

NEVADA BAR ASSOCIATION IS CLOSELY DIVIDED ON QUESTION OF APPLYING THE RECALL JUDGES

Post Card Ballot Taken and Result Shows Small Majority In Opposition To Question

The Nevada Bar association by a post card ballot has decided in opposition to the much mooted question of the recall of the judiciary. The ballot was ordered when the association met in Reno in May and within the last two days President Hugh H. Brown received the last of the ballots. Eighty-five ballots were cast. Forty members of the Nevada bar were in favor of applying the principle of the recall to judicial officers, while 45 members opposed it.

The Nevada Bar association followed the course adopted by other bar associations throughout the country, all acting under a suggestion from a committee of the American Bar association. The result of the ballot has been certified by President Brown and forwarded to Robert Richards, secretary of the association, at Reno.

At the May meeting of the Bar association the question was debated at length, but owing to many members being absent it was decided that a referendum vote be taken to clearly decide the proposition. The ballots were forthwith mailed to the various members throughout this state, and it was not until the last week that the last reply was received.

DARROW NOW CLAIMS JUROR WAS BIASED

ATTORNEYS ASSERT JUROR LEAVITT EXPRESSED OPINIONS DARROW'S GUILT

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—When the Darrow court convened this morning Rogers charged in open court that Juror Leavitt had expressed an opinion as to Darrow's guilt before called for jury service and claimed he had several witnesses to prove the juror was biased when he entered the box. Rogers demanded that Leavitt be dismissed and Alternate Juror Blakesley substituted.

Judge Hutton said he was in doubt if there is any law enabling him to stop the case in the middle to try the qualifications of a juror. District Attorney Fredericks said that under the law Blakesley could not serve unless a regular juror dies and a long argument ensued.

Judge Hutton overruled the demand by Rogers that Juror Leavitt be disqualified because he had said he believed Darrow guilty. The case proceeded this afternoon.

In closing the Leavitt argument Rogers said: "The only question now is shall we go ahead with this case."

If this juror has a state of mind indicated by statements to relatives and friends, our efforts are futile. We are doing an idle, useless thing. If what we hear is true we sit here trying a case to no purpose."

During the statement Darrow sat with his head buried in his arms.

MRS. GILLESPIE TELLS OF LOSS OF HER SON

Arriving in Berkeley with the body of her 6-year-old son who was swept to death in the cloudburst at Mazuma last Friday, Mrs. Matthew Gillespie corrected some statements regarding her rescue and described the death of her little boy.

"The dispatches which said I was rescued by my husband were incorrect," said Mrs. Gillespie. "We were not in danger, because our home was on the hillside where the flood did not reach. Perry had asked permission to go down into the canyon and play with some children whose home was close to the river's edge. He was at the window laughing at the big raindrops, when the cloudburst came, followed by the flood which swept the house and others away just like so many boxes of matches. I saw the house in which my son was torn from its foundation, and saw it collapse and float away. There was nothing I could do but wait for the waters to subside, and then assist the survivors to collect the dead. It was terrible."

FUNDS ARE NEEDED FOR RELIEF OF FLOOD VICTIMS

Funds are needed by the relief committee at Mazuma and Seven Troughs that the survivors and injured of the recent flood disaster, the worst known in years in Nevada, might be cared for. An appeal has been sent out to every town in the state for contributions and in addition the state Red Cross society, through Governor T. L. Oddie, the president, has likewise made an appeal for contributions.

The Bonanza last night received the following telegram from the Review-Miner of Lovelock:

Funds are needed for the relief of the Mazuma sufferers. The need is imperative and your active co-operation will be greatly appreciated. At least $10,000 will be required and the donations so far are $1,500, subscribed mostly by local people. The First National bank of Lovelock is the depository and Father Enright has the disposition of the funds in his charge.

Parties who are in a position to subscribe to the fund are requested to send checks direct to the Lovelock bank, or deposit same, or funds, with C. H. McIntosh, 214 State Bank building, who in turn will forward the subscriptions.

AMALGAMATED AT MANHATTAN IS NOW PRODUCING COIN

COMPANY IS HOISTING ORE FOR FIRST TIME SINCE START- ING WORK

Special to the Bonanza
MANHATTAN, July 25.—The Manhattan Amalgamated is producing the coin—that is to say, it is hoisting ore for the first time since the company took hold of the property and has been prosecuting development. This ore comes from that portion of the Kendall lease which covered the Liberty Fraction or Amalgamated ground.

Superintendent Walter Wilson continued the shaft from the 15c to the 215 level where he stopped for the time being on account of water. This is the Kendall shaft in which and with the machinery there is a division of time between the Kendall leasers and the Amalgamated company. A little later the shaft will be lowered still farther and the known ore shoots caught and stoped from such depths.

Mr. Wilson after striking the water level transferred his men to the old Kendall stope in the fraction and commenced taking out good ore. He has a lot of it still in sight and the tonnage from that level will be considerable. Before the end of July he expects to have a fine milling of upwards of 100 if not 150 tons which will be run at the War Eagle mill.

In his first grade dump he believes the average may reach $40. Pannings indicate it, allowing for a possible 25 per cent of the value to be base. All the ore in that end of the camp is quite base and becoming more so as depth in various workings is attained. The second grade dump will run, he says, from $10 to 12. If in milling the headings of the first one go as expected the second will be sent to the mill and added to it before the run is completed, thus increasing the tonnage and adding materially to the production in gold.
