THE REBUKE

Administered to the hoodlers, intimidators, bribers and pollitionists by the free and sovereign people of Montana is the most pronounced that has ever occurred in the political history of the United States. The political revolution of 1888 is pale in comparison with the convulsion under which the heavens have thundered their anathemas upon the heads of those who would fain have brought Montana down at the feet of the hoodler and the millionaire quartette and a just and angry God has sent a bolt to stop their infamous work.

Let us congratulate each other, fellow citizens, that the plottings of those who would have bonded and riveted upon us the chains of free trade and a slavery worse than Egyptian bondage have been foiled.

Let us bow down in humble gratitude and thanksgiving to God for His deliverance and implore His blessing upon the new and glorious sovereignty of Montana, now to enter the grand galaxy of statehood under the auspices of loyalty to the union and protect on to American industry.

Sound the loud timbre!
O'er land and o'er sea—
PROTECTION has triumphed:
Montana is free!

Benton Redeemed.
BENTON, Oct. 2.—[Special to the LEAD-ER.]—Eleven precincts give Carter 10 majority. The indications are that he will carry the county by 100. We elect both representatives and one half of the county ticket.

MEAGHER COUNTY.
Complete returns from Meagher county show the election of the republican state candidates generally, including Carter, Power and Rickards.

SUN RIVER, Oct. 2.—[Special to the LEADER.] Sun River gave Clark 26, Stanton 28, Hastie 42, Lochray 33.

CABLE MOUNT, Oct. 2.—From all returns the head of the ticket has a republican majority. Quigley for sheriff, 5 majority.

Colonist Sleepers.
The Union Pacific railway, also known as The Overland Route, has lately added to its service a number of new cars (which by the way are built by the World famous Pullman Company) entitled Colonist Sleepers and which for convenience and comfort are but little behind the handsome Pullman Palace Car. The cars are designed for the use and comfort of the Colonist, who with his family intend moving west to grow up with the country.

The only difference between these cars and the regular first-class Pullman is that the Colonist sleeper is not upholstered.
There are fourteen sections in each car, and separate toilet rooms for ladies and gentlemen. At night, by means of sliding head boards and heavy damask curtains, as much privacy is secured as if in the regular first class sleeper. Plenty of fresh, clean towels and a good supply of water are also to be found. A uniformed porter accompanies each car to look after the comfort and attend to the wants of the passengers, and no smoking is allowed.
It certainly seems that for cheap and comfortable sleeping accommodations, while traveling, these cars cannot be excelled. O12.

Remarkable Rescue.
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but she grew worse. He told her that she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her.
Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself beneficial from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this great discovery at Lapeyre's drug store, large bottles 50c and $1.00.

A CRISIS AVERTED.
Callithumpian and His Wife Exchange Domestic Grievances.

A pained expression flitted across the face of the young husband.

"It is time we understood each other, Effie-da," he said, as he drummed on the table with trembling fingers. "I think I have a right to know the cause of your dissatisfaction, your averted looks, your fits of abstrac-tion and gloom."

"Have I ever made any complaint, Callithumpian?" said the young wife, looking in a wistful, melancholy way out of the window.

"You have not, Effie-da," returned Callithumpian. "If you would only say what it is I would do it for you, Effie-da, I would do it somehow," he continued, desperately, "even if it cost me $4!"

"It wouldn't cost more than—but no matter!" exclaimed Effie-da, hopefully.

"Then you confess that it is something that might be healed by the disbursement of a little bit of money?"

"And Callithumpian W. Magruder took out a lean and luscious looking pocketbook.

"I confess nothing."

The young husband replaced the pocketbook with great promptness and presence of eye—"I don't even enjoy my gum!"

"If you can't trust me, Effie-da, whom can you trust?"

"Give it up!"

"As you please men!" remarked Nora, putting her head in through the doorway, "what'll you have for dinner the day?"

"Anything that's in the house, Nora," replied the dejected mistress; "it doesn't make any difference."

"Effie-da," vociferated Mr. Magruder, as the kitchen lady withdrew, "has this trouble of yours anything to do with the vegetables?"

"Callithumpian," replied the young wife, in a voice of misery, "it has! I don't know why I should keep it a secret any longer.
Think of me as you will, but I cannot help it. My heart is breaking, Callithumpian, she sobbed, "for—for a—mess of—of—ce-cabbage!"

The dejected young husband took the hystertical form of his cherished Effie-da on his lap.

"Is that all?" he whispered in her ear. "My own, I have a confession to make myself. I have not always been the gay, light hearted creature I have seemed. When outwardly calm and cheerful I have many and many a time been wretched and miserable on account of an unsatisfied longing for onions! I did not dare to speak of it. I did not know how you stood on the onion question. I secretly repressed the longing. I suffered
