The line of march will be taken up promptly at 10 o'clock and any organization not in line will not be waited for. The parade will terminate at the cemetery, where the following program will be rendered:

Prayer by Rev. Lloyd B. Thomas.
Song by choir.
Oration by Walter D. Cole.
Selection by the band.

Decoration of the graves.

After the decoration of all the graves, there will be a song by the choir and then Rev. Lloyd B. Thomas will pronounce benediction.

At the completion of this program all orders will fall in line and march back to their respective quarters.

The services will be held Sunday, not Monday, as several have inquired at this office as to the date.

MANHATTAN PRESENTS A GALA APPEARANCE

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN IN LINE CONSTRUCTION HELPS CAMP.

Manhattan presented a gala appearance Friday night, when Main street was brilliantly lighted with electricity. The high-tension power line arrived in camp Friday evening, and a string of lights was run across Main street and lighted. The juice used came from the sub-station at Millers, and was 440 volts strong. The work of extending the line was completed into the sub-station at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Friday, and on Monday morning the construction gang continued their work on north to Round Mountain. They were due in that camp Tuesday evening or today noon, and expect to have lights (this) Wednesday night.

There are three power wires and two telephone wires. The distance between Millers and Manhattan is forty miles, and the men made six miles a day in constructing the line, with the exception of the last day, when the rough ground traveled made the work slower. At times the line was run at the rate of over a mile an hour. In stringing this line the world's record in line running has been broken. There were eight line men and ten ground men employed in the construction gang; the latter included four teamsters and two cooks, the remaining four being "grunts" or ground men, who assisted in construction work. T. C. Dobbins, superintendent of construction and transmission lines for the power company, has a contract for constructing the line. He sublet contracts for digging holes and placing the poles. C. N. Wickoff was foreman of the construction gang. The total weight of the wires and poles run from Millers to Round Mountain is 600 tons.

When the line is finished into Round Mountain, Mr. Dobbins will tender the members of the outfit a champagne supper at the Hotel Tarbell.—Manhattan Mail.

ALLEN CURTIS COMEDY COMPANY LEAVES TODAY

CLOSES ITS ENGAGEMENT AT THE BUTLER THEATER LAST EVENING.

Adios, Chorus.
For last evening was the last evening of the appearance of the Allen Curtis Musical Comedy company in this city and today the company leaves for Goldfield. Congratulations, Goldfield.

The Butler theater was filled to the doors by the theater-goers of this city and the bald-headed row was jammed, the occupant of each seat in this select circle vying to outdo his next door neighbor in trying to look sad over the departure of the company, but unable to do so on account of the comedians. Curses on the comedians. But they were good, nevertheless, and "The Frolics of 1909" proved a laugh producer of the first water.

The usual number of local hits were disbursed and all reached their mark, causing a few extra laughs not down on the program.

And tonight, there will be no comedians—curses, no chorus—good bye, chorus—no nothing, while the bald heads of Goldfield will be sprucing up and each will vie to outdo the other in the matter of distributing smiles. We never did care for bald heads any way.

WAYNE M' FADDEN KILLED IN MINE AT BINGHAM, UTAH

HIS FATHER, W. R. M'FADDEN, RECEIVES THE SAD NEWS YESTERDAY.

W. R. McFadden, former chairman of the Democratic county central committee, yesterday received the sad news of the death of his son, Wayne McFadden, at Bingham, Utah. The dispatch stated that the young man was killed in the mine where he was employed, but did not give the particulars.

Wayne McFadden was well known in Tonopah and had many friends here. About three years ago, when he resided in this city, he was employed in the different mines and was a member of the Rounsevell ball team. He was aged 22 years.

The remains will be buried at Provo, Utah. Mr. McFadden will leave for Bingham on this morning's train and will be absent about ten days. The sympathy of Tonopah residents is extended to the sorrowing mother and father, for the deceased was beloved in Tonopah by all acquaintances, and they are numbered by the hundreds.

YOUNG GREEK RECEIVES A LONG SENTENCE

RENO, May 28—Christ Panos, the Greek convicted of a crime against nature, was brought before Judge Orr yesterday and sentenced to serve thirty-two years in the Nevada state penitentiary.

Panos is a young man 21 years of age and could have been sentenced to life imprisonment under the law, the minimum being five years. He received the sentence indifferently and was remanded to the care of the sheriff.

A motion for an arrest of judgment was made by his attorney, Shutrel, but it was denied. Panos will be taken to Carson today by Deputy Sheriff Branton.

