

REPUBLICANS OPEN THEIR CAMPAIGN

Maxson, Morehouse and Others Addressed Appreciative Audiences Last Night on Public Issues.

There was a big crowd at Miners' Exchange hall last evening when the Republican campaign was practically opened in Tonopah—so far as flow of rhetoric is concerned—by Hon. H. B. Maxson and Hon. H. V. Morehouse and Hon. P. M. Bowler.

The meeting was called to order by Mark R. Averill, and Col. Maxson, Republican candidate for congress, after a brief address by Chairman Averill was introduced to the audience amid cheering. Colonel Maxson made a short but succinct address, and devoted some little part of it to his labor record, pointing out that in Tombstone, Arizona, some years ago, he had continued to pay miners in his employ $4 per day for eight hours' work, when the balance of the miners were on strike for recognition of the eight-hour demand.

L. A. Gibbons, Republican candidate for district attorney, was next introduced. In the course of his address he showed that a district attorney has two primal duties—civil duties in advising the county commissioners and other county officers as to proper procedures; prosecution duties, in cases of violation of the laws. He pledged himself, if elected, to do his whole duty. Touching upon the Rickey case, Mr. Gibbons said that if he were elected he would carry out the laws and the wishes of the people as to the banker's trial.

Hon. H. V. Morehouse was the next speaker—the speaker of the evening, in fact. His address was more extended than those of the other speakers, and was general in its scope, being a most comprehensive elucidation of the Republican national platform. He paid a glowing tribute to the work of Roosevelt in purifying the business morals and systems of the country, and then eulogized Taft as a man fitted by all qualifications of heart and mind, education and experience, capability and ability, to carry out the Roosevelt policies at home and abroad, fearlessly and justly.

The speakers were frequently interrupted by applause, and attention was intense throughout all the addresses.

A Liberal Donation to Fire Laddies

"Mr. George B. Swasey, Chief Tonopah Volunteer Fire Department, Tonopah, Nevada:

"My Dear Mr. Swasey—Referring to your letter of September 8, in which you ask the Tonopah Mine Operators' association for financial assistance toward the erection of a gymnasium for the volunteer fire department, to cost approximately $2300.

"Your communication was read at a meeting of this association, held October 7, and I was directed to inform you that this association will give a total of $500 for this purpose, after you have raised the other $1800, which you estimate as being necessary to complete the building.

"The members of the Tonopah Mine Operators' association were very much interested in your good work, and wish you much success.

"Yours very truly,

"W. W. CHARLES, Secretary."

The above letter is self-explanatory, and yesterday evening the members of the fire department were jubilant over the liberal donation, and which puts their proposed gymnasium "in sight." The donation was unexpected as to size and shows that the mine operators' association is certainly appreciative of the work of the department. It is to be hoped that other large concerns and organizations follow up the good precedent now established, and lend further aid to the department.
