LEASERS ON DAISY.

High Grade Ore Out of Great Round Mountain Property.

Two shifts of men are now at work sinking on the Crescent lease at the Round Mountain Daisy. Sulphides have been encountered carrying small gold values, but Superintendent Wm. Mattley says he will continue sinking at least until the present formation is passed through, when, if conditions are favorable, crosscuts will be run.

Colonel Cyrus Johnson, who is responsible for the Crescent lease, and who is entitled to credit as one of the gamest leasers in the district, is expected back from Pittsburg and other Eastern points about September 18th. Mr. Johnson has succeeded in forming a company to take over the "Slim" Morgan Daisy lease and will perhaps start operations at once on his return.

The Madigan lease is still taking out its quota of high grade and now has about 100 tons of ore on the dump that will go better than $80 to the ton. W. W. Booth, Jr., is here in charge of the Booth lease, and with four such gilt-edged leasers operating on the Daisy, things should take on a decidedly busy aspect in that neighborhood.—Round Mountain Nugget.

PROGRESS ON MILLS.

Machinery Coming in Constantly for the Various Plants.

The big ten-stamp mill on Mustang Hill is nearing completion, and unless something unforeseen happens stamps will be dropping there before the end of October. The cyanide tanks have arrived and have been set up and put in place. The big 60-horsepower boiler came in yesterday and the engine is being installed. Carpenters have completed the biggest part of their work and a crew of men are now putting on the roofing and sides. Practically all the machinery has arrived and a month more should see it installed.

Over on the Wolfstone, J. W. McVicker, a well known millwright of San Francisco, with a big crew of men is making good headway on the ten-stamp plant being erected by the Manhattan Ore Purchasing Company. The work of excavating is nearly completed and a few days will see the carpenters at work on the mill building. Some lumber is on the ground and more is arriving daily. Just eleven days after their shipment from San Francisco, the mortars were unloaded at the mill. Other shipments of the machinery have arrived on good time and what has not yet been received at Manhattan is either at Tonopah or en route from San Francisco. The work of construction is being pushed and the management figures that stamps will be dropping before the end of October.

Just south of town good progress is being made on the plant of the Rosario Milling Company. The greater part of the excavating is completed and tomorrow masons will commence on the concrete work. Lumber is on the ground for office and small buildings, and that for the mill has been ordered and will arrive before needed. The roads for the hauling of the ore to the bins are completed and a crew of men will finish today one which will enable the unloading of machinery at the mill site. No time is being lost and the six-foot Huntington, now en route from Salt Lake to Austin will be installed and running before October 1st.—Manhattan Times.

MURDERER BUCK BE RE-SENTENCED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Morris Buck, murderer of Mrs. C. A. Canfield, will be returned to Los Angeles from San Quentin to again hear his death penalty pronounced. Judge W. P. James, upon receipt of the Supreme Court remittitur today, issued an order for the sheriff to produce the criminal forthwith.

Buck's long fight for life is at an end, and the only power that can save him is the governor, but a period of sixty days must elapse between the time of re-sentencing and execution.

Buck, who killed Mrs. Canfield on her own doorstep in this city, January 26, 1906, had lived in hope until August 14, when the Supreme Court denied him a new trial and affirmed the judgment of the Superior Court, where he was sentenced to hang.

He was taken to San Quentin to be hanged June 21, 1906, and has been confined there since the final futile fight was begun to save him from the hangman's noose.

CANOE WRECKED FOUR DROWNED

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 20.—Four men, James Muaro of Victoria, Ed. Williams of Esquimaux, James Dibble and Arthur Nelson, a prospector, were drowned in a rapid stream flowing through a canyon near Hazelton. The men were in a canoe, with four other white passengers. The boat was manned by two Indians, who were unable to control the movements of the canoe and it was wrecked.

SPRUCEMONT OPERATIONS.

Doing Development Work on an Extensive Scale.

