

MEXICO AGAIN IN THE THROES OF A REBELLION

People Are Terrorized and Eight Persons Killed During Revolt Which Lasted All Night--Other Mexican States Said to Be on Verge of Outbreak.

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 2.—The mutineers who seized Juarez last night and in drunken frenzy looted the town, were split into small bands yesterday, each recognizing only its individual leader.

Eight persons are known to have been killed and nine wounded in the overturning of the municipal government and in the promiscuous fight which continued throughout the night.

Other wounded are believed to be secreted in private houses. Further trouble is believed to be inevitable, as the malcontents, having declared themselves adherents of Emiliano Zapata, who is in revolt against President Madero, assert that they will fight any force sent to recapture the town.

In line with this purpose several railway bridges south of the city were destroyed to check the advance of troop trains, and scouting parties sent out to note the approach of government soldiers.

The leaders, however, declare they have little fear of an attack, and they claim to have been informed that the garrisons at Torreon and Chihuahua also revolted last night.

As all wires leading south have been cut it is impossible to verify these reports.

Matt Winn, manager of the Juarez race track, formally announced that owing to the riot, that Americans were not allowed to cross, there will be no racing this week. He added that he would resume the sport as soon as possible.

Several stores were robbed of practically all their contents, including those of Simon Pickard, Kleinman and Henry Sprinz, all carrying large stocks. Pickard says his loss is $30,000. All the saloons were looted of liquors, and in many cases the safes were blown open and the money taken. Many of the mutineers are frenzied from drink and their indiscriminate discharge of firearms continues.

The mutineers have established a guard at the Mexican ends of the international bridges and are refusing permission to Americans to cross.

Four troops of the Fourth United States cavalry are guarding the American approaches to the bridge.

The mutineers are in absolute possession of every public building in the town and have destroyed many public records.

Various reasons are given for the mutiny. Some say they mutinied because some of their fellow soldiers had been ordered discharged; some declared they rebelled because Madero has not brought about the reforms he promised; some say that Pascual Orozco, their former chief and still the idol of the former rebels in Northern Mexico, is going to join the Zapata cause and that they are with him. None of them seem to know whom they want for president but they will insist that "Madero must resign." Cheers for Zapata are fewer today than they were yesterday.

LEADING RAILROAD MAN LAYS DOWN LIFE'S WORK

Edwin Hawley, Builder of Railroads, Is Dead --President of Minneapolis and St. Louis and Director in Many Other Roads.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Edwin Hawley, president of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad, and one of the leading railroad magnates of the country, died at his home here yesterday after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Hawley had been a sufferer from nervous indigestion for some time and for the last few weeks had been confined to his house at 19 East Sixtieth street. Frequent reports that his condition was serious were denied and only yesterday Mr. Hawley said he hoped to be down town within a week or so. His death came at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Among the companies of which Mr. Hawley was a director were the Colorado & Southern railway, Colorado Fuel & Iron company, the Evanston & Terre Haute railway, the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Iowa Central and the Hocking Valley road.

Early in the winter Mr. Hawley had an attack of grip and returned to work before he had sufficiently recovered. As a result he suffered a relapse and his physicians told him that he would have to take a long rest. Since then Mr. Hawley has been confined to the house and recently he began to suffer from indigestion. Early yesterday morning Mr. Hawley was seized with heart failure and death soon ensued.

No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

Notwithstanding his illness, Mr. Hawley kept in constant touch with his business affairs and occasionally received visitors at his home to discuss matters of sufficient importance.

Compared to Harriman.

The constructive work of Mr. Hawley in the railroad field has often been compared to that of the late Edward H. Harriman. With his associates Mr. Hawley controlled the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Iowa Central, the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Hocking Valley, the Toledo, St. Louis & Western and other lines. Quite recently he was asked to undertake the readjustment of the affairs of the Wabash railroad.

The stock market was not affected by the news of Mr. Hawley's death. Chesapeake & Ohio went off two points, however.

He was 61 years of age and his earliest railroad service began in 1867 as a clerk on the Erie railroad. His important work was done between 1890 and 1902 in the service of the Southern Pacific, where he was the right hand man of the late Collis P. Huntington.

ton. The so-called Hawley system of railroads has been built up within the last 15 years.

Mr. Hawley was a bachelor and the only relative with him when he died was his nephew, Walter S. Crandell, a member of the Hawley firm.

Mr. Hawley had just finished preparations for a trip to Palm Beach, where he expected to spend the rest of the winter.

