

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF HIGH GRADING

THREE GOLDFIELD MEN WERE TEMPTED AND ARE AR-RESTED.

Shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning Paul Bessetti and Frank Blackwell, miners employed at the Clermont workings of the Consolidated, says this morning's Goldfield Tribune, were placed under arrest in the change room by Burns Colwell and James Burnett, of the secret service of the Consolidated company, charged with "high grading."

They were taken to the Consolidated offices and closely questioned by Assistant General Manager Thorne and Attorney H. W. Hoyt in the presence of the arresting officers, and were later placed in the county jail.

As a sequel to their arrest, Frank Jardeni, formerly proprietor of the Carson saloon on Broadway, was taken into custody as a witness and was also lodged in jail.

At a preliminary arraignment before Justice of the Peace Barnes yesterday afternoon, Blackwell's examination was set for next Tuesday at 10 o'clock; Jardeni's for Wednesday at the same hour, and Bessetti for Thursday. Blackwell furnished cash bail in the sum of $200 and Jardeni at $100.

Bessetti was held in $500 bonds, which were not furnished yesterday. Blackwell is the only married man, his family consisting of a wife and several children. Bessetti is charged with grand larceny and Blackwell with petit larceny.

Blackwell and Bessetti have been working in the rich stope above the 750-foot level of the Clermont and are said to have been under suspicion for some time. Yesterday morning when they came off shift and went to the change room they were placed under arrest and are alleged to have had several pieces of very rich ore in their possession. When questioned at the Consolidated offices the name of Jardeni was brought into the case. Bessetti gave his residence as 1214 Broadway and Blackwell gave his as 921 Water street. After they had designated their residence, Justice Barnes issued search warrants.

Deputy Sheriff Bogard was called into service and a search of Bessetti's house disclosed a teapot filled with very rich rock. At Blackwell's house search revealed quite a quantity of equally rich ore concealed in various places. The Carson saloon was then visited and in Jardeni's safe was found a large piece of high grade rock that was said to have been placed there at his suggestion. Several small sacks containing rich ore were also found in Jardeni's room in the rear of the saloon.

Altogether, in the neighborhood of fifteen pounds of ore worth about $20 a pound were gathered in from the three places that were searched.

GREAT FILM FOR TONIGHT AT BUTLER

At the Butler theater for this evening the management will offer one of the most interesting subjects ever shown. The picture is entitled "The Red Cross Seal." Never in the history of the "silent drama" has a film been produced that has so stirred the interest of the press and public alike.

The following reference to it is clipped from the Milwaukee Sentinel: "More than 10,000 seats were sold Monday afternoon and last night at the Princess theater, where 'Red Cross Seal,' a motion picture drama, based on the anti-tuberculosis crusade, received its first public presentation in Milwaukee. Many people in the audience were in tears after seeing the film."

The other subjects that will be on the bill for tonight are: "The Exile's Love" (drama), and "The Death of Admiral Colligny" (drama.)

NEW ORLEANS WINS PANAMA EXPOSITION

Kovada Historical Society,
Reno, Nevada.

By a Vote of 9 to 6, New Orleans Was This Morning Selected as Site.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—By a vote of 9 to 6, New Orleans was selected today by the house committee on expositions as the site for the Panama Canal Exposition in 1915. The bill giving recognition to New Orleans was referred to a subcommittee for slight and minor changes. It is expected the appropriation will be granted.

The exposition bill, which will be favorably reported, recognizes New Orleans and authorizes the selection of a board of commissioners. No pecuniary aid is authorized, but it is understood the committee will favor an extensive government exhibit, to cost about $1,000,000. The subcommittee will report next Tuesday, when the bill will then be favorably reported to the house, where a fight will be the result. A minority report will be made to the house of representatives by those of the committee favoring San Francisco.

The vote of the committee on

Industrial arts and expositions was as follows:

New Orleans—Rosenberg, of Illinois; Langley, of Kentucky; Murphy, of Missouri; Woods, of Iowa; Rhinock, of Kentucky; Heflin, of Alabama; Collier, of Mississippi; Cullough, of Indiana; Irvington, of Maryland.

For San Francisco—Gardner, of Massachusetts; Southwick, of New York; Poindexter, of Washington; Maynard, of Virginia; Nelson, of Wisconsin; Steenerson, of Minnesota.

Local Disappointment.

The receipt of the news that New Orleans had won the exposition prize created decided disappointment on the streets of Tonopah. Expressions of disapproval were heard on all hands.

As one man said: "That let's me out. I was 'banking' on seeing the big show, but I will certainly not travel to the Gulf of Mexico to do it."

SKIPPED OUT WHEN PAROLED BY CONSTABLE

PRISONER LIED, NAUGHTY MAN, WHEN HE SAID HE WOULDN'T

Sheriff Malley returned last night from his trip to Round Mountain, where he went on a needless quest for the man who had been arrested there for larceny and was being held for the grand jury.

As has always been practiced more or less in the northern camps, to avoid confining prisoners in the chilly local bastilles, the man had been paroled awaiting the arrival of the sheriff, on his promise that he would not attempt to escape. But the man was a liar by a clock. He took the first opportunity to make a get-away. And now Constable Alexander wouldn't believe him on oath.

Constable Santos at one time paroled prisoners at Manhattan in preference to locking them up. But that was some time ago. On one occasion he paroled Flasch, the man recently killed near Ione, and the latter skipped out. Then Santos quit the practice.

And now the parole system is abandoned at Round Mountain.

