The True Tale About Montana.

The democratic press of the east, at the dictation of the Montana wing, has been engaged in a good deal of mud throwing over precinct 34 and kindred topics. But people are not likely to long remain in the dark as to the truth of the matter. The following from the N. Y. Tribune is a commendable statement of the whole case:

Montana's electoral malice has been so far clarified by the action of the state board of canvassers as to permit the state's immediate admission to the Union. Certificates of election have been issued to the democratic candidate for governor, whose choice by the people is denied, and to the republican legislative candidates in Silver Bow county, whom the democrats declare to have been beaten. The state government will come into operation upon the president's proclamation, and the contests already begun will be continued in an orderly way. This is a commendable and wise issue from an ugly situation.

In the Tribune of Oct. 24 a remarkable letter was printed from the Hon. A. J. Seligman, chairman of the Republican State Committee in Montana. Mr. Seligman had bare the amazing disreputable methods employed by the democrats to secure control of this new state. Since the election, which took place October 1, democratic newspapers in the east have been freighted heavily with reports from Montana, alleging that the republicans, having failed to win through the ballot-boxes, were engaged in a conspiracy to steal the state. So persistently has this falsehood been repeated, in such varied forms has it been worked up, so widely has it been circulated, as to render the conclusion inevitable that the democratic newspapers in Montana are endeavoring to manufacture a false sentiment throughout the country to aid them in the contests they are arranging to enter upon. They were willing to resort to the most infamous artifices in their efforts to prevent the rule of the majority; they were willing to trample law, honesty and decency under foot in their effort to make the returns of their candidates untrue, and it is not unnatural, therefore, that they should be willing to blacken the reputation of their new state and to delay its entrance into the Union, if by such a course they see the slightest possibility of succeeding in their political conspiracy.

It is not to be questioned that Montana counts today a larger number of republicans than democrats. Both parties in the late contest were united, harmonious and resolute. The democratic campaign manager was Marcus Daly, the partner of James H. Haggitt and Senator Hearst in the great Anaconda copper mine. Daly himself carried at least one-tenth of the voting population of the entire state. With him were associated four other millionaires, S. T. Hauser, C. A. Broadwater, W. A. Clark and J. E. Conrad. Mr. Conrad was a candidate on the democratic state ticket for lieutenant governor. Mr. Hauser and Mr. Clark were upon aspirants for seats in the United States senate.

Mr. Broadwater's personal friend and attorney was the candidate for congress, so that the democratic campaign was really made upon a deliberate parcelling-out of the offices among these rich and powerful men. In estimating their personal influence it is not too much to say that they are the employers, through their mines, their smelters and their railroads, of not less than 40 per cent of the legal vote.

Mr. Seligman's charges against the democratic managers show that they stopped at nothing in furthering their ambitions. Not only did they subject their men to every kind of persuasion and coercion, discharging republican workmen by the wholesale, threatening all hands with the closing down of works and mines if the democratic ticket should be defeated, removing republican employees from the counties within which they were registered and enticed to vote into other counties where their votes were lost, and substituting other employees for those thus got rid of, the substituted men being hired to personate the removed ones at the polls—not only did they commit this class of outrages, but they actually imported carloads of ignorant and deluded "doughs" from Idaho and Utah, supplied them with fictitious naturalization papers and sent them to the polling-places armed with dummy tickets and placards bearing the words, "I cannot read, write or speak the English language and I desire to vote the straight democratic ticket." They actually brought federal judges into their service, legacies from the Cleveland administration, who manufactured deputy clerks of their own in large numbers, and sent them off with grip-sacks loaded with court records and seals, scouring the country after ignorant half-breeds and other aliens who were straightway converted into American citizens and democratic voters.

This is the sort of a campaign the democrats conducted and yet, in the face of it, upon unduly narrow returns the republicans elected their congressional candidate, Mr. Carter, their three supreme court judges and every member of their state ticket except the governor. They carried their county ticket in thirteen out of sixteen counties. The democratic millionaires frantically sought to figure in the United States senate fought with especial ferocity to secure the legislature. The returns of one precinct in Silver Bow county were shamelessly falsified and certified to without even the semblance of a pretence to carry out the election law. Had those returns been allowed the democrats would have had a feasible majority of three upon joint ballot in the legislature which, with their governor, would have been the full measure of their claims as to the result of the battle. But the board of canvassers, mindful of their oaths, decided that the returns from this debauched precinct were not legal returns and could not be received. This decision left the republicans with a majority of seven in the house upon joint ballot and it is this decision that is being fought by the democrats with such desperation.

Honest public sentiment the whole country over will sustain the republicans of Montana in their resolution to defend the ballot-box. Their fight is for electoral honesty, as well as for their rights and the people's will. They have done nobly.

THE BOSTON & MONTANA SMELTER.

When yesterday's morning train backed into our depot the familiar looking private car of J. J. Hill was noticed, attached to No. 4 and conjectures were rife as to the meaning of a visit by the great railroad magnate at this date. But soon all questioning ceased when it was announced that the private car of Mr. Hill contained some of the leading men of the Boston & Montana Smelting Co. and that they were in our city on a three or four day's visit.

A LEADER representative interviewed Mr. Parsons yesterday evening and was given about the following outline of their intentions and doings while in Great Falls:

With Mr. Gibson they will make an examination of Great Falls and its principal features; the Sand Coulee coal mines, the proposed smelter site and the waterpower of the Missouri river.

