MOTHER SAW HER CHILD CRUSHED TO DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—Before the eyes of his mother, 6-year-old Edward Fasset, of No. 2039 South street, was struck and instantly killed by a trolley car in front of his home yesterday afternoon. The mother, Mrs. Mary Fasset, was standing on the steps of her home as the boy ran directly in the path of the car. With a scream she started to his assistance, but when the wheels passed over his body she fell to the pavement in a dead faint. The mangled body was removed to the Polyclinic hospital, where physicians said that death must have been instantaneous. The mother is confined to her home, in a serious condition.

With a number of other children Edward was playing on the pavement in front of his home. As the car approached at fair speed, Edward suddenly ran from the pavement and directly in the path of the incoming car. As the mother screamed the motorman applied the brakes, but it was impossible to stop the car in time and the lad was struck by the fender. The small form caught on the iron fender underneath and, although the wheels did not pass over the body, it was horribly crushed by the weight of the car.

SISTERS ARE REUNITED AFTER 55 LONG YEARS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 7.—Two sisters, both over three score and ten, were reunited yesterday in a little suburban home, between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, after a separation of 55 years. They were Mrs. Mary Louise Tanner Crismon of Salt Lake City, aged 73 years, and Mrs. Emma Swartart, aged 75 years.

There was no emotional outburst, but the tears quietly trickled down furrowed cheeks.

"Really, is that you, Mary?"

"Yes, it's I, Emma."

"Yes, 55 years have made a big difference in both of us, Emma."

In the early fifties the two sisters came from Salt Lake with their father and mother to the coast.

After several years the younger sister went back to Salt Lake.

KILLED BY AUTO AFTER ESCAPE FROM ANOTHER

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—Jas. Bottomley of No. 6041 Pine street, became confused at the rapid approach of two automobiles from opposite directions at Marshall road and City Line shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was so badly crushed by one of the cars that he was dead when he reached the Presbyterian hospital. The machine, which is the property of H. A. Minor of No. 4009 Baltimore avenue, a concrete curb manufacturer, with offices in the Land Title building, at the time of the accident was being driven by Harry Powell, and in the car were Minor's wife, his mother, Mrs. Esther Minor, and a governess, Miss Jane Fowler.

Bottomley, who was 58 years old, had just left the Worley Mills in Cardington, where he was employed, and had walked down to the spot where he received fatal injuries. Bystanders told the police of the Thirty-eighth district that touring cars are in the habit of driving at great speed along City Line and that the two which confused Bottomley were going at a pretty fast pace. He seemed to lose his presence of mind when a large car narrowly missed him and a foot from the horn of the Minor machine apparently paralyzed him with fright.

WEALTHY MAN ENTERED ARMY; IS LEGALLY DEAD

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 7.—The appraisal filed yesterday on the estate of Thomas E. Dwyer shows it to be worth $87,000. Dwyer at one time was a prominent Sacramento. He enlisted in the army years ago and was never heard of again. As his estate had no guardian he was recently declared legally dead, having been unheard of for seven years. Sixty-nine thousand dollars of the estate is in cash and the balance in real estate and stocks.

"OLE" ELLIOTT SECURES LEASE AT BARRETT SPRINGS

TONOPAH MINING MEN GIVE LEASE TO WELL-KNOWN PLUNGER.

The following from the Humboldt Star will prove of interest to many residents of Tonopah, who are personally acquainted with "Ole" Elliott and with Johnson and Moden, both residents of Tonopah. Mr. Johnson is at present employed as engineer by the Belmont company, while Mr. Moden is located on the property. The latest from Barrett Springs, the near-by camp, is that W. S. ("Ole") Elliott has taken a lease on the property of Johnson and Moden on the west side of Laurel mountain.

"This property came into prominence in the early days of the camp when the claim owners first commenced to ship ore, having extracted a carload shipment from their vein with the aid of horses and scraper. This ledge is of good size and at all the openings along its strike the ore shows high values in gold and silver. Mr. Elliott states that he will at once begin sinking on the ledge. This shaft will be sent down at least 200 feet before drifting is commenced.

"Ole" Elliott was one of the aggressive operators of Goldfield and his advent in Barrett Springs means a great deal to the camp, as he is a man that does things.

"During the past few days the camp of Barrett Springs has been visited by a number of Southern Nevada operators and it looks as if the eyes of mining men are centered on this locality for a big mining movement."

WOMAN ELECTED MAYOR OF TOWN IN KANSAS

HUNNEWELL, Kan., April 7.—Mrs. Ella Wilson is now mayor, or mayress, of this city. At the city election she and O. M. Akers were tied for the office. At first it was suggested that the two candidates draw lots, but that did not appeal to the male voters. They said that if Mrs. Wilson could race a man to a tie, she ought to have the office. Therefore the judges of election declared her elected.

After that Mrs. Wilson gave an oyster supper and the whole town jollified over her victory.

Now she says she is going to clean up Hunnewell. In her campaign speeches she declared the town was harboring bootleggers and that the pool halls were being run contrary to law. She proposes to correct these alleged infractions of the statutes.