PAUL MORTON CALLED TO REST LAST NIGHT

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society and secretary of the navy under Theodore Roosevelt, died of cerebral hemorrhage in the Hotel Seymour last night. He was stricken in a hallway of the hotel and died an hour later without regaining consciousness.

His wife and his elder brother, Joy, were summoned to his bedside, but he died a few minutes before they arrived.

His close friend, E. J. Berwind, arrived ten minutes before Mr. Morton breathed his last, but the stricken man was unconscious from the moment of the stroke and neither recognized those about him nor spoke.

The body was removed to the house last night, but no statement of funeral plans were given out. The coroner's office is satisfied that death resulted from natural causes, and there will be no autopsy.

Mr. Morton himself had no idea that his life was in danger, but his family, his physicians and a few close friends knew that his condition was precarious.

GALLAGHER OBSEQUIES SET FOR TOMORROW

REQUIEM MASS AT CATHOLIC CHURCH AT 9:30 TOMOR- ROW MORNING.

The funeral services over the late Mrs. Thos. Gallagher will be held here tomorrow, and interment will be made here as well.

A requiem mass will be held at St. Patrick's church at 9:30 in the morning, and at its conclusion the body will rest in the church until the arrival of the noon train, when the funeral services will be held. Interment will be made at the local cemetery under the direction of the Fraternal Brotherhood.

On tomorrow's train Mrs. W. E. O'Connell and James Gallagher, son and daughter of the deceased, will arrive for the services and burial. One son, Matthew Gallagher, is here now.

The floral piece offered by Tonopah Fraternal Brotherhood out of respect to the lamented dead is one of the handsomest mortuary testimonials ever seen in the city. The colors of the order are symbolized with white cyprianthems and lilies, and yellow cyprianthems and daffodils—the lodge colors being yellow and white. The initials "T. F. B." are worked across the face with blue bachelor buttons. It is a beautiful design.

ROW AMONG MINE WORKERS OVER CHARTER

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor late today decided to grant a charter to the Western Federation of Miners on the same basis that one is granted the United Mine Workers of America.

A $40 STRIKE WAS IT MADE ON MONTANA

A FOOT AND A HALF STRINGER GIVES THESE HANDSOME VALUES.

The strike made in the Montana the other day—a casual reference to which was made in these columns in the absence of more definite information—turns out to be of greater importance than first thought. The strike was made in new territory, about 1000 feet north of the present main shaft, and is a foot and a half stringer, which gives values of about $40 a ton.

The strike was made at a depth of 140 feet in a winze.

The fact that the strike is in new territory may mean that the richest part of this great property is yet to be opened after all. Naturally the management is very optimistic.

REGULAR ATTENDANTS.

The noble red man is one of the best patrons Manager Goodfriend can boast at his moving-picture show. The musical numbers are rather beyond the primitive Shoshone's taste, but he has an eagle eye for the pictures, and testifies his appreciation by sundry grunts which passes for language among folks who don't know any better. The squaws and children of the red man are in evidence at the show every night.

FIERCE FIGHT AT MIDNIGHT WITH WILDCAT

MAN AT GOLDEN ARROW HAS AN INTERESTING ENCOUNTER WITH ANIMAL.

It is an interesting experience for a man to come out of his cabin at night and be assaulted by a wildcat. This is what happened to J. W. Lasson, who is in charge of the Elftman holdings at Golden Arrow, the other night, according to a story told by George L. Bailey, who is in town from there.

Lasson heard a commotion outside his cabin, in which his pet cat seemed to be mixed up, judging from the caterwauling. He went out to investigate, and discovered that some animal had his cat down and was giving it all the worst of it. The moment Mr. Lasson showed up, however, the animal sprang for him and got a claw into each shoulder, ripping and tearing the cloth into shreds. Mr. Lasson managed to get a half-Nelson on the maddened animal and threw it onto the ground, momentarily stunning it, and before it revived sufficiently to attack him again he got out his knife and cut its throat. It proved to be a wildcat of very respectable dimensions.

Mr. Bailey says the Golden Arrow country abounds in foxes of the silver-gray variety, the pelts of which would be worth over $100 apiece. The other day, while driving across country, he saw a coyote making in his direction, as if seeking protection. As it got nearer he saw the coyote was being chased by a couple of the foxes, which were separated by a considerable distance, but running at an angle which would bring them together as they neared their victim. Mr. Bailey says the Indians state the foxes will attack and kill the coyotes.

"A man would make a nice stake if he set traps for these foxes," said Mr. Bailey to the Bonanza. "They are of a beautiful color, changing tint as the light strikes them from different angles, and the pelts would command a high place in the fur markets."

CONVICTED BANKER ASKS FOR PAROLE

NEW WALK LAID.

A new sidewalk is being laid today in front of the Butler theater. It is 2x4 stuff and will stand the wear of the crowds for some time.

ENCOURAGING DEVELOPMENT SAYS BAILEY

OPERATORS IN THE GOLDEN ARROW DISTRICT ARE HOPEFUL OF FUTURE.

"The district is livelier than at any time in its history," said Geo. L. Bailey, superintendent of the Golden Arrow Mining company, this morning. "More work is being done, with better results, than ever before."

Mr. Bailey says they are drifting on his property from the 100-foot level, the shaft being down this depth. They have a ledge that is between 4 and 5 feet in width between the walls, and are taking out some ore, but blocking most of it for future operation. This ore averages from $40 to $50, and there is lots of it. The company is working three men steadily.

Mr. Bailey says work is being actively prosecuted on all the properties in the district, and operators are hopeful of the future. There is going to be considerable done there during the season.
