

POWERS SAYS GRAND JURY IS MISTAKEN

GARBAGE MATTER COMES UP BEFORE THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The report of the grand jury, published in these columns yesterday, having severely criticised the manner in which the town is being cleaned of garbage, the matter came up before the county commissioners during the afternoon. Ed Powers, the contractor, appeared before the board on the matter.

Powers denied that the charges made by the grand jury were sustained by the facts, and he challenged the grand jury or anyone else to prove that he was doing the work improperly. At present fifteen or sixteen wagon loads of garbage were hauled out of the town every week, and it was made a rule to call at every house in town at least once a week.

The point was made by one of those present that no doubt a share of the present dissatisfaction was due to the delayed removal of swill in some instances. This swill, however, is no concern of the garbage contractor, his contract with the town calling only for the removal of garbage and refuse, which must either be raked up in a heap or placed in a can or barrel. People passing by a house which has a stale swill barrel in evidence take it for granted that the garbage man is negligent in his duty. Instead, the swill is handled by another outfit which makes its own contracts with each household.

Asked if he was willing to make a trip over the town with a committee of the grand jury, to determine the truth of the matter, Powers said he was willing to meet anybody. So with the understanding that the commissioners would notify the grand jury that it was up to that body to show cause for their criticisms or forever after hold their peace, the discussion of the subject terminated.

NEW MAGAZINE WILL BE ISSUED IN TONOPAH

LOCAL NEWSPAPER MAN WILL BE EDITOR; A PERIODICAL OF CRITICISM.

The initial number of "The Prospector," a new monthly magazine of which Edward N. Buck will be editor, will be issued in this city in July. In style and get-up it will pattern after The Philistine, and it will be devoted largely to review and criticism.

The publication is intended to be something more than a merely local affair, although at first it will give considerable attention to Nye county politics. As the editor announces by way of preference, "the magazine will be a rip-snorter for criticism, and has no favors to ask of anyone." Practically no advertising will be carried. On the question of county retrenchment The Prospector will stand with the present grand jury.

In choosing "The Prospector" for a name, the editor had in mind the fuller and completer meaning of the word, rather than the one commonly accepted in a mining country of "a man who seeks minerals." It is here used in the sense of a scout who looks ahead.

ENTERED GIRLS' ROOMS AND ROBBED

MIDNIGHT BURGLAR GETS IN HIS WORK ON THREE CASINO MAIDS.

Three of the girls employed at the Big Casino, and who occupy the flat over the California Beer hall on lower Main street, were the victims of a midnight burglar last night, in which they suffered the loss of about all the valuables they had which were not on their persons.

The three girls are May Ward, Fay Bowden and Edith Blair. Each of them lost a suit case, while Miss Ward mourns the loss of a purse containing over $7. Miss Bowden was the heaviest loser, however. The robbers got away with her purse, which contained $43.90, a gold watch and chain, and a bottle of gold nuggets.

There is no clue to the burglars. Entrance to the flat, it is surmised, was gained by means of a window opening on the back porch. The girls leave their rooms at 8 o'clock in the evening and do not return until 3 o'clock in the morning, so the marauders had a clear field.

YESTERDAY WAS A LIGHT DAY IN COURT

TWO CASES UP BOTH INVOLVING THE MANHATTAN DEXTER COMPANY.

Yesterday was a dull day in the district court, there being but two hearings, both involving the Manhattan Dexter Mining company.

The matter of the restraining order against the present management of the Dexter company, prohibiting them from proceeding with the election of directors for the coming company year, came up and a temporary injunction was issued until a hearing of the case. The defendants have the statutory ten days in which to plead.

The case of Milo Plemanaz and others against the same company came up and was submitted for ruling next Monday. This case involves the forfeiture of the Plemanaz leases on the Union No. 9 claim, and the complaint charges conspiracy against the Dexter company, Walter Lamb and others to defraud Plemanaz of his leases so they could be granted to others.

SUSTAINED INJURIES IN A RUNAWAY

DRIVER THROWN OUT OF WAGON AND IS CONSIDERABLY BRUISED.

Arthur H. Keenan, who is a driver for a Main street meat market, was the victim of a runaway early last evening, in consequence of which he will be laid up for several days.

He was driving the wagon down the street, when a bolt in front pulled loose. The horse, knowing that something had given way, took fright and started down the street. In the course of a block or so the horse ran into another wagon, throwing the driver out in the street.

Keenan sustained several bad bruises, which were attended to by a physician and the man removed to his home. He was fortunate that no bones were broken.

JOE STENSON'S BABY DIES AT SANTA CRUZ

Joe Stenson received a telegram last evening that his infant child had died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Santa Cruz, where Mrs. Stenson and the children had been visiting since last March.

Mr. Stenson leaves for Santa Cruz this morning. The interment of the little one will take place at San Mateo.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS SANCTUARY DANCE

The dance of the Sanctuary guild given last evening at the Miners' Exchange hall was largely attended and was one of the most enjoyable functions of the kind given this season. All present voted the affair a big success.

JURY'S REPORT CAUSES MUCH STREET TALK

COMMISSIONERS INVESTIGATE MATTER OF FEEDING PRISONERS IN JAIL.

The report of the grand jury, made on Thursday, was almost the sole topic of conversation on the streets yesterday. Citizens generally, irrespective of political affiliation, property interests or previous condition of servitude, discussed the report in its various bearings.

As would be expected, opinion was divided on the subject of the propriety of some of the grand jury's recommendations, but the majority of the people seemed to approve of the report in the main. The matter is now officially passed up to the board of county commissioners. It is the only body that has any power to act on the jury's recommendations, and it will be held responsible by public opinion whether it takes one course or another.

The board took up the report yesterday afternoon. It summoned Vail Pittman from the sheriff's office, and asked him to frame up some figures showing what it would cost to feed the prisoners in the county jail under various plans that might be suggested. It was conceded that with but three men in the jail, as is the case at present, some method might be adopted that would be temporarily more economical. His report is expected in a day or so.

At today's meeting of the board some other features of the grand jury report will come up for consideration.

A BUNCH OF INDICTMENTS HANGING FIRE

ARE EXPECTED TO ISSUE TODAY; ONE AGAINST SHERIFF OWENS.

It is well known in court house circles that the grand jury is to return a bunch of indictments in the very near future. In fact, one—that against the missing sheriff—was expected to be brought in last evening. But nothing was doing.

Just who the other indictments will be against is not known, but it is hinted that there is at least one other. It should be, it is urged, are blowing about town.

The charge against the missing sheriff will, of course, be embezzlement of public moneys, against the man who provided the kids with those whistles that they No information is given out as to when the grand jury will complete its labors. The report handed in to the court Thursday was only a partial one. Other reports, it is understood, are to follow later.