RUEF GIVES UP ALL HOPE OF FREEDOM

NOTIFIES ATTORNEYS TO MAKE NO APPEAL TO THE FED- ERAL COURT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Abraham Ruef will not appeal to the federal court in an effort to effect his release from San Quentin penitentiary. At least that is the present order of things as outlined in directions given by the former boss to the members of his counsel in this city.

Despite the final decision of the supreme court, rendered last week, although it was expected and although the appeal had been taken primarily to lay a foundation for action before a United States tribunal, Ruef has suddenly determined that he will stay quietly and work out his freedom in the jute mill.

The theory upon which this action is based is that a federal appeal would take at least two years to be decided and in the meanwhile Ruef would be ever before the public eye as a man whose case had not yet been determined. When a decision was finally rendered, if he lost, the general public would think of him as but just beginning his term of punishment. Whereas, by using his money for prison reform and for aiding and comforting his fellow sufferers in captivity, Ruef believes that he will gain a greater satisfaction as he really has come to the conclusion that he can hope for nothing from the courts.

PROHIBITION GIVEN SETBACK IN ALABAMA

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 7.—State-wide prohibition in Alabama was given its knockout blow yesterday when both branches of the legislature adopted the Smith liquor regulation bill.

Mackenzie interests will be decided by three judges, virtually sitting en banc. This arrangement was made on a suggestion made by Judge Somers, which met with the approval of the attorneys for the contesting interests. The three jurists are: Judge Somers of the district court of Esmeralda, Judge Orr of Washoe county and Judge Taber of Elko county.

NEW STATE MUST REGULATE LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The burden of statehood was brought home to Oklahoma yesterday, when the supreme court in substance told the state it must look to its own law to regulate the liquor traffic and freight rates, and not to the federal government. The state, about a year ago, filed a petition in the supreme court asking it to enjoin the railroads entering the old Indian territory from carrying liquor into that section. The request was based on the requirement that Oklahoma provided in its constitution that liquor should not be sold there.

The court held that the regulation of interstate freight rates was now a matter entirely for Oklahoma to regulate.

A similar decision was reached in the suit brought by the state to enjoin the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway from charging in Oklahoma a higher rate for the transportation of wheat than was charged in Kansas.

The court likewise refused to enjoin the federal judge in Oklahoma from enforcing certain decrees in liquor cases, involving a conflict of authority between federal and state courts.

WEST END STOCK IN GREAT DEMAND

Following the announcement of the recent strike in the West End that stock is in great demand on the San Francisco and New York markets. ### SCHEFTELS DECLARED SOLVENT BY REFEREE

NEW YORK, April 7.—The referee who has been probing the affairs of the firm of B. H. Scheftefs & Co. in regard to determining whether they were bankrupt at the time an involuntary petition was filed against them by creditors, has found that they were solvent at the time their office was closed by the government. Consequently a recommendation will be made denying the petition of the creditors that they be declared insolvent. This has nothing to do with the case of the government against the firm.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—With a deed of ownership to a cemetery lot in his pocket, Charles S. Davis was found hanging to the bars covering his prison cell in Moyamensing yesterday morning, having committed suicide during the night. He had been sent to prison by the federal authorities on a charge of misusing the mails, the specific accusation being that he had written Black Hand letters to his aunt in this city.

Nothing is known about Davis' connections except that he came here from New York and that his aunt, on his maternal side, is Mrs. L. M. Tully of No. 2400 North Broad street.

Shortly after he had come to Philadelphia Davis was arrested by Chief Postal Inspector Cortelyou's men at the instance of Mrs. Tully. The woman had received threatening letters just prior to Davis' arrest and it is believed that the writer, Davis, according to the allegation of the postal authorities, had sent them to her because he wanted a share of the insurance money which the aunt received as a beneficiary named in a policy of the life of his mother and Mrs. Tully's sister. Davis had paid part of the premiums.

Mr. Sulzer thinks it will have a much better chance of passing the senate if it goes through the house.

CUPID IS THE KID WHO CAN NOT BE BEAT

LOVE IS OFTEN FICKLE, BUT IT IS EVER AND EVER PERSISTENT.

Judge H. H. Atkinson tells a story that is one of the best that has come to light in Tonopah for some time. Several days ago a foreigner announced to his judge-ship that he intended to commit "for better or for worse" and as a consequence made an engagement with the judge for that evening, at which time the judge was to tie the knot. Neither of the contracting parties, however, appeared at the appointed time, and the judge was compelled to forego the pleasure of making "two hearts beat as one."

Bright and early the following morning the prospective bridegroom, fearing that he had committed a breach of law by not appearing at the time appointed, slunk into court to offer apologies and to advise the judge that his almost-bride had become inebriated on the evening previous, also that she had made several former matrimonial embarkations, none of which had proven a success; to the effect that the near-bridegrooms had decided that she was a "poor risk."

Upon departing, however, he stated to the judge: "Never mind, judge, I goa away and coma back in a few a day and I bringa along a fina de gal and then I getta de marry ala de right."

Ah Lee, the Chinaman who was arrested in Humboldt county for smuggling opium, pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Farrington yesterday and was fined $300 and ten days in jail. As this was the first case of the kind to be brought before Judge Farrington was the reason that the light sentence was given. The opium will be destroyed and is valued at about $600.
