

DYNAMITING GOLD AT WAR EAGLE MILL

The report of an explosion in the War Eagle mill Friday morning, startled passersby, and upon investigation, proved to be an extraordinary affair. A stamp stem had broken and upon opening that battery, the outer edge was so firmly packed with hard gold amalgam that a stick of dynamite had to be used to loosen it up in order to remove the broken stem. Great chunks of amalgam, half gold and worth thousands of dollars, were removed, but that below the top of the dies was not disturbed.

The stamp was soon in place again, grinding away on Big Four ore. They have already milled over $50,000 during the past two weeks and will clean up the batteries, as the War Eagle company wishes to mill some of its own ore. The Big Four leasers will continue their milling as soon as they can secure the mill again. In the meantime they will continue taking out the ore and pushing their development work into new territory. Today the Big Four will pay out locally $10,000 for milling, hauling and mining. Their payroll of $3000 will be paid in currency in order that the men may have ready cash for the Fourth. This will relieve the business men the necessity of cashing checks.—Manhattan Post.

ST. PAUL LEASERS SACKING HIGH GRADE

Melssner, Lee and Nash began sacking high-grade ore on their St. Paul lease on Thursday of last week at the depth of 21 feet. The ribbon streak of jasper came in at that point and shows gold in every piece. The vein was increasing in width in depth and also in visible gold.

The shaft on the Burr-Thomas lease is now 45 feet deep, with a vein two and one-half feet in width. The Mineral Hill company is driving a tunnel from the foot of the hill to cut the same vein at about 100 feet.—Manhattan Post.

A SAD HAPPENING.

Last Monday at Big Pine, William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith, while temporarily demented, slashed his throat with a razor, inflicting injuries from which he may not recover. Just as he had cut himself his wife came into the room where he was and he cut her badly across one side of the throat and on the breast. He also inflicted a bad wound on his mother's hand. He had been ailing for some time, and it had been feared that he might become insane. At the present writing all are getting along fairly well.

RATTLER PROVES AN UNWELCOME GUEST

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev., July 5.—A. M. Sainz had a thrilling experience with a rattlesnake one day last week. Mr. Sainz is operating near the New Era, east of Fourth of July mountain. On the day mentioned he laid down on the ground in the blacksmith shop to take a nap. The front of his shirt was open, leaving his breast bare. Upon awakening he was horrified to discover a large rattler stretched across his bare chest. Like a flash Sainz grabbed his snakeship and threw him off. The snake instantly coiled and struck at the man but missed his mark. Mr. Sainz then grabbed a piece of drill steel and killed the reptile. The snake had ten rattles.

THE SANTA FE MAY ENTER NEW FIELD

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev., July 5.—Within the week several surveys have been reported to be working over road surveys in the country between Ivanpah and Clark Mountain. These are supposed to be in the employ of the Santa Fe railroad, and running lines to determine the feasibility of extending the Barnwell-Ivanpah branch over into the Copper World and Yellow Pine districts. These camps have numerous producers which are now compelled to make long wagon hauls to get their products to the railroads and thence to smelters.

HANS SCHUMANN-HEINK WEDS.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Hans Schumann-Heink, son of the noted grand opera singer, was married here yesterday to Miss Zaida Lina Markler of Evansville, Ind., a pianist.

ERECTING PLANT TO TREAT OLD DOUGLASS TAILINGS

A Los Angeles concern has taken an option on the big pile of tailings from the Douglass mill, below Dayton, and is making ready to operate on a big plan. A number of men are now employed erecting a plant for the treatment of ores. There is a great tonnage of the tailings, and while it has resisted treatment by others, it is to be hoped that the new men, with their process will be able to get the values. It is a boon to old Dayton.

MAKING READY.

The Southern Pacific railroad is spending $75,000,000 in preparing to handle the great amount of traffic expected to San Francisco for the exposition. Officials of the road state that the Pacific coast is going to see the heaviest amount of travel in its history during exposition year. The railroad that does not prepare for it will simply get left.
