NEVADA'S SHAME.

"Decree Given Two Couples." "Divorce Wanted by Three Couples." "One Couple Married in Reno, and Wife Is Seeking Relief Through Courts."

Such headlines as the above in the Reno papers are evidently on a line with the policy of that city to give herself all of the publicity possible. To Renoites this may appeal as a fine business institution; the balance of the state droops its head in shame at the mere mention of the word "divorce"; almost at the mention of the word "Reno," or even the "University of Nevada."

Of course, the legislature had an opportunity to remedy this crying evil, but under the control of the Washoe delegation, which delegation was controlled by the Reno merchants, the Reno merchants passed the word "hands off," the Washoe delegation passed it along to the balance of the "spinless cactus" members of the legislature and the bidding of the hungry dollar-grabbers of Reno became law.

Again, two years from now, with a legislature of the class referred to above, there will again be hopes of the rehabilitation of which the University of Nevada. That institution of which the entire state wishes to be proud—but which unfortunately is situated in Reno, a town to be stunned by parents with growing sons and daughters.

Reference to the headlines from Reno, published at the head of this article, will show with what surprise that city meets with a couple seeking divorce who happened to be married in Reno. "One Couple Married in Reno, and Wife Is Seeking Relief Through Courts." And yet those most favorable to the "colony" would have us believe that the present laws are for the benefit of Nevadans. Puff, puff, and a couple of piffles; Reno must play the balance of the state for real "boob" country, when such rot is placed in circulation and expected to be grabbed as the "gospel."

We must look again and search farther. We had made up our minds that in Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, the young millionaire of Philadelphia, we had found the "white man's hope," but he yielded all claim to the responsibility when he allowed Philadelphia Jack O'Brien to blacken his eye and knock out three of his teeth.

When Mr. Morgan gets control of all the magazines we may expect to see savage attacks on the way the Turkish empire is run, and even a continuation of the exposure of graft in the pension bureau; but there will be nothing about lower freight rates or the hand of big business in government.

The married women of Pennsylvania, after a conference, have decided that the ideal husband is a man who doesn't spend more than 50 cents a day. If the minimum were fixed at 30 cents a great many men would of necessity be eligible for the ideal class.

Now that Mr. Aldrich himself is out of the United States senate, it will be interesting to note, when the next tariff bill comes up for consideration, if his proxies are as adept in framing rubber duties as was the ex-senator from Rhode Island.

Baltimore keeps right on clamoring for the democratic national convention in 1912, not knowing whether the expected extra session of congress will leave enough of the democratic party to hold a convention.

A New York clergyman says blushing is a lost art with the majority of women, but the proprietor of any drug store can inform the pastor that he has "something just as good."

ST. PATRICK.

Tomorrow is March 17th. Tomorrow is the day on which all loyal Irishmen, irrespective of creed or religious proclivities, will celebrate in honor of St. Patrick, that great patron saint of the Emerald Isle. St. Patrick has been dead for 10, these many years, but his memory remains as green as that isle whose sons will pay him homage on the morrow.

Just so long as man holds sway on this mortal coil, just so long as the Sons of Erin congregate, just so long will the "seventeenth" be the one great day of rejoicing with all members of the Hibernian race. Just so long will "Erin go Bragh" be the watchword of the race.

PLAY BALL.

The Nye, Esmeralda and White Pine delegations will meet up with the Washoe delegation on the baseball diamond tomorrow afternoon. It is to be hoped that all will put up a better game of ball than they have a package of legislation. The representatives of the southern counties had better have a care, incidentally, and see to it that the Washoe bunch do not put over another such proposition as the killing of the divorce law amendment.

AIN'T IT AWFUL?

Horror of horrors, the members of the state police department daring to think of appearing in a photograph alongside of the members of the legislature of the state of Nevada. Those members of the state police who dared such a suggestion should be severely censured.

ADIOS TWENTY-FIFTH.