As soon as their visit here is completed they intend going to Butte and viewing their copper mine, the "Mountain View," which the company owns and which is the greatest copper mine in the world.

The party is composed of H. M. Bigelow, Boston, treasurer of the B. & M., Edward Lewiston, New York, director of the company, Edward S. Grew, Boston, owner of large interests in the B. & M., and Chas. O. Parsons, consulting engineer of the B. & M. and who has been a visitor to our city before.

They will visit Sand Coulee this morning and return in the afternoon, when they will visit other places of interest. It is with great contemplation our citizens have looked forward to the coming of this noted party and now that they are here, nothing will be left undone to try and entertain the worthy guests.

Locals From Last Evening's Bladder.

R. W. Collins of Cascade is in town.

J. O. Gregg will remain in Great Falls another day or two before going east.

R. W. Collins is down from Cascade.

J. O. Gregg of Fargo, started east today to attend to the lithographic work and other interests connected with the new addition, North Great Falls.

This is the kind of trash that fills the bladder. Its straddling propensities extend even to the locals. Can it ever be believed?

Under the authority granted me in section 17, article 7 of the constitution of the state of Montana, hereby order and direct that terms of the district court in the 8th judicial district of Montana, be held at the county seat of the respective counties therein as follows:

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but she grew worse. He told her that she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from that dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this great discovery at Lapeyre's drug store, large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Colonist Sleepers.

The Union Pacific railway, also known as The Overland Route, has lately added to its service a number of new cars (which by the way are built by the World famous Pullman Company) entitled Colonist Sleepers, and which for convenience and comfort are but little behind the handsome Pullman Palace Car. The cars are designed for the use and comfort of the Colonist, who with his family intend moving west to grow up with the country.

The only difference between these cars and the regular first-class Pullman is that the Colonist sleeper is not upholstered. There are fourteen sections in each car, and separate toilet rooms for ladies and gentlemen. At night, by means of sliding head boards and heavy damask curtains, as much privacy is secured as in the regular first-class sleeper. Plenty of fresh, clean towels and a good supply of water are also to be found. A uniformed porter accompanies each car to look after the comfort and attend to the wants of the passengers, and no smoking is allowed. It certainly seems that for cheap and commodious sleeping accommodations, while traveling, these cars cannot be excelled. (12)

We call special attention to the notice at the head of the first column on the second page. We understand that irresponsible parties have been giving receipts and running accounts in the name of the LEADER. No one besides Messrs. Dickerman and Rolfe have had authority to do this and the LEADER company will respectfully decline being held for such. Any one holding such receipts or accounts will confer a favor by communicating with the manager and giving the name of the party.

ARE YOU GOING EAST?

If you are a business man going on business you make it your business to select a line of railroad in business style to get you quickly to your business, for in business "time is money." Then get your first business to go to travel local ticket agent and purchase a ticket through to your destination, reading "via Chicago, Burlington & Northern Railroad," and take no other. The elegant trains of "The Burlington" save from handsome hotel depots in St. Paul, Chicago, Minneapolis, and other cities in the west, and send their passengers in the same kind of depots in Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis without change, and in close connection with all leading lines from these cities. For more precise information address PHIL. HIRSH, Agent, C. R. & N. R., Great Falls, Montana.

I desire to kindly inform my patrons and the public in general that within a few days I will have three car loads of A. No. 1 cedar fence posts that I can sell for 20 cts apiece. G. H. GOODRICH.

A Triple Murder.

ISHPENNING, Mich., Nov. 13.—At Matchwood last night John McDonald went to the house of Duncan Beveridge to talk over some trouble they had about a homestead claim. During the conversation they got excited, McDonald pulled a revolver and shot Beveridge wounding him fatally. He then shot Mrs. Beveridge in the hips, after which he emptied the remaining chamber into a guest of Mrs. Beveridge's inflicting a fatal wound. A posse later on captured McDonald and were going to lynch him, but better council prevailed and he was turned over to the sheriff this afternoon.

The Manitoba will be Pushed Ahead.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 13.—[Special to the LEADER.]—The Manitoba road has issued instructions to all its agents to consign Pacific coast business via its line and the Canadian Pacific. This is owing to the traffic agreement between the Union Pacific and Chicago & Northwestern, which prevents the Manitoba from sending business to the coast via Butte and Pocatello. The most important part of this agreement will be to hurry up the construction of the Manitoba coast line. Several surveying parties are now in the field and

An Appropriate Toast.

Diners of military organizations are somewhat inclined to be remarkable for the wit, wisdom and good cheer which abound.

As an illustration, it is said that at a dinner of a certain martial body in a suburb to the west of Boston this startling toast was proposed:

"Here's to the company: Citizens in war, soldiers at home."—Boston Times.

Mr. Slowpoy's Jest.

They had had toast every morning for six weeks.

"Madam," said Mr. Slowpoy, "I am not afraid of pie; I can bravely face home made biscuit; I have never been known to fly from sponge cake, but," and here he wiped the perspiration from his brow, "but, madam, I quail on toast."—Munsey's Weekly.

It is not often that stealing becomes so cheap and easy that there is no more money to be made at it, but this complaint begins to arise from the publishers of pirated editions of foreign books.

They say now that everybody has gone into the business, so that the price has been reduced by rival houses below the cost of printing and paper. There is such a possibility as commodities being too cheap, it seems, and liberty being too free.
