HARD ON DIRECTORS.

Justice Van Kirk rendered a decision some days since at Saratoga, N. Y., which might seem to have a far reaching effect, if the courts of the country should interpret the law applying to corporations as he interprets it.

In his decision this justice holds that if directors fail to perform properly their duties as directors and losses result from such failure, that the said directors are personally responsible. Justice Van Kirk holds that if directors see fit to intrust the business of the corporation to officers and employees, they assume the responsibility, and may be held responsible for the acts of these employees.

"It is not a sufficient excuse," he says, "to state that loans were not presented to the executive committee; it was the duty of that committee to require them to be presented."

He says that the duties of directors are not entirely limited to regular meetings. It is not a full performance of duty to employ competent officers who are believed to be reliable. The directors have other and additional duties, he says.

RUN AT A LOSS.

The Wall Street Journal intimates that the proposed postal savings banks may be run at a loss.

Yes, such is possible, but what of it?

The postal department is run at a loss.

The army and navy department is run at a loss; not a partial, but a complete loss.

What dividends have been declared on the one hundred and thirty-five millions expended on improving the Mississippi river in the last few years?

How much profit has the government or the people received from the hundreds of millions with which Uncle Sam accommodated Wall street and kindred institutions?

How much has the government or the people made out of the hundred millions loaned C. P. Huntington?

If the Wall Street Journal will inform us just what investment the government of the United States is making on which dividends are being declared, it will help some.

WEALTH WITHOUT INTELLIGENCE.

What an influence newly acquired wealth can have upon the young is illustrated every day in the dispatches. The sons of millionaires are reported constantly for absolute defiance of the laws and for violation of the simplest precepts of personal morality. This is largely due to reckless over-indulgence. What can be expected from young men whose fathers allow them to spend money without limit at the universities, and who refuse to listen to the protests from the university officers on the ground that such expenditures are demoralizing? When those young men graduate they act henceforth on the principle of "let her go!"

GOLD HILL MINERS' UNION ELECTS OFFICERS

The Gold Hill Miners' Union held a meeting last evening and elected the following officers: President, C. J. McGuigan; vice president, John Roach; secretary, F. L. Clark; treasurer, J. G. Foote; warden, J. M. Murray; conductor, V. Bastian; trustees, J. Sullivan, T. Raush, J. M. Murray; financial committee, Thomas Stack, P. J. Lynch, W. J. Craise. The officers will be installed at the regular meeting held next month. The union at Gold Hill has a good sized membership and is in a thrifty condition.

A PRETTY HOT PLACE

The following is a negro preacher's explanation of how hot hell is: "Well, sah, if you take all de wood dere is in de state and pile it in one great pile, and den take all de coal dere is in de state of Pennsylvania and pile it on top, and den take all de oil belt and saturate dat wood and dat coal and set it all on fire and bring a soul from hell and sot him in de middle of dat fire he would freeze to death."

100-STAMP MILL FOR LANDER CO.

M. C. Scully, the mine operator and promoter, leaves this morning for Montreal, Canada, where he has interested a number of the most conservative investors of that city in a project that is of tremendous importance to the people of Lander county. This is nothing less than a deposit of free gold quartz that in places is strong enough to dazzle the eye. The ledge is said to be 500 feet wide and has been traced for 7000 feet. Portions of this are so impregnated with gold that the stuff can be picked out with a knife, with values running up into the pictures. The lowest assay clear across is $8 and from that up to $4000, scraped off the face of the ledge. The footwall is porphyry and the hanging wall is quartzite.

The location is south of Beowawe, about forty-five miles in a rough country, and the promoters think so highly of the venture that they are arranging for a 100 stamp mill for immediate construction at the mine. At present there is nothing more than a group of shacks, occupied by a few Swedish sheep herders, who made the original location. A power company will also be organized with a supply of water within easy reach. The electric line will be 25 miles long so that the juice can be supplied at a low rate.

Mr. Scully is so enthusiastic over the prospect that he predicts the erection of a 500 stamp mill before no distant day. He carries specimens that cause the eye to bulge, and he has exploited the ground to establish the fact that he has not picked up a rich surface deposit. The company that will operate the plant will have ample capital, as it is incorporated for $5,000,000. On the present trip Mr. Scully expects to be absent for thirty days, and says that when he returns it will be with orders to hasten the completion of the proposed mill as fast as men and money can do it.—Goldfield Tribune.
