

ELKS' SHOW BILLED AS A WHIRLWIND

Sapho! Zaza! Sylvia! Lottie! Maizie! Tiny! Six beautiful, fairy-like maidens. Six—count them. They make their first and last appearance in this city on Friday evening, January 22, at the Pavilion theater, when the Elks hold forth. This will positively be their only appearance in our beautiful city and to those who wish to have the honor of being the few that have the privilege of witnessing these beautiful, bashful, barefoot, bow legged maidens, all attired in dreamy creations, that actresses wear, and doing that famous dance. Secure your tickets early for they are going fast and hundreds are coming in from Manhattan and Round Mountain to see the ballet galls. Oh, you galls!

The famous prize beauties of large cities will not be able to compare with the fair, freckled face fairies in that ballet. They weigh all the way from 112 pounds to 400, and the smallest one wears a number 9 shoe. But they are cute just the same. The Elks refuse to divulge the names of the dancers and will spring them as their one best bet Friday night. Special tights (flesh colored) have been ordered direct from Paris, along with some special dancing shoes, and these articles are expected to arrive by freight either today or tomorrow. The dancers last evening received a communication from the S. P. C. A. society requesting them to wear masks, and they are highly indignant. Who ever heard of a ballet dancer wearing a mask—especially a fat one? Nix. Not for Puddy—I mean Tiny. Then there will be the elephant dance, the craze of both continents. The crowned heads of Europe are raving over this fete and it was only at great expense that a certified copy was brought to Tonopah. A baby elephant is now training for the eventful evening and if the thing takes well here it will be taken to the coast and put on the vaudeville circuits—that is if the elephant don't object. He also wears tights.

There has been some talk among the members of putting on a revised edition of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Bert Gibbons wants to be Uncle Tom and have Puddy Grimes as Little Eva sit on his knee when he reads the Bible. George Thatcher will be Eliza, and there will be something doing when he crosses the ice. The cake of ice will be portrayed by Tom Relsch, and Bobbie Bowers and Ed Malley will do the necessary barking. The scene should take well and will probably be staged if Uncle Tom can be coaxed to stand still when he is being whipped. The pathetic part, where Little Eva goes to the angels, will be omitted, and she will be shown at a free lunch counter, instead—holsting huge ones.

COMMISSIONERS ADJOURNED YESTERDAY

The board of county commissioners after being in session over two weeks adjourned late yesterday afternoon. The quarterly reports from the auditor and recorder's and treasurer's offices were received and accepted. A few of the bonds for the county officials which had at first been accepted temporarily were finally accepted. The list of bondsmen for the various county officials are as follows:

Roosevelt Hopes for an Indictment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The question of whether the federal government or an individual, or both, instituted the proceedings for libel in connection with the Panama canal purchase, still remains a mystery. A number of witnesses were examined, among these being Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of the president, and Charles Taft, brother of the president elect, both of whom maintained reticence regarding their testimony. All correspondents who were cited to appear, gave information of their connection with either the New York World or Indianapolis News, while several news dealers and newsboys testified as to having sold papers to the general public. It is now hinted that the president expects an indictment to be brought in the District of Columbia, regardless of any action taken in New York or Indianapolis.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION RUINS FIELDS

MANILA, Jan. 19.—The volcano of Lagnas in the Tayabas province, which forms the southern part of the island of Luzon, became suddenly active between 8 and 9 o'clock last night and the eruption seriously damaged the surrounding country. No report of loss of lives has been received. Loud reports and deep rumblings proceeded the eruption and were heard during the afternoon.

Telegrams received describe the outbreak of the volcano as a "giant explosion of water." The governor of the province reports that a large area of cultivated fields were destroyed, the highways rendered impassable and many bridges ruined. It is believed here that the subterranean rumblings and detonations warned the people of the coming danger in time for them to flee to the hills, thus preventing loss of life. From the reports received it appears that great torrents of water rushed down the sides of the volcano as a result of the eruption.

President Addresses Gov. Gillett

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—President Roosevelt's letter to Governor Gillett of California regarding the proposed Japanese legislation by the California legislature, dated January 16, states that the president is greatly concerned over the anti-Japanese bills which are apparently going on their way through the California legislature; that they are in every sense most unfortunate. President Roosevelt says that during the six months ending October 31 last, the total number of Japanese who came to the mainland of the United States has been but 2074, and the total who left has been 3181. The letter said: "More Japanese are leaving the country than are coming in, and by the present indications in a very few years the number of Japanese here will be no greater than the number of Americans in Japan; that is a movement which will be as normal in one case as in the other, which is just as we desire. This is no shadow for an excuse for action which will simply produce great irritation and may result in upsetting the present agreement by throwing open the whole situation again."