The king is dead; long live the king! Same to the twenty-fifth session of the assembly of the state of Nevada. Today is the last offense of that body, which dies with the stroke of 12 tonight. Peace to its useless ashes! Legislatures will come and go in the future as they have in the past, but No. 25 of the assembly may rest assured that never will there be another that will accomplish less. It would be impossible.

What a joke it would be on the money trust if President Taft finally gets his magazine-tax measure through congress, punishing the publishers for criticising his administration, just as Mr. Morgan gets his magazine trust well started!

Fifteen sailors will remain aboard the Texas while she is used as a target for the big guns of her sister ships. This will give some modern poet a chance for a new version of "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck."

If that Chicago theater which has announced that it will employ Japanese ushers makes good there ought to be something doing in addition to the regular performance if Richard Pearson Hobson should attend.

A Minneapolis boy is having his legs pulled in order to attain the height necessary for admission at Annapolis naval academy. Why doesn't he run up a doctor's bill, or buy an automobile?

At any rate, Senator Joe Bailey has learned that to make a genuine hit with his constituents it will be necessary for him to send in a resignation without any flareback attachment.

Indiana wants a new constitution; but what Indiana really needs is some means of preventing her authors from further inflicting themselves upon the helpless public.

Every time W. J. Bryan announces that he will not be a candidate again he sends a shiver of apprehension down the back of each of the admitted democratic aspirants.

Reckless chauffeur who endangered many lives sentenced to 50 days in jail. Hooray! What's that? Sentence suspended! Never mind the cheers.

The wearing of a hobble skirt by a Nevada squaw only proves that the path of the white man is easy for poor Lo to tread when once started.

Love may laugh at locksmith, but jail bars prevented a wedding in Tennessee the other day. The would-be bridegroom was behind them.

Professor Zee, eminent astronomer, says comets are mere dust. Some of our leading stars also manager to kick up considerable of the same.

President Taft's term is half up. Will the interests be able to make the most of the coming two years, or will the people have an inning?

Still, in planning that trip to Europe, doubtless Uncle Joe Cannon will disappoint everyone by buying a ticket with a return coupon.

Even if Gertrude Atherton is a great-grand-niece of Benjamin Franklin, what's the use of making it public now? Ben can't help it.

Admiral Thomas wants to turn farmer. But does he know the starboard side of a cow from the port side in milking the animal?

BILL IS PASSED FOR HEAT IN ASSEMBLY

CARSON, Nev., March 16.—The assembly on Tuesday morning passed a bill making an emergency appropriation for the expense incurred in heating the assembly chamber during the session. The amount called for $1300, and although it passed without objection, there were some who believed it to be an unnecessary expenditure.

AMERICAN HORSES WIN.

PARIS, March 16.—American race horse owners carried off two victories at Saint Cloud yesterday. The Prix des Perrieres, for three-year-olds, value $1000, distance ten furlongs, was won by Eugene Fischhoff's Tas. The Prix des Troener, selling, of $400, distance six and a half furlongs, was won by Nash Turner's Alby.

MAN FOUND DEAD NEAR DIAMONDFIELD

Judge H. H. Atkinson this afternoon received a long-distance telephone message from Diamondfield, about four miles from the county line, to the effect that a man had been found dead at that point. No name was transmitted over the wires and the cause of death is unknown in Tonopah.

WHITE MAN'S HOPE DOWN FOR THE COUNT

OAKLAND, Cal., March 16.—Before one of the largest crowds assembled here for several years at a prize fight, "Gunboat" Smith, of Vallejo last night, knocked out Walter Monahan, former sparring partner of Jack Johnson, in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round fight. Champion Johnson acted as one of Monahan's seconds. Smith's punches proved too punishing for Monahan, however, though up to the knockout he showed considerable speed and cleverness.

ZYBSZKO VS. WESTERGAARD.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 16.—Zybszko showed great form here last night in his match with Jesse Westergaard of Des Moines and won two straight falls in one hour and three minutes and in ten minutes. The big fellow was the cleverer and stronger of the two throughout and never was in much danger of being thrown.
