MIND READER AT THE NEVADA MAKING GOOD

FRENCH HYPNOTIST CONTINUES TO DRAW LARGE CROWDS AT NEW PLAYHOUSE

Dr. Willey, the human electric battery, human mystery and a number of other things, with which he has been dubbed by the scientific world, is in Tonopah. This peculiar science is that of transmission of thought and mind reading, wireless telegraphy, telepathy, magnetism, metaphysics, writing by mental dictation, although he understands not a word of English, and other stunts, which to the scientific world are known as phenomena.

Willey is the most nervous man alive in the world today. When he begins his feats he is a magnet, sympathetic with everything he touches and apparently in the greatest agony until he finishes his work. He is a native of Paris, France, and has a gold medal and a diploma of honor from the government and from the French school of Hypnotism. As a hypnotist Willey is recognized to be one of the best in the country and his work is very clever. Discovering crimes by mental or thought vibrations is one of his mysteries. Walking a chalk line heavily blindfolded and finding a hidden pin through suggestion is still another.

The pictures for this evening will include "The Four Seasons," "Spike's Battle," "A new Shawl," and "The Conqueror."

This afternoon Professor Willey will make one of his marvelous rides. A team driven by an uninterested party will first go over a course and an object will be hidden. Later, accompanied by Professor Willey, who will do the driving, the team will go over the identical course and the hidden object will be recovered. The team will start from the Mizpah hotel at 2:30 o'clock.

PERSONAL

Clark James, a Manhattan mining man, is in town.

J. A. Rogers, of Death Valley, registered at the Mizpah hotel last evening.

Hon. Key Pittman, who has been looking after mining interests in the Yerington district, returned to this city yesterday.

Harry F. Lamb, who is operating mining property at Manhattan, came in from the northern camp yesterday, and will remain here a day or so.

Mrs. J. C. Piercy, Jr., and son and sister, Miss Mayme Roche, leave this morning for Chicago and other eastern points where they will spend the summer.

Arthur J. Aylesworth, the theatrical magnate, came down from Reno yesterday and will tarry in our midst for the next several days looking after his interests in this city.

Reading Saturday's Bonanza a woman noticed a sub-head under the announcement of King Edward's death, that George V. reigns, and that he would at once take charge of affairs of state.

"Now the poor king is dead," she commented, "and this George V. reigns steps in and grabs the throne. Didn't the king have any boys?"

DESERT TENOR DRAWING CARD AT THE BUTLER

EARLE CLEMENS CONTINUES TO ATTRACT CROWDS BY HIS SINGING.

Another large crowd attended the Butler theater last night and enjoyed the usual good show. The singing of Earle Clemens was again the hit of the evening, his rendition of "Molly Shannon" was as good as ever heard in this popular place of amusement. Commencing at today's matinee there will be another entire change of program. Tonight the theater will be turned over to the Tonopah high school, the entire receipts being given them to help defray the expenses of the track team to Reno. They have arranged a splendid program of thirty voices, well trained and will render some good songs. In addition to the songs, a splendid program of pictures and a good evening's entertainment is promised to all attending. The price of admission for the matinee will be 10 cents. The evening performance will be 25 cents.

KILL MEDICINE MAN WHO DID NOT CURE

INDIAN MEDICINE MAN EXECUTED ACCORDING TO TRIBAL LAW.

A strange tale of life and death came to light this week through an investigation started Monday by County Commissioner Wells. The story in brief is as follows:

An old Indian medicine man, locally known as Harry York, had the misfortune to lose lately several of his Indian patients. Among the ones whom he doctored with the wrong result were four daughters of an Indian named Bismark, and a brother Indian of the same tribe. Bismark brooded over the death of his daughters and decided that the medicine man should be removed. He went to Indian Mike Vegas Joe, Eschirp, Jack and Workoy, and frankly stated that he wanted help to kill the medicine man. They said all right. York, perhaps fearful of what was to come, had started on foot to Moapa, but was overtaken by his executioners about eight miles northeast of Vegas. Bismark asked York to come to one side of the road, saying, "You have killed my children." York left the road and went about two hundred yards, the others following. At this point Bismark deliberately raised his gun and fired. York did not fall. Jack then shot with the rifle, and still the old medicine man would not fall. Bismark then fired the fatal shot with a shotgun and laid the old man dead. The body was then carried a short distance and left, all the Indians returning to town. Next morning, Bismark and Indian Mike took a pick and shovel and went and buried the dead Indian.

Only Bismark and Jack were directly concerned in the killing the rest being merely interested spectators. The killing might never have been known if Vegas Jack had not volunteered the information which led to the discovery of the body. A jury was impaneled by Coroner Lillis and went to the scene Friday morning. The body was dug up and the three gunshot wounds found exactly as described. The testimony of the Indian witnesses were taken and the jury brought in a verdict of death at the hands of Bismark and Jack. The members of the jury were Ed Von Tobel, foreman; H. R. Beale, J. E. Westlake, L. D. Smith, A. D. Lillis and Sheriff Corkill assisted in the gruesome task.

A queer feature of the case is that the Indians who committed the crime are in jail here, and have not the slightest feeling of guilt, but think they committed a very good act in removing old Harry York from the scene of his unfortunate practice of medicine. Indeed it is reported a pow-wow and big dance was held on the evening of the murder in celebration of the event, in which there was general participation.—Las Vegas Age.

TWAIN'S CABIN A MYTH.

Since the death of Mark Twain all kinds of stories have been printed about his cabin at Aurora—most of which are clearly and purely "rot." Mark at one time lived at Aurora and had a cabin there, but there has not been enough of the aforesaid cabin there for years to build a cabin to cook breakfast for a jaybird. The late Hank Blanchard for years used to present every terdferfoot coming into this section with a piece of wood from that cabin—all of which came from a fence that once adorned the roadside near Sunshine—Bodie Miner.