Had Extensive Plans. Newman Erb, who was one of Mr. Hawley's closest business associates, said yesterday:

"Mr. Hawley had comprehensive plans under way at the time of his death for development of railroad properties in which he was interested. These plans are known to his friends and I believe they will be carried on without interruption. So far as the Minneapolis & St. Louis and Iowa Central are concerned, Mr. Hawley had relieved himself of the handling of these properties by placing the work entirely in my hands."

FUNNY THINGS IN THE LORIMER INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—Attempts to impeach the testimony of C. G. McGowan, a Hines-Lorimer witness, who testified that he didn't hear W. C. Weithe make a statement concerning the $100,000 fund, resulted in a stormy session of the senate investigating committee.

Detective W. J. Burns was on the stand. It had been planned for him to lay the ground work to present "proof" of McGowan's having perjured himself. After a sharp clash with the detective, A. C. Bailey produced a letter alleged to have been written by McGowan to Bailey, and which Burns said was part of the evidence which had convinced him that McGowan had not told the truth before to committee. Other parts were "admissions" McGowan is alleged to have made in Toronto to detectives which were taken down by a dictagraph. McGowan was in the court room, seated behind times.

Burns testified he made a trip to Canada to get McGowan to come to Washington to purge himself. McGowan's father asked Detective Burns if he was the "great detective." Attorney Hancy referred to

SOME TROUBLE TO REGISTER THE WOMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Registrar Zemansky stated yesterday that the problem of obtaining the ages of women voters is as nothing compared with ascertaining their height. In the first place his assistants report many women object to removing their hats, as the office is unprovided with mirrors. But when hats are removed the clerks are confronted with the delicate task of making allowances for ruffs, puffs, switches and French heels. Until some new and accurate system is devised, the registrar fears a sudden change in styles may invalidate the women's polling lists. Meantime, he puts his faith in his measuring machines.

HAD NEEDLE IN GLOVE.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 2.—After Jake Abel of this city had been given the decision last night over Danny Goodman of Chicago in an eight-round bout, a needle was found in Goodman's glove. During the milling several severe scratches were inflicted on Abel's body.

STRIKE IS NEARLY OVER.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 2.—Only two of the textile mills in this city failed to open their gates yesterday morning. The number of operatives returning to work was the largest of any day since the strike began, nearly three weeks ago. The streets leading to the mills were guarded by soldiers.

GAVE HUSBAND POISONED PIE—LONG PRISON SENTENCE

IONA, Mich., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Amelia Jones, convicted recently of attempting to murder her husband by feeding him poisoned pie, yesterday was sentenced to from five to 10 years in the Detroit house of correction.

"Burns the great detective," and the witness flew into a terrible rage.

"If the committee doesn't stop his insults, I will," declared Detective Burns.

Senator Lea agreed that Hancy was insulting the witness.

Fletcher added to the tense situation by asserting that Hancy was perfectly justified. He said the attorney was trying to make fun of the witness just as the attorney had of John Callan O'Loughlin of the Chicago Tribune, by referring to him as the "ex-assistant secretary of state."

Against the odds Chairman Dillingham turned to Kern for assistance. "What do you think about it?" asked Dillingham.

"Or what?" queried Kern, opening his eyes. The laughter which followed restored peace and Attorney Hancy proceeded.

PRESIDENT TAFT INVITED TO ATTEND HOBO CONVENTION

DEFY ORDER OF CINCINNATI MAYOR AND WILL APPEAL TO THE COURTS.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 2.—In defiance of the order of Mayor Henry T. Hunt that the "hoboes" of the United States "can't assemble in this city for a four days' convention without being arrested and sent to the workhouse," James Eads Howe, the St. Louis millionaire hobo, who is promoting the assembly of vagrants, declared the convention will begin as scheduled tomorrow and that a test will be made of the right of citizens to peaceable assembly.

Howe, acting for the hoboes, sent the following telegram to President Taft at Akron:

"We, who represent 2,000,000 of the American unemployed, invite you to attend our convention here tomorrow." He declared the meeting of the Unskilled, Migratory and Casual Workers' association, the official name of the hoboes' association, would be called at Central Turner hall, and that if an attempt is made by the police to break up the meeting appeal will be taken to the courts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—The body of James Kane, a 14-year-old boy, was found yesterday in the playgrounds of an Oriental school with a bullet hole in the forehead. ALLEGED BOOK-MAKERS IMPRISON THEMSELVES

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Two alleged book-makers in the Adams Express building locked themselves in a vault yesterday to escape arrest, and almost smothered before being released.

