

SAN FRANCISCO CHOSEN AS NEXT PLACE OF MEETING

National Educators Will Hold Next Convention on the Coast

(Associated Press.)
DENVER, July 8.—San Francisco will be the next meeting place of the National Educational association. The board of directors of the association, breaking all precedent in the respect that the conventions heretofore have never been held in either the east or the west twice in succession, decided to hold the next gathering on the coast. James Yarkin Joyner, superintendent of public instruction of North Carolina was elected president this afternoon. Immediately after the election, the resolutions committee appeared with "resolves and "thank you" resolutions which dealt with considerable length to democracy schools. A clause dealing with the subject maintained that democracy was absolutely necessary. After setting forth elaborately the committee's views, the resolution explained that to make this democracy stand out in the true light of Jeffersonian simplicity it would be the disagreeable duty of the preceptors to smite the fraternity evil in the high schools of the land.

LUCKYBOY MINER VISITS TONOPAH

Al Wardle, formerly of Tonopah, but now of Luckyboy, is spending a few days in this city renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Wardle is associated in the McCourt lease in the Luckyboy district and reports that he and his associates have encountered ore. The shaft on the lease has acquired a depth of thirty feet, at which point there is seven feet of ledge matter carrying values that are satisfactory. Up to this time the work has been done with a windlass, but the owners expect to have a hoist on the ground within a very short time. When the same is installed work will progress in a more satisfactory manner.

Mr. Wardle is loud in his praise of the Hawthorne district. He says that many tons of ore are being sent out daily and that times are exceedingly good.

Attorney J. J. Barrett, turning toward Assistant District Attorney John O'Gara, denounced the desire of the prosecution to press the Calhoun case at this time as a "corrupt political move, the only design for which was to aid the candidacy of Francis J. The request was granted and the city will have another vehicle with which to combat fire. The board will be in session for several days yet. The matter of fire hydrants will receive attention at the hands of the board, although it is not probable that action will be taken at this session of the board. It will require a great outlay of capital to install hydrants where they are asked to be placed. As a matter of fact the installation of fire hydrants comes within the authority of the town board. Just what action will be taken remains to be seen. The board is represented by full membership.
