

COAST VESSEL PUTS HER NOSE INTO SANDBAR

By Associated Press.
VENTURA, Cal., Jan. 28.—The steamer Coosbay of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, bound from San Pedro to San Francisco, ran ashore off this port early this morning. It is still hard fast on the sandbar, 400 feet from shore. The prow is buried deep in the sand and grinding considerable.

A tug being telegraphed for, the Warrior was sent from San Pedro, and is due about 1 o'clock. An attempt will be made to pull the steamer off.

The weather is calm and the vessel is in no imminent danger. She arrived here at midnight and remained here for three hours, took on a cargo, and drew away from the wharf. She lost her bearings in the heavy fog and stuck on the bar.

LEADVILLE IS AGAIN SHIPPING RICH ORE

LEADVILLE, Colo., Jan. 28.—Leadville, historic as a mining camp, yesterday celebrated its coming back as one of the great ore producers. Nominally, the celebration was in honor of Bobby Burns' birthday, given by the Scottish society of Leadville, but in reality it was to mark the discovery of millions of tons of what, since the days when gold and silver brought wealth to the camp has been regarded as waste, but is in reality carbonate of zinc of high grade.

It is estimated that enough of this ore is now in sight in the big privately owned mines to produce more in money than the district has hitherto given forth since 1879, and that amounts to $387,000,000. One feature of the celebration was a luncheon 1200 feet under ground in a hall, the walls, floor and roof of which were of solid zinc carbonate.

The celebration was conclude with a banquet this evening.

DR. BURKE GUILTY OF DYNAMITING HIS MISTRESS

By Associated Press.
SANTA ROSA, Jan. 27.—Dr. W. P. Burke, the aged proprietor of the Burke Sanitarium, was found guilty last night of having dynamited a tent-house of a former employe in which Lu Etta Smith and her infant child lay asleep on the night of February 5, 1910.

The trial has been one of the longest and most sensational in California.

SAID HE LOOKED LIKE ANDY CARNEGIE

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—"Mr. Carnegie, I am frequently told that I resemble you. I do not know who is the more complimented, you or I, so I enclose my likeness for your amusement."

"Thanks," replied Andrew Carnegie to this note from Lewis B Reed of Brooklyn, in a letter which the latter made public yesterday.

"Thanks, but you are too good looking—far too good looking—a very handsome man. I'm not."

Mr. Reed is 81 years old a well known resident of Brooklyn. His friends have long contended that he was a "dead ringer" for the great iron master.

NEW YEAR'S IS OBSERVED BY CHINESE

CHINATOWN IS CELEBRATING THE BIG EVENT OF THE CHINESE YEAR.

This is New Year's day among the Chinese all over the world, and in consequence local Chinatown is in holiday garb, with more or less feasting.

The Chinese calendar is rather peculiar. Their chronology is based on the reign of the emperor. With them time is not reckoned from the age of the world, but rather dates from the beginning of the reign of the present occupant of the throne. This year, for instance, as first moon of the year, three of the reign of the present emperor.

New Year's is a great occasion with the Chinese. They balance all their business for the previous year, collect all bills and pay all their debts. The man who neglects to either pay his bills or compromise with his creditors stands disgraced.

It is with them, too, the occasion of more social activity than all the rest of the year. They have all sorts of entertainments among themselves, and the Chink thoroughly enjoys himself.

SENATOR HOUSE DIES IN RENO

LEGISLATOR DIES IN RENO FROM ATTACK OF BRONCHIAL PNEUMONIA.

Senator A. C. House of White Pine county, died Friday at a local hospital after an illness that kept him from his duties in the senate ever since that body convened.

The statesman had been in the hospital for some time, and it was thought that he would recover from the attack of bronchial pneumonia which had stricken him, but the disease had taken too firm a hold and he passed to the great beyond some time after 2 o'clock Friday morning.

