BRIGHT FUTURE OF MAYFLOWER MINE

ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING MADE FOR DEVELOPMENT ON LARGE SCALE.

RHYOLITE, April 2.—Everything at the Mayflower mine and mill is progressing most satisfactorily under the able management of E. Sydney Additon. The mill and cyanide adjunct are doing excellent work, both as to quality treated and the percentage of recovery effected. And in addition are providing requisite data on the treatment of the ores of the mine for the planning of large reduction works in the near future. It is calculated that this little five-stamp plant is proving so effective that it will be easily able to produce funds sufficient to carry on an extensive system of development, and probably provide for the construction of a large and suitable reduction plant. Three Waugh hammer drills and a large "slugger" are being added to the equipment of chippy drills, materially increasing the force. Quite an extensive system of development and blocking out of ore is planned, which will require six or eight months to carry through. Meanwhile studies will be made on the best manner of treating the ores and consequently specifications for reduction plant drawn, which will then be arranged for.

Monday the civil engineers, Craige and Brewster, completing the platting of surveys for the subdivision of the Mayflower estate into blocks for the leasing boundaries. Now the leasing contracts can be drawn and signed, and immediately several leases will begin active operations. The Ayleward-Mason lease, situated midway between the Starlight and Mayflower shafts—a very choice piece of ground on the big vein—will push work vigorously on an extensive scale, and plan to be in bonanza long before the Mayflower's

OBJECT TO OPERA ON MORAL GROUNDS

Salome Will Not be Produced in Boston Opera House Owing to Protests of Clergy.

(Associated Press.) BOSTON, April 2.—The opera Salome, which the Manhattan Grand Opera company intended to present here next Thursday will not be given on account of the protests to Governor Draper and Mayor Hibbard by Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church, and Vicar General Patterson of the Roman Catholic church; former Governor Guild and other prominent citizens. The clergymen objected to the opera on moral grounds, many considering the presentation on next Thursday as a profanation of the holy week. The mayor notified the lessees of the theater that he would invoke such power as he possessed to stop the presentation.

SAYS REPORT OF DISSOLUTION IS CORRECT

PROMINENT MAN SAYS WINGFIELD AND NIXON HAVE DISSOLVED INTERESTS.

The report that was published several days ago concerning the dissolving of the partnership existing between George Wingfield and Senator George S. Nixon is now believed to be true. A gentleman who recently returned to this city from the east where he was in the company of both Wingfield and Nixon states that the dissolution matters were settled between the gentlemen during his stay there. He said that the adjustment of the affairs was made in an amiable matter for Nixon was not infatuated with the mining game and was more interested in the banking business, while it was entirely opposite with Wingfield. This move, it is thought, will be a beneficial one for southern Nevada, for with the management of the various mines resting on George Wingfield, he will in all probability start work more vigorously than before as he is willing to take greater chances in the line of development work.