The Big Four Nevada Mining company, inc., which last fall purchased the interests of Abner Wiseman, J. E. Maylette, J. A. Jenkins and J. J. Wiseman in a group of claims at Sprucemont, have done considerable development work on the properties this summer. The work has been carried on under the direction of W. J. Shelton, manager for the company. Mr. Shelton believes his company owns some of the most valuable ground in the Sprucemont district, and is preparing to push the work of development on a more extensive scale than has heretofore been accomplished.

Among the claims on which considerable development has been done during the past few months is the Neversweat. On this claim a tunnel and open cut to the length of fifty feet, have been driven. While driving this tunnel a large ledge has been encountered and the latter part of last week the ledge had been entered to the depth of twenty feet, and the miners were still in the ledge matter. On the Neversweat a shaft is now being sunk. This shaft is now forty feet deep, and the company figures on going down 200 feet and then cross-cutting. On this claim considerable good shipping ore has already been uncovered, and as work progresses and depth is attained the character of the ore becomes better. The ore runs from 10 to 50 per cent copper, also carrying good values in silver.

The richest ore ever encountered in the district was discovered on one of the claims, the Big Four, now the property of the Big Four company. This find gave 250 ounces in silver, $10 in gold and 24 per cent copper to the ton. The discovery was made prior to the time the present company took charge of the property. The vein pitched into the hill and the shaft cut through the great values. It is now proposed to crosscut and again open up the ledge at greater depth.

In the Keystone, another claim belonging to the Big Four company, there is known to exist a very large porphyry dyke. This porphyry had been penetrated years ago by a tunnel, and work is now being carried on from a crosscut from the old tunnel to tap this dyke. This crosscut has run through a large iron dyke, from which the copper has been leached, but which is sure to retain its values at depth. When the contact between the porphyry and lime formations is reached it is believed, and every indication gives good promise for this belief, that a huge ore body will be uncovered. Should it so happen that the ore is not encountered at that exact point, it is the purpose to turn and drift along the porphyry until it is found.—Nevada State Journal.

Prof. Fritz Knorr, of the Colorado Agricultural College, has found to bacca growing wild in great profusion in the Montezuma Valley of Colorado.

TO INSPECT THE TONOPAH EXTEN.

H. M. Raberg, of New York, and M. H. Ward, of Pittsburg, brother-in-law of Charles M. Schwab, and both directors of the Tonopah Extension Mining Company, expect to leave very shortly for Tonopah, where they will inspect the recent development operations going on at the Tonopah Extension property to catch the ore at depths below the intrusions, on which most of the work is now being concentrated, says the New York Commercial.

They will also come to some definite conclusion as to the type and style of mill that they will recommend to be constructed to treat the lower grades of ore opened on the higher levels of this property. They intend to be gone about two weeks.

For some time the officials of the company have been at work on a plan by which it was hoped to reduce the extension ores at least cost. At the present time no ore netting less than $30 a ton can be shipped, and at that the profit is very small. By the process they have in view, it is claimed that the ore can be reduced at Tonopah at a cost of about $3 a ton, which will render available all the low grade ore of the camp and make mines of many of the properties that are now unable to do any shipping.

The main veins which were lost by the intrusion of rock carrying no values are expected to be reached by the latter part of January.

From Tonopah comes the news that the most important development work now being prosecuted in that district is being done by the Tonopah Extension Mining Company. General Manager Kirchen reports that the crosscut on the 1000-foot level is now 385 feet from the shaft and a progress of six feet a day is being made. It is calculated that it will be necessary to run 1000 feet to catch the ledge, which will probably be encountered about 200 feet below the intrusion of dacite. The breast of the crosscut, which is in porphyry, shows stringers of quartz and pyrites carrying values of a few dollars a ton.

The ore is of good shipping grade and Manager Kirchen states that the ore shipped in August showed higher average values than any heretofore shipped from the mine. The developments on the lower levels of the Extension are being watched with interest, as the finding of the ledge below the intrusion would double the value of the mine and encourage a similar exploration in all the properties in the district.

ASKED AND ANSWERED.

"How long have you been married?" asked the friend who had just returned from a trip abroad.

"Six months," was the reply.

"And how does matrimony strike you?" queried the other.

"Oh, like a good many of my acquaintances—for money," answered the ex-bachelor.—Chicago News.
