MINING BUREAU DID NOT OMIT ANY PROPERTY

WASHINGTON, March 20.—"The statement that statistics had been suppressed is false, because there has been no suppression," is the reply of the director of the census, W. J. Harris, to charges published in these dispatches that valuable figures relating to mines and mining and collected at a cost of thousands of dollars have been suppressed by Dr. E. Dana Durand's successor.

The original story of suppression of census statistics and the intimation that politics had something to do with the trouble stated that "Data on the metalliferous mines of Colorado, on the copper mines in Michigan, on the lead and zinc mines in Missouri, and on smelters and refiners which would be of the utmost value because they would show the cost of production, wages, profits and losses, based upon authentic information secured from the mine operators themselves," were practically thrown away by the new census bureau administration.

IN OLDEN TIME. "She was bred in old Kentucky, where the meadow's grass is growing" but she can't run in Nevada where the law says it is criminal to let a trim little mare try her speed.

There was a time in the long ago when Nevada had state fairs and all the people gathered from far and wide to see the horsemanship and the people gathered from far and wide to see the horsemanship and the people gathered from far and wide to see the horsemanship.

It is nice to look back over memory's page to the good old days when we could be natural and life our life as we enjoyed it. There was a time in Nevada when one man was just as good as another and maybe just a little bit better.

There was no more crime in those good old days, the people lived just as long, there were more big families and fewer divorces, there was a poker game running where you could sit in and take a hand and know that the deal was square, but—that was before we were reformed.

This reforming matter is always painful and in the majority of cases is fatal.—Carson News.

BALL GAME SUNDAY. The Goldfield boys are practicing hard for the opening of the baseball season tomorrow in a contest with Tonopah. The game will be called at 2:30 p. m.

SCOTCH MINING ENGINEERS PUTS GOLF IN KABUL

CALEDONIAN VISITOR CHARMS THE AMIR WITH A BUNCH OF STICKS

(By Associated Press.) KABUL, Afghanistan, March 21.—This country, which has kept itself as free as any place in the Orient from western institutions, has finally succumbed to the charms of golf.

The sponsor of the royal and ancient game is the Amir himself, who is rapidly becoming an expert player under tutelage of a Scottish mining engineer. This Scotchman came to Kabul looking for mining concessions.

He brought with him his bag of clubs on the remote chance of finding golf links in a country which had cherished a prejudice against any game played with a ball since the time of Omar Khayyam, and soon discovered that the monarch was fonder of talking sport than business.

When he spoke enthusiastically of the Scottish royal game, the Amir lost no time in putting a corps of sappers and miners to work constructing a course under the direction of the visitor. Since that time the Amir has become a devoted exponent of the game and he has attained a fair degree of proficiency.

But no matter what his skill, he bids fair to remain champion of the country, for it is not considered polite to defeat a man who enjoys the power of life and death over every one of his subjects.

The game has reduced the girth of the Amir and improved his health, but he is afraid of overdoing it, so at his winter capital he is having built a miniature links de-luxe, limited in size and as smooth as a tennis lawn. Here he will play the game without any of the bunkers or hazards usually provided by the ordinary course.

WORTHWHILE CLUB MEETS IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The entertainment at the Presbyterian church last evening by the Worthwhile Club exceeded all anticipations. The audience that filled the church applauded the many happy local hits made by members of the club in their rendering of "A Man's Version of a Woman's Club."

The walls of the church were almost covered by many beautiful pennants, artistically arranged, the largest one bearing the inscription, "I'm for Tonopah." After the play the members sang their club song, and to the music of "Dixie." This aroused prolonged applause. Refreshments were served and the entertainment closed with a pleasant social hour.
