SOME TARIFF CONCLUSIONS

IN sixty days there has been a decrease in the demand for cars to conduct the country's business, amounting to 19,692 cars.

Pennsylvania Steel Co.	4,000
Laekawanna Steel Co.	4,000
Bethlehem Steel Co.	4,000
Illinois & Indiana Steel Co.	7,000
Carnegie Steel Co.	10,000
Jones & Laughlin Steel Co.	6,000
Baldwin Locomotive Works	4,000
United States Steel Corporation	40,000
Alan Wood, Iron & Steel Co.	1,000
American Locomotive Works, Richmond, Va.	3,000
Total	88,000

According to what Representative William E. Humphrey of Washington told congress recently, the idle men in the automobile industry amounted to 3000 around Cleveland, 35,000 in the Detroit district and 12,000 in Indiana and other middle western states, making a total of 50,000.

No Republican has contended that all of the industries of the country have been ruined. They have merely shown that many industries have been seriously affected. Incidentally, it has become more and more apparent that while the lowering of the tariff has worked great injury to industry and the labor market, there has been no benefit to the consumer.

Manufacturers abroad decided to advance their prices previous to the passage of the Underwood bill, and again added extra sixpences after the law was enacted. This boost in prices was expected here because the foreign producers have always sold their output to their own colonies, where they could get better prices, and they did not try to market in the United States, except in the higher priced woollens. Now that there has been a revision of the tariff downward in woollens, they can crush the American manufacturers if they sell their goods at their old rates. Instead, however, they are raising their prices to get a larger profit for themselves, and yet, with the reduced tariff, can land goods in this country at a rate just low enough to undersell Americans.

The American Woolen company has quoted 1914 prices on clays, serges, unfinished worsteds and French backs, which are from 20 cents to 37½ cents below those listed last fall. Clays were down to 20 to 27½ cents, unfinished worsteds 22½ to 27½ cents lower. The greatest reduction is nearly 33 per cent.; on Washington serge 33 1-3.

Domestic manufacturers and jobbers report fair business in woollens, but deplore the fact that the masses expect cheaper clothes, because they are unanimous in saying that the same prices will still hold in 1914 that ruled in 1913. A difference of $1 a yard in the higher grades of overcoatings from 20 cents to 38 cents in the medium grades is all that the manufacturers can expect will be given to the public. Epitomized, this means that the $10 or $12 suit of 1913 will still be $10 or $12; that the $40 or $50 suit of last year will remain the same in 1914, and that the reduction in schedule K will be absorbed by those who handle the cloth.

With the bars down there is no reason why Mexico should not become pacified at an early day. The rebels have shown their stamina by fighting against heavy odds and winning at every turn in the road. They have been footsore and hungry, harried by United States and Mexican troops, yet they held together stubbornly and made gains daily until now they are a force to be counted on. They have won the respect of the world for physical bravery, and there is nothing to be lost through turning over the City of Mexico to such gallant soldiers. Villa and Carranza will make short shrift of Huerta, who will probably find it convenient to slink out of the back door at Vera Cruz and make his way to a hospitable shore, where he has sent his savings for a rainy day.

The Nevada Editorial association is to meet on February 9 at Reno, where it is hoped the brains and beauty of the state will foregather to give each and one another the benefit of their wisdom. Much good can be accomplished through co-operation of publishers, and there are many matters that demand action on the part of the opinion moulders of Nevada. It is hoped that the meeting will be highly representative.

In Colorado they are using steel passenger coaches in the coal strike region as a matter of precaution. This is "safety first" with a vengeance.

Blackmail, exclaims the virtuous Diggs. That's what they all say, and it's funny how many settle out of court.

Old line Republicans in California have more than doubled the registration of the Progressives.

Reno is balking over Truckee water. Better try Rye Patch. It is suggestive, to say the least.

GREAT INTEREST IN COMING BOUT AT GOLDFIELD

RINGSIDE SEATS ARE GOING LIKE PROVERBIAL "HOT CAKES"

Although more than a week intervenes, great interest is being manifested by the fans of the "square ring" of Goldfield and Tonopah in the ten-round boxing contest between Bob Graham of Goldfield, champion middleweight of Nevada, and Frank Mantell of Sacramento, Cal., at the Hippodrome theater in Goldfield Thursday night of next week, as well as in the ten-round preliminary between "Wildcat" Altman of Goldfield and "Freck" Lydon of Tonopah.

Following his arrival in Goldfield yesterday morning, Mantell yesterday afternoon appeared at the Goldfield Athletic club training quarters in the Northern saloon and was greeted by a large assemblage of local fans, who were much impressed with the manner in which the Californian handled himself in his bag punching work. A gathering of the admirers of Graham of like size was present at the quarters at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and this afternoon while he was training.

An indication of the great interest in the coming contest is furnished by the fact that, although only placed on sale last evening, 65 of the ringside seats allotted to Goldfield had been reserved at $5 each up to noon today. The Goldfield ringside seats will include all those on the stage to the left of the ring and the last three top rows of seats to the right. The remaining six front rows of the left ringside seats, as well as a large number of parquet seats, have been reserved for the Tonopah fans, upon their request. Ringside seats have been placed on sale at the Bank and the Cobweb.

LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The entertainment that was to have been given by Mrs. M. A. Dillon at the Miners' Exchange hall, has been postponed to the 4th of February, when Mrs. Dillon promises one of the best programs given in Tonopah. The piano selections will be preceded by a description of each piece. Among the choicest numbers will be "Home, Sweet Home" and the "Rustle of Spring." Recitations will vary the program.—adv.