They spent more than three hours in the stronghold and when they were liberated, found a detective still waiting to take them to jail.

They gave their names as Geo. Lynch and William Haldeman. It was necessary to find the manager of the building before the combination could be secured.

TAF'S NOMINATION AND ELECTION ARE ASSURED

Secretary of President Is Very Confident of Success -- Authorized Statement in Connection With Campaign Issued From the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In the first authorized statement he has issued in connection with the Taft campaign, Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the president, predicted yesterday President Taft would be nominated and elected.

"President Taft's nomination in June is as certain as anything could be," said Mr. Hilles in his statement. "I am confident there will be comparatively little opposition to him in the national convention and when the nomination is made the republicans of the country will rally to the party standard and win a great victory in November."

"I would not make this prediction, if I did not feel that my information from all parts of the country warrants me in doing so. It is easy to make big claims and to try to deceive people, and I think that a man who does so without facts and figures to justify is guilty of deception."

"A month ago, before I had gotten in touch with republicans in all the states, I would not have said this much. In that month I have seen the lines drawn closer and closer. In the last week the attention has cleared wonderfully with republicans in all directions falling into line for the president and manifesting a determination to bring about his nomination."

Developments Tell Story. "It is useless to speak in general terms or to undertake at short notice to go into conditions in each state, but developments in three of the big states within a few days ought to point conclusively to the present trend."

Mr. Hilles goes on to review conditions in New York, Ohio and Indiana, claiming that President Taft has received indorsements in

CLARENCE S. DARROW IS ARRAIGNED BEFORE COURT

Defense Loses in First Skirmish in Court--Grand Jury Evidence Withheld, But Will Be Given to Defense in Proper Time--Darrow Appears More Cheerful Than at the Beginning.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—Clarence S. Darrow, former chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, was arraigned before Presiding Judge Hutton of the Superior court yesterday on the two indictments charging him with jury bribing in the dynamiting trial. Judge Hutton designated next Saturday as the date for the entering of pleas to both indictments.

Darrow's attorneys lost the first technical move when Judge Hutton overruled the objection of Earl Rogers to the sufficiency of yesterday's arraignment on the ground of differences in legal opinion regarding when the transcript of the grand jury evidence should be available for the defense. Darrow does not yet know what alleged facts or evidence was marshalled against him before the inquisitors who indicted him last Monday.

Rogers said that under the law as it stood originally, Darrow would have been entitled to the transcript immediately after his arraignment, but that an amendment left doubt whether the same rule should prevail, or whether the evidence could be withheld by the prosecutor until five days before he is brought to trial.

Evidence Not for Defense. Assistant District Attorney Joseph Ford argued that the amended law clearly provided that the grand jury those states which indicate that they will give their delegates to him in the convention.

"There has been lots of noise in Ohio," said Mr. Hilles, "but the substantial republicans are determined that the president shall have the delegates and he will get them, too."

"I have a telegraph from Indianapolis saying that every single member of the republican state committee elected in the thirteen congressional districts yesterday is for Taft. This is a big change from a committee whose chairman, Mr. Lee, went around Washington in December proclaiming that Indiana was hostile to the president."

Speaks in New York.

In regard to New York state Mr. Hilles said:

"The president's speeches in New York so enthused the republicans there that the executive committee of the county committee of New York county, passed by unanimous vote, resolutions, indorsing the president and declaring for his renomination in the strongest terms."

"This was followed by a meeting of the general republican committee of Brooklyn. By a unanimous vote Mr. Taft's renomination was urged. I was told yesterday by two of the leaders of Brooklyn that it had not been the intention of the leaders to bring about an indorsement at that meeting, but the action was spontaneous after a member had introduced the resolution. The information from the leaders in New York was uniformly that the president had the delegation of the state."

"In Ohio the president's speeches have awakened republicans to a degree that was not expected. I have not a doubt that every delegate from the state will be for him."

evidence should not be surrendered to the attorneys for a defendant until five days before trial. Judge Hutton ruled in favor of the assistant district attorney.

Rogers stated that when Darrow is called upon to plead next Saturday demurrers will be interposed attacking the validity of the two indictments on every possible ground. This action, Rogers asserted, was not intended primarily to impede progress in the case, but merely to safeguard the rights of the accused lawyer.

Anxious to see Clarence Darrow, a large crowd gathered early yesterday in the court room, where he was to be arraigned.

Darrow appeared more cheerful than at any time since he was indicted. He continued non-committal regarding his case, but reiterated his assertions of innocence and hope and belief that he would be acquitted.
