SWEATING GOLD COIN HIS GRAFT

SALT LAKE, Utah, April 2.—Sweating gold coin is the charge made against Eben J. Gregory, a reputed mining broker of this city. He was arrested by R. K. Goddard of the United States secret service. If the authorities are not mistaken, Gregory has been at the business for about two years and by subjecting them to a chemical bath has reduced the weight of all the coins that passed through his hands about 10 per cent. His frequent shipments to the Denver mint and the extreme purity of his product drew the attention of the government to him. His last consignment of gold, made March 23, brought him $385 from the mint.

TELLURIDE ORE AT SEARCHLIGHT

Details are lacking, but from authoritative sources it is learned that a strike of telluride ore has been made at Eldorado Canyon.

It seems that A. O. Ellis, president and general manager of the Victor-Queen Bee Mining Company, has been doing desultory work on this property for some months past. An eight-foot lead was exploited which showed great strength and continuity, but judged by panning results were hardly satisfactory. Camp fire tests were resorted to, which gave just enough evidences of the true values of the ore to lead Mr. Ellis to have assays made.

The results of the assays were astonishing. Two certificates were shown by Mr. Ellis to friends at Nelson which were the results of general samplings across the entire eight feet. One ran $600 and the other $900.

Mr. Ellis is now in San Francisco, the home office of the company, and his sudden departure, together with the fact that he has on several different occasions stated his belief in the existence of telluride ore on his property, lends additional color to the reported strike.

Additional information was gained yesterday from A. J. Peak regarding the Ellis strike. He said:

"I visited the property a few days ago with A. K. Wright. Mr. Ellis was absent, but the young man in charge showed us around. A great deal of work has been done and apparently with good results without exception. The telluride ore was found some eighty feet in a tunnel. This tunnel had been run in on the ore, following what appeared to be a wall, but near the face this wall was broken through and disclosed an additional four feet of ore. Sampling this four feet, and the four feet in the face, eight feet in all, an assay was made which ran $900. Very much excited, but at the same time skeptical as to the correctness of the return, Mr. Ellis loaded up with more samples and hurried to San Francisco. In that city not one, but a number of assays and checks were run, and $600 was the lowest result. Practically all the values are in gold."

Mr. Peak was asked why it was that the true value of the ore had not been known before, and in reply he said: "I asked the same thing, and it was explained to me that it had been known to them in a general way, but that the ore had been spotted. One day it would have values and the next day perhaps little or nothing."—Searchlight Bulletin.

FRAUDULENT LAND CASES ON TRIAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—Trial of the land fraud cases against Frederick A. Hyde, John A. Benson, Henry P. Dimond and Joost H. Schneider, involving an alleged conspiracy to defraud the United States government out of valuable lands in several western states, was begun today before Justice Stafford in the criminal court No. 1 here.

Upwards of 200 witnesses from fourteen states in the west, where the alleged fraudulent acquisitions of lands was effected, are here for the trial. This case has been on the docket here and in California for the past four years, the trial having been postponed from time to time. One of the delays was caused because of lack of funds to pay witness fees and other expenses. An appropriation of $60,000 was made by congress at its present session to cover the cost of the trial.
