

OVATION FOR WM. TAFT IN NEW YORK

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—William H. Taft and Charles E. Hughes were the attraction at a great Republican mass meeting at Madison Square Garden tonight. The meeting was remarkable in several respects. At every mention of Hughes' name the hall resounded with cheering and when he entered the hall the crowd, which filled every available space in the auditorium cheered him for sixteen minutes without stopping. The governor made a characteristic address which was received enthusiastically. But it remained for Taft to inspire the greatest demonstration. For nineteen minutes Madison Square Garden trembled with stamping of feet and a roar of voices. When the noise ceased Taft began his address in a very hoarse voice, but the crowd was satisfied merely to look at him and his every word was cheered. During the day Taft addressed fourteen meetings and Governor Hughes spoke at fifteen. Tonight while the Madison Square Garden meeting was in progress a giant parade was wending its way in a downpour of rain through the heart of the city. Hours before the doors of the garden opened long lines of ticket holders had formed. By 8 o'clock despite a heavy rain, which set in an hour before, the police had to bar all except reserved seat ticket holders. A band of a hundred pieces kept the crowd from becoming impatient during the hour or more which elapsed before General Horace Porter, who presided, called the meeting to order.

When Senator Lodge appeared on the platform the music was drowned out by cheering. Senator Dewey and State Chairman Woodruff were greeted by similar demonstrations.

General Porter was introduced at 8:30 and began by attacking Bryan, saying he is suffering from some political and financial delusions. General Porter and Senator Lodge spoke in strong terms favoring the election of the Republican national and state ticket.

Oscar Straus invited a burst of applause by alluding to President Roosevelt as the greatest president since Abraham Lincoln. When Porter introduced Governor Hughes as the next governor of New York, there was more cheering, but it didn't last long for the audience wanted to hear a speech. While the governor was speaking cheers were heard outside and shouts of "Taft, Taft, Taft" made him cut his speech short. Taft didn't appear, however, and George A. Knight of California introduced as the next speaker. It was two minutes after 11 when Taft arrived. After the outburst of applause which greeted the Ohioan he began his speech, which was very brief on account of his voice being hoarse.

Discarded Woman Had Her Revenge

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Fall River, Massachusetts, says: Like the climax in a drama was the revenge of a discarded woman at the wedding of her suitor and her rival here yesterday. The marriage of Charles J. Reagan, banker, and Miss Mary B. Chadwick, was the social event of the season. The church was filled with friends. After the ceremony the bride and members of the wedding party started down the aisle as the wedding march was played. A closely veiled woman clad in black robes, picked up a four-year-old boy and held him up to Mr. Reagan.

"Stop, Charles Reagan," she cried.

"Miss—Miss Sullivan?" gasped Reagan.

"Yes, it's I," answered the woman. "Here is your child. I've taken care of it for four years. Now you must take him—you and your wife."

The woman turned and walked out. The bride fainted and friends were horror-stricken. Reagan stood alone in the church aisle and in his arms the baby who was crying for his mother.

When the bride revived she returned to her home alone. Mr. Reagan left town last evening, refusing to make known his destination. He took the child with him.

Kern's speeches were brief, owing to a growing hoarseness and fatigue. After his speech here tonight Kern and his party departed for Chicago to make connections there for Indianapolis.

CASTRO HAS ISSUED DEFI TO HOLLAND

CARACAS (Venezuela), Tuesday, October 20 (via Willemstadt, Curacao, October 28).—President Castro, in his answer to the second Netherlands note, has declined to revoke his decree of May 14th prohibiting the transshipment of goods for Venezuelan ports at Curacao, which has been so obnoxious to the people of that island.

This answer was made September 12th. The president expresses surprise that the Netherlands government should ask for the revocation of this decree after acknowledging Venezuela's right to issue it. Continuing, he asks the Netherlands government to send a confidential agent to Caracas to arrange the terms of an amicable settlement of the differences between the two governments.

The chief of the artillery branch of the Venezuelan army, has completed the preparations for the defense of La Guayra. In anticipation of a naval demonstration by Holland before that port on November 1, shells have been distributed to all the modern guns installed in the forts on the mountain side above La Guayra.

DAVID B. HILL CHAMPIONING BRYAN'S CAUSE

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY (N. Y.), Oct. 28.—The feature of William J. Bryan's tour up state today was the appearance on the platform here tonight of former United States Senator David B. Hill. It was the first time in several years Hill had attended such a gathering, so that when he stepped forward as chairman, to introduce Democracy's leader, the great crowd which packed the hall where the meeting was held, rose to a man and cheered enthusiastically.

"Although not connected with politics," Hill said, "I reiterate that I am heartily in favor of the election of the Democratic national and state tickets. I'm not so partisan, however, that I would support the party whether right or wrong, but permit me to say that I will support the national ticket in this campaign, because in my judgment the presidential candidate is absolutely right upon every contested question in this campaign." Our candidate," continued Hill, "owes his nomination not to any one man or any set of men, but only to the people themselves. If elected he will be president for himself, and not a dummy for any man, and he will not be lead around with a string like a caged bear."

Ex-Senator Hill, referring to the Republican charge that panic would follow Bryan's election, declared that it would not be a business panic. "But it would be a panic on the part of hundreds of thousands of federal office holders and public officials, who will have to surrender their places to the victorious party."

Bryan received an ovation when he arose to speak. After expressing appreciation of his cordial reception, he spoke on the plank of the Democratic platform providing for publicity of campaign contributions before election. Bryan repeatedly referred to Taft's labor record and declared Taft is the most objectionable public man the laboring man of this country has ever known.

Tried to Kill King Manuel

LISBON, Oct. 28.—An attempt to assassinate King Manuel, whose death was to be the signal for a revolution, which was to arrest the throne from the present dynasty, was frustrated yesterday by a premature explosion at the royal castle at Oporto.

The explosion occurred before King Manuel reached the palace, which was being prepared to receive him.

An entire wing of the castle was wrecked and three persons were seriously injured, among them being General Cibrao.

The street police immediately made a large number of arrests, and it is said that a conspiracy to overthrow the government has been nipped in the bud and that conspirators in several cities are now under arrest.

The bomb was placed in the basement of the palace directly under the suite that had been prepared for the king and his immediate courtiers.

It was exploded shortly after noon by means of a time fuse that had been burning probably for fifteen minutes before the explosion.

When the bomb went off the king's suite was empty, but General Cibrao and several aides were in the adjoining room.
