

LONDON WOMEN SLAP POLICE OFFICER

MRS. WOODILL WROTE LOVE LETTERS TO EASTMAN

Words of Murdered Woman Tell of Love

"Remember Me Always, as You Loved Me Best," She Wrote

(By Associated Press.)

ST. MICHAELS, June 29.—The feelings entertained by Mrs. Edith May Woodill toward her slayer, "Lame Bob" Eastman, are indicated in a letter signed "Edith," parts of which were found in the bungalow of the murderer and suicide Saturday. The missive, which is in Mrs. Woodill's handwriting, is couched in the most sentimental language, and presumably sent to Eastman, was made public today. It not only indicates a warm attachment for the man, but seems to prove that she had known him for at least a year. On the same paper, in Eastman's handwriting, is the following: "Little dear: I cannot live after our short—of bliss with the coming of our parting ever before us. If we meet in the unknown, let us continue the blissful times we spent here. I'm with you in every thought." A letter signed "Edith" contains the following passages: "Is the iron immodest when it creeps towards the loadstone and clings to its side? Is seed immodest when it sinks into the ground with budding life?" "Is the human soul immodest when drawn by a force, it cannot resist, it seeks a stronger soul which absorbs its ego as the blue sky absorbs the floating cloud and the warm earth swells the seed as the magnet draws iron?" "I don't feel myself to be bold or wrong for drifting toward you. I wouldn't feel myself wrong to go straight to you tomorrow. There is ever and always some human soul to love, and trust us." "Do I mean you? Did I say, long for you would be better, for every heartbeat seems to cry out against enormity crime that makes me no longer yours. All that is best in everything seems only to exist because of you, and for you." "I hate existence without you." Remember me always, as you loved me best, though you were a—bandit—a—anything—my heart would beat in responsiveness to yours."

ELLENDALE TO TONOPAH BY THE IRON HORSE

CORPS OF ENGINEERS HAS BEEN WORKING IN FIELD FROM THIS POINT.

It do appear as if Ellendale will not long be without rail connections with this camp. While it is impossible to secure authoritative affirmation of the report that the new camp is to have a road in the near future, it is a fact that for several days there has been a corps of surveyors in the field looking over the country between Tonopah and Ellendale for the purpose of selecting the most feasible route. The engineers are as non-communicative upon the subject as the railroad officials. It is reported that the Tonopah and Goldfield railroad company is determining upon the practicability of the road, not, supposedly that it is the intention of the corporation to begin at once the construction of the road, but that it may be in possession of data that will be invaluable to it should it so happen that the future of the camp will insure the success of the project.

FIRE MEN ARE SERIOUSLY SCALDED

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Five men in a torpedo boat hull were frightfully scalded tonight by the bursting of a boiler tube. Before King, a fireman of the second class, was severely injured and it is feared he cannot live. The boat was slightly damaged and repairs are already made. Others injured were J. M. Rober, water tender; Francis Crawford, fireman; John R. Carter, fireman, and Newton Carish, coal passer. The last named four were seriously scalded and is not expected to survive. The accident occurred as the Hull was passing down the entrance to the bay to Sausalito, where she was to have remained over night preparatory to starting for Seattle in the morning.

Hello, Bill! That was the expression heard on every hand last evening in this city. From the southland there arrived shortly after 7 o'clock last evening a large number of members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, together with many who by the time this paper reaches its readers will have been shown the mysteries of the order that has come to be recognized as one of the strongest and best in all the land.

Tonopah was awaiting their coming; the city put on its very best attire and by the time the train arrived this camp presented a picture that could not have been improved upon anywhere. The streets were brilliantly lighted by electricity, while the buildings were resplendent in the colors of the country intermingled with the purple and white of Elksdom. The population of the town lined the streets over which the parade passed, adding to the scene of beauty.

Immediately after the arrival of the train, the members of the order and those who were to be shown the way to Elksdom formed in line. Headed by the Eagles' drum corps of this city, the procession wended its way up Main street to the Solender building, the upper floors of which had been put in excellent shape by the local lodge for the reception of the visitors.

There were in the neighborhood of twenty candidates to be operated upon and the ceremonies lasted until well into this morning. There was but one interruption during the festivities and that was to partake of one of the most elaborate banquets ever served in this city.

The town was turned over to the boys who greet their brothers with the good old familiar expression, "Hello, Bill." The Tonopah members of the order showed the visitors the time of their lives; at least that is what they all say. Tonopah has long since come to be recognized as in a class by itself when it comes to entertaining and last night's celebration did not detract one iota from its reputation.

The visitors will probably return to their homes this morning. They will carry back with them not only the lessons that are taught by the boys who wear the antlers in their button holes, but also the knowledge that when Tonopah does anything it does it in a manner that causes one to regret the hour of departure.

The local lodge is entitled to no end of praise for the thorough manner in which it carried out every detail of the program. There was not a single slip to mar the occasion. The people also are to be congratulated for the co-operation they so cheerfully rendered.

