence of J. E. Gustine on the night of the 16th. A very large crowd was in attendance and all enjoyed a pleasant evening. The ladies present were: Misses Maughlin, Skillin, Taylor, Simpson, Coles, Woodall, Gibson and Gustine; Mesdames Hunter, Hathorn, Ship-ton and Gustine.

Held Without Bail

The preliminary examination of Maggie Dowty, charged with the murder of Patrick Tierney at Cokedale on the evening of November 17th, was begun before Justice Hosford Wednesday afternoon, pursuant to adjournment taken November 30th. On the latter date the case was set for a hearing, but owing to the absence of W. P. Dowty, the husband of the accused woman, who was alleged to be an important witness for the defense, the examination was postponed for a period of twenty days with a stipulation that it might be called up by agreement of attorneys at any time when the attendance of Dowty could be secured. Prior to that date Dowty disappeared on an errand to Trail creek. He never appeared at that camp, and nothing has since been learned of his whereabouts. When the case was called Wednesday afternoon by limitation of date of adjournment no service had been made upon Dowty and the examination proceeded without his evidence. John T. Smith appeared for the defense and County Attorney-elect H. J. Miller represented the state. By agreement the evidence taken before the coroner's jury at Cokedale on the 18th of November was introduced and read in evidence for the prosecution, that being the only testimony offered by the state.

The defense then introduced witnesses for the purpose of establishing the alleged insanity of the defendant at the time she shot Tierney.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, mother of defendant, was the first witness called. She testified to the changed condition of her daughter after her marriage to W. P. Dowty on the 27th day of last June. Her daughter since that time had appeared greatly changed, frequently coming into witness' house and going out again without speaking; sometimes coming in one door and going directly out at another. Her daughter had been sick in July and again in August, on both occasions being delirious. She imagined she saw lizards and other animals from which she seemed anxious to escape. She had seemed troubled in her mind after her marriage. Witness also testified that she knew Tierney in his lifetime and that on one occasion she met him leaving her home with scratches upon his face; that Tierney explained that he had been compelled to chastise her daughter. Witness further stated that upon her arrival at home her daughter appeared excited and told her that she would show Tierney that he could not come around and bother her any more. She also testified to the insanity of the grandmother of Maggie Dowty, a condition in which she afterwards died in Scotland.

Robert McDonald, father of Maggie Dowty, testified to the changed mental condition of his daughter after her marriage, and corroborated the testimony relating to the insanity of his mother.

Dr. Murray, the company physician at Cokedale, testified to his acquaintance with defendant. Had visited her on several occasions in a professional capacity, once in July and later on the 25th of August. He corroborated the mother of defendant as to her mental delusions upon both occasions. He believed that Maggie Dowty was insane at the time she shot Tierney. He based his opinion upon his knowledge of her as her physician, as well as upon her subsequent action, indicating a lack of fear of the consequences of her act.

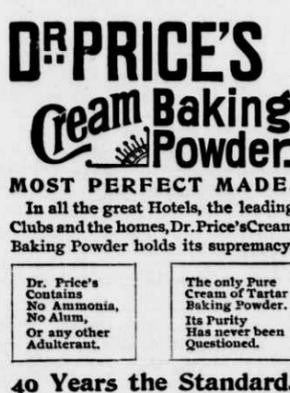

An adjournment was then taken until Thursday morning.

Upon resuming the examination Thursday morning, Dr. W. L. Shawk of this city, who for two years was company physician at Cokedale as predecessor of Dr. Murray, testified to his acquaintance with defendant. He gave it as his opinion, from observation of defendant during the two years in which he saw her almost daily and her conduct at this time, that she was insane at the time she shot Tierney. He reached that conclusion from her remarks just after the shooting when she said, "I have shot Tierney, and if the sheriff wants me he can find me here." This he believes indicated insanity, as a sane person realizing the responsibility for the act would have desired to escape.

This closed the evidence for defense, and Justice Hosford announced that he would hold defendant to answer at the next term of district court without bail. She was accordingly remanded to the custody of the sheriff and returned to the county jail.

It is rumored that an effort will be made to secure bail for Mrs. Dowty by application to the district court for a writ of habeas corpus at as early a date as practicable after the transcript of the justice's court is certified to the district clerk.