LITTLE FOLK ARE SUCCESSFUL IN PLAYLET

"THE TOYMAKER'S DREAM," AT PAVILION, PLEASES LARGE CROWD.

A grand surprise was in store last evening at the Eagles' pavilion when the students of the Tonopah public schools presented the playlet "The ToyMaker's Dream." The affair was presented under the direct supervision of Miss Halle F. Gelbart, who is deserving of great credit for the artistic way in which the little actors and actresses played their parts for all appeared to be veterans in that line. The pavilion was comfortably filled and the audience was an appreciative one.

The first part of the play presented a scene where the dolls were all scattered around the toymaker's shop with the black cat in the center. The dolls stood like so many wooden pegs, although some of them, especially the smaller ones, gave occasional indications of being possessed of internal mechanism.

The second part of the play was taken up largely with individual numbers and the little entertainers were forced time and time again to respond to liberal encores. To enumerate the individual acts and give personal mention would be impossible for each and every one of the youthful entertainers.

A comfortable sum was realized from the performance, the proceeds of which will be used by the athletic and library funds of the public schools.

Miss Gelbart, who is responsible for the success of the children, will leave in a day or two for Goldfield and Carson, where she will appear in her unique recital, "Rhythm Idyls."

NEVADA'S NEW EXPERIMENTAL DRY FARM

The dry farm commission has selected the northwest quarter of section 20, township 32, range 57 for the new experimental farm. A portion of this land has been cultivated and has shown its productivity in the past. The land lays between Pleasant valley and the South Fork and will be known to many of our readers as the John W. Thompson place. The leaser upon the ranch last year raised some of the finest vegetables that have come into the Elko market. There is a patch of alfalfa and hay land sufficient to provide feed for the stock in preparing the land that is above water for dry farming methods.

The place is an ideal one for the purpose for which it is chosen. The purpose of this farm as expressed in the act establishing the same is expressed in these words:

"An agricultural experiment farm for the purpose of making experiment and diffusing information in agriculture, horticulture and gardening in the semi-arid part of this state is hereby established in the north-eastern part of this state."

There is the beginning of the orchard from which can be disseminated valuable horticultural information. The farm is only fifteen miles from Elko and lies on the verge of a vast area of land that will never be of benefit to the county and state unless tilled by some of the methods of dry farming.

The next step is for the county commissioners to acquire the title to the land, for the governor and attorney general to pass upon the title to the land and if good the state will then accept and establish an agricultural experiment dry farm and the $10,000 appropriation will then become available.—Elko Free Press.

PAINTER HAS FOOT INJURED IN ACCIDENT

ED LAUER MEETS WITH ACCIDENT YESTERDAY AT THE BIG CASINO.

While engaged in tacking the lining on the ceiling of the Casino dance hall yesterday, the staging broke and Phil Recht and Ed Lauer were precipitated to the floor. Right escaped with a bruised hand but Lauer was not so fortunate. He landed on both feet with such a force that his left foot was fractured. He was immediately taken to his residence, where a physician was summoned and the injured limb dressed. While the injury is not serious it is very painful and it will be some time before Lauer will be able to attend to his duties.

WITNESS KNEW WANDELL SEVERAL YEARS AGO

WAS ACQUAINTED WITH YOUTH WHEN HE WAS ABOUT 4 YEARS OLD.

The best part of yesterday's session of the district court, where the case of C. M. Wandell vs. the Sixty-Six club is being tried, was taken up with the cross examination of Frank Palmer, who testified Thursday as to the habits of Wandell. From all appearances the plaintiff was a very immoral youth and was a frequent visitor of the glided palaces of sin.

One of the witnesses examined during the latter part of the day testified that he was acquainted with Wandell in 1887 and at that time the young man appeared to be about 4 years of age.

NEW USE FOR GYPSUM.

A new industry may be added to Nevada, as gypsum is now being made, into fine marble, a new process being perfected and put in operation at Richfield, Utah. Within the past few years the gypsum industry around Mound House has become one of the most important in western Nevada. By a chemical process it is possible to make the finest kind of marble with all the desired colors and veinings. The gypsum is sawed into slabs of any desired shape or size and placed into ovens, where the moisture is exuded. It is then placed in a chemical solution which gives it the color desired. After this treatment it is polished and the result is as beautiful a marble as one could wish for, and absolutely incapable of absorbing moisture.