Senate Will Consider Incorporation and Income Tax

WASHINGTON, June 29.—With the tariff schedules disposed of and the door locked against the present intrusion of amendments, the senate today began consideration of the income and corporation tax questions as connected with the tariff bill. The question of taxing incomes received attention while the tea provision was under consideration. Aldrich confirmed the rumor that was current some time that he advocated the corporation tax as a means of defeating the income tax. He also said he thought that for the next year or two there would be a deficit in the treasury receipts, which he is willing to have made good by an income from the proposed corporation tax. This declaration was seized upon by the Democrats as a confession that the corporation tax was a mere subterfuge to destroy the income tax. Aldrich denied that he intended to characterize the corporation tax as a subterfuge. Tillman's amendment providing a duty on tea at the rate of 10 cents a pound was defeated by a vote of 55 to 18. Flint, who will have charge of the corporation tax provision, spoke at length in explanation of the provision expressed in the opinion that at a date of 2 per cent on the net earnings of the corporations of the country, the revenues will be augmented to an extent of forty or fifty millions. Kean placed the figures at an hundred million. Cummins began the speech in support of the income tax and hadn't concluded when adjournment was taken. Flint will be in charge of the tariff bill tomorrow. Aldrich plans to leave the city for a few days' recreation.

Thirteenth Attempt To Seek the Premier

Mrs. Parkhurst Is Quite Handy With Her Suffragette Fists

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, June 29.—The thirteenth vain attempt of the militant suffragettes to obtain access to Premier Asquith resulted in exciting scenes in Parliament Square tonight and the arrest of more than 100 women. Enormous crowds assembled in the vicinity of the parliament house before the time set for the raid upon the house, around which several thousand police had taken strategic positions. The first noteworthy incident was the arrest after considerable trouble of a buxom equestrian suffragette who tried to penetrate the police cordon and take the message to the premier. There next appeared a deputation under command of Mrs. Parkhurst. Escorted by police the deputation arrived at the St. Stephens entrance of parliament where it was met by Chief Inspector Scantlebury, who handed Mrs. Parkhurst a letter from the premier regretting his inability to receive the deputation. Angrily throwing the letter to the ground, Mrs. Parkhurst tried to force an entrance. The police tried to induce the women to disperse quietly, then began to lead them away. To the surprise of spectators, who were massed around the entrance, Mrs. Parkhurst slapped Inspector Jarvis in the face, knocking his cap in the mud. A moment later another member of the deputation, Mrs. Saul Solomon, knocked off the inspector's cap the second time, while others made a determined attempt to rush the cordon of police. Eventually the entire deputation was placed under arrest. Altogether 112 women were arrested.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF AGED PRIEST

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The golden jubilee of Father J. J. Pendergast, vicar of the general diocese of San Francisco, was celebrated at St. Mary's cathedral today. Virtually the entire catholic clergy of the city and 200 parishioners attended the services.

BULLFROG BANK FORCED TO CLOSE

(Special to the Bonanza.)
GOLDFIELD, June 29.—Following an examination into its affairs by State Bank Examiner Van Fleet, the Bullfrog Bank and Trust company was compelled to close its doors yesterday. The examination of the bank examiner showed that there were but 5 per cent of the bank's deposits on hand, while the law passed at the last session of the state legislature makes it compulsory for an institution of the kind to have at least 15 per cent of its deposits on hand at all times. Since the panic, the bank has paid off 90 per cent of its former deposits. It is learned that for three months past the shareholders of the closed institution have been putting in their money in an effort to keep the bank's affairs above water. The chief stockholder in the bank is Owen B. Young of Grand Forks, North Dakota. He lately refused to come to the aid of the bank, giving as his reasons that he had done all he could do in the matter. It is not known whether or not any action will be taken by the state against the officials of the bank; in fact, it is not known whether or not that any one connected with the concern has transgressed the law.

STEWART CASE IN HANDS OF JURY

The case of the state vs. Stewart went to the jury last night at 12 o'clock. The fate of the defendant rests with the twelve men who are locked up for the night and who are expected to return a verdict this morning, provided of course, they come to an agreement.

PRISONERS KILL GUARDS IN BREAK FOR LIBERTY

CONVICTS MUTINY AND START TO ESCAPE TO EAST CAPE.

SEATTLE, June 29.—A special from Nome, Alaska, says: "Advices from Vladimir station of the North-east Siberia company, across Bering strait, are to the effect that a band of prisoners in the Yakutsk district revolted, killed the guards and started on a retreat westward 2000 miles in an attempt to reach East Cape. The Cossacks were ordered to pursue and take the prisoners. The fugitives ambushed the Cossacks, killing four and wounding twelve others, forcing them to retreat. The convicts then proceeded on their way. Approaching an Esquimaux village they impressed the residence into service, confiscated their food, clothing and dog teams. The Esquimaux made a fight in which a number were shot."

WRIGHT BROS. MAKE FLIGHT OVER FT. MYER

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Orville Wright made a successful flight in the Wright's new aeroplane at Fort Myer late today. Just after starting the machine swooped and barely touched the ground without damage.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The flight was short, the aeroplane encircling the Fort Myer aerodrome. A lack of power, due to a loose spark in the control was finally determined on by the two Wrights as the cause of the refusal of the machine to fly more than a few hundred feet beyond the end of the starting rail. The first three attempts to ascend were without much success. Trying the fourth time they remained in the air about fifty seconds, and landed almost immediately in front of the starting track. Tomorrow the Wrights will remedy the defects encountered today, and if the weather is favorable they will make more preliminary trials.