The nurse at 2 o'clock Friday morning left the room. At that time the senator was sleeping quietly and seemed to be resting easier, but when she returned Mr. House was dead.

His hands were at his throat as though he had been gasping for breath or was smothering. The doctor in charge was summoned but the patient was beyond earthly aid.

The remains rested at the chapel of Groesbeck & O'Brien and last night were shipped on train No. 4 to Trimble, Tenn., where the interment will take place. Masons and members of the legislature formed an escort and conveyed the body to the station.

SAN FRANCISCO'S TAGEDY AROUSES WIDE INDIGNATION

Policeman Who Loaned His Revolver Will Be Prosecuted---Wife and Boy Had Tried to Stop Gambling.

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—As an aftermath of the shooting of Gustave Postler in the Saratoga Gambling club yesterday, Chief of Police Seymour has ordered a general shaking up of the several district police companies. Captain Duke is authorized to make all changes necessary.

Charges will be preferred against Sergeant Donovan, who loaned his revolver to Edward Kripp, and Patrolman Wilson, who covered the beat where the gambling took place. Kripp will be charged with murder. All sorts of gambling implements were found in his room.

Account of the Tragedy.

When Postler called at the club yesterday he took with him his boy, whom he left outside. Then Postler entered the place and, drawing his revolver, demanded $1000. B. S. Goodrich, who was acting as treasurer of the club, began counting out the money and Kripp and two other occupants of the room made a dash for a fire escape.

A shot from Postler's revolver brought two of the men back into the room but Kripp continued to the ground. Rushing up to Police Sergeant Donovan, Kripp asked for his gun, stating that his place was being held up. Donovan gave him his police revolver, and then went to telephone for help. Seeing him with the gun, Paul Postler entered the elevator with him and, gaining the room where his father was hold-

RIVAL GANGS OF TOUGHS IN FIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Half a hundred Nevada Historical Society, rival gangs of Reno, Nevada, supremacy of the territory of Lexington avenue and 102d street and was inconclusive, as two policemen, who had heard the fusillade from their posts, four blocks away, came up on the run and swept a few of the leading combatants into a fence corner, where they held them until a patrol wagon carried them to the nearest police station. Examination showed that the aim of the fighters had been very bad and the list of casualties were only two who were carried to a hospital.

MANY PAPERS BEING FILED IS A GOOD SIGN

MINING INDUSTRY IN NYE COUNTY MORE ACTIVE THAN EVER BEFORE.

The great number of papers relative to mining being filed in the recorder's office these days affords striking evidence of the activity prevailing.

More proofs of labor, for example, have been filed in the court house the past few weeks than at any time since the boom days.

The significance of this is that the work necessary to hold the property is being performed, thus showing that the owners have faith in their prospects. It also indicates there is more money to be had for mining work than has been the case the past few years.

It is noteworthy, too, that all the camps of the county show this active condition. The filings come from every section of Nye county, some of them from camps that had no existence a year ago.

As a well-known local mining man observed this morning, "Mining in Nye county was never in as flourishing condition as at present. This year will be the banner one."

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP TRAIN

By Associated Press.
PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 27.—A lone bandit, who gave his name as Al Bettleby, held up the passengers of the Colorado & Southern passenger train, south bound, a few minutes after it left the Union depot yesterday afternoon.

When Special Agent William McCafferty of the Rio Grande, who was on the train, was informed that the bandit was at work in the rear coach, he started back and reached the back platform just in time to see the holdup man jump from the train and run.

McCafferty followed and opened fire, Bettleby returning it. Bettleby was shot through the right wrist and when his revolver dropped from his hand he surrendered. All the money and valuables were recovered. Bettleby is a well dressed young man about 25 years of age.

Today the holdup man said his right name was Al Bane, alias Al Bettleby. He gave his home as Athol, Kansas, where he said his parents and wife reside. He formerly was a Santa Fe engineer. He claims he was intoxicated when he held up the train.
